City Manager Fairburn gave a report on the Swisher Road extension to connect with the toll bridge. The property in the area the road will be passing through is currently zoned R-1-10000. In some of the discussions regarding the Comprehensive Plan the Planning and Zoning Commission has looked at making some of the property commercial zoning. A two hundred-foot strip on either side of the road seems to be a good figure. It would also be a good buffer between the road and residential areas. Lakeview will tie in to the new road. We could set up a meeting with the owners of the Kingswood Development area to get their input.

2) Development of Planned Development Zoning.
City Manager Fairburn gave his report that we currently have a planned residential zone and a planned commercial zone. Perhaps they could be combined into one ordinance. This will come back to the commission at a later date.

3) Development of Marina zoning district regulations.
City Manager Fairburn presented the draft regulations. Mike Drozd, marina owner, was present. There was discussion between Mr. Drozd and the commission about fencing, setbacks, building heights, private roads, parking, and rear yards. It was decided that MA should denote the Marina district on zoning maps. Metal buildings would be allowed (not corrugated metal) and there would be no masonry requirements.

B. Business

1. Public Hearing on an ordinance amending the comprehensive Zoning Map by changing zoning of Second replat of Harbourtown from R-3 to R-2.

Odie Harrelson, 907 Vista Oaks Court, said it would definitely help their area. It would be an upgrade to the area.

Charles Boner, 810 Lakebluff Drive, said he believes R-2 would be much better

Bonita Heston, 634 Harbourtown, asked when it changed to R-3. City Manager Fairburn said it had been R-3 for some time. When it was replatted in 1996 or 1997 it was already R-3.

Tom Barnes, 438 Lake Highland, said apartments would mean more problems and we don't have enough police now.

John Schuh, 737 Harbourtown, said this is the best we can do right now. He suggested something be done about parking regulations.

Chairman Gilbert closed the Public Hearing at 7:45 p.m.

A. Citizens' Agenda

Keith Barnes, 1174 Settlers Way, Lewisville, Texas asked that the Planning and Zoning Commission rule in favor of raising the moratorium on Main Street.

Chairman Gilbert replied that the Planning and Zoning Commission is only an advisory board.

Alan Mann, partner in the L. D. Shopping Center, 210-212 Main Street, said he was there to help Keith Barnes. He is hoping the moratorium will be resolved October 12 with no problems regarding the C-3 and C-2 zoning. He said Mr. Barnes is a very abiding citizen who would like to run a nightclub in his building. Mr. Mann said they had signed a lease with him and would like for him to get started. He asked the Planning and Zoning Commission to lift the moratorium.

Chairman Gilbert said the commission will make recommendations tonight.

Chairman Gilbert closed the Citizens' Agenda at 7:37 p.m. as no one else came forward to speak.

B. Business

1. Public Hearing on Commercial zoning requirements.

Chairman Gilbert said there have been no drastic changes. This has been worked on for several months. It has been to the City Council and came back to the Planning and Zoning Commission for any other recommendations.

Rod Courtney, 162 Kingswood, said he would like to see M-1 zoning changed to Commercial. He referred to the old Houghton property on Denton Drive and said if it could be rezoned to C-3 it would bring in a new building and business. This would generate more sales tax revenue and keep property tax raises from occurring. We need to put business in where people will stop and spend money on their way to the lake.

Chairman Gilbert read the C-1 and C-2 uses and said nothing had been changed very much. We were just streamlining the wording.

Linwood Gilliland, 703 Payton, said one of the problems we've overlooked in the past is the 15' setbacks. Most big cars and pickups are longer than that.

Chairman Gilbert said the commission had recommended 25' set backs. He closed the Public Hearing at 7:50 p.m.

2. Consideration and Action on Commercial zoning requirements.

6. Consideration and Action on uses and procedures for Special Use Permits.

Motion was made by Commissioner Bavon to approve the Special Use Permits uses and procedures. Seconded by Commissioner Fahey.
Ayes: Chairman Gilbert, Commissioners Bavon, Marino, Shelton, and Fahey

Motion Passed

7. Public Hearing on rezoning the Main Street district from C-3 to C-2. This is Main Street east from Denton Drive to Lakeview Drive and Thompson Drive from Main Street to Lakeview Drive.

Chairman Gilbert read the full report on changing the zoning for this area.

Rod Courtney, 162 Kingswood, was speaking on behalf of his sister-in-law, Veronica. He said when she wants to retire and sell her C-3 property the down-zoning would devaluate her property. He said we have a ghost town and it's up to the city to make a difference. We need business here not all on the other side of I-35. He does not want the zoning changed.

Linwood Gilliland, 703 Payton, said we've never had a liquor store on Main Street past Alamo. The school is zoned C-3 and that needs to be changed. We should only change from Alamo east from C-3 to C-2. Going to C-2 where Food Fare is isn't going to bring anything in. Whatever we can get in on this little strip, we'd better do it. He asked the Commission to please take a hard look at this.

David Shershen, 166 Kingswood, said he appreciated Rod's and Linwood's comments. He asked the Planning and Zoning Commission to look toward the future and remember the past. Right now there's not a lot of opportunity to get businesses on Main Street. We'll have to put our personal preferences aside (short of pornography). He doesn't want any more liquor stores, but clubs should be welcome.

Winston Harper, 390 South Lakeview, said he has property next door. He would not buy any more commercial property in Lake Dallas. He said he has tenants in the building next door. He said he's not against clubs but we have enough regulations in our C-3 zoning. He said he has encouraged PaPa's BBQ to serve beer in their restaurant. He said we're beyond being choosers. He's not for the X-rated stuff and we have safeguards about that. He said changing to C-2 limits his choices and devaluates the property value. The Brown property should be changed. We need all the help we can get. He said we can't guarantee a club won't be there, but, no more package stores.

Ernesto Lopez, Jr., 55 Kingswood, referenced Mr. Harper's C-3 and Veronica's C-3. He said most people don't like to go to places when the next door is vacant. He said the Planning and Zoning Commission is making people run scared. Liquor's not number one, but it's here.

Chairman Gilbert closed the Public Hearing at 8:33 p.m. when no one else came forward to speak.

8. Consideration and Action on rezoning the Main Street district from C-3 to C-2. This is Main Street east from Denton Drive to Lakeview Drive and Thompson Drive from Main Street to Lakeview Drive. COMMISSIONER FAHEY SAID THAT SINCE THERE ARE SO MANY OTHER TOWNS AROUND THAT ARE WET THE C-3 ZONING IS NOT AS IMPORTANT AS IT USED TO BE. BGW Chairman Gilbert said that every time the alcohol issue comes up we have a full house. He said maybe we need to look over this a little bit.

C. Workshop:

1) Comprehensive Plan Implementation

City Manager Fairburn recommended that the Commission determine how much of the Swisher extension should be commercial and how much residential. The extension will include the Boliver Property and Kingswood Development area. Sound buffering will be needed. The County doesn't want many intersections. Traffic signals may need to be placed at Shady Shores and Jackson Ranch.

There was discussion about the Subdivision regulations in the Municipal Code. City Manager Fairburn will update some of the items and bring back to the Commission for approval.

There are some zoning issues that need to be addressed. There is M-1 at the east end of Hundley and a little C-3 by the marina. The park zoning can define what kinds of uses and the school system can be LDISD. This will come back to the Planning and Zoning Commission as an ordinance.

2) M-1 Light Industrial Zoning requirements

Chapter 122, Article 12 was looked at. A lot of M-1 uses could also be in C-1, C-2 or C-3. City Manager Fairburn will make those changes agreed upon and bring back to the Commission.

3) Special Use Permits

The Municipal Code requirements for Special Use Permits are in various sections and referred to under amendments. It was suggested that all the Special Use Permit requirements be put into one place in the code book.

Chairman Gilbert called for a Staff Report.

City Manager Fairburn gave a report regarding the proposed change.

Marvin Sparks, the owner of the property in question, stated that he wanted to protest the change of zoning because he feels that it would be incompatible with residential. He has no immediate plans to develop the rest of the property. He has considered a storage facility or a business park. Mr. Sparks reiterated that he wants to file an objection to the change.

Larry Anderson, Anderson's Automotive, which is located on the property in question, stated that he did not see a need for a change in the zoning.

Chairman Gilbert closed the Public Hearing and called for a motion or discussion.

2. Consideration and Action on proposed Zoning District changes M-1 Light Industrial to C-2 Commercial and R-1-6000 Residential for tract 104 of A1355A Wright, 2.49 acres, bordered by Main Street on the east; Betchan Street on the north; and Sargent Street on the west.

Commissioner Fahey asked what type of citizen response the City of Lake Dallas receives when people hear of storage units going in.

City Manager Fairburn explained that certain types of storage units or a business park would be permissible under C-2. He explained that M-1 could bring in types of businesses not wanted near residential areas, but it did not have the masonry requirement that C-2 has.

Mr. Sparks assured the Commission that the property would be properly and carefully developed. He asked that the Commission not change the zoning until he decides what he wants to do with the property.

Commissioner Fahey read the list of businesses acceptable under M-1 and under C-2 zoning.

The Commissioners discussed making all of the property in question C-2.

A. Citizens' Agenda

Linwood Gilliland, 703 Payton Street, raised concerns about the Fire Department not being included in the COMCO building. We need to have written approvals from Fire, LCMUA, and other utilities prior to City approvals.

No one else came forward to speak so Chairman Gilbert closed the Citizen's Agenda.

B. Business

Public Hearing on a proposed replat of Lots 4 and 5 of Carlisle Court Addition, Cobb Survey A0284A.

Ed Fortuna, 3634 Fairview Drive, Corinth, gave the background on the purchase of the lots and gave a hand drawn plan for the house design and garage. It will have 2600 square feet on the lower level and 1700 square feet on the top level. The detached garage will be 800 square feet.

Jamie James, 704 Carlisle, said she is opposed to the replat. She wrote the letter that was signed by all the neighbors on Carlisle Court and copies went to the Planning and Zoning Commission and City Councilmembers. She was also opposed to the garage.

Linwood Gilliland, 703 Payton Street, said it meets the requirements and standards. He thinks it would be a tremendous addition to the neighborhood.

No one else came forward to speak so Chairman Gilbert closed the Public Hearing.

A. Citizens' Agenda

Chairman Gilbert closed the Citizens' Agenda as no one came forward to speak.

B. Business

1. Public Hearing on a Special Use Permit for a daycare operation at 409 Columbia Circle.

City Manager Fairburn said our zoning ordinance allows home-based businesses as long they do not have any external evidence of occupation or increase in traffic. We believe that a day care operation would have some external effects. A Special Use Permit allows for a daycare operation with the approval of the Planning and Zoning Commission and City Council and a Public Hearing is required. Chairman Gilbert asked the applicant to come forward.

Shay Sanders, 409 Columbia Circle, said it would be after school care. The children would be dropped off at her house by the school bus or she will pick them up from the schools. The maximum would be 9 children and the hours would be 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. They would stay in her house or her back yard at all times. The only other times involved would be on school holidays, school vacations and summers. The times would then be 7:30 to 5:30, Monday through Friday.

Dorothy Walkup, 708 Wildwood, said her greatest concern would be parking because you cannot park in front of the house or across the street because of curves and hedges. The parents would have to park on Columbia or Wildwood when they picked up the children. Her other concern is the safety for the children. They would have to walk up and down the street. She said there would be a lot of congestion due to the ingress and egress since both streets involved are dead-ends. She said the mail would not be placed in the mailboxes if someone is parked in front of the mailbox. Does the home meet state and local code for home care and how many children are allowed? The area is zoned residential, not business. She asked that the application be denied.

R. B. Geisinger, 620 Wildwood, said he is her neighbor at the back and asked if week-ends would be involved. Ms. Sanders said, 'no.' He asked how old the children would be. The answer was school-age children. He asked how many children she had and the answer was one. He said we have a lot of traffic in that area. He thinks if she can keep them 'corralled, it would be okay.

Jo McCutcheon, 401 Columbia Circle, said we already have seven kids in 10 houses. With 9 more that would make 16 kids.

2. Consideration and Action on a Special Use Permit for a daycare operation at 409 Columbia Circle.

The commissioners discussed the fence at Ms. Sanders' home. The chain link fence on one side would need some kind of screening or a wood fence. Ms. Shay said the fence had been a consideration as funds are available. Chairman Gilbert said that the plants that are there now provide some sort of screening but could die. She said she could get 4 vehicles in her driveway when asked about the off-street parking availability. Chairman Gilbert asked how many letters had been sent out regarding the Public Hearing. The answer was 42 letters and we had received no written responses. Ms. Sanders said she goes to the State for her orientation on June 7 and then the State inspects before she takes care of children and every three months after that. There is no time limit on a Special Use Permit and it could not be revoked. City Manager Fairburn said in the approval process there could be restrictions placed on the Special Use Permit.

A question was brought up about a tree on Ms. Sander's property that has a chain on it at this time. She said that was caused by the rain a couple of weeks ago. The tree began to fall so there is a winch holding it back at the present time. She has someone coming to install permanent rods for the tree and the winch would be removed at that time. Ms. Sanders also said that her street has a cul-de-sac which allows the school bus to turn around. She also said the State limits how many children can be cared for after they inspect the house and yard.
Motion was made by Commissioner Barnard to deny the Special Use Permit for a daycare operation at 409 Columbia Circle. Seconded by Commissioner Fahey.
Ayes: Commissioners Barnard and Fahey
Noes: Chairman Gilbert, Commissioners Bavon and Marino

Motion Failed

There was more discussion among the Commissioners.
Motion was made by Commissioner Marino to grant the Special Use Permit for a daycare operation at 409 Columbia Circle with the stipulations that 9 children is the maximum; the hours would be 2:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday on school days and 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. during school holidays and the summer months; the permit would expire in two years and she could reapply; copies of the State inspections will be on file with the City; the tree must be repaired; and the back side should have a wood fence. Seconded by Commissioner Bavon.

Ayes: Chairman Gilbert, Commissioners Bavon and Marino
Noes: Commissioners Barnard and Fahey

Motion Passed

This will go to the City Council at their June 8 meeting.

3. Approval of minutes for meeting on April 20, 2000.

Motion was made by Commissioner Barnard to accept the April 20, 2000 minutes as written. Seconded by Commissioner Marino.
Ayes: Chairman Gilbert, Commissioners Bavon, Marino, Fahey, and Barnard
Noes: None

Motion Passed

C. Workshop:

1) Comprehensive Plan Implementation

a) Zoning Issues

City Manager Fairburn asked if the Commission wanted to move forward with any zoning changes at this point. There was discussion about various areas of C-3 zoning and leaving the M-1 on Overly. There is additional M-1 zoning on Hundley by the boat company. The C-3 and public buildings zoning should be done at a later time. After more discussion it was determined that the first area to be discussed in a Public Hearing would be the M-1 Zoning to C-2 Zoning and R-1-6000 Zoning along the south side of Betchan from Main Street to Sargent Street. The proportions are to be determined. It was decided to have the Public Hearing at the June meeting.

b) Economic Development Group

(i) Scope of Work

(ii) Recommendations for members

City Manager Fairburn said that Council has approved the preliminary list they had sent to them. We need two members of the Planning and Zoning Commission. The group will have a lot of meetings to develop an economic plan for all the commercial areas and will include talking about the ½ cent economic development sales tax and how to use those funds for various purposes: recreation facilities, streets, roads, public buildings, etc. Chairman Ben Gilbert and Commissioner Marino volunteered to serve on the Economic Development Group. City Manager Fairburn asked for names of business owners the Commissioners would like to have contacted. Some of the names were Bonnie Brown Garcia, the owner of Southwest Cedar Furniture, the owner of D & J's building, Kathy Helm, Mike and Sammie Shields, the president of Chalkers, the new owner of the Main Street Café, True Value's Norman Beaty, Ace Hardware owner, Mingo's Barbershop owner, Ken Kennemer from Kingswood Estates. City Manager Fairburn said the Chamber of Commerce will come up with someone and Steve Taylor from TXU is interested. He also suggested an owner or manager of the Video Plus plant and someone from the Kingswood Development Corporation.
The two open appointments for the Planning and Zoning Commission should be made on June 8 by the City Council.

D. Adjourn

Motion was made by Commissioner Barnard that the meeting be adjourned. Seconded by Commissioner Marino.

A. Citizens' Agenda

Chairman Gilbert closed the Citizens' Agenda as no one came forward to speak.

B. Workshop

1. Comprehensive Plan Implementation – Zoning for public buildings, parks, and commercial properties.

Commissioner Gilbert said that the Planning and Zoning Commission had been working on the Comprehensive Plan for over a year. He told the people in the audience that we had invited them to the meeting to get their input after he explained some of the first goals and objectives. One of those goals is commercial development. He said we are in the process of forming an Economic Development Committee and said we are looking for people to serve on this committee. The development of Main Street is the first objective as well as improve Church Street for easier access and changing of zoning along Swisher Road.

Jim Bennett, 105 S. Denton, asked what the authority of the Planning and Zoning Commission is and what they do.

Chairman Gilbert said when issues come before them for planning or zoning the Commission has a public hearing and vote on the issue. They then make a recommendation to the City Council. He asked if anyone was there representing any certain area. The plan for Main Street right now is to consider changing the C-3 zoning there to C-1 or C-2 with existing businesses being grandfathered.

Willie Bulen, 103 S. Denton Drive, said he had lived there for 43 years and was not ready to give up his home. He also asked what C-3 zoning means.

Chairman Gilbert said the Commission is not out to get anyone out of their homes. Commissioner Johnson said that one of our objectives is to protect those people there. C-3 can have any business allowed in C-1 and C-2 plus alcohol.

Jack Roe, representative for Resort Realty said they have 53 undeveloped acres in Lake Dallas. He said that a year ago they had tried to get a zoning change because it is zoned R-1-10000.

Mr. Roe said it could be a nice residential area but they are looking for a more favorable zoning. He said the habitation in that area does not call for $300-$400 thousand dollar homes.

There was discussion among the Commissioners with Mr. Roe: what types of homes and what zoning; when the Swisher extension is accomplished there could be room for some commercial development; there is an access problem at this point. The Commission would like to see a plan for this area from Mr. Roe. Mr. Roe said they would like to do a mixture of different sized homes. He said they would be glad to work out a plan that would be acceptable to the City.

Commissioner Gilbert said we had not yet discussed the Railroad Property. Chick Anderson asked if that was where there had been talking about apartments. The reply was that there haven't been any actual plans made at this time. We had been considering a Planned Unit Development in which we would have more control over what goes in there.

Tom Mason, 1708 Wildwood Drive, asked if the Commission had given any thought place for Industrial Revenue Bonds. The answer to that was that the City does not have enough land to purchase and develop for sale to a private industry.

The Commission asked for input for Shady Shores and Hundley. Chairman Gilbert said the City also wants to change the zoning for schools, churches, and parks with a special zoning instead of C-3 which is the zoning for a lot of those properties at this time. Property west of Denton Drive will probably remain as C-3. We would like more public input. The Comprehensive Plan was developed to encourage development.

There was more discussion among the Commissioners and no more public input. Chairman Gilbert thanked everyone for coming to the meeting and asked them to come back. He asked them to bring any concerns or issues to the Commission because we're trying to do what is in the best interests for everyone.

2. Requirements for accessory buildings in R-1-7200 and R-1-10000 Zoning Districts.
Chairman Gilbert explained that they had decided last month to leave it as it was and that was their recommendation to the City Council. The Commissioners has mentioned that they might want to define the height of the accessory buildings so the Councilmembers sent the item back to the Planning and Zoning Commission to get the definition clear. There was lengthy discussion about setbacks, placement from fences, whether it should be masonry when the residence is not. The masonry requirement is only if the accessory building exceeds 10' x 12'.

City Manager Fairburn asked if there were any changes to bring back for Consideration and Action at the next meeting. Chairman Gilbert said he felt this issue should be left as it is.

ROLL CALL

Diane Byers and Frank Barnard were absent.

Staff present: City Manager Stewart Fairburn and City Secretary Beverly Weikum.

A. Citizens' Agenda

Paul Lockman, 1241 Valley Vista, Grapevine, Texas, said they had planned to open a business on Main Street. His concern is with Main Street since it has been rebuilt. Whenever it rains the water runs straight down the road and floods the existing building at 321 Main. When the Fire Department washes their fire trucks the water runs down on the sidewalk in front of the building. He wanted to be sure that the City was aware of it.

City Manager Fairburn said the contractor would be out next week to fix the problem.

Norman Phillips, 402 South Lakeview, said he has pictures of the water in the building and he is aware that City Manager Fairburn has already talked with Peachtree Construction.

Chairman Gilbert closed the Citizens' Agenda when no one else came forward to speak.

B. Business

1. Public Hearing on amended plat for COMCO Addition at 306 W. Overly.
No one came forward to speak.

City Manager Fairburn said this is an easement being moved a few feet by the request of the LCMUA.

2. Consideration and Action on amended plat for COMCO Addition at 306 West Overly.

3. Public Hearing on replat of Lots 5 and 6 of the Mollie Cain subdivision located at Cain and Lakeview.

City Manager Fairburn reported that the existing two lots were being proposed to be three lots. They would meet the required distances for R-1-6000 properties. There was some concern pertaining to storm drainage on the western lot. A home with 1200 square feet should leave enough room between all the various easements.

Jeff Houghton, owner of Sunnyside Homes, brought the replat forward. He said they are aware of the storm drain situation. They find no problem in getting out of the flood zone. They had talked with the LCMUA about the storm drain under Main Street and perhaps building a little wall to help contain the excess flow. They plan to build three nice houses with at least 70% masonry as required.

Georgina Gougeon, 717 Cain Street, asked Mr. Houghton if the houses would be 1 story or 2 story houses. Mr. Houghton said that right now they plan to build 1 story houses, but possibly 2 story.

Ms. Gougeon said she was concerned because the neighborhood does not reflect 2 story homes. Her biggest concern was with the flooding that occurs in that area when we get heavy rains.

Neal Malone, 607 Cain, said he lives next door to the lots. He has no objections and thinks Mr. Houghton is quite capable of developing the property.

Winston Harper, 390 South Lakeview, doesn't feel three houses can be put there without being in the flood plain. He said he feels the same as Ms. Gougeon about 2 story houses. He said he would like to see only the two lots there and maybe they'll have more room.

Chairman Gilbert closed the public hearing at 7:50 p.m.

4. Consideration and Action on replat of Lots 5 and 6 of the Mollie Cain subdivision located at Cain and Lakeview.

There was discussion among the Commissioners. They looked at the flood plain map. They had questions about the setbacks and measurements of the lots. Mr. Houghton said they would utilize the land properly and that if it was going to be an issue he had no problem with building single story houses. There was ongoing discussion.

Motion was made by Commissioner Fahey to approve the replat of Lots 5 and 6 of the Mollie Cain subdivision. Seconded by Commissioner Marino.
Ayes: Chairman Gilbert, Commissioners, Bavon, Marino, Johnson, and Fahey.
Noes: None

Motion Passed

5. Public Hearing on replat of Lots 1 through 6 of Block 9 of the Original Town of Garza subdivision located at Falcon and Main.

City Manager Fairburn reported that this block is bordered by Main Street, Falcon, Market and San Jacinto. The replat would allow the existing Lake Dallas Café to be on one lot and the remaining lot will be for development.

Norman Phillips, 402 S. Lakeview, said he owns the property and Mr. Lockman wanted to rent the other property. When the Building Official checked it out it was discovered that the café is located on a lot line so a replat was necessary.

Paul Lockman, 1241 Valley Vista, Grapevine, Texas, said he and his wife had hoped to open a business here by January 1 but have run into these problems. The business will be a re-sale or consignment shop selling second-hand baby clothes.

Chairman Gilbert closed the public hearing at 8:05 p.m.

6. Consideration and Action on replat of Lots 1 through 6 of Block 9 of the Original Town of Garza subdivision located at Falcon and Main.

Motion was made by Commissioner Johnson to approve the replat of Lots 1 through 6 of Block 9 of the Original Town of Garza subdivision into 2 lots. Seconded by Commissioner Marino.
Ayes: Chairman Gilbert, Commissioners Bavon, Marino, Johnson, and Fahey
Noes: None

Motion Passed

7. Public Hearing on request to be exempted from the 80% masonry requirement for commercial buildings at Lot 4 on Gotcher south of Hundley Drive.

City Manager Fairburn said a building was going in on Gotcher 2 doors north of the Houghton Electric and would be very similar to that building. By looking at their measurements and taking out for windows and doors it looked to be 41 – 43% masonry.

Cheryl Smith, 401 S. Shady Shores, Shady Shores, Texas, said she was there with her husband, Al Smith, and they brought along Mr. Joel Sayers, who had drawn the plans.

Joel Sayers, 3801 Crosstimbers, Flower Mound, and said he was there to answer any questions. The front half of the building will be offices and the back half will be warehousing.

Linwood Gilliland, 703 Payton, said the City had turned down Mr. Houghton's request and he had to go with the 80% masonry. He feels we should keep the requirement as it is.

Jeff Houghton said they sold the property to him and he and Robbie Houghton had talked about it. He understood the north side was going to be all masonry as well as other portions of the building. They have no objections to the current plans if it is fenced in.

Al Smith, 401 S. Shady Shores Road, said that the plans show that the north and south sides of the building has 20 feet back from the front. He said he made an agreement with Robbie Houghton today that would include masonry on the north side all the way to the back of the building. He said the east side of the building is doors and approximately 80 feet of the south side will be metal because it is mostly doors.

Mr. Sayers gave some figures regarding the doors and windows. He said about 24% of the building will be doors.

Linwood Gilliland, 703 Payton, said he is not against what they are doing, but the ordinance calls for 80% masonry for commercial buildings.

City Manager Fairburn said that a new ordinance was passed which was designed to give businesses with a trademark building an exemption to the 80% masonry rule.

Mrs. Smith said they're not trying to get something other people don't have. They are trying to bring in a company with a beautiful building with landscaping. They would bring in good money and be a good neighbor.

Winston Harper, 390 S. Lakeview, said if there's only a 20% difference we should approve this. We should encourage all the business we can get.

Cheryl Smith, 401 S. Shady Shores, said if everyone wants 80% masonry that is okay.

There was more discussion from the floor in answer to questions from the Commissioners.

Chairman Gilbert closed the public hearing at 8:28 p.m.

8. Consideration and Action on Request to be exempted from the 80% masonry requirement for commercial buildings at Lot 4 on Gotcher south of Hundley

There was discussion among the Commissioners and the general consensus was to be consistent.
Motion was made by Commissioner Bavon to not approve an exemption to the 80% masonry requirement for commercial buildings. Seconded by Commissioner Marino.

10. Comprehensive Plan Review.

City Manager Fairburn said that at the last meeting the Planning and Zoning Commission had approved the priorities of the objectives and had asked staff to prepare a letter to the City Council to start working on the objective of the Economic Development Plans. He said the draft letter was in the packet for their approval of the requirements. The Commissioners agreed upon the letter as written.

There was discussion about the April meeting and items that might be on the agenda for that meeting. That is the date the Commission had selected to meet with the business owners.

1. Public Hearing on changes to the 80% masonry rule for accessory buildings in R-1-7200 and R-1-10000 Zoning Districts.

No one came forward to speak.
City Manager Fairburn said that the current reading is that accessory buildings larger than 10' x 12' must meet the building code for the R-1-7200 and R-1-10000 zoning. This does not apply to the R1-6000 or R-1 4000 zoning. The storage building cannot be larger than 10% of the backyard area.

Chairman Gilbert closed the Public Hearing at 7:36 p.m.

2. Consideration and Action on changes to the 80% masonry rule for accessory buildings in R-1-7200 and R-1-10000 Zoning Districts.

During the Commission's discussion about the item it was decided that the height of accessory buildings should be addressed and possibly added to the Municipal Code.

Motion was made by Commissioner Johnson to leave the 80% masonry rule for accessory buildings the same in R-1-7200 and R-1-10000 Zoning Districts. Seconded by Commissioner Bavon.
Ayes: Chairman Gilbert, Commissioners Bavon, Johnson, and Marino.

3. Consideration and Action on priorities of objectives for first five years of Comprehensive Plan.

City Manager Fairburn presented packets that included the first year objectives, second year objectives and the third through fifth year objectives. He suggested that the commission pick one or two items to address instead of attempting to work on all of them at the same time. The Commission requested that staff draft a letter from the Planning & Zoning Commission to the City Council saying that we want to begin with A-1 which is Economic Development and develop a committee consisting of business owners, Chamber of Commerce members, various utility company representatives and bring it back to the Planning and Zoning Commission at the next meeting.
Motion was made by Commissioner Bavon to accept the action and priorities of the objectives for the first five years of the Comprehensive Plan. Seconded by Commissioner Marino.

C. Workshop -- Comprehensive Plan Implementation

Redefining Commercial zoning districts and Planned Unit Developments. City Manager Fairburn said he has not had the opportunity to draft up the changes suggested for the C-1, C-2 and C-3 uses. He said the planned unit development will take more research. He said it is an area that provides the City with additional flexibility, such as a Special Use Permit. The Swisher Road extension has been discussed with an idea to having that property facing the road as commercial with residential behind that. There was discussion about the zoning. A write-up on commercial districts needs to be done and given to the City Council. The Commission decided to get input from the Main Street owners and Swisher Road owners in a workshop session regarding zoning and planning issues. The zoning changes for Parks and Public zoning could also be included in this meeting. This should be scheduled for the April 20 meeting.

A. Citizens' Agenda

J. T. Sayers, 3922 Willow Run, Flower Mount, Texas, asked to get an item on an agenda prior to the April meeting. This item requires publication in the newspaper plus the notification of residents within 200 feet of the property involved.

City Manager Fairburn asked the commissioners if they would be agreeable to a special meeting on March 29 or 30. It was agreed to meet on March 30.

Chairman Gilbert closed the Citizen's Agenda.

B. Workshop on Comprehensive Plan Implementation

First five year objectives priorities
Zoning review C-1 through M-1 and PUD

City Manager Fairburn led a discussion and review of the goals and objectives. The timing for each objective was discussed. There are ongoing objectives that are worked on each year. There are higher priority objectives that would need to be worked on first such as developing committees to work on economic development plans.

There was discussion about the current zoning: a separate zoning district for parks; as for the school properties. They looked at a zoning map and the various areas were discussed. The definitions of the current C-1, C-2 and C-3 zoning districts were discussed. The definitions can be expanded and/or changed. The Commissioners will bring back to another meeting the types of businesses they think would be compatible on the I-35 frontage road, Swisher Road, Denton Drive, Main Street, etc.

City Manager Fairburn said the Commission should work towards what the highest and best uses of the undeveloped property would be and also what would be best for property values, sales taxes and property taxes. There was more discussion about what kinds of businesses should be considered in the C-1, C-2 and C-3 zoning areas. Those businesses already established would be grandfathered if any zoning changes were made to where those businesses are located. Churches can basically go in any zoning. An entertainment district could be established in the zoning. Private clubs can now go into C-1, C-2, or C-3. The State regulates the 75% distinction regarding liquor sales. Right now Main Street has food, late night entertainment, schools, the telephone company, a utility company, and some shops. The apartments on Swisher Road are being bought out. LCMUA has bought the property to the north of their facilities.

City Manager Fairburn said he could work up a re-write regarding the uses.

Chairman Gilbert called for a short break at 9:24 p.m.

Chairman Gilbert called the meeting back to order at 9:30 p.m.

No one came forward to speak.

B. Business

1. Consideration and Action on replat of all of Lot 225 and the north ½ of Lot 226 in Kingswood Estates

Rod Courtney, 162 Kingswood, said he is in the process of buying this property. It is being replatted by Hammett and Nash of Denton and meets the requirements according to the county and state laws and hopes it meets the approval of the Planning and Zoning Commission. He gave the areas of what the lots will be and stated that they would meet the R-1 4,000 requirements.

Michelle Snyder, Ponder, Texas, is an escrow title officer for Denton County Title and stated that she is handling the contract for the sale from George Treed. There has been some delay in getting signatures due to the location of the owner and grandchildren.

In answer to some questions from the Commissioners Mr. Courtney said that the triangular lot was within the size required but did not have 40' of frontage. He said there were 8 to 10 lots in Kingswood that do not have the 40'.

Ken Kennemer, 17 Oakwood Drive, of the Kingswood Homeowners Association said he was against any more replats in Kingswood. The directors oppose this action.

Bob Davis, 73 Lakeridge, asked the Planning and Zoning Commission to give consideration to this based on the merits of the size of the lots.

Frank Barnard, 328 Betchan, said he is one of the 5 directors on the Kingswood Board and has one vote as a director. He said the Kingswood Board had not been contacted about this replat. He said he was against the replat. He said he had a letter from John H. Carter, Jr. who is the owner on the other side. Mr. Carter's concern is that the replat will negatively affect his property value. He expressed concern that an older, smaller home would be the only size home that could replace the one there now.

There was discussion among the Commissioners and questions were asked regarding the sewer system and drainage for Kingswood and would there be any negative consequences by putting two homes instead of one on this replat. Mr. Barnard said he didn't think there would be any problems.

Mr. Courtney asked to respond. He said a larger home could replace the current home that is on the property at this time. He said there are water and sewer hookups on both properties.

Bob Davis responded to the Commission's concern about density. He said it had been predesigned for another mobile home so there could already have been a home there.

Mr. Courtney said it meets all the specifications and measurements and asked for a favorable consideration from the Commission. In answer to the concern about getting a larger home on the lot, he said that it would not be a problem.

City Manager Fairburn answered the question about the pie-shaped lot. He said it should be 40' but the access to that lot is from Shady Shores Road.

Motion was made by Commissioner Johnson to approve the amended plat on Lot 225R and the north ½ of Lot 226R, Kingswood Estates. Seconded by Commissioner Bavon.
Ayes: Commissioners Bavon, Marino, and Johnson
Noes: Chairman Gilbert and Commissioner Byers

2. Approval of minutes for January 6 and January 20, 2000 meetings.

Motion was made by Commissioner Byers to approve the minutes of the January 6 and January 20, 2000, meetings as amended. Seconded by Commissioner Johnson.

C. Workshop – Implementing the Comprehensive Plan
Redefining Commercial zoning districts
Prioritizing first five year objectives

City Manager Fairburn stated that the approval of the Comprehensive Plan by the City Council will be in the March meeting. The first five year objectives need to be looked at to decide which items should be started. In the joint meeting Council asked Planning and Zoning Commission to look at redefining the Commercial zoning districts. Right now we have 3 commercial zoning districts. We could look at different areas and see what we would like to see on Swisher Road, Denton Drive, etc. The Planned Unit Development would allow mixed use. The Commission had previously mentioned mixed use on the Swisher Road extension when the bridge goes in.

There was discussion among the Commissioners. It was decided to have a workshop on March 2 at 7:30 p.m. to go over some of these issues.

There was discussion about the adjacent property owners when planning is being done. City Manager Fairburn said we would do the customary 200' notification and said the notifications are mailed to the addresses on registered with the tax office which includes post office boxes. We also put signs on property when re-zoning is requested. The question was asked about how the 200' was determined. City Manager Fairburn said we move down the property line with a ruler and compass and determine all property owners in those areas. He suggested the commissioners drive around and see if they see things side by side that do or don't fit and bring it back for discussion. We don't have much vacant land; the railroad property is 15 acres and the Swisher vacant property is 5 acres. The use of M-1 property is either C-1 and C-2 plus manufacturing.

Discussion about the exemption from the 80% masonry requirements for commercial properties gave the example of a company with trademark buildings such as the Cracker Barrel buildings. The company would have to go through the public hearings process.

The property north of the bank on the frontage road is now being looked at by the owners to build a one story 'L'-shaped office complex. The Commission needs to determine what they want to see along the frontage road, also.

No one came forward to speak.

2. Consideration and Action on acceptance of Draft Comprehensive Plan.

City Manager Fairburn said he had been to a meeting of the I-35 plan. He said they were talking of a long-term plan, twenty years. One of the changes which would affect our city in the long term is connecting Hundley and Turbeville which would eliminate the overpass just north of the Hundley exit. Hickory Creek has some plans for commercial growth.
Motion was made by Commissioner Byers to accept the Draft Comprehensive Plan and send it on to the City Council for their comments. Seconded by Commissioner Johnson.

3. Public Hearing on amending Chapter 18.30.020 to allow less than a unanimous vote of the Planning and Zoning Commission and Council to approve a Special Use Permit.

Linwood Gilliland, 703 Payton Street, asked what is the use of our Special Use Permit; he thought it was for adult entertainment. City Manager Fairburn said that's just one of many uses. Mr. Gilliland asked if this would affect any of our businesses already in existence in our city. City Manager Fairburn replied, no. Mr. Gilliland said he didn't understand why it affected the person who moved his existing business to the Food Fare building. City Manager Fairburn said that the Planning and Zoning Commission recommended and the City Council passed an ordinance requiring a Special Use Permit for those establishments which sell liquor by the drink and that was why when he moved to a new location a permit was required. Mr. Gilliland asked if the ordinance wasn't in effect when the Jolly Roger opened and Mr. Fairburn confirmed that. City Manager Fairburn said that Chalkers has expanded since they were exempt from the ordinance and will go before the Board of Adjustment next month regarding a variance from the sprinkler requirements. Chairman Gilbert closed the public hearing ~~at 7:30 p.m.~~.

4. Consideration and Action on amending Chapter 18.30.020 of the Municipal Code to allow less than a unanimous vote of the Planning and Zoning Commission and Council to approve a Special Use Permit.

City Manager Fairburn provided an overview of the issue. Chairman Gilbert said he thought it should be left as it is because it has worked in the past. There was a lengthy discussion by the Commissioners. Motion was made by Commissioner Byers to recommend to the City Council that a Special Use Permit will require a super majority of the City Council to approve it after hearing the recommendation of the Planning and Zoning Commission. Seconded by Commissioner Bavon.

5. Consideration and Action on approval of an amended plat on Lot 4R Block 1 of the of the Cedar Hill Subdivision, 209 Julian.

Kevin Green, 209 Julian, said the property involved is three adjoining lots and upon a recommendation by Building Official Harp he is asking to have them replatted into one lot. There should be no future problems with drainage on the side or frontal property after the remodel. Commissioner Gilbert asked if the property would be on city sewer service and if any elevation would change. Mr. Green said that part of the remodeling would include city sewer service, no more septic system. Mr. Green also said the drainage will change a little, it will be in the same pattern but it will flow forward into a city street and will remain a one story single family unit.

Motion was made by Commissioner Johnson to approve the amended plat on Lot 4R Block 1 of the Cedar Hill Subdivision, 209 Julian. Seconded by Commissioner Fahey.

Ayes: Chairman Gilbert, Commissioners Bavon, Byers, Johnson, and Fahey

6. Review of January 22 joint meeting with City Council.

City Manager Fairburn said that we would be talking about the 4a and 4b sales tax. There will be a representative from the City of Allen who will tell us how they have used it. He said an Economic Development Corporation would need to be formed and we would have to decide whether to ask for ¼ cent or ½ cent tax. There will be discussion with the City Council about the Comprehensive Plan. It may take some time since this was their first opportunity to look at it. May need to be reworked during February and then back to the City Council in March.

City Manager Fairburn said the discussion on the R-3 Regulations and Planned Unit development (like Kingswood) was brought about by the Fitch Investment people who had come before the Planning and Zoning Commission and City Council and they were told to let us see your plans. The property they are interested in is not zoned R-3. We don't have mixed use so we need to review items such as set backs and see if the City Council would be interested in having the Planning and Zoning Commission come up with Planned Unit Development. He said there will also be lunch and said that would be the end of the joint meeting but invited them to stay for the rest of the meeting.

7. Approval of minutes for November 4, 1999, and December 2, 1999, meetings.

B. Business

1. Workshop on Comprehensive Plan

Chairman Gilbert asked City Manager Fairburn for an update on the Comprehensive Plan. City Manager Fairburn said that formal reviews with public hearings could be held every three years and that the Planning and Zoning Commission could review the plan annually as to how many zoning changes or other changes had occurred. He presented a table which showed percentages of zoning uses in the City. City Manager Fairburn said the Parks and Recreation Board had discussed Arbor Day at their meeting this week. It was a thought that perhaps a tree-planting program could be added to the plan since we have no replacement trees and some trees are dying out. There was also discussion about balancing land uses and what would define a well-proportioned tax base. The plan should be an action plan: it should provide guidance for the next five years as well as looking forward to what could be in twenty years. City Manager Fairburn said there would be a public hearing at the January 20 meeting that will give the public a chance to look at the plan and make comments. There will be a joint workshop with the City Council on January 22. The plan is that at the next Planning and Zoning Commission meeting we can make any adjustments needed. Concern was raised about preventing action comparable to what is happening to Countryside Mobile Home Park. A suggestion was made to look at the impact that adverse zoning changes would have on existing and adjacent properties.
Copies of the plan will be available to the public at City Hall and at the Library. The public hearing and joint workshop with the City Council could lead to more meetings.

2. Consideration and Action on adding commercial uses to the Tax Abatement Policy.

City Manager Fairburn told the Planning and Zoning Commission that the City Council had authorized a 50 – 30 –10 tax abatement over the next three years to COMCO. There was a short discussion about retail tax abatements.

Linwood Gilliland – 703 Payton
He stated that if a commercial use wants a different look, they should come before the Planning and Zoning Commission.

A. Citizens' Agenda

No one presented themselves to speak.

Vice Chairman Gilbert closed the Citizen's Agenda.

B. Business

1. Consideration and Action on tax abatement for COMCO.

Vice Chairman Gilbert asked City Manager Fairburn to give a report. Several months ago the Planning and Zoning Commission and the City Council looked over a tax abatement policy which Council approved at a 5 year and 50% maximum. COMCO will be out first one. City Manager Fairburn said it has been a longer process than COMCO had anticipated due to utility costs and availability on the property they had purchased on Overly Drive. He also said we don't have a value on the building being constructed by COMCO but he estimates an abatement of $7000 to $10,000 over the five years. He said there are no negative costs to the City due to this development; it will add a meter or two which is how the cost of our fire service is determined. The employees of COMCO may move here to be closer to their work; they will spend money here for lunches, gasoline, etc. The sales tax could be enhanced as COMCO expands their retail business. His report included the location near to the service road so that trucks making deliveries and pickups will have close proximity to the freeway.

Vice Chairman Gilbert asked David Carder, president of COMCO, if he had any comments. Mr. Carder said he will appreciate any abatement but the full 50% would be greatly appreciated. Almost 1 full acre out of the parcel was donated to the City, granted as right-of-way. He said they are presently posting a sign in anticipation of hiring 5 - 6 additional employees.

Motion was made by Commissioner Byers to recommend to the City Council a 50% tax abatement for COMCO. Seconded by Commissioner Fahey.
Ayes: Commissioners Byers, Gilbert, Johnson, and Fahey

Motion Passed

2. Consideration and Action on seating/selecting new Chair and other officers, if needed.

City Manager Fairburn said Commissioner Gilbert is Vice Chair and we have no other officers at this time. We need to nominate and appoint a chairperson at this time.

Motion was made by Commissioner Byers to nominate/appoint Ben Gilbert as Chairman. Seconded by Commissioner Fahey.
Ayes: Commissioners Byers, Gilbert, Johnson, and Fahey.
Noes: None

Motion Passed

After some discussion it was determined it would be best to wait until all members could be present before naming a vice chairperson.

Motion was made by Commissioner Fahey to table the vice chairman vote until the next meeting. Seconded by Commissioner Johnson.
Ayes: Commissioners Byers, Gilbert, Johnson, and Fahey.
Noes: None

Motion Passed

3. Consideration and Action on meeting procedures including how to sit alternates and taking of roll call votes on action items.

City Manager Fairburn said one of the items suggested was already being done and that was the roll call vote. Another concern is how to seat and determine which of the two alternates will be the voting alternate if there is a lack of quorum of commissioners. One way it had been done in the past was the senior alternate came up and sat in the absent commissioner. Commissioner Graham came in at this point. Another suggestion was the name plate could say 'Voting Alternate' or 'Non-Voting Alternate." Other commissioners said when they were alternates they sat in the audience unless needed to complete quorum. Motivation occurs when alternates are allowed to take part in the discussion. Alternates could be seated at the ends and an announcement could be made stating which alternate would be sitting in for the absent commissioner.

Motion was made by Commissioner Johnson that the alternate be seated at the table by seniority and if the regular member arrives they will be seated at the next agenda item and voting members will be denoted by their nameplates and an announcement would be made who would be voting and if that were to change it would be re-announced. Seconded by Commissioner Fahey.
Ayes: Commissioners Byers, Gilbert, Johnson, Graham, and Fahey
Noes: None

Motion Passed

4. Consideration and Action on timing of Planning and Zoning Commission meetings with City Council Meetings.

City Manager Fairburn said this was brought up by the City Council in reference to the last couple of public hearings. Council wanted to see the minutes of the Planning and Zoning so we furnished 'draft' copies of the minutes which are unofficial. Council wanted to see what had been said by those citizens who had expressed concern or favor for the items. They have asked for reasoning behind Planning and Zoning decisions but the reasons could be entirely different and reasons do not actually have to be given. Chairman Gilbert asked why they took the liaison out because there used to be the liaison who took the information back to Council. City Manager Fairburn said the Council didn't think it was necessary for a councilmember to be there since the City Manager was in attendance and he also said that sometime Chairman Gilliland or other members of the Planning and Zoning Commission would attend the Council meetings when the hearings were being given. Council may be wanting a 'yea' or 'nay' because ' . . ' The third Thursday was suggested as an option for the Commission meetings as opposed to the first Thursday each month. The biggest difficulties with that could be the Public Hearings schedules and what the citizens are used to. We would have to look at the ordinances and it will also need to go to the City Council.

Motion was made by Commissioner Johnson to move the regular Planning and Zoning meetings to the third Thursday instead of the first Thursday of each month. Seconded by Commissioner Byers.

Ayes: Commissioners Byers, Gilbert, Johnson, Graham, and Fahey
Noes: None

Motion Passed

5. Workshop on development of the Comprehensive Plan.

City Manager Fairburn recommended a couple of changes on page 15 of the revised draft of the Comprehensive Plan which resulted from the September 2nd, 8th and 20th meetings. He said there would be some changes as to areas of concerns of citizens, various parts of the "Visions" section and specifically that part that defined the City as a 'regional gateway.'

Page 16 - Under 5 and goal 1.0 regarding commercial and multi-family, the Planning and Zoning Commission would be open to seeing plans regarding multi-family units. The DART parking could be dropped since the City Council is not open minded to that. Alternate Fahey stated he was still opposed to multi-family but thought the parking would be good. Commissioner Byers said she's not for multi-family particularly but would be open to seeing something nice and she thought a negative use for the property would be a parking facility. There was discussion about what wording to use so the zoning could be left more open. Everyone was in agreement that M-1 is not the proper zoning for that area.

Page 17 - First paragraph changes regarding new housing development; move warmth and charm under this expansion;

Page 21 - Fourth paragraph where reference is made to Swisher Road being adjacent to Thousand Oaks, changed to Jackson Ranch; typo referred to Lakeside, changed to Lakeview.

Page 22 - As recommended dropped the water and sewer treatment plants and drinking water facilities; dropped the public and private infrastructure; changed to have excellent or high level or superior roads, drainage and integrity of our infrastructure. This will all come back to the Commissioners for final agreement as to wording and layout.

Page 24 - In the second section the first paragraph which shows the average cost for single family homes, we don't have the number yet. All the numbers on the comprehensive plan elements need to be checked out. The last paragraph of the last section repeated a statement which had already been deleted. It also states that 1999 and 2000 will be banner years for road projects.

Page 25 - Under Goal 3 - rezoning available land for residential use, this is again talking about the railroad property. We should probably strike 3.1 because it's suggesting residential. Objective 3.2 talks about references multi-layered zoning which City Manager Fairburn said he thinks that mixed uses bumping against each other.

There was discussion among the Commissioners and City Manager about the zoning throughout the City. All of our available land is already residential with the exception of what few areas of M-1 and some commercial are there.

Page 29 - We had dropped 'required development' 3.0; objective 2.1 we also dropped 'required development.'

Page 30 - This is listing full-time police officers and reserve officers; we will be more specific in listing the number of sergeants and officers, etc.

Page 31 - The response time for police officers is there but 'element' will be dropped.

Page 32 - Economic Development Section - in the first paragraph we discussed how the tax base would be increased so don't need to discuss lowering taxes. One paragraph was dropped because it was included in paragraph 12.

Page 38 - Zoning & Land Use Plan - removed the 10 recently annexed acres north of Kings Manor because it is old news. Paragraph about Planning Horizons was dropped because the Charter has different amount of years. Also dropped paragraph about Planning Principles and the part about higher densities because it is not key to the overall comprehensive plan.

City Manager Fairburn asked the Commissioners to look over this Comprehensive Plan and the old minutes and make any corrections deemed necessary. We could have a Chapter about the Future of Lake Dallas and could discuss transportation, public safety, police protection, economic development as a section and discuss Main Street identity there. Quality of life - what section would you prefer that to be in. He said he could combine some of these things and bring it back to the December meeting.

Page 46 - In the old section is also on page 24 about Main Street doesn't seem to apply and he would like to drop. Implementation for higher density for Main Street was recommended in their plan but is not applicable at this point. This was approved by the Commission.

Under Community Development: the annexation east of Shady Shores has been done; the retreat at Monserrat will not be considered and the land bordering the Marina is not likely to support a hotel or motel.

Parks: They have a Master Plan which is separate from the Comprehensive Zoning Plan.

Dobbs Road - Council wants more development.

Page 48 - Administrative Actions: Planning and Zoning may wish to set up one meeting per year and send something to the City Council. He plans to rearrange the ending paragraphs.

6. Approval of minutes of October 7, 1999, meeting.

Alternate Fahey asked that the minutes be recorrected to reflect the statement he had said on Page 3 under Item 2: "Alternate Fahey was against the zoning change due to the possibility of sexually oriented businesses going in."
Motion was made by Commissioner Graham to approve the minutes of October 7, 1999, as corrected. Seconded by Alternate Fahey.
Ayes: Commissioners Byers, Gilbert, Johnson, Graham and Alternate Fahey

A. Citizens' Agenda

Rod Courtney, 162 Kingswood, spoke in recognition of Linwood Gilliland. This would be Chairman Gilliland's last meeting as a member on the Planning and Zoning Commission. Mr. Courtney said Chairman Gilliland has been on every board for the City of Lake Dallas and the City Council plus being involved with some Denton County functions.

Chairman Gilliland closed the Citizen's Agenda when no one else offered to speak.

B. Business

1. Public Hearing regarding a zoning change from M-1 Light Industrial District to C-3 Commercial District for First Highway Addition Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6, Block A, Lake Dallas, Denton County, ,Texas

Steve Lee, 608 Johnson, Coppell, gave petitions to each of the Commissioners which showed the number of names and addresses of customers who had signed the petition. He runs D & J Liquor, 633 South Denton Drive. He said the property referenced is within the TABC regulations regarding day cares, schools, and churches. If this property is rezoned to C-3 they would relocate their business to that location and promised there would be no adult entertainment allowed on Lots 1 through 6.

Bonnie Brown Garcia, Post Office Box 25/427 South Denton Drive, said some years ago this property had been zoned C-3. She said their family would appreciate the zoning change since theirs is the only property that's not C-3 on Denton Drive. She said they might develop the property and possibly erect a metal building. She also said spot-zoning is not fair.

Chairman Gilliland said she would have to come to the Planning and Zoning Commission before they could put up a metal building.

Steve Wohr, 715 Lakeland, said he was speaking not as the Mayor but as a citizen. He asked the Commissioners to think very hard about this zoning. He said the other side of the street is zoned C-3. The citizens have asked for streets, parks, and other amenities and these things take money. Constant demands on the budget means the City doesn't have huge surpluses. If we had enough commercial property tax we wouldn't have to raise the property tax of the residents.

Ernesto Lopez, Jr., 55 Kingswood, said the issue here is not the liquor, it's growth for the City. There is not enough retail on the East side of Denton Drive. The tax base would be higher and we could put more money into streets and sidewalks and the City could get parks like Hickory Creek and Corinth have.

Norma McAlavy, 25 Oakwood, said we have enough liquor stores. Save our town from any more booze.

Allen Meyer, 6519 Meyers Road, Dallas, said it could be rezoned to C-1 or C-2 and still have retail. This didn't come up until Mr. Lee bought the property. The City doesn't need any more C-3. Hickory Creek will have C-3 and will have liquor which will take away from Lake Dallas' liquor business. What will happen to the tax base if the City gets too many liquor stores and some will have to go out of business? He said D & J is his tenant with a 5 year lease and a 3 month cancellation clause.

Sal Reyes, 605 South Denton Drive, said he is a new citizen and is against changing the zoning.

Betty Harper, 390 S. Lakeview, asked Mr. Reyes what his business is and Mr. Reyes replied, "Liquor."

Charley _____, Lewisville, said he had talked with Mrs. Garcia the previous night and if C-3 passes the cost of the property will be higher. He wants to put in offices.

Albert Moussa, said he bought Spiritz but bought a house in Corinth so his children could have a nice place to grow up. There are too many liquor stores in Lake Dallas. He sells beer and wine only.

Ernesto Lopez, Jr., 55 Kingswood, said they would not be opening another liquor store; they would be moving to a better site. They also sell wholesale and service some clubs.

Mike Minnis, 204 Oakwood, said the Commission should take into account that 4 liquor store operators are opposing the rezoning.

Doris Eckleberry, 905 Vista Oaks Court, said why not rezone to commercial but not for liquor. The City can still make money with commercial. People will start moving out because it's getting pretty disgusting having so many liquor stores here.

Lonnie Nowlin, owns Great Southwest Cedar Company, 604 S. Denton Drive. He has the property under contract to purchase from the Fosters and hadn't been told by them about the rezoning. He is not in favor of the rezoning.

Carolyn Green, 201 North Shady Shores, asked why is this issue coming back? She said she has nothing against liquor. She said so many people are bringing up the taxes issue. We were promised we'd have streets if the City went wet. She has witnessed people drinking in their cars right after a purchase from a store. Progress calls for more taxes. She has no problems with a zoning change to C-1 or C-2.

Bonnie Brown Garcia, 427 S. Denton Drive, said they don't have the desire to sell their property unless they can get the price they want. She thinks it's important to be C-3 and keep in continuity with the rest of Denton Drive.

Steve Wohr, 715 Lakeland, said the amount of liquor stores in the City is governed by economics. The property has been there without a real tax base for a long time. He thinks it's a good choice due to the location which also has a body shop and the railroad tracks are behind it. He stated that it was not appropriate to listen to competitors.

David Shershen, 166 Kingswood, said a lot of things that were said here tonight have nothing to do with planning and zoning. It's the responsibility of the Planning & Zoning Commission to collect information and to make recommendations to the City Council. That's one of the things that our Constitution is based on. It's free enterprise and competition.

Marg Johnson, 905 Vista Oaks, said she doesn't agree with the zoning change; both sides of the street don't need to be C-3.

Daisy Haley, 5409 Prince, said she has just lived her since May and has noticed how many stores there are and now a new one is going in on Swisher. She does not agree with the zoning change.

2. Consideration and Action on a zoning change from M-1 Light Industrial District to C-3 Commercial District for First Highway Addition Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6, Block A, Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas

During discussions about the Comprehensive Plan, the Commission had given some thought to changing this M-1 area to C-1 or C-2 but were in agreement about not changing it to C-3. There was concern about 2 of the businesses in this area which did not want the zoning changed. Liquor stores have helped the community over the years through their revenue but there is a lot of vacant property that already is zoned C-3. A recent rezoning change on North Shady Shores had been denied by Council and even more recently Council denied a Special Use Permit to a club that was moving from one location to another location which was already zoned C-3. Commissioner Gilbert stated he was against the change. Commissioner Byers said her concern is that not all the owners are in agreement about the change. Chairman Gilliland said M-1 is not good but the change is not appropriate. Commissioner Barnard said the Comprehensive Plan discussions talked about C-1 or C-2 but not C-3. The City has denied the M-1 to C-3 on the south side of Swisher, said no to Slick's. Council denied Moonlighters on C-3 that Planning and Zoning passed. Denton raises the bar to improve development. ALTERNATE FAHEY WAS AGAINST THE ZONING CHANGE DUE TO THE POSSIBILITY OF SEXUALLY ORIENTED BUSINESSES GOING IN. CORRECTION BJM BJM Motion was made by Commissioner Barnard not to accept the zoning change. Seconded by Commissioner Gilbert.

Ayes: Commissioners Bavon, Byers, Gilbert, and Barnard
Noes: None
Abstentions: Chairman Gilliland

Motion Passed

Chairman Gilliland called for a break at 8:45 p.m.
Chairman Gilliland called the meeting back to order at 8:57 p.m.

3. Hearing open to the Public for input for the Comprehensive Plan for the City of Lake Dallas.

Chairman Gilliland asked for guidance from the people in the audience.

Bo Fitch, 5580 Peterson Lane, Suite 155, Dallas, cited the property by the railroad tracks and said they don't want to put liquor stores or a mobile home park there. He said he had been before the Commission in April when they were asking for input from those on Main Street. They have been working with the railroad regarding their property here in Lake Dallas. He said they have been to Winn Dixie and Tom Thumb and neither of them are interested. He said the area wouldn't be retail because of the property shape, the railroad tracks, and ingress/egress. They would like to get some feedback from the Commission as to what their thoughts on nice apartments? That would bring people in and help generate more sales tax for the city.

Chairman Gilliland said the zoning is pretty strict and the Commission would like to see their plans with the engineering and have a commitment before the zoning change.

Mr. Fitch said they put in the apartments at Hebron Parkway in Lewisville as well as the Main Event and Cadillac dealership at I-35 and Corporate Drive in Lewisville. In answer to a question about whether the location would be good for a hotel/motel Mr. Fitch said it would need better access and higher visibility.

Commissioner Gilliland asked City Manager Fairburn for his input. He said he's talked with the railroad and they don't want to parcel out. One of the biggest problems is the high density traffic but with that location the vehicles wouldn't have to go through town. There would be opportunities for the businesses in the area. In a discussion with the Superintendent of Schools it was determined that the taxes per residence doesn't cover costs until it is a $145,000 or more home. The Lake Dallas ISD would not be in favor of the change. It would need to be looked at very carefully.

Discussion among the Commissioners ensued. It was decided that they would be willing to look at the plans Mr. Fitch would bring back to them. It was also discussed as to what sort of visual do we want to have when you enter the City – industrial or quality family or multi-family units.

Commissioner Gilliland closed the public hearing and said they would skip item 4, Workshop on development of the Comprehensive Plan tonight and go straight to the minutes approval.

There was another meeting established for September 8, 1999 at 7:30.
There was discussion about how to call in to be excused if a commissioner cannot make a meeting. If possible, call in ahead, but if it is a last minute emergency, call as soon after the day as possible.

2. Approval of minutes of August 5, 10, and 19, 1999

Commissioner Graham asked for changes to the minutes of August 5,1999.

- Add the part that Thanna Bounds stated that it was always their intention to develop lots as a cemetery.
- What Patsy Farrow said about "not understanding why cemetery should make improvements on the Graham's personal property"

It was the consensus to check the tape to determine what was actually stated and write it as such.

Motion was made by Commissioner Barnard to approve the minutes of August 10, August 19, and August 5, 1999, as amended. Seconded by Commissioner Gilbert.

1. Work Session on the development of the Comprehensive Plan.

The commissioners discussed the rough draft of a partial comprehensive plan drawn up by Al Bavon's class at the University of North Texas. Items of discussion included:

1) Zoning changes could be utilized for flexibility; 'spotty' zoning should be eliminated
2) The bridge across Lake Lewisville will be in our city and should help development—residential and retail
3) Clyde Edwards would like his property on Dobbs to be commercial
4) Multi-family units are not real desirable
5) Heightened development by the marina
6) Market the city: get a slogan and motif – our biggest advantage is our lake
7) Form a committee (focus group) to promote interest in the City; get a businessmen's organization going
8) The City will remain mostly residential properties and we don't have much property left
9) Fund raisers and volunteers to improve the old buildings on Main Street and other streets
10) Host activities in the City; i.e., vintage cars and/or race cars
11) Improvement of Church Street, signage and move the Hundley Exit south to Church (Main)
12) Contact the Denton County Economic Development Commission re: vacant properties
13) After web page is established we can list vacant properties on it & publish in newsletter

The commissioners agreed to proof-read the draft and make comments/notations for discussion at the next meeting. It was decided that there should be at least 2 more meetings with public input and we can put out summaries that would be available at City Hall and the Lake Cities Library.

1. Public Hearing - To issue a Special Use Permit to operate a private club for property located at 212 Main Street, Lake Dallas, Texas; Tract 66 of A1355A Wright Survey, zoning district is C-3.

Bobby Griffith, 155 West Overly, said he has leased the space at 212 Main Street. He has had a club for 8 years at 112 Hundley Drive. He proposes to use half of the building on the Main Street location for a club and rent out the other half as office spaces. He is requesting a special use permit in order to accomplish this.
Gary Johnson, legal representative for Eva Johnson, his aunt, of 209 Main. He expressed concern regarding property values and the clientele. He said he didn't see a private club attracting the clientele we need right in the heart of the city. He wanted to register his concerns and objections.
James Lively, 527 Oak Lake, expressed his concern to putting a club in the heart of Lake Dallas. He said when he moved here he understood there were clubs and liquor stores here but what actually drew him here from the hustle and bustle of Dallas was the country atmosphere. He doesn't feel a club of this magnitude will help the persona of the City.
Winston Harper, 390 S. Lakeview Drive, said his whole being in Lake Dallas is business and trying to get other business to come into Lake Dallas. He said we already have one club across the street from a school and then Chalker's went in on Main Street. He said he realizes some people think that any business in place of an empty building is good but we need to be cautious as to what we put in on Main Street. Clubs and liquor stores could be what keeps out other kinds of business we'd rather have.
Betty Harper, 390 S. Lakeview Drive, said one of her goals on the City Council is to bring in new business. She said she doesn't feel the center of our town needs a club. She said she knows Chalker's is there and that if it were a bar and grill that would be different. She's totally against this.
Becky Locklin, Lake Dallas, said she and her husband were having a problem opening a day care center here but they can't because the can't be within 300 feet of all the places that sell alcohol. Everywhere they've looked has been too close. Commissioner Fahey said the code says alcohol places can't move within 300' of them but they can move within the alcohol districts.

Paul Locklin, Lake Dallas, said he was told by the City's zoning office today that they couldn't move within 300 feet of an establishment that sells alcoholic beverages and that they would have to buy a permit. City Manager Fairburn said that day cares do require special use permits and the application must go before the Planning and Zoning Commission. The onus of distance is placed on the alcohol business.

Commissioner Gilliland asked Bobby Griffith if he would like to respond to the concerns.

Mr. Griffith said he appreciates all the concern. The club that he did close at 112 Hundley attracted businesses to that shopping center. It was 50% occupied before Moonlighters moved in and after they were there the center was completely occupied. The business they are talking about at 212 Main is not a honky tonk. It's a big place and it's been vacant over a year. When Danal's moved out they left everything in there including meat on the floor and milk in cartons, etc. It's been a hazard and rat infested for 1 ½ years. If the property around the building was going to be de-valued it would have happened before they got there. They have cleared it all out including cleaning up the alleyway between that building where Chalker's is and the day care and they have had no problems with the day care. They do not have loud bands or lewd behavior. The property values should increase because they have put a lot of work into the building and area. He's been approached by at least six other businesses about leasing the space next door as office spaces.

Commissioner Gilliland asked Mr. Griffith what kind of night club it was going to be, serve food, dance? Mr. Griffith said they will have live bands, dancing, food service, dart contests and leagues. It is a drinking establishment. It shouldn't cause more problems for the Police Department because they are right across the street from them. Commissoner Graham said one of the things she's been hearing is that the citizens would like to have more restaurants here. Mr. Griffith said they can't make it a dinner club but kids can come in with adults and if they want to eat they have burgers and things in a basket. She asked if they had pool tables and shuffleboards. He said on the Chalker's side they do. Mr. Griffith answered Mr. Harper's question about office spaces by saying he was planning on 800 - 1000 square feet areas. Mr. Lively said he thinks it would be a good idea to put it all in offices instead of a bar. He thinks that would bring in more businesses and more tax dollars. We have people looking at moving here because of the good school district and it's a safe town.

Shelly Cristich, 298 South Lakeview, said she likes small towns and grew up in a small town with liquor in it. She has no problem with what's going on. The small grocery store's prices were too high and we can't support another like it. She said this is an existing business and that she has never seen anything in the paper about fights at Moonlighters or Chalker's. She doesn't see how it will lower property values. The other houses on Main Street are either falling apart, hardly anyone is living in them, or they're being turned into businesses.

Commissioner Gilliland closed the public hearing since no one else presented themselves to speak.

1. Consideration and action to issue a Special Use Permit to operate a private club for property located at 212 Main Street, Lake Dallas, Texas; Tract 66 of A1355A Wright Survey, zoning district is C-3

There was discussion about the length of time the big parking lot and building had been unused. The city will not be able to attract a grocery store to that building with the competition and the trend being that they're not moving here. Chalker's is going to be phased out and the area is already zoned for alcohol so it's not a question of adding any more C-3 zoning. Commissioner Gilliland asked City Manager Fairburn and Building Official Harp if they were aware of any other businesses interested in the building. City Manager Fairburn said he knew of none and Building Official Harp said about a year ago someone was but the price was too high. The building's owners have surely tried to lease this property out during this time it has been sitting empty. The City had given some thought to acquiring it for the City Hall but the price was prohibitive. A Mexican restaurant considered the building but went to Denton instead due to lesser rental per foot. Also, an antique store had checked into the possibility of occupying the building but it was too expensive to clean up and take care of the infestation. The problem also appears to be visibility – businesses want to be seen from I-35 as proven by the fact that 2 different developers are trying to bring restaurants into the area north of the bank and also on Swisher Road. It was brought up that Mark Grover with the Denton County Economic Development Commission was aware the building was empty but no interest had been generated. Mr. Griffith was asked why he was moving from the Hundley location. The reply was that the new owner had raised the rent by $1400 per month.

Motion was made by Commissioner Barnard to approve issuing a Special Use Permit for 212 Main Street, Lake Dallas, Texas; Tract 66 of A1355A Wright Survey, zoning district is C-3. Seconded by Commissioner Fahey.

1. Public Hearing - To issue Special Use Permit to the Swisher Cemetery Association for lots which have been donated to or purchased by the Swisher Cemetery: Oak Lakes, Block A, Lots 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, and 15

Chuck Graham, 1013 Kings Manor, said he had gone to the birthday club about this variation about a year ago. He said there are deed restrictions on those lots and he realizes that is a civil matter but feels it should be taken into consideration before issuing a permit. He said the road on Meadowbrook has been extremely damaged.
Gene Tisdale, 524 Howard, said he wants to make sure the deed restrictions are met before the city has a liability. He doesn't think the City should put itself in a position to be sued.
Chairman Gilliland said the zoning has been changed and no other restrictions of the deeds were put forth to be enforced at that time.
Commissioner Graham said there were deed restrictions that should be addressed.
Mary Purser, 725 Main Street, President of the Swisher Cemetery Association requested that Commissioner Graham not be allowed to vote due to a conflict of interest.
Commissoner Graham said she had signed an affidavit and would abstain from voting.
Mary Purser said she was there concerning the development of the Swisher Cemetery. This community cemetery has been in existence since 1883. The original land was donated strictly for burial sites for residents of the area, Hickory Creek, Shady Shores, Corinth, and Lake Dallas. They have restricted the burials to those from this immediate area. Through the years the former Birthday Club organization worked to support the cemetery and looked to the future by accepting land donations from the land owners of Oak Lakes and purchased a few of the lots because of back taxes that were owed on them. In the past the City Attorneys have aided with the paperwork and pasts mayors have cooperated on these transactions. They don't understand why they now have to purchase a permit. Lots are in demand and they will be running out of space soon. They have been made aware that some of these lots fall in the flood plain and at the present time there is nothing on their agenda to develop these lots. She said they would work with the Building Inspector to follow the City's guidelines. She said there's a good chance that a lot of the land will not be used because it lays in the flood plain. They have made a general rule to put fences up.

As of yesterday the cemetery had received from Austin the authority for an historical marker. She said she felt strongly that the community would benefit if they could receive the permit. When someone loses a loved one they would like to have them close. She said they would like to see the deed restrictions because they have never been shown that there are deed restrictions and they have asked to see them. Chairman Gilliland asked if the Swisher Cemetery Association planned on purchasing any more lots. Ms. Purser said there are currently 2 vacant lots within the area that they would like to purchase the cost is too much.

Bob Davis, 33 Lake Ridge, said he'd been made aware by the Grahams and other property owners in the Oak Lakes subdivision that there were complications with the road and the bridge and the City either getting involved with the development of that area through sewer, other utilities, and the roads voluntarily or involuntarily. He said there is a possibility of the cemetery infringing on the roadway. If the City gets into a legal situation and the Cemetery Association loses the suit he doesn't want to be faced with the possibility of having to move his loved one who is buried there. He asked that the City reach a compromise.

Chuck Graham said it was his understanding that there are 13 bodies buried on those lots and that we could ask Building Official Harp.

Patsy Farrow, 508 Main Street, said she's not sure why this has occurred and why people are so upset about this particular thing. The cemetery has had public support for years and it was never the intention of anyone to infringe on anyone's rights and they had nothing to do with the road destruction. She said she was not sure why Mr. and Mrs. Gaham are so upset about this. People from the Thousand Oaks subdivision knew the cemetery was there when they bought their homes and they give donations which helps with the upkeep of the grounds.

Building Official Harp was requested to look at the roadway at the entrance to the subdivision. He went out to see what kind of drainage problem we might have as far as the flood plain. He said there is a correction that can be made to prevent any grave sites from washing out and that correction would be a retaining wall.

Mary Purser said the area has been surveyed and she will find it. City Manager Fairburn said the City is in the process of having that area surveyed. She said they don't have anyone buried on any of those lots in question. Mr. Graham said there were headstone up against the fence. Ms. Purser said she was trying to think where that could be. Mr. Graham said the concern is not the cemetery, it's the road. The backfill off the cemetery is causing damage to the road by washing out.

Commissioner Gilliland said the road is the City's only interest.

Carolyn Green, 201 N. Shady Shores, asked what are the deed restrictions. Commissoner Graham said the deed restrictions say you can't run a business on those properties and the cemetery is a business and the deed restrictions were set by the developer. Ms. Green asked what does the street have to do with this. She asked City Manager Fairburn to find out what Texas law says about cemeteries.

Commissoner Graham said that just because the cemetery association is non-profit does not make it not a business. She said the Birthday Club has covered part of the road and thus denied access.

Barbara Miller, Denton, TX, asked if they are planning to bury bodies on the Oak Lakes lots and is the association going to protect the road. Ms. Purser repeated that the association will work with the Building Official. Ms. Miller asked if they planned to honor the deed restrictions. Commissioner Gilliland said the City does not enforce deed restrictions. Ms. Miller wanted to ask if anyone else on the board has voting power on the cemetery association or did at the time the alleged violations occurred, particularly as regards Commissioner Gilliland. He was vice president from January 1998 until January 1999. He was not a member at the time the land was purchased.

Patsy Farrow said the Oak Lakes subdivision was developed long before it came into the City and she thought the developer sold the lots with lots of promises.

Thanna Bounds, 440 Betchan, said she was president of the cemetery association for 25 years. She was elected in January, 1972, and Slat Beene's wife was a real estate agent and was in charge of selling these lots. The Cemetery Association has been trying to buy this property since 1972.

Commissioner Gilliland asked City Manager Fairburn if he had anything to add.

City Manager Fairburn said the issue before the commission is to have a Special Use Permit for the various lots described for use as a cemetery. The road issue is being looked at by the City and will be dealing with any encroachments in the right of way.

Commissioner Gilliland closed the public hearing.

1. Consideration and action on issuing a Special Use Permit to the Swisher Cemetery Association for lots which have been donated to or purchased by the Swisher Cemetery: Oak Lakes, Block A, Lots 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, and 15

There was discussion regarding the historic value and importance of the cemetery to the community. The code book authorizes issuing Special Use Permits to a cemetery. The road behind the cemetery is rutted out but there has never been any development on the lots. There is a possibility that the City of Corinth may get a road into that area but the City of Lake Dallas should see about making the road accessible. The City is not responsible for maintenance of the roads/streets of that area. The cemetery association has agreed to meet all the requirements of code enforcement. The requirement to notify the residents within 200 feet had been met. Some letters came back as undeliverable.

Motion was made by Commissioner Gilbert to approve issuing a Special Use Permit to the Swisher Cemetery Association for Oak Lakes, Block A, Lots 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14 and 15. Seconded by Commissioner Fahey.

Commissioner Gilliland called the meeting back to order at 8:42 p.m.

3. Work Session on the development of the Comprehensive Plan

City Manager Fairburn said the Planning & Zoning Commission has had meetings with Main Street, Denton Drive, and Swisher people to hear their thoughts and concerns. We might need an open session to hear what others may have planned for the City. Some items brought up have been uses for the M-1 property on Denton Drive; how to get a Main Street corridor all the way to I-35 through the use of Church Street; development of signs to guide people into town; the DART transportation system; soundproofing for Kings Manor people; protection for those residents who live in business zoned areas. Commissioner Bavon and one of his classes at the University of North Texas had drafted a plan which needs more input from the Planning and Zoning Commission. It was decided that each commissioner be furnished with a copy of the UNT draft and minutes of meetings with the 3 identified areas and have a workshop session on August 19 at 7 p.m. City Manager Fairburn said the commission is hoping to present the master plan to the City Council in the fall. A public hearing will also need to be scheduled for citizen input and it was determined that should be the next regular Planning and Zoning meeting.

A. Citizens' Agenda

Michael Webster, 606 Lakebridge, would like to know who owns the entryway to their subdivision since it is not being maintained. Does Pulte Homes, Cameron and Associates, or the City of Lake Dallas own that area? Who's in charge of mowing in the gate area and what assurance can the City give regarding the maintenance, mowing, weeds, and trash that is in that area?
City Manager Fairburn said the City is not aware of any land transfer. Cameron and Associates is the owner of that property and it is zoned C-1. We have been working with Mr. Cameron regarding the swamp area plus the pile of limbs since it is off the right-of-way. Code Enforcement has sent letters regarding the mowing.

Commissioner Gilliland said Commissioner Bavon was an instructor at the University of North Texas and this semester they were helping the City of Lake Dallas by working on a comprehensive plan for us. He had a representative from his class at the meeting tonight, Mr. Gary Johnson. Commissioner Gilliland said he appreciated his guidance and work on this project.

B. Business

1. Work session on the development of the Comprehensive Plan

Doris Eckelberry, 905 Vista Oaks Court, asked if the City could put some bike paths or walkways (something with a hard surface) down by the lake, and maybe get some help from Hickory Creek. City Manager Fairburn said there has been some discussion about that with the Lake Study and along the railroad tracks. The Parks and Recreation Board is working on the parks plan for Willow Grove area along with the other parks. He said that the Lake Dallas and Hickory Creek Parks and Recreation Boards are working together on the Fallfest planned for October and that might be a good beginning for connecting our Willow Grove with Westlake. Commissioner Gilliland suggested they attend a Parks and Recreation meeting.

Odie Carlson, 906 Vista Oaks Court, said since Lake Dallas is getting about landlocked is there anything the city can do to take in more area. City Manager Fairburn said the City Council has looked at Hook Street and the Folley Beach area and it has been determined that the area is in Hickory Creek's ETJ but they can't annex it because their population is below 5000. Last year we annexed the Boliver property and we have 50 - 60 acres left to be developed and the new Swisher Road extension will bisect that property. Mr. Carlson said he would be glad to help in any way he can because he would like to see our city upgraded. He said he had lived in an area where groups would help situations by upgrading those who couldn't afford to do it themselves. Commissioner Gilliland advised him to fill out an application for the Planning and Zoning Commission, the Parks and Recreation Board, or the Board of Adjustment. Commissioner Barnard said he could get on the Citizen's Agenda of the City Council meetings and was advised of the times.

John Schuh, 737 Harbour Town Drive, asked what the city's responsibility is for the roads in that area. He also said he liked Mrs. Eckleberry's idea for the bike paths. City Manager Fairburn said that a few months ago the company who is developing that area had come forward for replatting that area in order to straighten the street and they had agreed to the City Council's request to fix the street at the same time they put in the new curb. There has been no action yet but the Building Official has been trying to check them to see what the plan is. If it stays undeveloped, the city will have to do something about it.

Michael Webster, 606 Lakebridge, asked what the status was on Carlisle Street and when will it be redone. City Manager Fairburn said it is part of the street bond issue as is the south side of Main Street but those portions are part of the 3rd million of the bond issue so it will not be anytime soon. It is still a priority with council but the unavailability of funds is still with us.

Commissioner Graham asked City Manager Fairburn to advise what had happened to the federal grant for a Wetland and Wildlife area that the Parks and Recreation Board had been talking about when she was on the Parks Board. City Manager Fairburn said the city is submitting a 10 year park master plan this month to the State of Texas in an effort to get some grant funding.

Commissioner Gilliland closed the work session at 8:00 p.m.

2. Consideration and action on replatting of Lots 1 - 6, Block One, Tract One of the Gotcher Addition and Tract 2, Lot 7 of the CR Stockard Survey

3. Consideration and action on a preliminary plat for Swisher Road Addition - North and South

Ron Berlin, 3838 Oaklawn, Suite 300, Dallas, Texas 75219, is one of the owners and has 2 other partners. He introduced Mark Stacey, property contractor; Jeff Stone, proposed operator; Oscar, designer and architect; Cliff Hobbs, representative of their engineering firm. Besides owning the property on the north side of Swisher they have put 2 acres under contract with Payless Cashways and are going with the current zoning of that area. They are considering dividing the south tract into 2 parcels but have no users at this time. Their engineers have found a way to adequately store the water in a retention area and then drain through the Jackson Ranch area. Commissioner Gilliland asked if our engineers have looked into the drainage plan. City Manager Fairburn said they have looked at it and the north section follows the original plan of the water that crosses Swisher and then goes into a pipe which is provided by the Jackson Ranch. They will grade the site so it doesn't drain toward the homes. Mr. Berlin said they would enclose the drainage underground The north plat is a 5 acre plat. They are asking for a preliminary plat for the remaining area other than Lot 1. He said they have decided to have one curb cut in order to limit the turns off Swisher Road and that would allow the vehicles to go from store to store without getting back out on the street. Commissioner Barnard asked what the effect of the drainage would be if Mr. Berlin did not buy the south property. City Manager Fairburn said that if the south side stays as it is if will not affect the north side. City Manager Fairburn said U. S. Homes will have a swale in the residential area which will pick up the drainage and it will continue to go to the north. Commissioner Gilbert stated that the south side of Swisher is zoned M-1 and all plans have to come before the Planning & Zoning Commission before any permits can be issued. Mr. Berlin asked how soon they could approval on the preliminary plans for the remaining area on the north side as well as the south side. City Manager Fairburn said as soon as the engineers approve the preliminary plans they could begin their final plans. Mr. Berlin said there would be no other 'stand alone' liquor stores on the remaining parts of the north side and that they would come back for replatting if they found only one owner for the three lots. There was discussion about fencing between the commercial and residential portions of the Jackson Ranch Subdivision. Mr. Berlin said they did not have a problem with the city requirements as they currently exist. City Manager Fairburn said U. S. Homes may already be planning a fence on this next phase and that the city will coordinate this.

4. Consideration and action on a final plat for Block 1, Lot 1, Swisher Road Addition, North

Ron Berlin, 3838 Oaklawn, Suite 300, Dallas, Texas 75219,
He said he tried to find what to do with that parcel that would be beneficial to the tax rolls as well as the community. They are considering Lot 1 to be a liquor, beer, wine, and convenience store with a brick front building, all concrete parking, landscaping, and lighting and the size will be 7000 square feet. He said it would not be good to try to put a large grocery store there due to the lack of area for parking as well as a large store.
Motion was made by Commissioner Graham to approve the preliminary plat for Swisher Road Addition for the north side and the final plat for Block 1, Lot 1, Swisher Road Addition, North. Seconded by Commissioner Bavon.

B. Work Session: Comprehensive Plan – Swisher Road Corridor

John Polster, Denton County Traffic Consultant presented the overall project of extending Swisher, building the bridge, and the alternatives of the number of lanes and when they will be built. There will probably be two bridges over the lake, and they have to determine if they will build both now or just one.

Stewart Fairburn, City Manager, discussed what the City Council put down as the requirements for the Swisher extension – traffic lights, low city speed, and maintenance done on all of Swisher by the County.

Several residents in Kings Manor subdivision asked for a sound barrier to be put up. Alternatives discussed were walls, fences and trees. Mr. Polster stated that it is not part of their project, and within the 80 feet that they have may not be doable.

Rick Parker 1025 Kings Manor – asked what the zoning was to the north of Kings Manor. It was stated that the zoning was residential R-1-10000. One of the issues was to determine where there might be some commercial possibilities along Swisher.

John Polster talked about the right-of-way acquisition, the price of the bridge (12-13 million), and the possibility of a toll. The Corps of Engineers is currently reviewing the bridge for environmental impact. Mr. Polster felt that it would take two years to design and two years to construct. The bridge would be functioning by 2003.

Letitia De Burgos 47 Lake Vista Circle – She stated that the current commercial buildings, all of the hamburger places etc. look bad and are tacky. She feels we should have something better than that.

Margaret Tisdale 509 Howard – She would prefer residential development to the north of Kings Manor.

Judy Amstutz , property owner along Swisher, feels that the property east of Shady Shores is beautiful and should stay residential. The property along Swisher west of Shady Shores is different. She also raised concerns about her lots being shortened by the right-of-way acquisition and having the lot size reduced below the minimum required. Some commissioners felt that she should still be able to build on those lots.

Another resident asked about the possibilities of a sidewalk along the road.

A. CITIZENS AGENDA – No one came forward to speak.

C-1 Work session on the development of the Comprehensive Plan with regard to the Denton Drive/Frontage Road Business Sector.

Rod Courtney 162 Kingswood - The City needs to consider the gateways into the city, both north and south. The properties north of the intersection of Denton and Carlisle should be rezoned C-3 to allow for business to move from across street.

Lily Bulen 103 S. Denton Drive - A 42 year resident, she was concerned that a new plan would force out the residents in the Denton Drive area. The plan would have to protect the residents.

John Smith 110 Church - There are properties along Church Street for sale. Church Street is in a dangerous condition and needs widening. The Church will cooperate.

Cathy Thompson 203 Denton - Asked what the Comprehensive Plan project was about. Stewart Fairburn, City Manager, gave an overview about the Planning and Zoning Commission developing a plan that will help guide the city over the next few years, and at this point they are seeking input as to what the public would like to see. Ms. Thompson had concerns about the restricted on-road parking and traffic not stopping at Church Street. The number of liquor stores was a concern, especially around the residential areas.

Steven Lee 633 S. Denton Drive - His business has been growing since 1980 and needs to expand. Would like to go across the street but the M-1 classification is not suitable. The zoning needs to be C-3.

B. PUBLIC HEARING - Revisions of regulations and screening requirements related to outdoor storage in commercial zoning districts.

Rod Courtney 162 Kingswood - Storage requirements need to be looked at on a case by case basis, possibly with a Special Use Permit. The City needs to do what it can for long-term businesses.

Ken Stapleton 511 Ridgewood - The City needs to bring in business, but it should be done properly. The impact on residents must be considered, and property values cannot be driven down. The City should not be held hostage to businesses threatening to leave. Chain link or chain link with slats is not preferable for screening; masonry construction would be better.

C-2 Revisions of regulations and screening requirements related to outdoor storage in commercial zoning districts.

Commissioner Gilbert raised a concern that he felt that this decision was being rushed, and the Commission needs to review this more carefully and have workshops. It was discussed that City Council has asked for their feedback by the next Council session so there is no more time to deliberate.

Commissioner Fahey moved that "No retail merchandise can be stored or displayed outside a building unless the merchandise is of a temporary or seasonal nature. No equipment shall be stored or displayed outside a building unless it is completely screened from all directions according to 18.54.040 A and E. Rewrite 18.22.020 B and 18.24.020 B to be more clear." Commissioner Byers seconded the motion.

The Planning and Zoning Commission of the city of Lake Dallas convened in a regular monthly meeting on May 6, 1999, in the Council Chambers of Lake Dallas City Hall located at 303 Alamo Street, Lake Dallas, Texas. Notice of the meeting was posted as required by Title 5, Chapter 551, of the Texas Government Code.

The following members were present and constituted a quorum of members: Al Bavon, Diane Byers, Ben Gilbert, Linwood Gilliland, M. J. Graham, and Alternate Mike Fahey.

Also in attendance were City Manager Stewart Fairburn, City Secretary Beverly Lucke.

Linwood Gilliland called the meeting to order at 7:35 p.m.

A. Citizens Agenda

No one asked to speak on the Citizen's Agenda.

B. Public Hearing - To rezone Lot 6 Block One, Tract One, of Gotcher Addition from C-1 to C-2 commercial zoning district

Robbie Houghton stated he is requesting the change from C-1 to C-2 zoning so they could have outside storage, understanding they have to have screening. This rezoning extends through the 85 foot strip behind 6, as the strip will be replatted and be incorporated into parts of lots 1 through 6.
A surveyor is in the process of replatting.

Rod Courtney, 162 Kingswood Road - said he thinks it is a good idea. We need business in the city. They've been here a long time and using outside storage where they were. Thinks it's something we should look forward to.

No one else asked to speak so the Commissioner. Gilliland closed the public hearing.

C-1 Consideration and action on amending the zoning map by rezoning Lot 6 Block One, Tract One of Gotcher Addition from C-1 to C-2 commercial zoning district

Commissioner Gilliland said that C-1 says everything must be inside the building; C-2 states what can be done with manufactured items; C-3 is the same way. City Manager Fairburn said while C-1 is very specific about saying you cannot store outside but they did not include that in C-2 but were very specific in saying that if you are manufacturing in C-2 you cannot store outside. The interpretation that he had was that without that specific prohibition outside storage was allowed in C-2. Commissioner Gilbert asked if the property was bordered by C-2 or residential. Mr. Houghton said mostly residential but they plan to put up the same type of facility they currently have. Commissioner Gilliland said that if someone else later on were to get that property they could put in an auto repair shop if it is zoned C-2 and asked if one would want an auto repair shop next to one's residence. He also said that the city has a letter from Mr. Thorngren saying he would have no objection to the zoning change. Mr. Houghton said their facilities are planned as a 50' by 100' building centered on the lot with a drive on each side, landscape and parking in front, and storage in the back only. People won't be able to see the storage from Gotcher. Mike Fahey said that in looking at the ordinance it says 'yards' which would indicate to him that outdoor storage was intended. Commissioner Bavon said his only concern is 'spot zoning.' Commissioner Gilbert's concern was with C-2 zoning being next to residential property. Commissioner Graham said she would be in favor of it due to the description given by Mr. Houghton where storage will be in the rear of a nice building. The American Legion is close as is a day care and her thinking was that those houses that are there are getting old and probably aren't going to be there forever and that the area will eventually be more commercial than residential. Commissioner Gilliland read 18.54 of the code and stated that the city does have a vehicle there to make sure screening, fencing, etc. will be done. Commissioner Graham stated the lots on Hundley in this block were already zoned C-1. Commissioner Byers said that any number of things, other than auto body shops, could be on those lots giving as examples a greenhouse, bakery, savings and loan, and we need to open the door to widen our tax base and bring a little bit of life to our city. She also said that we got a letter from one person who lives in the area who was in favor of the zoning change so she is assuming that everyone who lives in the area had the same opportunity to respond. Usually if the response is negative you will hear from them more so than the positives.

Betty Harper, 390 S. Lakeview, asked to speak. She said they have property on Gotcher right across from where Mr. Houghton is planning his building. She said as long as it is landscaped and fenced they have no problem with it. The residents in their property across the street only were concerned with apartments being built across from them. Mr. Houghton said there would be a 6' wood privacy fence across the back of the property and up the sides with a chain link sliding gate which they will put vinyl slats through.

Motion was made by Commissioner Byers to approve the zoning change from C-1 to C-2. Seconded by Commissioner Graham.
Ayes: Commissioners Bavon, Byers, and. Graham
Noes: Commissioners Gilbert and Gilliland

C-2 Consideration and action on a minor replat of Lots 10 & 11, Block A and Lots 7 & 8 Block B Barmarchar Sites

Mike Wolverton handed out the replatting proposal . In answer to a question as to what would be built there Mr. Wolverton said they were looking at an office/warehouse at the back of the property and the possibility of a restaurant or retail at the front. He said they knew they couldn't build on the current alleyway because it is a utility easement but they plan to put a drive through from the I-35 service road to Denton Drive.
Motion was made by Commissioner Gilbert to approve the minor replat of Lots 10 & 11, Block A and Lots 7 & 8, Block B Barmarchar Sites. Seconded by Commissioner Byers.

Motion Passed

C-3 Consideration and action on request for assistance to COMCO for their possible relocation to the M-1 district on Overly, and rules to govern the process.

Commissioner Gilliland read from the agenda that a manufacturing company is making plans to relocate their company from Dallas to Lake Dallas. There are currently 25 employees with possible expansion. At this time there is no formal request nor do we have the detail of the impact this company would have. Information provided by the owner, Mr. David Carter is that it is a small company experiencing growth problems. The plan is to build a 20,000 square foot building with possible expansion to 50,000 square feet. It would be to their benefit to use local sheet metal shops, machine shops, and suppliers. They have secured $650,000 to buy the land and erect the building. Any concession that could be made by the City of Lake Dallas would be appreciated. The history of the company is that it has been in Dallas since 1968; its projected revenue for 1999 is $3,000,000 with an annual payroll of $591,000. City Manager Fairburn said that the Planning and Zoning Commission and City Council have been discussing incentive programs. He had provided the commissioners with a copy of another city's guidelines for tax abatement.

Mr. Carter spoke saying they are a small company, but growing; they have a buyer for their property in Dallas and will have about 6-9 months to relocate. They have been looking along I-35 corridor as far north as Sanger. He lives in Highland Village. His company would only need about 3000 square feet for office area. They will need to dedicate a fire lane. It needs to be developed keeping in mind it needs to be a nice business park and that the area could be a nice industrial area with Coors, Payless, and Video Plus in that area. Here twenty per cent of their budget will go to the land purchase while in Sanger it would be approximately 5%. They've had many quotes on a tilt-wall building but it is cost prohibitive. Now they are looking at a metal building with front that looks like masonry. They are looking at retailing in the future while right now the products are sold through dealers. The products are night drops, transition drops, and vision windows. They mainly assemble, install the controls and do the final tests. They have a lot of LTL shipping through trucking companies. He stated that they are a small progressive company and right now their annual sales tax is $7000 - $8000 which will change once they go retail. Commissioner Gilliland asked Mr. Carter what it would take to get them to move to our city. Mr. Carter said they know they can't afford the tilt-wall building so it's a question of what kind of restrictions as to what kind of building they must erect. He's been working with Jason Collier regarding the fire lane/dedicated drive of 150' off Overly. Commissioner Gilliland said we don't have a rebate system yet, but our city taxes are low. Mr. Carter said they spend about $18,000 in taxes in Dallas now on property valued at $335,000 and $266,000 in Inventory tax. If they could get a progressive abatement over 5 years or so it would be helpful. They are just trying to find out what possibilities are out there. There was discussion among the commissioners about permits, tax abatements, the building and how the City of Lake Dallas could work with a prospective new business. Inventory adds a lot to the value of the property which could be another thing to look at. The commissioners looked over the other city's tax abatement guide and made various changes in it for staff to revise to the City of Lake Dallas' use and recommended it be sent to the City Council. The changes were to show total investment needed of $500,000 and 20 employees; 20 employees for a regional center and 40 employees for a major tourist attraction; 50% abatement for 5 years and 100% first year during construction.

Motion was made by Commissioner Byers to approve the abatement guidelines as amended and send the information to the City Council.. Seconded by Commissioner Graham.

C-4 Work Session on the development of the Comprehensive Plan

City Manager Fairburn gave a review of the meeting with the Main Street people: road and drainage improvements; signs on the highway to help advertise businesses; new exit off I-35 to help not only frontage road businesses, but to allow people to use Church Street to access Main Street; improve Church Street and rename to Main Street plus add a sign to denote the Main Street District; possible uses of the railroad property could be commercial or residential; the DART system. Willow Grove Park needs to be advertised more. Mr. Fahey would like to see the airport advertised more. Commissioner Gilliland said the marina's business has increased since they erected a new sign. It was decided that the Denton Drive business people should be invited to a meeting to discuss their vision of how they should develop.

A. Citizens Agenda
No one wished to speak at this time.

B. Public Hearing to rezone lots 4,5,6 Block One, Tract One, of Gotcher Addition and that portion directly east of these lots described as Tract Two of the CR Stockard Survey, Lot 7 from R-1-6000 to C-1 Zoning District.

Robbie Houghton, one of the owners of H & H Enterprises, said they were requesting a zoning change to build new facilities for their electrical business and keep their business in the City of Lake Dallas. Their plan is to erect a 5000 square foot metal and brick office and storage facility. They are hoping to sell lots 4 and 5 in an effort to attract other business to the city.

Doyt Watson, American Legion, had one concern about the traffic impact and asked where the main entrance would be for their business. The reply was that the entrance would be off Gotcher.

City Manager Fairburn had received a letter from John Thorngren in which he strongly urged that the change in zoning be approved.

Commissioner Gilliland closed the public hearing at 7:40 p.m. Commissioner Gilbert asked Mr. Houghton if he was familiar with the landscape ordinances. Mr. Houghton said he had seen some and stated that they will meet all city ordinances.

C-1 Consideration and Acton on amending the zoning map by rezoning Lots 4,5,6 Block One, Tract One of Gotcher Addition and that portion directly east of these lots described as Tract Two of the CR Stockard Survey, Lot 7 from R-1-6000 to C-1 Zoning District.

C-2 Consideration and Action on a minor replat of a portion of Second Replat of Harbourtown Villas Lots 9B, 10A&B, 11A&B, 12A&B and 13A.

Ralph Keeton, developer requesting the replat spoke on behalf of Harbourtown Villas saying that they want to put in a new curb which will straighten the street in that area. Commissioner Gilbert asked who was going to pave the street. Mr. Keeton's reply was that he was sure that the City of Lake Dallas would do that. Commissioner Graham questioned him about the curb and streets as to what area of the street would be repaired. He said that the street would basically stay as it was and the curb line will be changed. Linwood Gilliland said the city would be giving the developer some property and would like to see the recommendation on to the City Council that we receive some monetary help in fixing the street. City Manager Fairburn said that section of the street has been pulverized and is in dire need of re-habbing. Mr. Keeton said that after they relocate the curb he thinks that would take out most of the bad area of the street. He said he thought they would be happy to work with the city on getting that area taken care of. City Manager Fairburn said he would get with Mr. Keeton on April 22 and they would try to work out a solution.

Motion was made by M. J. Graham to approve the amended plat so long as they work together on the street to be mutually beneficial. Seconded by Ben Gilbert.

C-3 Work Session on the development of the Comprehensive Plan—Main Street

Frank Moore, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at 501 Thompson Street, asked if they had any information about what is going to happen. He had heard Thompson Street was going to be eliminated. City Manager Fairburn explained the plan for the new intersection at Thompson and Main when the streets are repaired.

Bonnie Brown Garcia, Post Office Box 25, 427 South Denton Drive, asked if any land would be taken from the Duck Inn for right of way. The reply was no. She asked if the streets would be concrete or asphalt, are we going curb and gutter. City Manager Fairburn reported that the Main Street project is from Denton Drive to Carlisle. There will be a turn lane on Main at Denton and will attempt to do a turn lane at Shady Shores and Main. The railroad crossing on Main Street will be replaced. It will continue to be paved from right of way to right of way with swales to carry water off so it won't be running into people's businesses unless there are torrents. Culverts will be put in under drives or existing ones will be repaired if they are not working. City Manager Fairburn was asked what the grade was going to be and he did not have that information. The contractors have been advised that they have to be able to provide estimates to those people who wish to upgrade their parking while the streets are being done.

Doyt Watson, as owner of the Clothes Closet, a new business on Main Street, depends on the traffic flow. He is expanding his business to tap into the summer season market of our lake. City Manager Fairburn said at times the street will be down to one lane and there may be flag men but the street will remain open. Mr. Watson asked what time frame. City Manager Fairburn said the contractor will provide the city with a schedule next week. The plan is to get Shady Shores and Hundley during summer so as not to interfere with the school and we have to coordinate with LCMUA. He asked for input as to what the thought is to having new lighting put on Main Street and would it be beneficial.

Marvin Sparks, POB 25, Panhandle, Texas, said he owns the property on Main Street around the curve that's contained by Main Street, Betchan and Sargent. He stated that they have a drive with a culvert in the front of the property. His concern is the large culvert that goes under Main Street and would it need to be replaced. City Manager Fairburn said the amount of water should be similar and that the drainage underneath Main Street will not need to be replaced.

McKee Yant, the Sonic, asked for more input regarding Shady Shores and the water coming down and not draining from the west side of their property. City Manager Fairburn said the drainage should go toward the railroad and south. We will be looking to improve the ponding that happens at that corner and will try to get the water to flow down Main Street or under Shady Shores.

City Manager Fairburn also said that something that was not part of the project but that he had been thinking about was the short strips of Alamo and Goliad to the south of Main would probably be rather inexpensive to put into the project. He asked the Planning and Zoning Commission if they thought that would be a good idea to include these.

City Manager Fairburn said people keep talking with him regarding the development of Main Street. Right now the Food Fare portion of the large building is vacant and a few other small vacancies on Main Street but also there is the railroad property adjacent to Main Street behind Allsup's. He asked for any comments of what the citizens would like to see there. Right now it's a mixture of manufacturing and residential use in zoning. Linwood Gilliland said Lake Dallas is going to need new businesses to survive. He also asked for ideas.

Kathy Helm, 213 Main Street, Helm Publishing and Main Street Herb Garden, said while they are doing all the tear-up she would like to see an organized joint venture between the city and businesses in the city depending on what the city can afford to improve the appearance. Once the streets are done it's going to help and if the city would, let them know how much it could afford toward making the businesses look better. Linwood Gilliland said that anything the business owners can do on Main Street will help the others. He asked for more ideas.

Bo Fitch, real estate business owner from Dallas, said he had met with City Manager Fairburn April 20 regarding the 13.8 acres that the railroad owns off Denton Drive. They were encouraged by what they are hearing about Main Street and would like some feedback from the Planning and Zoning Commission as to what they would like to see on the railroad acreage. They had been looking into trying to put an upscale apartment unit on that property. They had had the property under contract until a few months ago but have decided to put it under contract again and move forward. They want to do something that is compatible with the city, would create revenue for the city and a tax base and they would like to bring a project that would bring something into the city that would benefit Main Street and the whole city in general. The property is not cheap and that dictates what they can do with it. Industrial might be kind of an eyesore, especially closer to Main Street. He said City Manager Fairburn said there had been some negative feedback regarding apartment buildings. He said they would be open to any ideas from the city. Linwood Gilliland said that in the past due to street upkeep and the amount of traffic increase involved it has kept the Planning & Zoning Commission from leaning toward apartments.

Mr. Yant of the Sonic stated that as a business owner having high quality apartments is not a bad idea. The growth seems to be away from Lake Dallas and as a merchant we need people to use our products and the less people we have to use our products the more problem we have. He also said he didn't perceive Lake Dallas will ever be large enough to accommodate more streets for business other than Main Street.

Bonnie Brown Garcia said she had two questions: 1) where are we standing on the Economic Development Committee; and 2) have we talked with DART about extending their route. City Manager Fairburn said the Planning and Zoning Commission has been addressing those issues in designing the Comprehensive Plan. The DART issue has not been discussed by the City but has been discussed in the Denton County Economic Development meeting recently as well as the I-35 meeting. At a recent meeting of the Small Cities Alliance at Carrollton a council member stated that DART owns rights up to Frankfurt and has the option beyond that to just south of Lake Dallas. There is still some debate about the process. Carrollton has been 20 years and raised $300,000,000 in their attempt to get DART service.

Bonnie Brown Garcia stated we need an alternative north-south route. She then said the city needs to focus more on downtown because we're going to see a lot of relocation of our retail due to the new lake bridge construction. Linwood Gilliland said we need some arrows that say Main Street will take you to the lake.

Mike Hanes, H & W Utilities, said he agreed with what Mr. Gilliland was saying. We have no direct access off I-35 and no one knows where Main Street is and he thinks it is critical to find ways to let people know where Main Street is. Linwood Gilliland said we need to get together to get together and advertise.

M.J. Graham asked what the cost would be to have an exit for Main Street. City Manager Fairburn said it would require a lot of land purchase and business buy-up. An exit south of the current Hundley exit has been proposed that would have access to Church Street. M. J. Graham asked what the possibility of getting Church Street changed to Main Street. City Manager Fairburn said the council could accomplish that.

Kyla Milan, 915 Lakebluff Drive, suggested a sign be put up by the businesses that said these companies "Welcome you to Lake Dallas."

Carter Helm, 5 Hickory Hills, wants to work on the economic development of the city. He would like to volunteer and assist. He said we need to pursue the DART deal because I-35 is horrible.

Bo Fitch said Denton Drive is the gateway to the city and that they would like to bring something of quality to the city.

Marvin Sparks spoke again to ask what is the vision from the curve on Main Street to the lake and what re-zoning might be allowed. He was told that right now it is light industrial and then becomes residential. City Manager Fairburn said one of the issues before us is what those people who live/work on Main Street want. He said he hadn't heard of any changes in that area.

Kathy Helm asked when the comprehensive plan would be developed. City Manager Fairburn said the first draft should be to the Main Street people by summer. Right now it is information time. Linwood Gilliland said they are trying to come up with a guideline at this time. City Manager Fairburn said the Comprehensive Plan is also to help the economic development: code enforcement, street lights, signage, the exits off the highways, and what the businesses would like to do, whether some ordinances could be altered or amended to help.

M.J. Graham said we used to have lots of people come to town to fish every week-end and now there is no place to fish, the bait shops have gone out of business. City Manager Fairburn said that Willow Grove right next door to the marina is available, and could have development once the lake study is done. The area is looking nice and we keep it mowed and we can emphasize that the marina is one of the few on the lake and the park is looking nice.

Linwood Gilliland thanked everyone for coming to the meeting and for their input.

A. Citizens' Agenda
No one presented themselves to speak.

B. Public Hearing amending Section 18.30.010 requiring special use permits for certain establishments whose business operations include the sales or service of on-premise alcoholic beverages.

Shelley Kristich, 298 South Lakeview, asked that the discussion be put in laymen's terms and asked what exactly do we want to discuss. She then asked what do we want to do with this. Commissioner Gilliland said we want to make an ordinance to put the private clubs in the proper perspective. Motion was made by Alternate Fahey to create a special use permit for the category of private clubs that derive 75% or more of their gross revenue from the sale of on-premise alcoholic beverages and limited their locations to only C-1, C-2 and C-3 zoning. Seconded by Commissioner Gilbert.
Ayes: Commissioners Gilliland, Gilbert, Graham, and Fahey

Motion Passed

2. Consideration and Action on defining what a permanent border is for gravel drives.

The commissioners discussed various types of materials that could be used in an effort to provide permanent borders and at the same time not become a hardship on the property owners.
Shelley Kristich, 298 South Lakeview, asked to speak. She asked if there were that many homes that had uncontrolled gravel driveways. The reply to the question was that this is an effort to keep people from parking all over their yards and this would re-define the driveway areas. Ms. Kristich added that in a previous home she had a gravel drive bordered only by grass and it would have caused a hardship on her if she would have been asked to install a border. The answer to this statement was that the City is not trying to put any hardship on the citizens but we can't leave the old part of town looking bad while the new areas have concrete driveways.

Motion was made by Commissioner Gilbert to re-define continuous borders on gravel drives to only include materials such as cement curbing or brick, concrete block, stone, 14-gauge metal, asphalt, wlmanized wood with no plastic edging with a minimum heght of three (3) inches. Seconded by M. J. Graham.

Ayes: Commissioners Gilliland, Gilbert, Graham, and Fahey

Motion Passed

The commissioners decided to go over the remaining items on the agenda before getting into the work session about the Comprehensive Plan since Alternate Fahey was on call and could be called away from the meeting early.

E. Report on Council Actions

City Manager Fairburn reported that during the March 11 meeting the Council had appointed a new mayor; had called for the general election; Garza Day will be combined with the Hickory Creek Hoedown and be held in October; Parks and Recreation is starting a gymnastics program; council packets will be provided free of charge to those interested citizens who request them; court procedures were discussed and in April will decide if there will be two court nights a month; the Council eliminated the liaison positions; authorized the final payment on Falcon Drive.
During the March 25 Council meeting Chief Thompson of the Fire Department spoke about their 5 year strategic plan and in the April meeting the council will give direction to the Fire Board. The Fire Board will return in May for review and direction. They have a three year CIP program with a new station in Lake Dallas and a new station in Corinth. Denton would put ambulance service in the Lake Cities in exchange for the fire service. The Planning & Zoning Committee had recommended extending Kevin Spraggins term with the Planning and Zoning Commission but there will be no changes in the code so the Council will appoint another member in the April meeting. The results of the Executive Session were that the Mayor and City Manager would set up a contract and will define the role of the City Manager; Council wants a lesser role for the manager with no recommendations on agenda items.

F. City Manager's Report

City Manager Fairburn said that he, the Building Official, and Mayor Courtney had met with several property owners to let them know where they stand on their violations. He handed out copies of a draft of the letter to the Main Street property owners and business people inviting them to meet with the Planning and Zoning Commission and discuss up-grading Main Street. City Manager Fairburn reported that the April newsletter is getting ready to go out and that "code" is the theme and advertising the April 17 city-wide clean-up. He asked if the commission would want to meet again in April to discuss a zoning change for Robert Houghton. The members agreed to meet April 21 and would like to talk with the Main Street people at that time, too.

C. Business - continued

3. Work session on the development of the Comprehensive Plan.

There was discussion about a physical plan for the city in which it will be mostly residential and with our streets situation we need larger homes. Do we foresee more single family or multiple family residences and what ages? Will this be a retirement community? The population is currently 5900, with a top-out of approximately 7000 residents. City Manager Fairburn said he had talked with a Dallas firm that manufactures electrical products about a location here. They currently have 26 employees and project that they will have up to 40 employees. Transportation and communications changes could have an effect on the City. We should play up our lake and leisure activities (the new waterski lake and the small airport) plus the new community college being built in Corinth. Meeting with business people will help with the goals and objectives. We will meet with the Main Street people and then there is the frontage road, Denton Drive. Beautification could be a goal. Coordinating other activities such as car club displays during Garza Day might be another way of getting people to come to our area. City Manager Fairburn suggested fine-tuning these items and look toward long term goals in an effort to determine what objectives we want to attain.

A. Citizens' Agenda

No one presented themselves to speak.

B. Work Session

1. Review of conceptual plan for additional width for Texas Street and modifications for larger lot size.

John Donahue passed out a plat of the area prior to the meeting. City Manager Fairburn spoke about the street width of 22 feet which would shrink the depth of the lots but the builder is willing to eliminate two lots on the eastern side which would widen the remaining lots by 5 feet or more. Commissioner Graham came in late to the meeting during this discussion. Laird Lind spoke concerning the other 6 property owners on the west side and the efforts they had made to contact them and request that they donate 2 feet across the fronts of their properties in order that the street could be widened as planned. They had received negative response, or none at all. The builder will have the property on the east side re-platted. The property owner to the north will be contacted because the builder would like to put a road in to connect Texas and Boliver streets and in an earlier plat there was a boat canal listed that might be able to be used. The City would need to get a drainage easement.

2. Comprehensive Plan Development

Chairman Spraggins said the commission should try to schedule something every two weeks to keep the ball rolling and City Manager Fairburn said we would need to have enough time to post the agenda. It was determined that March was not a good month to schedule another meeting. Chairman Spraggins said we should start with an outline and then add/delete as discussion warrants. Chairman Spraggins suggested everyone consider future plans in a broad sense and bring up at the next meeting and we can look at the maps at the next work session. He said the next meeting could be "Our Vision."

D. Report on Council Actions

City Manager Fairburn reported that Al Bavon had been appointed as an alternate member of the Planning and Zoning Commission. He said he had told Council that they will have a Comprehensive Plan to approve at their December meeting. He also said Mayor Courtney had resigned; Council had passed a resolution supporting the Swisher Road and Lake Bridge project; Council followed Planning & Zoning's recommendation to amend the ordinance on signs; Council passed an ordinance discouraging street excavations. City Manager Fairburn said Council had participated in a goal-setting workshop and would get copies for the Planning & Zoning members.

E. City Manager's Report

There was more discussion about the role of government. Commissoner Gilliland stated that the commission needed to set its goals to correspond with the City Council's goals. City Manager Fairburn and Chairman Spraggins said a letter would be drafted for the April meeting regarding the companies along Main Street in an attempt to meet with them at the second April meeting. City Manager Fairburn also said we would need to bring in the Boliver and Kingswood people for a meeting as to how they view the proposed bridge.

B. Business Agenda

1. Consideration and Action on request to change distance requirements for off-premise commercial signs (billboards)

Don Paschal gave a presentation for development for the area around the area of the present sign and said that Mike Wolverton of Regent Development would have better luck developing the area and leasing space if the sign were closer to the property line. Mr. Paschal asked for a change in the City Code to 140 feet from the present 150 feet.

The next scheduled City Council meeting would include erosion control at construction sites; the CoServ franchise; and final approval for various city street projects. Mike Fahey asked about the cost of the flyer for the Board of Adjustment meeting in a recent Sun publication. There was no difference in the price. City of Lake Dallas
Planning and Zoning Commission Agenda Item

Date: 12-3-98 Agenda Item: 1-2

Title: Public Hearing and Consideration and Action on request to re-zone Tract 21 of the N. French Survey from R-1-10000 to R-1-7200.

Report:

The major differences between the two zonings are:

	Lot Area	House Size	Front Yard
R-1-10000	10,000 sq ft	2,500 sq ft.	40 ft.
R-1-7200	7,200 sq ft.	1,500	25 ft.

The only developed R-1-10000 is off of Carlisle east of Main. The only other piece of R-1-10000 is the newly annexed Boliver property. If the Lakeview property is annexed, that would initially be R-1-10000 also.

The Kingswood Development Company last proposed a mobile home park at this site. That is not their intentions now. They feel that by reducing the size of the house they can more readily market the property. They have raised concerns about the marketability because of the Lake Bridge, the Water Treatment Plant, and the overall location.

Recommendation:
The City Manager feels that R-1-7200 would fit on this location. It abuts R-1-4000, R-1-6000 and the Boliver property R-1-10000.

However, if the City desires to have R-1-10000, then having these two pieces of property together is not a bad situation. A developer might be able to control both pieces eventually. The City may wish to wait to determine the effects of the Lake Bridge before rezoning this section.

The City also needs to view the commercial aspects of the Swisher Road extension to the Lake Bridge. Should all of this area be residential?

Approved for agenda: _____

City of Lake Dallas
Planning and Zoning Commission Agenda Item

Date: 12-3-98 Agenda Item: 3

Title: Consideration and action on land use and zoning designations.

Report:
The current uses of land need to be reviewed compared to current zoning, as well as what future land uses and zoning are needed. This is a major part of the Comprehensive Plan that needs to be done.

Areas to review are:

Impact of the Lake Bridge Road
Transition of commercial to residential surrounding Main Street.
Impact of the Swisher commercial district on Main Street.
Review of zoning citywide and especially:

- M-1 off of Denton
- City Park – currently C-2
- Elementary School – currently C-3
- R-1-4000C at the end of Thompson
- Planning for the Swisher – Shady Shores intersection and Swisher – Lakeview intersection.

As was mentioned by the P&Z last meeting, the methods to have public input needs to be discussed. This could include small meetings on certain areas (Main Street), and workshops advertised citywide.

Recommendation:
City Manager recommends that the Commission review current and future trends and recommend appropriate changes.

Approved for agenda:

City of Lake Dallas
Planning and Zoning Commission Agenda Item

Date: 12-3-98 Agenda Item: 4

Title: Consideration and action on recommending impact fees and tax abatements for new development.

Background: Impact fees have been a topic of discussion of the last three meetings, and tax abatements for one. At the last meeting more information was requested.

Report:

Further information will be presented at the meeting.

The Commission needs to determine if they would like to recommend specific impact fees or tax abatements. Both of these are for new development and will impact future development.

Impact fees:
Commission needs to determine what impact fees are available, which ones are effective, what affect it may have on development, and the benefits.

Tax abatement:
Commission needs to determine if tax abatements should be done, what types of development to do it for (number of jobs, amount of tax) how much abatement and for how long.

Recommendation:
City Manager recommends that the Commission recommend a policy for or against impact fees and tax abatements. If recommending for have the policy with enough detail to implement should it be accepted by Council.

City of Lake Dallas
Planning and Zoning Commission Agenda Item

Date: 10-1-98 Agenda Item: 1-2

Title: Public Hearing and Consideration and Action on amended plat for request to re-zone 630 Denton Drive from M-1 to C-3.

Report:
All of the property bordering the east side of Denton Drive from Betchan to Carlisle is zoned M-1 Light Industrial. The property on the west side of Denton is C-3. The property owners want to rezone C-3 to allow use for alcohol.

Questions:

What is the best use for the land?
How much property should be zoned C-3 in the City?
What concerns do the adjacent owners have? (see letters attached)
Should a small portion of a zoning tract be rezoned?

Recommendation:
The City Manager recommends against C-3 zoning in this area. The current plan focuses C-3 to the land between Denton and the highway and along Main Street, as well as a portion at Jackson Ranch. The current C-3 areas are not yet completely developed and adding more C-3 reduces the need to develop in those areas.

M-1 is probably not the best use of this property because it certainly has high commercial potential. Rezoning to commercial is more appropriate for the use in the area.

Whatever the decision, a small rezoning is not advantageous as an area can be zoned like a quilt and be confusing. The entire current area that is zoned M-1 should be reviewed and zoned together, or at least have the remaining area zoned at a later date the same as these two lots.

Re: Planning and Zoning change request for 630 Denton Drive

Dear Mr. Fairburn:

I am strongly opposed to the proposed zoning change for the above mentioned property. The property I own is located at 631-633 South Denton Drive, and is directly across Denton Drive from the 630 property with the proposed zoning change.

The reasons for my opposition are as follows:

The City of Lake Dallas needs to maintain a mixture of industrial and manufacturing properties along with its retail properties. The subject property is ideal for industrial type use since it is in close proximity to a rail line, and is currently zoned for these purposes.

ake Dallas already has a disproportionately large number of retail stores selling alcoholic beverages. To add to this type of business may contribute to a negative image for the community, decrease the general property values, and possibly push marginal business operators into closing, creating negatives for taxing authorities, property ownership, and the business operators themselves.

The proposed zoning change would go against the existing master plan of the City in which the retail stores selling alcoholic beverages would be limited to designated areas. 630 Denton Drive has no exposure to I35 unlike the majority of other businesses of this type.

The proposed location is possibly located too close to a religious meeting place to permit the sale of alcoholic beverages.

For the reasons outlined above, as well as others, I respectfully request that this zoning change be denied.

Respectfully yours,

Paul Yang

Re: Planning and Zoning change request for 6305 Denton Drive

Dear Mr. Fairburn:

We are strongly opposed to the proposed zoning change for the property located at 6305 South Denton Drive. We owned the property at 631–633 South Denton Drive for many years and we still have an interest in that property. This location is directly across Denton Drive from the property with the proposed zoning change. This same zoning change was proposed some years ago and was denied due to strong opposition by the neighbors and some other reasons I would like to outline below.

1. The City of Lake Dallas needs to maintain a mixture of industrial and manufacturing properties along with its retail properties. The subject property is ideal for industrial–type use since it is in close proximity to a rail line.

2. Lake Dallas already has a disproportionately large number of retail stores selling alcoholic beverages. To add more of this type of business may contribute to a negative image for the community and decrease the general property values.

3. The proposed zoning change would go against the existing master plan of the City in which the retail stores selling alcoholic beverages would be limited to designated areas. 6305 Denton Drive has no exposure to I –35E unlike the majority of other businesses of this type.

4. The proposed location is too close to a religious meeting place to permit the sale of alcoholic beverages.

   For the reasons outlined above, I respectfully request that the zoning change request be denied.

Respectfully yours,

William Johnson

Title: Consideration and action on recommending impact fees and tax abatements for new development.

Background: Impact fees have been a topic of discussion of the last two meetings.

Report:
The Commission needs to determine if they would like to recommend specific impact fees or tax abatements. Both of these are for new development and will impact future development.

Impact fees:
Commission needs to determine what impact fees are available, which ones are effective, what affect it may have on development, and the benefits.

Tax abatement:
Commission needs to determine if tax abatements should be done, what types of development to do it for (number of jobs, amount of tax) how much abatement and for how long.

Recommendation:
City Manager recommends that the Commission recommend a policy for or against impact fees and tax abatements. If recommending for have the policy with enough detail to implement should it be accepted by Council.

Planning and Zoning Commission Agenda Item

Date: 9-3-98 Agenda Item: 1

Title: Consideration and action on recommending Impact Fees for development.

Report:
The August meeting had City Attorney Berman making a presentation on Impact Fees. The Commission wished to have the discussion continued to the September meeting.

The question to answer is whether impact fees are feasible for the development that Lake Dallas will see in the future.

The Planning and Zoning Commission is being requested to make a recommendation whether or not to pursue impact fees.

Recommendation:
Have the discussion and determine if impact fees should be pursued. The City Manager does not feel that impact fees are appropriate because of their limitations and because of the type and amount of development we will see. Most of the development has happened, and so additional fees during the time of in-fill makes it harder to find interested developers.

Approved for agenda:

City of Lake Dallas
Planning and Zoning Commission Agenda Item

Date: 9-3-98 Agenda Item: 2

Title: Consideration and Action on requiring concrete for all newly constructed roads.

Report:
Our current ordinances do not specify the concrete requirement for newly constructed roads. The most recent roads have been made of concrete and are quite popular. There may be other roads to be built in the City (Texas Street, Canal Street) that currently can be asphalt. One of the issues to look at would be requiring concrete on a road in a subdivision that already has asphalt on all of the other roads.

The City currently requires curb and gutter, which is one of the most important things to do to keep your street from falling apart. Open borrow ditches are the worst culprits.

The other issue is that concrete lasts a long time, but it is terribly expensive to repair.

Recommendation:
There are few public roads left to be developed in the city. Those that are left are mostly in current subdivisions that already have asphalt roads. The requirement for concrete would be most appropriate applied to a brand new subdivision. We must also remember that concrete roads may be too expensive in many of our in-fill areas.

Approved for agenda: _____

There is no more technical, difficult area of land use law in Texas than municipal impact fees. Nevertheless, in light of recent United States Supreme Court cases, all cities should (and must) consider impact fees relative to the development of property and off-site improvements related to specific developments. Before addressing these issues, however, a short explanation of the purpose of impact fees and their history in Texas is instructive. "Impact fees, like other forms of development exactions, are imposed as a condition of development approval to mitigate impacts on public facilities and services generated by the development project. The principal use of impact fees, which distinguishes them from traditional subdivision exactions, is the financing of off-site capital facilities to support new growth." Morgan, T. "The Effect of State Legislation on the Law of Impact Fees, With Special Emphasis on Texas Legislation," 18th Annual Institute on Planning, Zoning and Eminent Domain § 7.01 at 7-2 (1988)(hereinafter "Effect of State Legislation"). Further, "[i]mpact fees . . . serve as a substitute for denial of development projects that otherwise would not be served by adequate facilities. In essence, development exactions mitigate adverse impacts of new development on the municipality's ability to provide essential facilities and services." Id., § 7.02[1] at 7-4.

An impact fee, a form of development exaction, is broadly defined as a contribution of land, improvements or money imposed as a condition of development approval to mitigate the impacts of the development project. Such development exactions include mandatory dedications of property for rights-of-way, requirements to construct capital improvements, fees in lieu of dedication or construction, impact fees for public facilities, and fees or charges that are assessed against development projects to mitigate environmental or social impacts. Texas Municipal League Public Policies Briefing Series, "Impact Fees in Texas," § 1.2 at 1-2 (Nov.

1989)(hereinafter "Impact Fees"). The Texas impact fee statute, codified in Chapter 395 of the Local Government Code, defines "impact fee" as "a charge or assessment imposed by a political subdivision against new development in order to generate revenue for funding or recouping the costs of capital improvements or facility expansions[2] necessitated by and attributable to the new development. The term includes amortized charges, lump-sum charges, capital recovery fees, contributions in aid of construction, and any other fee that functions as described by this definition. . . ." Tex.Local Gov't Code § 395.001(4). The statute specifically excludes park dedication or payments in lieu of park land dedication, several different categories of on-site facilities and lot or acreage fees. Id.

In certain instances a developer may be entitled to a refund or credit of impact fees. For example, if a developer constructs wastewater facilities in a service area, the developer would not also be required to pay the maximum amount of impact fees for wastewater facilities. To do so would be unfair to the developer since he/she, in essence, would be paying twice for the same capital improvement.[3] The impact fee statute contains three provisions requiring that impact fees be refunded. The first is upon request of an owner "if existing facilities are available and service is denied or the political subdivision has, after collecting the fee when service was not available, failed to commence construction within two years or service is not available within a reasonable period. . . ." Tex.Local Gov't Code § 395.025(a). The second instance entitling a record owner to a refund is when any impact fee "is not spent as authorized . . . within 10 years after the date of payment." Id., § 395.025(c). Last, the impact fee statute contains a refund provision requiring comparison of the actual costs of capital improvements identified in the capital improvements plan with estimated costs included in the capital improvement plan. Id., § 395.025(b).[4]

[2] The terms "capital improvement" and "facility expansion" are terms of art. A "capital improvement" is limited to only one of four types of public facilities with a life expectancy of three or more years. "These are (1) 'water supply, treatment and distribution facilities'; (2) 'wastewater collection and treatment facilities'; (3) 'storm water, drainage, and flood control facilities'; or 'roadway facilities.'" Impact Fees, § 2.1 at 5-6. "Facility expansion" refers to the "expansion of the capacity of an existing facility of one of these types of capital improvements." Id., § 2.1 at 6.

[3] The impact fee statute provides that "an owner may not be required to construct or dedicate facilities and to pay impact fees for those facilities." Tex.Local Gov't Code § 395.001(4). A "credit" is "a reduction in the amount of the impact fee reflecting previous monetary contributions identified in the capital improvements plan for impact fees" and an "offset" refers to "a reduction in the amount of an impact reflecting the value of land dedicated by a developer for a capital improvement designated in the capital improvements plan for impact fees, or the value of such improvement constructed by a developer pursuant to the political subdivision's land use regulations or requirements." Impact Fees, § 11.3 at 102-03.

In light of two recent United States Supreme Court decisions, I believe the use of impact fees to finance off-site capital facilities is far preferable to other methods of obtaining both on-site and off-site improvements impacted by a new development. The first case, Nollan v. California Coastal Comm'n, 483 U.S. 825 (1987), placed local governments on notice that drafting and implementing regulatory conditions in the development approval process that effectuate acquisition of title or interfere with possession can result in a finding that private property has been taken without just compensation. In this case, the Nollans were private beachfront landowners who wanted to replace their dilapidated small bungalow with a larger house. They were granted a permit from the California Coastal Commission with the condition that they grant an easement, by deed, for the public to pass across their beach. The easement required was a lateral one that would pass across a portion of their property. The Coastal Commission's stated rationale for requiring the easement was that the new structure would obscure the view of the ocean, thus burdening the public's right to traverse the beachfront. The Supreme Court ruled in favor of the Nollans, finding that > a condition attached to approval of a single-family development permit, which required the owner to dedicate a portion of his lot to provide the public with lateral access to the beach, violated the guarantee of the Fifth Amendment that private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation. In so ruling, the Court established a standard of "remoteness," under which development exactions attached as conditions to development approval must "substantially advance" the asserted and legitimate governmental interest for which they are imposed.

Effect of State Legislation, § 7.03[4][a] at 7-10, citing Nollan. The Supreme Court also wrote that it was "inclined to be particularly careful about the adjective ["substantial"] where the actual conveyance of property is made a condition to the lifting of a land-use restriction, since in that context there is heightened risk that the purpose is avoidance of the compensation requirement, rather than the stated police-power objective." Nollan, 483 U.S. at 841.

The second significant Supreme Court case is Dolan v. City of Tigard, 512 U.S. ___, 114 S.Ct. 2309 (1994). The Tigard, Oregon, city planning commission approved Mrs. Dolan's application to expand her store and pave her parking lot conditioned upon her compliance with the dedication of land (1) for a public greenway to minimize flooding that would be exacerbated by the increases in impervious surfaces associated with her development and (2) for a pedestrian/bicycle pathway intended to relieve traffic congestion in the city's central business district. Id., 114 S.Ct. at 2314. She appealed the commission's denial of her request for variances from these standards to the Land Use Board of Appeals. She alleged that the land dedication requirements were not related to the proposed development, constituted an uncompensated taking of her property for a public use and therefore violated the just compensation clause of the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The Board found that there was a reasonable relationship between the development and the requirement to dedicate land for a greenway due to the impact that a larger building and increased impervious surfaces would have on runoff into the creek. The Board also found that requiring a pathway was reasonable to mitigate the impact of the increased traffic from the development and to facilitate alternative means of transportation. Id. at 2315. On appeal, both the Oregon Court of Appeals and Supreme Court affirmed the Board's ruling. Id.

The United States Supreme Court, however, held that the requirements in fact did constitute an uncompensated taking of property. The Court wrote that, under the well-settled doctrine of "unconstitutional conditions," a government may not require a person to give up a constitutional right in exchange for a discretionary benefit conferred by the government where the property sought had little or no relationship to the benefit. Id. at 2317. The Court stated that the first question, in evaluating Dolan's claim, is whether an "essential nexus" exists between a legitimate state interest and the permit condition. If it does, the second question is whether the degree of exaction demanded by the permit condition bears the required relationship to the projected impact of the proposed development. In assessing the second question, the Court instructed that the necessary connection required by the Fifth Amendment is "rough proportionality," or essentially the "reasonable relationship" test adopted by a majority of state courts. Id. at 2318-20.

In applying this two-step analytical model, the Supreme Court found that although preventing flooding along the creek and reducing traffic congestion in the district were legitimate public purposes, thereby establishing a nexus, the findings upon which the city relied did not show the required reasonable relationship between the floodplain easement and bikepath and Dolan's proposed building. Specifically, the Community Development Code already required Dolan to leave 15% of her property as open space, which would have practically been satisfied by the undeveloped floodplain. The city, however, never stated why a public, as opposed to private, greenway is required in the interest of flood control. Moreover, the city did not meet its burden of establishing, beyond mere conclusory statements, that the additional traffic generated by Dolan's development reasonably related to the city's requirement for a dedication of the pathway easement. Id. at 2321-22.

I believe the potential impact of Dolan upon local governments across the country is significant. First, most local governments routinely exact donations of land and facilities in conjunction with subdivision plats or other development approvals based on proximity of the land to be developed to existing or planned services and facilities. Typically, as in Dolan, the location of the future facilities is designated in master plans or other comprehensive planning documents. These documents, and development regulations that implement those policies, seldom quantify the relationship between the required contribution and the impacts arising from the proposed development of specific tracts and subdivisions. These forms of development exactions contrast markedly with demand-based exactions such as impact fees which necessarily quantify the relationship. Most commentators agree that the Dolan decision, in its demand for quantification, likely will encourage the use of fee-based exactions which provide a standard against which land dedications or construction requirements can be measured.

Second, it is common local government practice to formulate conditions that are unique to the development application pending. Ad hoc conditions routinely are attached to applications ranging from rezoning proposals to building permits. Often development regulations do not anticipate even the types of conditions that will in fact be imposed. The lack of standards to guide development approval, while always problematic, can be expected to be more so following Dolan. The Dolan opinion expands Nollan so that conditions must be related both to the nature and extent of the proposed development. In the absence of standards and with a newly assigned burden to justify conditions,[5] local governments will have difficulty clearing even the first hurdle - the nexus test.

Third, impact fees directly address the concerns raised in Dolan when such fees have been enacted pursuant to proportionality standards established by state statute or constitutional requirements. Impact fees allow local governments to fully mitigate the demands created by new development on public facilities through monetary payments that are quantified for the development at issue. At the same time, traditional subdivision requirements, such as land dedication and facilities construction, can be continued in effect by crediting the value of such improvements against the payment of impact fees.

After Nollan and Dolan, it is safe to say that impact fees are far more advantageous than traditional development exactions that may arbitrarily vary from one development to another. As stated in Impact Fees, the advantages are as follows:

> First, impact fees represent an additional source of revenue from which to finance a portion of future capital improvements' needs. Political subdivisions which are responsible for supplying water, sanitary sewer, roads and drainage facilities increasingly are subject to fiscal constraints for funding such improvements to serve new growth. With the disappearance of many federal and state grants, and tax-payer sensitivity to increased taxes and utility rates, local governments must transfer a portion of the costs of capital improvements which serve new development to the ultimate beneficiaries. The more the local government relies upon debt financing to serve its capital improvement needs, the more likely it becomes that service levels in the community will be reduced. By supplementing tax and utility revenues with impact fee revenues, existing revenue sources may be devoted to maintaining service levels and funding capital improvements to correct existing deficiencies or replace existing facilities.
> Because impact fees present a means for assuring that community-related facilities will be coordinated with new development, their use promotes economic development by encouraging the location of new employers in the community who value such services. At the same time, the use of impact fees provides assurance to existing businesses that local taxes and utility rates will remain relatively stable. If the local government must rely upon these sources to finance capital improvements to serve both new and existing development, the community faces steady increases in tax and utility rates attributable to debt financing.

[5] In Dolan, the Supreme Court, although stating that precise mathematical calculation is not required, placed the burden of proof upon cities to make some sort of individualized determination that a city-imposed dedication is related both in nature and extent to the impact of the proposed development. Id., 114 S.Ct. at 2319-20. Thus, any exaction must bear a reasonable relationship to the needs created by the development and the burden of proof rests with the city to establish and quantify such needs.

Impact fees also represent a means of attaining certain police power objectives, which are not easily attained through the use of traditional development exactions. Thus, local governments may adjust impact fee rates to meet particular economic development or other police power objectives. Impact fees may be varied among service areas or by type of land use, as long as such differences are reasonably related to a proper police power objective. Through the use of impact fees, the community may encourage the establishment of certain kinds of developments, such as major employers or affordable housing projects.

> Finally, impact fees represent a more equitable form of distributing the burdens for financing future capital improvements among various types of development. Traditional development exactions practices, which require the on-site dedication or construction of capital improvements, are based on the location of the property in relation to existing or planned public improvements. As a consequence, developments which equally contribute to the need for additional capital improvements may be assessed widely differing costs under such practices. Generally speaking, the owner of the property which is located on or abutting the site for a future public improvement is required to contribute more than the owner of property which is not so located. This unequal distribution of responsibilities for providing for future capital improvements is avoided through an impact fee program, in which the contribution of a particular development project is in proportion to the demand it creates for additional capital improvements.

Impact Fees, § 3.2 at 15-17.

From a strictly legal standpoint, impact fees provide cities with easily enforceable standards relative to both on- and off-site exactions. If a city had no impact fee ordinance, prior to requiring any dedication or exaction, the city would be virtually indefensible without conducting studies regarding the relationship between any dedication or exaction and the impacts of the development. Further, a study would be mandated for each development plan considered by the city and the city would be required to quantify its findings in support of each such exaction or dedication. Consequently, it would be cost-prohibitive to conduct such studies and the potential would be great that the conclusions of any study would be challenged. If a city opted not to conduct studies for each new development, the risk of liability would be exponentially greater with little likelihood the city would prevail. Last, to require a developer to construct a capital improvement pursuant to a city's capital improvement plan and also assess that developer impact fees would violate state law. In the situation where a developer constructed a capital improvement, the developer under state law would be entitled to either a refund or credit because it would be manifestly unfair, and legally indefensible, to "double charge" for the construction of a capital improvement.

Impact Fees and Exactions

by Terry D. Kahn and Dan Sefko, AICP

Impact fees are the most recent, the most pervasively used, and the least understood community planning and budgeting devices to be adopted within the past three decades. Cities suffering from growing pains and cash flow problems, interested in increased control over the magnitude of growth, and wishing to place other social and environmental concerns on the community budgetary agenda have adopted fees with alarming speed. This chapter covers impact fees in three parts: 1) rationale behind impact fees; 2) impact fees and the adoption process in Texas; and, 3) controversy over impact fees.

Principles and Purposes of Impact Fees

The basic principle behind the adoption of an impact fee is that growth, as evidenced by new land development, should pay for itself. The purpose of an impact fee is to require a land developer to pay for a share of the city's hard or soft infrastructure as required off-site to serve the property in question. A common impact fee, for example, is charged for wastewater capacity before a developer can hook up the internal lines of a subdivision to the municipal wastewater system. Developers pay for all of their internal wastewater lines just as they have over many years of practice. However, an impact fee requires that the developer also pay, up front, for a share of the city's wider wastewater infrastructure.

Until the onset of impact fees, cities had traditionally paid for hard and soft infrastructure through the proceeds of either revenue or general obligation bonds, usually the former, or passed such costs on to the developers. Some cities practiced pro-rata refund policies under which the developer fronted the money for municipal infrastructure required to serve the property and then was reimbursed by the city over a period of time. The essential point is that whereas cities historically shouldered the cost of infrastructure, impact fees require the developer to incur either all or a portion of these costs.

Definition of Impact Fees

Impact fees may be defined as follows:

> "...single payments required to be made by builders or developers at the time of development approval and calculated to be the proportionate share of the capital cost of providing major facilities (arterial roads, interceptor sewers, sewage treatment plants, drainage facilities, etc.) to that development." [1] and,

"Development impact fees are scheduled charges applied to new development to generate revenue for the construction or expansion of capital facilities located outside the boundaries of the new development (off-site) that benefit the contributing development." (2)

An example completes the definition. Assume that a city adopts a water and wastewater impact fee of $2,000 per new single family residential unit built within its utility service area. Before obtaining final approval for a subdivision and subsequent sale of legal single family residential lots, the developer of 100 lots must pay fees totaling $200,000. Whether that fee goes toward new water and wastewater facilities or whether the developer is simply hooking up to an existing system already available to the property in question, the developer must pay the fee in either case. That payment is the essential difference between financing infrastructure with revenues out of the developer's pocket -- the impact fee -- and financing infrastructure through the traditional issuance of revenue or general obligation bonds. The concluding section of this chapter discusses in detail this shift to growth paying for the improvements necessary to support it.

Political Rationale for Impact Fees

Five reasons for community use of development impact fees are identified as follows:

1. To shift fiscal burdens from existing taxpayers to new development - This reason for adopting impact fees emanates from two sources. The first is the basic feeling that growth has long been subsidized by the existing taxpayer, and the existing taxpayer is now saying that growth must pay for itself. The second reason has to do with the need for the community to find new sources of revenue. In addition to the basic problems of inflation, a series of occurrences has left many cities with a financial inability to maintain existing infrastructure and to expand systems in response to the demands of population growth. Among the primary causes of the cash flow shortages are tax and rate payer revolt, reductions in federal and state aid, and historic underpricing and underfinancing of existing infrastructure facilities and services.

2. To synchronize the construction of new or expanded facility capacity with the arrival of new development - Most infrastructure requires an uneven stream of capital investment in order to achieve economies of scale. For example, it is much less expensive in terms of construction costs to oversize a water transmission line now than to put in a small line now and then to install another small line at a later date. A second example is the case of the utility plant, which can only be efficiently built in terms of thousands of units of service at one time rather than in terms of single unit increments of service.

   The problem arises because the economies of scale approach necessitates cash to pay for construction now for facilities which will not be fully utilized until some point in the future. A secondary problem with the economies of scale approach is that infrastructure may be extended beyond the urban fringe, thereby allowing leapfrog development and the resultant inefficiencies of urban sprawl. Impact fee systems provide revenues, either in current terms or as a sinking fund, which help to smooth out the uneven effect of the investment required to construct infrastructure systems.

3. To subject new development decisions to pricing discipline - Historic underpricing of utility service has led to inefficient use of the land. With costs of utility services low, developers have tended to produce low density, urban sprawl types of physical growth. Additionally, most communities have maintained equality of connection and service charges throughout, regardless of the actual cost of service, with the result that those in easy to serve areas subsidize those in difficult to serve parts of town. Impact fees require the developer to pay the full cost of receiving service for the property in question, and in doing so the fees force the developer to proceed only when the proposed project is feasible given the full service cost. Simply, "...when facility prices reflect true costs, only development which can afford to pay those costs will happen."(4)

4. To enhance the community's quality of life by attempting to exclude certain types of development and socioeconomic groups - Impact fees, though not empirically proven to do so, arguably raise the cost of housing, because in most cases, the developer passes the amount of the fee on to the homebuyer. The higher the cost of the house, the higher is the socioeconomic status required to purchase the house, with the result that some groups of persons and forms of development may effectively be excluded from the city. The concluding section of this chapter offers a discussion of the incidence of impact fees and the effect on housing affordability.

5. To symbolically respond to locally vocal antigrowth sentiments - The same taxpayer and ratepayer revolt which is partially responsible for the need for impact fees is related to antigrowth sentiment which seeks maintenance of the community status quo. Antigrowth sentiment reasons that the costs of expanded infrastructure and services are avoided if there is no demand for additional capacity. It is important to note, as well, that antigrowth sentiment may arise from social and environmental concerns quite unrelated to community finance. Regardless of the source of the antigrowth sentiment, the adoption of impact fees responds to the pressure.

Impact Fees, Exactions, and Linkage Fees

The discussion thus far has used "impact fee" only in the generic sense. There are, however, three versions of the impact fees, and the distinctions among them must be made in order to avoid confusion. "Exactions" is also used in a generic sense to describe charges for growth.(5) All of the arguments and discussions on impact fees are applicable to the three basic forms of fees: impact fees, exactions, and linkage fees.

Impact fees and exactions are both fees designed to require the developer to pay for an appropriate share of the infrastructure which serves the development in question. A simple distinction between the two is offered by Snyder and Stegman.(6) In-kind contributions of facilities constructed by the developer and donated to the city are exactions. Monetary contributions, including fees paid in-lieu of exactions, are impact fees. Examples of exactions are park construction and parkland set aside and the construction of off site infrastructure such as lift stations.

Whereas impact fees and exactions are closely related to the infrastructure needs of the development in question, linkage fees are frequently associated with a community purpose more remotely related to development. Linkage fees pay for socially desirable programs, and the developer is asked to contribute to the expansion of such programs in parallel with the developer's expansion of the community. Examples are per square foot linkage fees, usually charged to commercial development, with the revenues dedicated to low income housing or community day care.

Exactions, especially in the form of land dedication, have long been part of the development approval process. Impact and linkage fees, as noted earlier, are of recent vintage and represent a marked departure from the traditional manner in which the city pays for infrastructure. Regardless of the technical nature of the mechanisms used, questions of application, accuracy, equity, and maintenance arise. The discussion now turns to the specifics of impact fees and their application in the state of Texas.

Impact Fees in Texas

History of Impact Fees in Texas and the United States - The practice of using impact fees to offset the costs of growth and provision of public facilities has been used in many states across the nation. States which have enacted legislation authorizing impact fees include Arizona, California, Illinois, Maine, Nevada, New Jersey, Oregon, Tennessee, Texas, Vermont, Virginia, and Washington. Other states, such as Florida and Colorado, are considering similar legislation. Although impact fees are relatively new, their use evolved from developer contributions or "fees in lieu of" requirements as part of the subdivision development process.

Most states enacted legislation permitting land use regulations during the 1920's, but many of the precedents for impact fees were based on numerous court decisions in the 1960's, 1970's, and 1980's. These decisions resulted in either legislation allowing states to enact impact fees or defining parameters for their use. Most of the legislation and ordinances on impact fees used in current practice originated from various court decisions since 1980.

In 1984, the Texas Supreme Court upheld the City of College Station's park land dedication and "fee in lieu of" ordinance.(7) In effect, the Court authorized "offsite" exactions as a valid exercise of the City's power of self government or "police power." Another aspect of the College Station court decision was the "rational nexus" test. Although broadly interpreted, the rational nexus test as applied to impact fees means the need for new public facilities must be attributable to the development being assessed the impact fees, must be proportionate to the need for facilities generated by the development, and the development must receive a reasonable, although not exclusive, benefit from the facilities financed by the impact fees.

In 1987, a Senate Bill, commonly referred to as SB336, was introduced into the 70th Legislature of Texas which authorized governmental entities (cities, counties, and certain special districts) to impose impact fees against new development. SB336 passed and became effective June 20, 1987, and is now incorporated within the Texas Local Government Code as Chapter 395. Minor amendments were made to the Statute by the 71st Legislature. Since 1987, several other states have passed impact fee legislation based on SB336 (Chapter 395).

Overview and Purpose of Chapter 395 - The primary purpose of Chapter 395 (the impact fee legislation) is to authorize governmental entities, primarily municipalities, to collect impact fees to recoup some of the costs of providing public facilities which will serve new development. Both home rule and general law cities can impose impact fees under Chapter 395. While Chapter 395 serves as enabling authority, it also prescribes procedures which cities must follow to adopt impact fees and it establishes limitation on how impact fees can be applied.

In order to charge new development fees for offsite public improvements, such as water, sewer, and roadway facilities, a municipality must now comply with the provisions of Chapter 395. Chapter 395 defines an impact fee as "a charge or assessment imposed by a political subdivision (city) against new development in order to generate revenue for funding or recouping the costs of capital improvements or facility expansions necessitated by and attributable to such new development."(8) Any capital recovery fees or charges defined as impact fees by the statute which were in effect prior to the statute were required to be replaced by fees in accordance with Chapter 395 by June 20, 1990. Generally, Chapter 395 requires municipalities to develop a plan for growth (land use assumptions) and to prepare a capital improvement plan (CIP) to accommodate anticipated growth. This requirement parallels basic planning principals -- to develop policies upon which to formulate a comprehensive plan and develop a capital improvement plan to implement the plan.

One objective of impact fee programs in general is to raise money, but the most important objective is to ensure adequate capital resources to accommodate expected growth. Prior to Chapter 395, Texas cities often charged new development "front footage" fees for costs of building streets and pro rata changes for water and sewer lines. Under Chapter 395, these assessments (with certain exceptions) can no longer be charged to new development if they are for facilities beyond the developer's property. An important concept of Chapter 395 is the premise that new development "buys into" the entire system of services rather than paying only for facilities that happen to be adjacent to the developer's property. In essence, the developer pays the city to make the water, sewer and roadway systems available to tie into. Without this system of public facilities, the developer could not develop the property.

Procedures for Implementing Impact Fees as Prescribed by Chapter 395

The statute mandates a detailed procedure for the adoption of impact fees. Generally, this procedure requires:

- Appointment of an advisory committee; and,
- Public hearings on land use assumptions, a capital improvement plan, and the impact fee ordinance itself.

The main purpose of procedures set forth in Chapter 395 is to allow all interested parties a fair opportunity to participate in the adoption process. The appointment of an advisory committee and specific public hearing notification requirements ensure that anybody who wishes to participate will have the opportunity.

The following is an abbreviated outline of the process necessary to adopt an impact fee ordinance in accordance with Chapter 395:[9]

1. Organization - Qualified personnel, including city staff and/or consultants, should be organized to prepare the impact fee program. Even if consultants are retained to perform all or some of the required tasks, city staff should endeavor to participate in and/or coordinate the program. A written work program with dates for the following components should be prepared to help guide the process.

2. Advisory Committee[10] - As soon as possible, an advisory committee must be appointed. The Planning/Zoning Commission can be appointed as the advisory committee if at least one member is from the real estate, development or building industry.[11] The advisory committee and City Council are the two public bodies which participate in the adoption of impact fees and should both be briefed on their respective roles early in the process. The advisory committee's primary function is to advise and assist in the preparation of the land use assumptions and the capital improvement plan. The advisory committee also has ongoing responsibilities to produce semi-yearly reports and assist in updating the impact fee program. The City Council is the only body that can actually approve, adopt, and implement the program.

3. Program Scope - In addition to appointment of the advisory committee, it is important to determine target facilities early in the process. Eligible facilities include water treatment and distribution facilities, wastewater treatment and collection facilities, storm water drainage and flood control facilities, and roadway facilities. The city should determine which of these facilities it desires to include or target in its impact fee program. Sometimes this decision cannot be made without some preliminary analysis but it is important that professionals with expertise in designing plans for the specific targeted facilities are included in the process. Other city documents such as the comprehensive plan may provide direction and justification for the need and location of these types of capital facility improvements.

4. Acceptable and unacceptable components of an impact fee program -The Statute sets forth certain charges and facilities which can or cannot be included in the program.

Costs which may be included in calculating the impact fee are:[12]

(1) Construction cost of the capital improvement;
(2) Engineering and financial consultants' fees to prepare the impact fee program;
(3) Land acquisition costs; and,
(4) Interest and other financial costs of the capital improvement project

Items which cannot be paid for with funds collected under the impact program include:[13]

(1) Projects not included in the Capital Improvements Plan (CIP);
(2) Repair, operation and maintenance of existing or new facilities;
(3) Upgrading, updating, expanding, or replacing existing capital improvements to meet stricter safety, efficiency, environmental or regulatory standards, or to provide better service to existing development;
(4) Administrative costs of operating the impact fee program;
(5) General debt or finance charges for projects not included in the CIP; and
(6) Any roadway within the federal or Texas highway system.

Impact fees can be charged for both residential and nonresidential properties.

5. Preparation of the land use assumptions (LUA) and determination of service areas - The CIP must be based on a set of adopted land use assumptions which include a "description of the service area and projections of changes in land use, densities, intensities, and population in the service area over at least a ten-year period."[14] Although no particular format is specified in the statute, there are four basic requirements or components of the LUA:

   a. Description and analysis of existing conditions (base data) - This can include documentation of population, land use and other generally accepted background data for land use analysis;

   b. Service area determination - Since base data and projections must be collected for each service area, the boundaries for each targeted facility must be determined and included in the LUA report. They should also be coordinated with the preparations of the CIP.

      For water and wastewater facilities, a city has several options in determining its service areas. Multiple service areas can be created across the entire city, including its ETJ. If impact fees are to be assessed in the City's ETJ, then one member of the advisory committee must reside within the ETJ. Chapter 395 also allows a city to adopt system-wide (covering the entire city) land use assumptions and service areas. Most Texas cities adopting impact fees have chosen to designate city-wide service areas for water and wastewater facilities. Service areas for roadways and drainage facilities cannot be adopted on a system-wide basis. Roadway service areas are limited to the corporate limits of a city and the service areas for drainage are limited to specific drainage basins which will be served by the improvements. Additionally, the service area for roadway facilities must not exceed three miles in length at any point. Because of the service area size requirement on roadways, adoption of impact fees for roadway facilities is often more difficult than for other capital facilities. As a result, fewer cities have adopted impact fees for roadways than for other eligible facilities;

   c. Ten-year growth projections - Similar to section "a" above, data for ten-year projections must include changes in density and intensity for residential, commercial and industrial land use. This is also interpreted to include population and, as appropriate, employment projections. All population and land use projections should be prepared by qualified planning professionals using generally accepted planning criteria. The LUA should also be developed in a format suitable for use in development of the CIP. Along with the formulation of service areas, the LUA should be coordinated with preparation of the CIP.

d. Ultimate growth projections - The same types of data required for the ten-year projections must also be prepared for each service area in an ultimate development, or "built out," scenario. This is usually based upon the holding capacity of the ultimate land area of the city using proposed future land uses to determine anticipated land use types and densities.

The best source of data for developing land use assumptions is a currently adopted or approved comprehensive plan which probably already contains some of the statutory requirements pertaining to land use and population projections.
Preparation of population projections without the benefit of a comprehensive plan requires development of a basis and methodology for land use and population projections within the LUA report itself. In developing the LUA, it is important to remember that they will serve as a basis for preparation of the CIP over a ten-year period, as well as a basis for generation of the number of "service units" required to be served. A city must be able to show that costs within the CIP which are eligible for impact fee funding are indeed attributable to new growth and derived from the LUA.

The LUA, including any maps showing service area boundaries, should be prepared in a report format suitable for public review and eventual adoption. It also should be noted that the contents of the LUA may need to be formatted differently depending on the methodology used to formulate the CIP (different engineers prepare the CIP using different approaches; therefore, they have certain format requirements).

6. Public Hearing on the LUA - Once the land use assumptions have been drafted, they should be reviewed by the advisory committee. Any comments should be noted, and a copy of the comments and final LUA report must be sent to the City Council for approval. Although the advisory committee is not required to approve[15] the LUA, as a practical matter it is advisable to reach a consensus on the LUA report and provide a recommendation to the City Council.

The Statute provides for joint (or consolidated) public hearings on the LUA and CIP.[16] If a city is preparing an impact fee ordinance under Chapter 395 for the first time, there is a provision that requires separate public hearings on the LUA and CIP if anyone on a designated mailing list requests that separate hearings be held even though one joint (or consolidated) public hearing was advertised.[17] Consequently, in adopting their first impact fee ordinance, most cities have held separate public hearings. Another reason for separate public hearings is that the CIP must be based on the LUA. If the LUA are significantly altered as a result of the public hearing, then the content of the CIP could also require changes.

The City Council must set a public hearing date for the LUA.[18] Three weekly notices must appear in the newspaper between 30 and 60 days before the public hearing. Written notices must also be sent to all who have requested to be notified. Section 395.044 prescribes specific size of headline lettering, location within the newspaper, and content of the public hearing notices. The City Council must hold the public hearing and must adopt or reject the LUA within 30 days.[19]

7. Preparation of CIP for target facilities - After the LUA have been approved (or reviewed concurrently with the preparation of the CIP), the CIP can be prepared. Even if the LUA are adopted, a city still cannot charge impact fees without an adopted CIP. The CIP must be prepared by a registered professional engineer and must include:[20]

   a. Description and assessment of existing capital facilities;

b. Analysis of the total capacity and current levels of usage;

c. Description of each type facility (water, sewer, roadway, etc.) and associated costs for improvements of each which will be necessitated by and attributable to new development within each service area based on the approved land use assumptions;

d. Determination of a service unit and consumption, discharge or use of the facility by each service unit;

e. Total number of projected service units based on the LUA;

f. The projected demand for capital improvements over the next ten years;

g. An equivalency table establishing the ratio of a service unit to various types of land uses; and,

h. Calculation of the maximum fee that can be charged per target facility category for each service unit.

It is important to understand that the CIP prepared under Chapter 395 is different from a city's traditional capital improvement plan. A city's traditional CIP may identify many projects (including those to fix existing service deficiencies) to be undertaken during a shorter time period. As a result of the passage of Chapter 395, many cities could be maintaining two capital improvement programs, both with similar objectives but for different purposes.

The CIP required by Chapter 395, in essence, requires a city to define an appropriate level of service. This level will vary depending upon the nature of the targeted capital facility. For example, the level of service for the water system might be expressed as the peak usage period during a day in the summer. Selection of a service level represents an indirect commitment by the city to both correct existing deficiencies and to deliver services in accordance with projected need. Although all facilities expected to serve growth in the next ten years are not required to be included in the CIP, there should be an attempt to include all that are appropriate. That is, the CIP should not attempt to under- or over-estimate the facilities which will be required to serve growth over the next ten years.[21]

The CIP should be prepared in report form and sent to the advisory committee for review and comment. Similar to the LUA, the advisory committee must "review the capital improvements plan and file written comments to the City Council."[22] Once this is completed, then the CIP can be sent to the City Council for approval and adoption.

8. Ordinance preparation - As the CIP is completed, a draft ordinance adopting impact fees should be prepared. This ordinance should explicitly state how impact fees will be administered and when the fees will be collected (i.e. at the time the building permits are issued or at the time the final plats are filed). It should also make provisions for credits and offsets in fees, establish how the funds will be accounted for, provide schedules for maximum fees which can be charged, and state actual fees (which can be equal to or less than the maximum fee as calculated in the CIP) which will be charged per service unit and the equivalency table equating specific land uses to service units. The draft ordinance should then be sent along with the CIP to the City Council for consideration.

9. Public hearing on the CIP and impact fee ordinance - Except for wording changes, the same public hearing procedures, content and format as for the LUA must be followed for the CIP.[23] The CIP and ordinance adopting impact fees must be adopted by the City Council within 30 days of the public hearing. Once the ordinance and the CIP are adopted, impact fees may be imposed upon all new plats and replats approved after the ordinance adoption; however, impact fees cannot be charged for development on property platted prior to the adoption of the ordinance for a period of one year.

10. On-going requirements - In addition to normal administrative duties, a city must keep its impact fee program up-to-date. Every six months, the advisory committee must review the LUA and CIP and report its findings to the City Council. Every three years the entire program must be reviewed and updated if changes in the LUA and CIP have occurred.[24]

11. Policy issues to consider when adopting impact fees - As with many State Statutes, there are policy issues which must be resolved prior to implementation of an impact fee ordinance under Chapter 395. The two primary (and most controversial) issues include:

    a. Determination of when the impact fees will be collected; and,

    b. Determination of what rate to charge (if less than the maximum) to offset economic development or other objectives.

    Other policy issues pertain to contents of the CIP and interim funding mechanisms. Funds generated by impact fees will occur slowly, and on an incremental basis, but the requirements for construction occur relatively quickly (within two to five years). Therefore, cities are faced with the burden of initially financing capital facilities until the impact fee program can generate enough money to pay off the debt for construction of capital facilities.

Considerations in Using Chapter 395 - Each city must determine whether impact fees (under Chapter 395) are appropriate as a financing mechanism for capital improvements within their own jurisdiction. If a city is already completely built out or not expected to grow, then impact fees may not be appropriate. Conversely, if a city is expecting growth, anticipates construction of major capital facilities, or has already constructed significant oversized facilities, then impact fees may be appropriate.

There are advantages and disadvantages to impact fee programs. It has been argued that impact fees discourage growth and economic development, making cities that have adopted impact fees less competitive with cities that have not implemented impact fees. Also, the process of adopting the required land use assumptions, CIP, and ordinances is cumbersome and costly, especially for smaller cities. It is difficult to assess these alleged disadvantages, and thus far, comprehensive empirical studies on these effects have not been documented in literature available on the topic. But, in the current climate of fiscal constraints, growing cities must find new and innovative ways to finance facilities to accommodate expected growth. In Texas, Chapter 395 provides the only significant mechanism for cities to recoup expenditures for construction of off-site capital facilities.

Impact Fees and Exactions Controversies

This chapter has thus far introduced the concept, the political rationale, and the Texas practice of impact fee adoption and application. It is important to note that the jury is still out on whether or not impact fees accomplish their desired purpose. There are also questions concerning the long and short run side effects of impact fees. The literature on impact fees is long on theory and description and woefully lacking in empirical evidence upon which to adjudge the success of the fees. Several articles have been written in response to the lack of evidence on the success of fees.[25] The presentation of impact fees concludes with a discussion of some of the issues involved in hopes that the practitioner will find guidance in determining whether to adopt or continue impact fees.

Must Growth Pay for Itself? - City budgets have taken a beating in the face of rapid economic and population growth which spawns the need for equally rapid expansion of infrastructure. Even if the ponderously slow traditional boncing process were able to keep up with the rapidity of change, tax and rate payers are increasingly reluctant to help foot the bill. In theory, the rate of infrastructure development and its associated cost is matched by the rate of tax and rate base growth, such that the system grows without extra charges to the existing resicents and businesses. But it is clear that the theory and practice are not in sync, because new infrastructure always costs the existing residents. Thus, the recent decade has found much support for the concept that growth must pay for itself--that the existing resident or business should not have to subsidize the newcomer.

Three basic problems arise with the logic that growth must pay for itself. The first is the realization that the very persons who now wish not to subsidize the newcomer were themselves subsidized when they were the newcomers. Vociferous positing of the growth must pay for itself approach implies both a lack of appreciation for the history of community development and an antigrowth sentiment which may result in ultimate economic disadvantage for the city.

A second problem with growth must pay for itself is the multiple charging of the newcomer, first in terms of the impact fee, and then second in terms of paying for maintenance and rehabilitation of the previously existing system. Chapter 395 properly disallows use of the impact fee for maintenance and rehabilitation purposes, but it does not address subsequent levies for those purposes. For example, suppose that the newcomer pays the impact fee for a new residence, therefore having covered the cost of infrastructural services required to meet the one new unit of demand. Then, one year later, the city undertakes a massive renovation of an existing plant serving the older part of town, and the newcomer, having already paid once, is now asked to pay again for infrastructure which serves elsewhere in the community. The concept of impact fees as "buying into the system" provides only small comfort to the newcomer who has been hit twice.

The third problem with growth must pay for itself relates to the current resident who buys a newly constructed home versus the newcomer who buys an existing home. The existing resident ends up paying the fee instead of the newcomer. An existing resident who buys several new homes in the community over a period of years pays several times a fee which in theory should never have been paid at all. Meanwhile, the newcomer who buys an existing home escapes the fee completely.

Impact Fee Incidence and Housing Affordability - Impact fees are charged to the developer as part of the process of creating legal lots. A common complaint about fees is that the fees are passed on to the homebuyer, therefore rendering housing increasingly less affordable. Impact fee proponents argue that fees are absorbed by the market and that the impact on housing affordability is minimal. The criticality of the issue merits detailed examination.

1. Incidence - Though the impact fee is a direct charge to the developer, there are theoretically three parties upon which the actual cost of the fee might fall. In the case of a tight housing market characterized by short supply and strong demand, the developer will simply pass the cost of the impact fee on to the builder who will pass the cost on to the homebuyer. In the case of the oversupplied market, the developer passes the impact fee backward to the raw land owner through paying a lower price for the land in the first place. Somewhere in between the two extremes, the developer will be forced to absorb the amount of the fee. Interestingly, in practice the homebuyer bears the brunt of the fee, regardless of the status of the market.

   In the oversupply case, the developer cannot, for the development in question, pass the impact fee back to the landowner, because the developer has already paid for the land. The landowner is not likely to provide a refund, so the impact fee can be passed backward only in the long run, which does the current homebuyer no good. Early research interviews with developers reveals that developers always pass the impact fee on to the builder.[26] If market conditions are such that the developer must "eat" the impact fee, then the developer chooses to not develop. The result of not developing is decreased supply and ultimately higher housing cost. Once again the incidence falls upon the homebuyer.

2. Housing Affordability - An impact fee of several thousand dollars which might be passed on to the homebuyer is viewed by proponents as insignificant, even though most would recognize the incidence as regressive on lower priced homes. A closer examination of the developing/building/purchasing process, however, reveals a potentially explosive relationship between impact fees and housing affordability.

   The developer buys raw land, develops it at a cost, adds a profit, and then in most cases sells legal lots to builders. Builders package a house on a lot based upon the price they paid for the lot. Package price to lot price ratios vary but are generally in the 4:1 or 5:1 range for single family houses. Thus a builder puts an $80,000 to $100,000 package on a $20,000 lot. An impact fee of $2,000, charged to the developer and passed on to the builder changes the $20,000 lot to a $22,000 lot, and the package price jumps into the $88,000 to $110,000 range. Beyond the base multiplied increment, the homebuyer must also incur additional downpayment, financing, and interest costs.

   Impact fee proponents argue that fees don't really work that way. There is little formal evidence in either direction, but simple observation shows that those communities with the highest impact fees also tend overwhelmingly to have the highest priced housing.

Conversely, it can be argued that if impact fees are not charged for capital facilities, the homeowner will eventually pay for the cost of existing and new infrastructure through higher property and other taxes.

Accuracy of Fee Determination - Chapter 395 has gone a long way toward defining how fees must be calculated. Prior to Chapter 395, it was amazing to see how many cities charged exactly the same impact fees, the implication being that those cities had exactly the same costs of infrastructure provision. Even with the guidance of Chapter 395, there remains much to question about the accuracy of the fees. Do the fees charged in a city equal the city's incremental cost of infrastructure? At this time, few cities know the answer. Much heavy infrastruture -- water, wastewater, streets, drainage -- is systematic in nature. It is difficult, if not impossible, to distinguish the cost attributable to a single new unit of development. Formulas are available for determining impact fees, but they are not theoretically based and empirically tested, and the result is operation of an impact fee system which may or may not recoup true infrastructure costs.

Impact Fees and Exclusions - One of Nicholas's previously mentioned political rationalizations for impact fees was exclusionary in intent. Communities interested in becoming pricey for exclusionary purposes would seem to have a weapon in impact fees of power similar to the large lot zoning excesses frequently at work. An entire series of articles concerning growth management devices, of which impact fees are a part, reveals their often exclusionary nature.[27] Whether the adoption of impact fees intentionally seeks to exclude or not doesn't matter. If the effect of impact fee adoption is one of comparative price increases for housing, the result will be one of increased exclusion.

It has also been alleged that impact fees discourage nonresidential development. For example, if impact fees are imposed on retail uses, could the effect be to discourage retail growth? Since nonresidential uses are generally less intensive users of public services, it is beneficial to cities to have these uses in order to offset the fiscal burden on residential users. Impact fees may discourage some nonresidential uses from locating in an area if the impact fees are not properly formulated in conjunction with adopted economic development policies.

Effect on Traditional Budgetary Devices - Impact fees have been adopted with such pervasive swiftness that they have been the focus of much budgetary attention. Their popularity, a fee charged to someone not yet here to vote, is undeniable. There is the danger, however, of forgetting that impact fees are only one weapon in the community budgetary arsenal. Impact fees are not a cure all, and it is important to continue to attend to the ongoing maintenance and use of traditional bonding, taxing, and ratepaying, the heart of the revenue stream.

CONSIDERATIONS AFFECTING THE IMPOSITION OF IMPACT FEES

Introduction

An impact fee is a fee imposed on a property developer to pay for the increased costs of certain city services which will be incurred because of the development. For example, a new subdivision will cause an increase in municipal service because the new and increased population will increase the draw on the city's water and sewer systems and may necessitate the off-site construction of new streets and new drainage and storm protection facilities. The assessment of impact fees is governed by the provisions of Chapter 395 of the Texas Local Government Code and is broadly limited by constitutional prerogatives which prohibit the taking of private property for public use without just compensation. As a basic principle, a city can not require a developer as a condition of development to pay for off-site improvements. Furthermore, any exaction imposed on property development must be directly connected and roughly proportional to a legitimate interest of the state or the city. Dolan v. City of Tigard, 512 U.S. 374 (1994). Thus, an impact fee must be directly related to the increased costs incurred by the city in providing certain essential services.

Use of Fees

Under Chapter 395 of the Code, an impact fee may be assessed and used only to pay certain expenses associated with "capital improvements" defined as 1) water, 2) sanitary sewer, 3) storm drainage, and 4) roadway facilities. Fees may be used only to pay for construction costs, surveying and engineering fees, land acquisition costs, and principal and interest on bonds. Impact fees may not be used to pay for repair or maintenance of existing facilities, the upgrading of existing capital improvements which serve existing development, or city administrative and operating costs.

The Capital Improvements Plan

In order to insure that impact fees bear a proportional and direct relationship with the added cost of capital improvements associated with the new development, the city must prepare a capital improvements plan. The plan must be prepared by a qualified professional and must contain six specific components which are enumerated in Section 395.014 of the Code. The capital improvements plan is complex and comprehensive and is intended to identify all present and future capital improvements and development, with actual and projected usage, costs and demand.

Limitations on Assessment of Fee

Following the preparation of a capital improvements plan and the adoption of an impact fee ordinance, the imposition of impact fees are subject to certain limitations. For preexisting subdivisions and property which is already platted, no impact fee may be collected from any property for which a building permit is issued within one year after the adoption of the impact fee. Further, a developer is entitled to a refund of paid fees plus interest if: 1) the relevant city service is not available or construction is not commenced within two years, or 2) the fees obtained by the city are not spent within 10 years of payment. A developer may also be entitled to a partial refund if the actual cost of the capital improvements is more than ten percent less than the fees paid.

Benefits and Detriments

Certain benefits as well as detriments are associated with the imposition of impact fees. The central benefit is that the fee will reimburse the city - or directly pay for - the costs associated with the construction of capital improvements necessitated by the developer who created the additional demand. In all fairness, the persons or entities responsible for causing increased demand for city service will pay the associated costs instead of the burden shifting to the city's taxpayers. This is not only equitable but also has the indirect effect of stabilizing tax rates.

However, the drawbacks are both substantive as well as practical. Impact fees discourage development by increasing the direct costs. The mere preparation of a capital improvements plan typically costs tens of thousands of dollars. This is but a fraction of the actual costs of implementation.

Nichols, Jackson, Dillard, Hager & Smith, L.L.P.
1800 Lincoln Plaza
Dallas, Texas 75201
(214) 965-9900

In newer or high-growth areas, impact fees make more sense than in established areas. In new high-growth areas, a greater need exists for new capital improvements which can be funded by impact fees and, in general, the property demand is sufficient to bear the added development cost associated with the fee. By and large, though, developed communities which experience low to moderate growth will impede new development at significant cost. And since the fees collected can not be used to repair, maintain or upgrade existing facilities which service existing development, the benefits are nominal.

Title: Public Hearing and Consideration and Action on adding hotels, motels and bed and breakfast establishments to permitted uses for C-2 zoning.

Background:
Truman Harp was contacted about the possibility of putting in a hotel or motel in the Jackson Ranch commercial area. Upon review it was determined that the permitted uses or special use permit would not allow for that. The closest language was in R-3 but this was not really appropriate and rezoning to R-3 would not be appropriate.

Report:

By adding motels/hotels to C-2 it also applies to C-3 but not C-1 zoning. This allows for this type of development along the frontage road, Denton Drive, Main Street, and Jackson Ranch.

Report:

The codes are updated every couple years and if not adopted by the City, any changes that are made do not apply to the City. This can cause confusion among builders, engineers and staff.

Recommendation:
The City Manager and Building Official recommends adoption of the updated codes.

Planning and Zoning Commission Agenda Item

Date: 6-4-98 Agenda Item: 1 & 2

Title: Public Hearing and Consideration and Action on adding arcades to Chapter 18.30 Special Use Permits.

Summary of Report:
Should special use permits be required to open an arcade?

Background:
The P&Z Commission recommended to Council that arcades be allowed as a permitted use in C-2 districts.

Upon being informed that the P&Z Commission did not have the alternative of special use permits brought to them, the Council sent it back for further review and recommendation.

Report:

Arcades as permitted uses does not require anything of the business owner. The only permits needed are building permits if there is any building or remodeling.

A special use permit requires the business owner to apply, have public hearings before P&Z and Council and have a unanimous decision by P&Z and Council prior to opening up the arcade. See attached.

Current city code will come into play with a background check of arcade owners using the Places of Recreation application. See attached.

Recommendation:
If more control over where arcades are located is wanted, then a special use permit is the best tool.

City of Lake Dallas
Planning and Zoning Commission Agenda Item

Date: 6-4-98 Agenda Item: 3

Title: Consideration and action on Economic Development Issues.

Summary of Report:
Discussion of issues.

Background:
At a joint meeting with Council in January, it was decided that the Council and P&Z Commission should work together to encourage the commercial climate.

At the April P&Z meeting, the P&Z Commission established a subcommittee to work on issues of zoning etc., on creating a comprehensive plan for the city.

Report:
The City Manager has been unable to get the time needed to work on any of these issues. At the June meeting, it is hoped that the Commission could narrow the focus down to the highest priority, and have the subcommittee work on that for the next month.

The issues are zoning, use and application of the planned commercial district (see attached), determining what types of businesses are wanted, reviewing code to determine if there are obstacles in the way of development, marketing lots and vacant businesses, and reviewing TIF, economic development corporations etc to see if they are applicable to Lake Dallas.

Recommendation:
To review the issues and prioritize the assignment, and to set dates for the subcommittee to meet.

18.26.060 Variances.

The requirements and regulations prescribed in this chapter pertaining to height, open space, setbacks and parking and loading may be adjusted or modified by variance by the board of adjustment before a C-P district is established so that the property in question may be developed in a reasonable manner and at the same time will not be detrimental to the public welfare and the interests of the community, but in keeping with the general intent and spirit of the zoning regulations. A. If the preliminary plan is found to comply with the intent of the requirements and regulations set forth in this chapter, the city zoning commission shall, upon approval of the preliminary plan, submit to the city council a recommendation for an amendment to the zoning district map, which amendment is to provide for and establish a C-P district for the land covered by the preliminary plan. 18.26.140 Termination or abandonment.

If, for any reason, the plan is abandoned or if the construction is terminated during or after the completion of any stage, and there is ample evidence that further development is not contemplated, the amendment establishing such C-P district may be repealed by the council and the zoning of the entire tract, or the portion which is undeveloped as a C-P district, may be changed to a suitable classification. (Ord. 25 § 12 (part), 1967)

18.26.150 Final plan—Adjustments during construction.

After the final development plan has been approved and the zoning change made, and when, in the course of carrying out this plan, adjustments or rearrangements of buildings, parking areas, entrances, heights or open spaces are requested from those established by the approved final development plan for the area to be covered by buildings, parking spaces, entrances, height, setback and other requirements, such adjustments may be approved by the city council upon application, and after receiving the recommendations of the city zoning commission. Planning and Zoning Commission Agenda Item

Date: 5-7-98 Agenda Item: 1&2

Title: Public Hearing and Consideration and Action on amending City Code Chapter 18.12 R-1-7200 Single-Family Dwelling District, specifically permitted uses and accessory buildings.

Summary of Report: This revision to the R-1-7200 zoning district primarily clarifies accessory uses and accessory buildings.

Background:
The current code is attached. During review of it was determined that some areas were out-of-date and hard to read.

Report:
The revised code is attached. The primary differences are:

In section 18.12.010:
- Eliminating elementary and high from schools and replacing with through 12th grade.
- Eliminating Agriculture, and nurseries.

In 18.12.020 adding recreational vehicle

In 18.12.030 changing home occupations from listed jobs to what the requirements should be. Removed the requirement that the home occupation be done from the dwelling. It could be open air (growing of flowers) or product from an accessory building.

Combined sections 18.12.040-18.12.060 - garages, stables and accessory building sections.
- Not allowing detached garages to be closer to side and rear yards as if they were attached.
- Dropping distance from an alley since the city has no active alleys.
- Adding that the rear yard cannot be more than 10% covered with accessory buildings. Current requirement for garage is 30 % and Chapter 18.34.040 E. states that "In any district, a detached accessory building not exceeding twenty-four feet or two stories in height, or in any case not higher than the main building, may occupy not more than thirty percent of a rear yard." However 10% was used because in a typical rear yard, 10% would be 180 square feet, or a good-sized shed. Any change does not affect current buildings.
- Removed the animal control requirements because that is covered under the animal section in Chapter 6.4.

Additional comments:

If the main building must be at least 7 feet from the side lot line, should accessory buildings be only 3 feet from the same line?

In this rewrite, the exception for detached garages taking over the back yard has been removed. Otherwise, any builder could get by the 30-foot rear yard setback requirement by eliminating the attached garage and building a detached garage. There is a reason for this setback, and that is to allow open space, as well as fire protection. Today, garages are attached. If a detached garage is desired, then it must be on a large lot to meet the requirements.

There is not much said in the current or revised code about covered carports, covered patios, or walled in patios. Should there be?

Recommendation:

It is the recommendation of the City Manager and the Building Official that the Planning and Zoning Commission review the proposed revision and public comments and make recommendations to City Council.

City of Lake Dallas
Planning and Zoning Commission Agenda Item

Date: 5-7-98 Agenda Item:3&4

Title: Public Hearing and Consideration and Action on amending City Code Chapter 18.14 R-1-6000 Single-Family Dwelling District, specifically permitted uses, accessory buildings, and exterior surfaces.

Summary of Report:
This revision removes the references to the R-1-7200 district and is written to fully stand alone. It is written the same as the new R-1-7200 district. It also adds a section about exterior surfaces.

Background:
The current code is attached. Upon reviewing a request for a metal accessory building, it was found to be confusing to use the R-1-7200 district for permitted uses and accessory buildings.

Report:

The changes are that the chapter stands on its own without referencing R-1-7200 and adopts the same changes found in Item 1&2. A section is added for exterior surfaces.

Recommendation:
It is the recommendation of the City Manager and the Building Official that the Planning and Zoning Commission review the proposed revision and public comments and make recommendations to City Council.

City Administrator, Stewart Fairburn explained the advantages and disadvantages of rezoning the property. He stated that due to the property's size and the fact that it is in a 100 year flood plain it would be difficult to comply with the present zoning classification of multi-family zoning. With renovations to the present structure this location could be used as an office. He also informed P&Z Members that this would be zoning one small section into C-1.

Planning and Zoning Members discussed the status of whether this property qualified for a non-conforming use as well as the zoning regulations for this property.

After discussion and consideration of this item by Planning & Zoning Members a motion was made by Commissioner Ben Gilbert to deny the zoning change on Tract 72 of the M.E.P. & P.R.R. This subject was prompted by a house that had been destroyed on Shore Road by a natural gas leak. The property owner wanted to build back but was unable to meet the proper distance requirements for the zoning district the property falls under.

1. Consideration and Action to recommend approval of an ordinance rezoning of the property A1163a J.W. Simmons, Tract 5, located at 400 N. Stemmons, from M-1 Light Industrial to C-1 Retail District.

Char DuPree, Community Development Director, gave a presentation regarding the zoning change of Andrews Distributing. She gave a brief history of the ownership of the property and any remodel and additions made. She also outlined the difference between M-1 and C-1 zoning uses and presented pictures depicting what the City does and does not want at the location. A copy of the PowerPoint presentation outline will be included in the minutes.

Commissioner Fisher asked if Andrews was the only property currently zoned M-1. Ms. DuPree answered that the properties next door, Comco and Silestone, are also M-1 as well at Hundley Boat Yard. She also pointed out that the vehicle storage facility on Swisher is currently zoned C-1, but the use of storing vehicles is a legal nonconforming use. Clyde Fisher asked Ms. DuPree if the new owners of Andrews could also request a zoning change and she answered yes. The concern is, if it is left M-1, the City would have no choice but to allow the M-1 usage. Clyde Fisher asked if there are stipulations that could be put on M-1 zoning to prohibit outside storage and Ms. DuPree answered no. Jenny Warmbrodt also asked if Andrews could have an agreement with the City not to sell to someone that was not in accordance with what the City wants and Ms. DuPree answered it must be between Andrews and their prospective buyer.

Joe Jernigan, CFO of Andrews Distributing at 2730 Irving Blvd, Dallas, TX 75207, spoke in regards to the zoning change. Mr. Jernigan stated it really bothers him that his property is being looked at negatively. He referenced 85 acres of land that they bought in Allen, TX and how a portion of that land was bought to build Cabela's currently located on highway 75. Andrews Distributing and City officials of Allen, TX have an "understanding" to work together on who purchases the land and how it is to be used. Allen also has a vision just like the City of Lake Dallas of what types of businesses will be in their City. Mr. Jernigan feels there has to be a way for the City and Andrews to work together and have an agreement, either in writing or just word, to make sure the land is used based on the City's vision. He is willing to sit down with the City Manger, City Attorney, or City Council. He feels that he understands where the City is coming from, but he doesn't see the need to kick Andrews out of the City.

Clyde Fisher asked the City Attorney, David Berman, if there is any way they could make an agreement to screen any prospective buyers. Mr. Jernigan said they have an informal agreement with Allen, TX but nothing in writing. The City Attorney said there really isn't any way except with a site plan but that wouldn't pertain to this situation since the building is already built. Mr. Jernigan said they currently have three prospective buyers. He referenced the unofficial agreement with the City of Allen again and how they do not do anything with their property in that city unless there is an agreement with the City of Allen. The City Attorney said it isn't that they don't want Andrews there, it is more their concern with who will buy the property. He said another option would be to change it to C-1 and then let the prospective buyers know that the City Council is not opposed to changing it back to M-1 if the usage is something the City agrees with. Mr. Jernigan said he has never heard of such a situation before and that it isn't good from a developer's standpoint. Mr. Berman said it has been done many times and even though it isn't the best option from Andrews's standpoint, it protects the City and the buyer. The most significant concern the City Attorney has right now is this issue not be tabled again by the Planning and Zoning Commission. It needs to go to the City Council as planned. In terms of being creative, it really is the City Council's decision, no matter what Planning and Zoning recommends.

Clyde Fisher said he doesn't feel right with the rezoning. Jenny Warmbrodt mentioned that in her opinion she didn't feel the fact the property has been vacant for sixteen months should be a motivating factor in changing the zoning district. There are still other areas of the City that are either vacant or have yet to be developed. She is concerned that it was the City initiating the rezoning and not the actual business owner, which is usually the case. She asked the City Attorney if the property taxes would be the same no matter the zoning district and he answered that, yes, in theory it would be the same. Clyde Fisher asked if the prospective buyers would be using all the acreage and Mr. Jernigan said they will. Commissioner Warmbrodt said she understands that the property could look bad as shown in the pictures from the presentation by Ms. DuPree, however, she feels no one, even Andrews, wants it to look like that. Peggy Shelton said she isn't comfortable with it being M-1 and doesn't want that kind of junk yard usage being at that location. Jenny Warmbrodt asked to confirm where the entrance is located and they said it is off of Overly Drive, so the side of the building is what will be seen off the I-35 service road.

Motion to not recommend the approval of an ordinance rezoning of the property A1163a J.W. Simmons, Tract 5, located at 400 N. Stemmons, from M-1 Light Industrial to C-1 Retail District was made by Clyde Fisher; second by Jenny Warmbrodt.

E. Business:

1. Consideration and Action on approval of Minutes for August 21, 2014 meeting.
Motion to approve the minutes for August 21, 2014 was made by Clyde Fisher; second by Jenny Warmbrodt.
Ayes: Fisher, Shelton, Gilbert, Warmbrodt

2. Public Hearings to hear comments on the proposed rezoning of the property A1163a J.W. Simmons, Tract 5, located at 400 N. Stemmons, from M-1 Light Industrial to C-1 Retail District.

City Manager, Nick Ristagno, spoke first giving a summary of the reasons why the City is requesting the zoning change. The issue is the Andrews Distributing property which is currently zoned M-1. This is the only property fronting the freeway that is zoned M-1 and even though Andrews has been a good neighbor the City is concerned a "dirty" business could be opened at this location. The City would prefer a commercial business like retail or restaurant open as opposed to an industrial type of business. Andrews does oppose the action. There has not been any business at the location for 15 months.

Joe Jernigan from 2730 Irving Blvd, Dallas, TX 75207 came up next. He has been with Andrews Distributing since 1994 when the present owner bought out his partner. They have had several acquisitions and one of them is this property up for rezoning. They purchased the property in 2006 and have spent several hundred thousands of dollars to bring the property up to their standards. As the business continued to grow, the need to occupy that property went away. They have had 75 people look at purchasing the property and have discussed offers with 26 people but were never able to come to a close. They currently have two businesses interested in purchasing and occupying the property. Mr. Jernigan stated he can't get anyone to actually define what a "clean" or "dirty" business is. They take a lot of pride in their business and they aren't going to let someone into the property that wouldn't be considered a good business. One of the prospective buyers is a cell phone re-conditioning company and the other business is an RV repair company. Both the businesses are aware of the zoning change and don't feel that they would qualify to be there if the zoning were to change to C-1.

The business is listed at 2.5 million dollars and the appraisal district has it listed at 2 million. They were collectively astonished this was brought up to change the zoning and no one contacted them. It was only after one of the employees saw the zoning change sign placed on the property that they knew of the request. They have been in the City for eight years and have paid over $400,000 in taxes to the City. They have never been late in tax payments. Andrews has invested a lot of money into the business and supported the community. If the business changes to C-1 it will cost them a lot of money. They offered to sell the land to the City either through an installment sale or the CDC. Andrews Distributing takes pride in doing business the right way no matter the cost. He respectfully requests that the Commission deny the request tonight.

Commissioner Clyde Fisher asked Mr. Jernigan if the two prospective buyers were serious buyers and confirmed they were currently not under contract. Mr. Jernigan said they would not feel right to put any of them under contract with the zoning change still uncertain. As far as he knew these two prospective buyers would be using the current building. He would be agreeable to sit down and discuss the situation with the Commission, City Manager, or City Council. He does not feel there is a good reason to change the current zoning of the property.

The City Manager spoke again to state there was an error on the part of the City in notifying them about the zoning change, but the City stopped that action right away. The concern for the City is what could possibly go into that property that is allowed in M-1 which includes heavy truck sale, manufacturing, processing, or fabrication which is what the City does not want at their front door. He then went over what is allowed in the C-1 zoning district. Also, Andrews does not currently have a contract with either of the prospective buyers. Mr. Jernigan interjected that they couldn't in good conscience accept an offer with the current zoning change uncertain. Clyde Fisher mentioned that they could have put a contingency on the contract. The City Manager stated that it could be rezoned again if they bring in a business that the City does agree with and it fits into the M-1 zoning. Mr. Jernigan mentioned again that the City could purchase the property and what they are proposing does not make good business or community sense.

Mike Massey, 3104 St. Germaine, McKinney, TX was next to speak on Andrew's behalf. . He has been a real estate appraiser for 44 years, specializing in litigation support, 100% commercial. He represents Andrews Distributing and it is his opinion the property is worth 2.5 million dollars. Denton CAD has the land at $2 a square foot and the improvements at $1,389,724 for roughly a 2 million dollar value. His concerns are with the Swisher Rd District and the businesses that are listed that are prohibited which leads to the issue of inverse condemnation. If the property is changed to C-1 then the existing improvements are non-conforming. He has done at least 20 parcels off of I-35 and the issue that comes up when you have an inverse situation is one cannot get financing due to the zoning. There is difficulty in someone buying it as an investment and trying to lease it out when they don't know if they can be guaranteed the issuance of a Certificate of Occupancy by the City. He did a calculation and he feels Andrews Distributing would lose around a million dollars. This building is so specialized and has enough power in it to run the city. To retrofit the building for another type of business would not be feasible and it would have to be bulldozed and start all over again.

Andrew's attorney, Jonathan Vinson of Jackson Walker, L.L.P. at 901 Main St Ste 6000, Dallas, TX came up next. He first wanted to address the problem with the lack of proper notice of the initial meeting and the assumption that this could have gone forth without them knowing. The fact that the property owner and those around it are opposed to the rezoning and the City is still pushing for the change is odd. Also, to propose this without sitting down and discussing it with the property owner is very negative and sends a bad message to the public. He then brought up the issue of having a buyer under contract. He also feels it would not be fair to put a property under contract while this rezoning is still going on. It is unfortunate that they are in this situation since everyone appears to consider Andrews a good corporate citizen. They will lose money since whoever buys it would not be willing to pay as much for the property if they have to demolish the building. He also does not feel it would be suitable as a commercial retail location and this process is actually hindering redevelopment. His final point is Andrews has been an excellent corporate citizen and to have their zoning taken from them seems to be an attempt to take away their rights as property owners.

The City Attorney, David Berman, then asked Mr. Vinson if their client received notice of this meeting at least 11 days or more ago and he answered he believed they did. The City Attorney said that is all the law requires. Mr. Vinson stated the problem was they didn't get notice the first time and the City Attorney then stated that hearing was canceled. The main concern at this time for the City Attorney is that Mr. Vinson cannot state the notice for this meeting was defective which would render the rezoning recommendation by the Commission or Council invalid. There was an issue with the first notice but with the City Attorney's thorough review the notice was corrected and therefore not illegally defected.

Joe Jernigan said that if one of the employees had not driven by the property and noticed the potential rezoning the City might have gone through the rezoning without their knowledge. The fact that they were not notified in any way in the beginning is not right. The City Attorney said he does not disagree with them but his only concern at this time as the City's legal counsel is that written notice of tonight's public hearing was sent to them at least 11 days ago so for legal purposes they could move forward with the zoning recommendation. Mr. Jernigan advised they did receive the notice.

3. Consideration and Action to recommend approval of an ordinance rezoning of the property A1163a J.W. Simmons, Tract 5, located at 400 N. Stemmons, from M-1 Light Industrial to C-1 Retail District.

Jenny Warmbrodt asked if the City had received any notice of opposition to the zoning change from any of the surrounding properties. The City Manager said he had not received any phone calls or anything in writing. Andrews then presented a copy of a letter written by Comco (the property next to Andrews off of Overly Drive) to the Commission.

Mr. Vinson said he also spoke with the Manager of Lake Haven mobile home park.

Chairperson Gilbert made sure the City did not receive anything in writing and asked how many notices were sent out. Planning and Zoning Secretary Khara Sherrill stated they sent out a total of seven letters.

Jenny Warmbrodt reviewed the M-1 district and asked the City Manager if the noise of a possible business moving in there was the City's concern. The City Manager replied that the concern expressed to him is that it is the only business off of I-35 zoned Light Industrial and the zoning allowance of storage yards, manufacturing, processing, fabrication or assembling is a concern. She also asked if Andrews would have to pay for the rezoning; and the City Manager said there is no fee associated to the zoning change. Andrew's attorney, Mr. Vinson, stated their concern is not so much the processing expense of the rezoning but the fact that they will lose a million dollars with the property changing to C-1.

Clyde Fisher mentioned the option of tabling the decision. The city attorney said if they are inclined to table it, it does hamstring the City and City Council. If they vote yes or no, either way the City Council will seriously take their recommendation. If the Commission tables it, he urged them to reschedule the consideration and action to a specific date. Clyde Fisher feels that they didn't have enough time to make an informed decision. The Public Hearing has been formerly closed so they don't have to go through the notice process again. The City Attorney said the Chairperson can let anyone speak if he wants even if they don't have a Public Hearing on the agenda. Mr. Vinson said he would like for them to open the Public Hearing so there would be re-notice.

Jenny Warmbrodt said she has some concerns about the decision and doesn't feel comfortable making a decision now. The Commission also said they would like to tour the facilities but they would have to go in no more than pairs since if they have three people it would constitute a quorum. They would reconvene regarding this issue at the next meeting on November 20, 2014. It was determined, by the City Attorney's recommendation, not to re-open the Public Hearing.

Motion to table the recommendation for the approval of an ordinance rezoning of the property A1163a J.W. Simmons, Tract 5, located at 400 N. Stemmons, from M-1 Light Industrial to C-1 Retail District and continue the Consideration and Action to the next meeting on November 20, 2014 was made by Jenny Warmbrodt; second by Clyde Fisher.

1. Consideration and Action on approval of Minutes for June 26, 2014 meeting.
Motion to approve the minutes for July 17, 2014 was made by Clyde Fisher; second by Peggy Shelton.
Ayes: Fisher, Shelton, Gilbert, Warmbrodt
Noes: None

   Char DuPree referenced that the agenda states the date of June 26, 2013 as opposed to July 17 so the motion needs to reference the new date.

   Char DuPree then announced that we will be removing from the agenda items 4 and 5 and they will be on the September 18, 2014 Planning and Zoning Meeting and then City Council on September 25, 2014.

2. Consideration and Action to recommend approval of the creation of the Swisher Road Overlay District

Ben Gilbert asked Char DuPree to give a background on this item. Ms. DuPree advised that during meetings with residents regarding the proposed zoning change, residents wanted more use restrictions for this area rather than permitting all the C-1 uses. This is why the Swisher Overlay District was developed. Char DuPree then read through the ordinance of uses permitted and what is prohibited.

Clyde Fisher asked why the lots on Hillcrest were included in the zoning change and Char DuPree answered it was because the owners of the lots wanted them to be changed as well. Commissioner Warmbrodt and Fisher asked if they could exclude those lots from the zoning change and Char DuPree answered that they could. Warmbrodt also questioned what the fencing requirements would be in this ordinance and Char DuPree answered it is a minimum of six feet in height and maximum of eight feet and would be the responsibility of the business owners. Char DuPree reminded the commission that what they are deciding at this time is the creation of the Swisher Overlay District and not the lots to be included.

Motion to approve the creation of the Swisher Road Overlay District was made by Clyde Fisher; Second by Jenny Warmbrodt.

Ayes: Fisher, Warmbrodt, Gilbert, Shelton

3. Public Hearings to hear comments on the proposed rezoning of portions of Swisher Road and Hillcrest Street, from R-1-7200 and R-2 to C-1 Swisher Overlay, creating a Special Road District for the following properties: Birdsong Addition, Block A, Lots 1-6; Oak Lakes Addition, Block F, Lots 27-33 and Block K, Lots 19-22; Pralle Addition, Block A, Lots 22a and 22b.

Char DuPree gave a detailed background on the Swisher rezoning. This is due to the City looking at future development among Swisher Rd and the increased traffic due to the new Toll bridge. She referenced the Farmers Insurance office at 215 Swisher that was recently bought and already rezoned to C-1. The City then met with the surrounding homeowners to get their input and see what they did or didn't want to change. It is inevitable that Swisher Rd will go commercial, whether it changes at this time or not.

The first to speak was Lura Green at 524 Meadowbrook. She voiced her concerns on the three lots on Hillcrest which includes Birdsong Addn Blk A Lots 1 through 3 which she feels impedes on their community. She also submitted a petition signed by eleven of her neighbors who also disagree with the rezoning of those lots.

Next to speak was Dan Powell at 206 Hillcrest. His first concern is also the three lots previously mentioned. He stated he didn't want a busy restaurant, such as Denny's, in his neighborhood. Char DuPree advised him that the Swisher Overlay District does not allow that type of business in that location. His other concern is the dividing fence and his belief that a wooden fence would not be secure enough or properly cared for. The type of fence that would be best is a masonry fence between the commercial and residential properties. He then asked about the restrictions on signs. Ms. DuPree advised pole signs would not be allowed which was his main concern.

Third person to speak was Marvin Chisum at 204 Hillcrest. He reiterated what the other people stated. There needs to be a uniform barrier between the commercial and residential properties. He is not against the Overlay District since he knew this would happen eventually but to change the lots on Hillcrest will devalue their property. Traffic is already an issue with only two entrances in and out of the neighborhood and they don't want to add more traffic.

Kandi Jones, at 516 Meadowbrook, also believes those lots on Hillcrest should not be changed. She believes traffic is already an issue and doesn't want to add more to their neighborhood.

Next to speak was Tim Grisham who owns the lot at 104 Hillcrest. He is concerned that building on Swisher will affect the drainage of the creek on his property. He wants to know the City's requirements regarding drainage. Char DuPree said the City Engineer always reviews the properties and determines then if there are any drainage issues and what would need to be done to remedy any drainage problems during the construction plan review.

Tami Perchez at 106 Hillcrest spoke next. She thought her lot was also going to be included in the zoning change and she wanted to know why it was removed in the request. Char DuPree answered that due to all the opposition by surrounding neighbors those lots were removed. She answered if that was the case then why were those three lots in the Birdsong Addition being rezoned. Char DuPree answered that those lots right at the corner of Swisher and Ridgewood were not big enough in and of themselves to have a commercial property built on them and also the homeowners requested for them to be rezoned. Ms. Perchez said she did not think this answer was acceptable. Her concern is also drainage issues due to being by LCMUA. She also spoke about the fence concerns and requested a masonry fence be required. Her final request is that any commercial property built to have an entrance off of Swisher and not Hillcrest.

David Jones who lives at 516 Meadowbrook came up next to speak. He is in the construction business and he does not believe TXDOT will allow a curb cut on Swisher Rd within a certain amount of feet on Ridgewood. He also believes a masonry fence should be required.

Dale Tate, 508 Hillcrest St, also expressed his concern on the fence requirements. He also requests an eight foot masonry fence. He believes the only reason those three lots off of Hillcrest are being changed is because they are vacant and those that own them don't even live in Lake Dallas. He also had a question about building height which Char DuPree answered is three stories as allowed in the C-1 Commercial District.

Judy Amstutz owns 5 lots in the zoning change request, including two of the three lots that are being proposed on Hillcrest. She believes the reason they have stayed as a request is because the houses across from them do not directly face Hillcrest. She also believes that those lots on Hillcrest that were removed should be added back on in order to have consistency.

Clyde Knight at 508 Ridgewood believed that no businesses should have an entrance on Hillcrest and should only be on Swisher.

Marvin Chisum spoke again regarding his concern that this rezoning might be considered spot zoning and Chairperson Ben Gilbert assured him this is not. He then asked about the lot right at Ridgewood and Hillcrest which was bought last year and he was under the impression the new owner didn't agree to it. Another person answered that she had changed her mind and agreed to her lot changing to commercial.

Steve Robertson, at 205 Swisher Rd, spoke next asking a question about the fencing requirements and how close to Hillcrest would they be required to be built. Char DuPree answered that it would be determined when the plans are submitted for each project but there are setback requirements already in place in the C-1 Ordinance.

Kenny Day, co-owner and business partner with the previous speaker, stated he is concerned that different businesses putting up various types of fences would not look good in the area as well as only rezoning the three lots on Hillcrest.

Kandi Jones spoke again. She believes to break up the subdivision would not be good for the community and would affect their property values. She also believes a traffic study should be done in her neighborhood to see that traffic is already an issue.

Suzanne Loper at 511 Meadowbrook is concerned with the fact that having commercial traffic in the neighborhood could affect the neighborhood kids safely playing outside.

Tim Grisham spoke again asking about the damaged chain link fence between his lot and LCMUA and what is going to be done to fix it.

Public Hearing Closed

4. Consideration and Action to recommend approval of an ordinance rezoning of portions of Swisher Road and Hillcrest Street, from R-1-7100 and R-2 to C-1 Swisher Overlay, creating a Special Road District for the following properties: Birdsong Addition, Block A, Lots 1-6; Oak Lakes Addition, Block F, Lots 27-33 and Block K, Lots 19-22; Pralle Addition, Block A, Lots 22a and 22b.

Jenny Warmbrodt first had a question about the 6 lots on Hillcrest, three of which are the vacant lots proposed to be rezoned in the Birdsong Addition and three that are not. She didn't quite understand how the size of the lots facing Swisher would effect that decision as referred earlier by Ms. DuPree. Ms. DuPree said with those lots, being approximately 6900 square foot, may not be big enough alone to build and have adequate parking but they can be replatted with the surrounding properties. Warmbrodt said it can be a problem when you just rezone a portion of a street. Commissioner Warmbrodt also asked if signs with bright lights are allowed on the back of the commercial buildings. Ms. DuPree answered that there are requirements in the Ordinances that do not allow business owners to have lights shining onto residential properties.

Motion to rezone all lots fronting Swisher Rd be rezoned to C-1 Swisher Overlay District excluding the three lots facing Hillcrest. It is also recommended an eight foot masonry fence be required between the commercial and residential properties. Motion was made by Clyde Fisher; second by Jenny Warmbrodt.

Motion to approve the minutes for June 26, 2014 was made by Clyde Fisher; second by Peggy Shelton.
Ayes: Fisher, Shelton, Gilbert,

2. Public Hearing to hear comments on an application by Cary Daniels, business owner of Daniels Brothers Management, for a Special Use Permit to allow the use of arcade and video games for the purpose of a sweepstakes business at the property located at 209 S. Shady Shores Road, Suite 400, City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas. The legal description of the property is A0958a McCarroll, Tract 13a, and it is zoned C-2 Commercial. Chapter 122, Zoning, of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Lake Dallas, Article XIII, Special Use Permits, Section 122-691 (19), allows for application to be made.

Michael Fox of 10521 Murray S Johnson St, Denton, TX was the first to speak. He is the representative for Lonestar Media Holdings, the company that provides business opportunities which also raises money for certain charities. They provide genuine sweepstakes games. The prizes are determined before anyone starts playing the games. Customers are given the option to play for free for a certain amount of time or they can give a monetary donation to receive more points and an opportunity to keep playing. The businesses have a certain number of touch screen computers for customers to use to play the games. Customers have to show a picture ID in order to play and are given a PIN to input in to the computers. The main frame for the computers is located in Atlanta, Georgia. The sweepstakes prizes are cash prizes assigned to comply with the Texas State Law.

Clyde Fisher asked where else these businesses are operating and how long have they been open and Mr. Fox gave a few locations such as El Paso, Sansom Park, and Abilene. Mr. Fox said he didn't know the exact amount of time they have been open in Texas but he guessed around a year. Each business owner picks their own charity where 10% of the proceeds of the business are donated to the charity of choice which in this case is the Boys and Girls Club of North Texas in Lake Dallas, TX.

Mr. Fisher asked who counts the money and Mr. Fox answered that it is the computer in Atlanta, Georgia. The books will be completely open to anyone that wants to see them.

Kathy Thompson, of 203 Lake Dallas Dr, came up next. She had questions regarding the business and how it is run. She asked Mr. Fox how people could play for free and yet still expect a certain amount of donations. Mr. Fox said that technically twenty-five people could come in and play for free and still win prizes, but generally speaking, those that enjoy the games and the chance for winning prizes will make donations to keep playing. Ms. Thompson asked, why aren't donations considered the same as a payment? Mr. Fox answered that the Court of Law has determined it is different. No one has to give a donation. A customer can choose to make a donation to keep playing or come back the next day to play for free.

Derek Barch of 15530 Plum Ln, McKinney, TX came up next to speak. He has been in the same type of business in the state of Texas since 1996. He advises this type of business does have a bad reputation attached to it but in the fifteen years his business has been open in McKinney he has not had any problems. He does not allow alcohol or foul language. He wants his business to be an option for entertainment for residents as opposed to going out to eat or to a movie. He is going to be a business partner with the Daniels and offer them management expertise. He said this type of sweepstakes' business is the same as the sweepstakes that McDonalds offers where someone has the option of mailing in a form to get a free game piece. But, in his business, instead of mailing in a form one can just go in and play for free. Clyde Fisher asked if there is something published that gives the odds. He answered they do have the odds listed inside for everyone to see.

Frank Daniels, the owner of Daniels Air, came up next. He wanted to give a brief description of how this opportunity came about when a lease space became available in their building. They were trying to figure out how they wanted to proceed with it. His family has known Mr. Barch for a long time. They were excited to join him in this business venture since it gave them a chance to also give back to the Boys and Girls Club. They plan to be transparent and always keep their information public. Clyde Fisher asked how big the suite is; it was determined it is around 1100 sq ft. Mr. Fisher asked if he thought there might be a parking issue. Mr. Daniels answered that he didn't think there would be any problems with parking at the location. They want to start the business small and in no way do they believe the business will be associated with anything questionable.

Clyde Fisher asked the City Attorney, David Berman, what were his thoughts on the business and special use permit request. Mr. Berman stated with this type of business there can be added burden on the Police Department regarding enforcement and investigation. He cannot say whether it would create more crime or hurt property values. The job for the Commission is whether to recommend or not recommend the business to open not whether it is legal. It is a gray area whether it is legal and a loophole has been found in Texas law which is why they are even allowed to open. Regarding the sweepstakes available through McDonalds, it is not the same thing. Their sweepstakes is for commercial enterprise and for the purchase of food. These businesses have a more casino or parlor atmosphere and it needs to be determined whether this would be beneficial to the public. There is no use by right in the zoning ordinance for this type of a video arcade which is why it has to come before the Planning and Zoning Commission. Mr. Fisher asked if it was granted and later determined to be illegal would Lake Dallas be culpable; Mr. Berman answered no, the City would not be held liable.

Ms. Thompson came up to speak again. She said no matter what the business owners say people will still perceive it as gambling and it will affect the City as a whole. She lives nearby and said she doesn't want this in her neighborhood. She is also certain that parking will be an issue as it already poses a problem with the businesses already there.

Derek Barch came up to speak again. He said the City Attorney's interpretation is inaccurate. Even though the Attorney General does not like these types of arcades, including eight-liners, he cannot find a legal reason to outlaw it. Reference the impact on the area, it is a very small area and shouldn't pose a problem. Bottom line is we want to provide an entertaining way to raise money for charity.

Public Hearing Closed.

3. Consideration and Action to approve a Special Use Permit to allow the use of arcade and video games for the purpose of a sweepstakes business at the property located at 209 S. Shady Shores Road, Suite 400, Lake Dallas, Texas

Ben Gilbert reiterated that the reason it came to the Planning and Zoning Commission is because it does not fit anything set forth in the current zoning ordinance.

Clyde Fisher still confirmed that it will go to council a week from today and they are just giving a recommendation to them.

Char DuPree spoke next urging the Commission to consider the City Attorney's input in granting or denying the SUP and to ask of themselves, is this good for the community? Mr. Fisher asked what Ms. DuPree thought about the parking issue. She answered the building code requires one parking spot for every 200 sq ft of space which only means four or five places and parking already appears to be an issue.

Motion to deny a Special Use Permit was made by Clyde Fisher; second by Ben Gilbert.

Ayes: Fisher, Gilbert, Shelton

4. Consideration and Action to approve the proposed site plan for 451 Betchan Avenue.

Mr. Linley came up to speak regarding the site plan for 451 Betchan Ave. He said he must obtain approval before he can proceed.

Char DuPree said the building plans have already been approved as well at the 40% masonry exception. It is a good site plan and a good business. Mr. Fisher said it looked good and it will really make that part of town look better.

Motion to approve the proposed site plan for 451 Betchan Avenue was made by Clyde Fisher; second by Ben Gilbert.

Nothing has been changed since the site plan was done initially but final plat review and approval never was completed. Josh Lincoln of RKM & Associates, Inc. was present to answer questions if needed. Clyde Fisher asked Mr. Lincoln if he knew when the apartments are set to be completed. He answered he wasn't sure on the actual schedule but they are going to phase the buildings starting with the club house and working west. The club house was pointed out on the final plat. The total number of units is still 140.

Don Kreka of 303 Swisher Rd Suite 100 came up speak in regards to the Special Use Permit and his request to renew the permit. It is a family run business and everything has been going well since the business opened eight years ago.

During the Public Hearing Clyde Fisher was able to join the meeting.

Char DuPree referenced the memo that was written by the City Manager regarding the SUP. The City Manager feels that since there were no issues with the business the City does not have any objection to renew the SUP without restriction. It was explained to Mr. Kreka that he would also have to go to the City Council meeting next week on May 22, 2014 at 7 PM.

3. Consideration and Action to make a recommendation to the City Council to grant/deny renewing a Special Use Permit without conditions allowing a private club to continue to operate at the property located at 303 Swisher Road, Suite 100.

4. Public Hearing on an application for exemption to the requirement of 80 percent masonry for exterior surfaces on the proposed commercial structure BMR Pool and Patio to be located at 451 Betchan.

Mike Linley of 470 Peninsula, Lakewood Village, TX came up to speak. He recently bought the property and is now designing a commercial metal building and would like a masonry exception of 25% for the front of the property. He referenced pictures showing the front elevation and that anything visible from the street would be masonry. Mr. Linley brought pictures of the building right behind him and to the west of him that has no masonry.

Jenny Warmbrodt asked for clarification on the current zoning requirement of 80 percent. Ms. DuPree explained those buildings that currently don't have 80 percent are either grandfathered in or also have an exemption. For example, the business Z Flooring at 350 Betchan requested an exemption and was granted it at around 35% to 40% masonry.

Mr. Lindley explained that his building for Lake Dallas will be a metal building, as opposed to his building in Lewisville, and the brick will mainly be for looks and to comply with the code requirement. Jenny Warmbrodt asked about his plans for the front landscaping and Mr. Lindley said he is still working on his plans. Ms. DuPree reminded everyone that the code also has guidelines for landscaping.

Commissioner Fisher asked if he would be content with 30% masonry. Mr. Lindley advised he would be fine with that and also explained that he is using the same company that built Z Flooring so the buildings will look very similar.

5. Consideration and Action to make a recommendation to the City Council to grant/deny an application for exemption to the requirement of 80 percent masonry for exterior surfaces on the proposed commercial structure BMR Pool and Patio to be located at 451 Betchan.

2. Public Hearing on the proposed Special Use Permit submitted by David Shershen on behalf of the Kingswood Home Owners Association for Kingswood Mobile Home Park, City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas. The request for a Special Use Permit for KMHP would involve an overlay of C-2 Commercial District for the clubhouse at 228 Kingswood Drive for the purpose of allowing an indoor "European style" flea market on Thursday through Sunday from 8 am until 5pm . Chapter 122, Zoning, of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Lake Dallas, Article XVI, Special Use Permits, Section 122-691(19), allows for application to be made. This property is located at Kingswood Mobile Home Park, Kingswood Estates, Lots 1-228, Lake Dallas, Texas.

David Shershen, President of Kingswood Mobile Home Park Home Owners Association (HOA), gave a brief history of the association and the financial issues this HOA is facing. Without doing something to increase revenue, even if every resident pays their association dues, they will not be able to pay all the bills or open the pool. The "European style" flea market would sell fresh produce, antiques, crafts, etc. not junk. There would be 10 to 15 participating vendors at each sale. The HOA Board anticipates an additional income of $500 to $1000 a month. The Board wants to operate the market 4 days a week: Thursday, Friday, Saturday & Sunday. The vendors will be in the clubhouse and right outside of the building in the grass area by the pool. There are 20 parking spots by the clubhouse and the overflow of vehicles would park on the side streets. The vendors would set-up and tear-down the displays themselves.

The Commission members were concerned about the parking situation, liability of the HOA from such a weekly sale, the vague business plan presented and the impact this venue would have on the park residents and close neighborhoods.

Diana Morris, 602 Pembrook Street, owns 3 rental properties in Kingswood Mobile Home Park and feels this usage would be an eye-sore as well as a safety issue for students getting off the school bus on Thursday and Friday. She is also feels the HOA funds have been mismanaged in the past and does not feel confident in this HOA Board's ability to manage finances.

Joyce Green, 64 Lakeridge Dr., does not support the approval of the SUP. She feels she does not have access to the pool and clubhouse due to poor management. There are lots of children in the park and the added traffic will be dangerous to those children who have no place to play but in the street.

Laura Green, 524 Meadowbrook, stated this venue is not a professional business and feel this will affect their property value as well as traffic cutting through the Oak Lakes subdivision. She is not comfortable with the flow of strangers through their community on Thursday & Friday when residents are at work and on the weekends during family time.

Richard Morris, 211 Pembrook, while he is sympathetic to the HOA financial circumstances, he is also concerned about the "encroachment" upon the Oak Lakes Subdivision and the negative impact of this issue and the commercialization of Swisher Rd. is going to have on their community. He feels there should be a Lake Dallas public pool for the kids in Lake Dallas. In addition there should be a long term city plan where citizens can participate in the development process and the approval process, and not be so quick to pass or deny a proposal. The City should do something within the community to assist Kingswood Mobile Home Park to improve this situation.

Michael Salas, 579 N. Shady Shores, is directly across the street from the clubhouse and would be greatly affected by approval of this SUP. While he is sympathetic to the mobile home park, it is already difficult to back out of his driveway and the traffic will just get worse. The clubhouse facility is too small for this type of business with insufficient parking.

Scott Willie, 539 Oak Lake, agrees with most of the citizens who spoke, the business plan has a lot of conjecture but not a solid plan. It appears there is no control of the business environment, it is unstructured and there is a lot of gray area.

Candy Jones, 516 Meadowbrook, feels this will increase crime and creates a significant access issue for the fire department. She does not feel the rest of the community should suffer because the mobile home park residents are not paying their HOA dues.

David Jones, 516 Meadowbrook, agrees with all those who have previously spoken.

Danny Kreps, 513 Meadowbrook, due to the number of children in the park, this creates a dangerous situation and the SUP should be denied.

Josh Marsh, 506 Oak Lake, the business model presented is insufficient and not enough research has been done by the HOA Board. He doesn't feel this business venture would solve the HOA's financial problems.

Cindy Gregg, 40 Lake Vista Circle, also feels this would increase traffic and there are already parking issues during parties held at the clubhouse. She also feels it would increase crime and could create a dangerous environment for the many children who reside within the Park.

Margaret Mccarty, 83 Lakeridge, is a new HOA board member who supports the proposed SUP issuance. She stated most of those present for tonight's meeting have never been to a HOA meeting. This proposal would allow the Board to keep the HOA solvent. Residents need to put in the time and effort needed to turn things around. She announced the next HOA meeting would be held on April 26, 2014.

Kay Dobson, 220 Pembrook, voiced her complaint regarding the City's restriction of the number of garage sales residents are allowed and and that a permit is required.

David Shershen reiterated the reasons behind this request and thanked the Commission for their time.

The Commission thanked those who spoke at the public hearing. They felt this proposal was not well thought out and would increase traffic and create safety issues for the mobile home park residents.

Motion to deny the Special Use Permit was made by Clyde Fisher; second by Peggy Shelton.

3. Consideration and Action to make a recommendation to the City Council to grant/deny a Special Use Permit with or without conditions for the Kingswood Mobile Home Park that would involve an overlay of C-2 Commercial District zoning for the clubhouse at 228 Kingswood Drive for the purpose of allowing a flea market and associated retail activities.

4. Consideration and Action to make a recommendation to the City Council to grant/deny a Special Use Permit with or without conditions to allow outdoor events at the property located at 501 E. Swisher Road.

Applicant Daniel Baker spoke regarding his request and the expanded business plan resubmitted. In addition, he explained how the maze is constructed; the back corner of the maze in comparison to the Montserrat front door is approximately 280 yards and all events will be private parties except the haunted Halloween event that will be open to the public. He will work Swisher Courts to manage event schedules to prevent parking and traffic issues.

The maze construction uses wooden pallets and is not permanent, but is attached to a wooden pole in the ground to allow secure structure with safe maze isles. They are also flexible in designing the maze and can be changed at will.

Ms. Byers stated the concern of Montserrat was not the noise at the front door but the noise that would affect quiet retreat guests. The Jesuit Priest silent retreat requires silence from Thursday evening after dinner to noon on Sunday. Attendees pay approximately $300.00 per weekend for the retreat, allowing the Montserrat to cover expenses incurred. There are approximately 30 to 60 retreat attendees.

Mr. Baker replied there would be no music on speakers except during the Halloween event and absolutely no chainsaws would be operated. He wanted to know at what decimal rating that would be a violation of the City Code. The scavenger hunts and laser tag would be quiet events and he would place the areas where Halloween participants would scream etc. further away from the property that abuts to Montserrat.

Mr. Baker expects an average of 2 events per week; one on Saturday and the other on Sunday. He also said the maze isles would be lit by small Christmas type lights that are not obtrusive.

The Commission concerns included traffic, parking and noise. They initially wanted a 3 year SUP authorization; however Mr. Baker insisted a five year SUP period would really be needed to be able to recoup his costs and build the business properly.

Clyde Fisher asked if the SUP was issued and there were problems and code issues for this property and business, what recourse would the City of Lake Dallas have to resolve this issue? Ms. DuPree responded that this is still a business that requires the issuance of a Certificate of Occupancy (C/O). As such, a business C/O can be revoked if there are constant issues. She also stated there had not been any complaints during last year's Halloween event and the SUP could contain certain parameters by which this activity would be regulated. This land is in the 100 year floodplain and would cost too much to development this property for another use. Mr. Baker is planning on installing a fence between Kingswood Mobile Home Park and this property to prevent event attendees from wondering the Park.

In summary, the Commission was still uncomfortable with a 5 year approval and decided to allow a 5 year SUP permit with a review after 3 years by the P & Z and City Council without an added fee.

Motion to approve the Special Use Permit for a period of five (5) years with a review in three (3) years by the Planning & Zoning Commission as well as the City Council was made by Diane Byers; second by Jenny Warmbrodt.

2. Public Hearing on proposed replat of Tract 15, 16 & 17 of A0958a McCarroll, Lots 1 & 2, of Block D of Barmarchar Sites, and Tract 69 of A1355a Wright, City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas into one (1) lot. This property is at 307 Lake Dallas Drive and is zoned C-3 Commercial District.

   Jim Porterfield, ministry pastor for First Baptist Church, came forward to speak on behalf of the church. He stated they want to replat four lots into one. The main reason is to lessen the amount of paperwork they receive, especially the tax paperwork involved in having four lots. Clyde Fisher asked if the church has any plans to build. Mr. Porterfield advised that building is in the five year plan but it would mean acquiring the adjacent property off of the access road.

   No one else came forward and the Public Hearing was closed.

3. Consideration and Action to approve the proposed replat of Tract 15, 16 & 17 of A0958a McCarroll, Lots 1 & 2, of Block D of Barmarchar Sites, and Tract 69 of A1355a Wright, City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas into one (1) lot.

   Char DuPree stated that even though they receive four tax bills it is actually six lots that need to be replatted into one. Various pieces of property were donated to the church throughout the years.

Motion passed and it will go to City Council next week on March 27, 2014.

4. Public Hearing on an application by Daniel Baker, business owner of 13 Steps to Nowhere, for a Special Use Permit to allow outdoor events at the property located at 501 E. Swisher Road, City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas. The legal description of the property is A0424a N. French, Tract 21C, and it is zoned C-1 Commercial District.

Daniel Baker, of 334 Lakecrest, Lakewood Village, TX came forward to speak about his request for the Special Use Permit. He spoke about the haunted house that he had on the property last year during the Halloween season and its success. He hopes to use the same land for much more than a haunted house including but not limited to Easter egg hunts, mazes, and laser tag. All these things would only require temporary structures. The business would be insured 100%, raise tax dollars for the City and bring more people into Lake Dallas. It would also potentially create more jobs for the community.

Clyde Fisher asked if Mr. Baker would need permission from the City for each event he plans to have and Mr. Baker replied he did not believe that would be needed. He would only need to contact the City if he planned on building a structure where building plans and permits were needed.

Chairperson Ben Gilbert asked how he plans on dealing with the noise issue. Mr. Baker said he plans on having realistic hours so it does not bother the neighbors. He hopes to be open from around 8 AM to 11 PM depending on the day. He does not plan on having something every single night but he wants the option to be open during those hours if needed.

Diane Byers asked where he plans on his customers parking. He replied he has an agreement with Swisher Courts do use their parking lot.

Clyde Fisher asked Char DuPree about any response the City received from the letters sent regarding the SUP. She advised she received several calls from residents regarding their concern about the noise. Most are not at the meeting tonight. She referred to the haunted house last year and the reason it was approved was because it was temporary and only on the weekends. It was clearly defined what they were going to do. Also, there were no complaints to the City regarding noise. The City is now requiring an SUP because there is not a clear zoning type for this kind of business. If it is approved, there has to be clear guidelines stipulated for Mr. Baker to follow and if he doesn't follow the code or he receives several complaints he could be cited. The purpose of the SUP is so there are guidelines for how he operates his business. If he does not follow the guidelines his SUP and certificate of occupancy could be revoked.

Ben Gilbert asked about the age requirements for this business. Mr. Baker said that most of the events would be family friendly and could encompass all ages. For things such as the haunted house the minimum age without adult supervision would be fourteen.

Clyde Fisher referred to the pallets and other trash and debris at the back of the property by Kingswood MHP. Mr. Baker stated most of the trash did not belong to him however he did admit to leaving the stacked up pallets where he hoped they would not be visible.

Diane Byers asked if he planned on doing paintball. Mr. Baker advised he does not want to do that because of the cost involved in ensuring the property is secure for that purpose. The insurance coverage he plans on having is an annual blanket coverage which would list out any possible event that he would host, which includes paintball, but in reality it is very unlikely that would ever happen.

Clyde Fisher asked how the City felt about this SUP. Char DuPree advised they do want more detailed information, for example, age restrictions, noise level, protecting the neighboring property as well as installing fencing. Most of the fences that separate the property are chain link fences. Diane Byers advised the Kingswood HOA does not allow anything but chain link fences but Ms. DuPree replied that Kingswood now goes by the city ordinance. It should not be the resident's responsibility to install the fence to separate the properties.

Diane Byers expressed concern over the amount of traffic and parking at Swisher Courts. She advised there is already a parking issue on nights there are activities and adding another event would make it even worse. Mr. Baker said he is planning on coordinating with Swisher Courts in preparing their schedule so there would not be two major events at the same time.

Ron Boudreaux, director of Montserrat Retreat House, of 600 N Shady Shores came up to speak. His property is adjacent to 501 Swisher. He said most of the guests come to their property from Thursday through Sunday, seeking peace and quiet. He believes this special use permit would not be beneficial to them. He is concerned because the back part of the property is being used as a junk yard. They have spent hundreds of dollars to obstruct the view from that property with plants. Clyde Fisher asked how much of their property actually borders 501 Swisher and he advised he did not know the exact dimensions. Commissioner Fisher advised it appears to be a small part and Mr. Boudreaux advised even though the visibility is small they are still concerned the noise will carry and bother retreat guests.

Tony Webb of 44 Lake Vista Cir came up to express his concerns. He did advise that last year during the haunted house there were some noise issues but it was not intolerable. He is torn by the fact that this will bring revenue to the City but could cause more noise and security issues. He wants to put up a wooden fence but the homeowners association won't allow him to do so. He feels the fence would help the safety issue. He is also concerned there will be drainage issues if they do build on that property.

Mr. Baker responded by stating he understands where both people are coming from. He said the haunted house is just a very small part of what he wants to do. He does not believe that drainage would be an issue and he wants to install a fence so he can control those that come and go on the property.

The Public Hearing was closed by Chairperson Ben Gilbert.

5. Consideration and Action to approve the proposed Special Use Permit to allow outdoor events at the property located at 501 E. Swisher Road.

Ben Gilbert advised they need a more concrete business plan before they can make a decision on allowing the special use permit. Diane Byers added that his business plan is still vague and it is hard to say at this point if it is going to create a problem or be a positive for the City. Gilbert suggested that they table the vote and then next month Mr. Baker can present his business plan to the Commission. The concern is proper fencing for those residents in Kingswood Mobile Home park and Montserrat Retreat Center that border his property as well as specific details including what type of events he is going to offer, age restrictions, hours of business, etc.

Motion to table consideration and action of the Special Use Permit request until Mr. Baker submits a more detailed business plan by Diane Byers, second by Clyde Fisher.
Ayes: Byers, Fisher, Shelton, Gilbert, Warmbrodt
Noes: None

Motion Passed.

6. Discussion on a proposed planned development by John Smith for his property on Betchan.

John Smith of 146 Garth Ln, Hickory Creek, TX came up to speak. He explained this property is the 11 acres just south of Lake Dallas City Hall. Mr. Smith explained this is just an informal discussion and to get feedback from the Commission regarding his tentative plans. This would be a 5 year project and would start with the two commercial buildings at the north side of the property, then the apartment complex, and lastly the storage buildings. Chairperson Ben Gilbert asked if he had any other type of architectural plans and he answered he did not since he was waiting to hear feedback from the Commission. Mr. Smith advised the storage buildings would be metal and he was reminded that even those must be 80% masonry. Mr. Smith explained the apartments would be three stories high and include eight units. The storage building would be behind a high fence except the front, which faces Lake Dallas Dr, would be gated. Mr. Smith referenced the paper he included giving financial estimates to get the property ready for building. Clyde Fisher advised this would be good tax revenue for the City but Ben Gilbert expressed Mr. Smith first needs to include an actual development plan. Diane Byers asked who was going to build the road needed. Mr. Smith responded that he plans on building a concrete road and asking for assistance from the EDC. He added the piece of property has been sitting for a long time and he acquired it in the summer of 2013.

He further explained how the commercial properties would be 1000 sq ft of store front with 5,000 sq ft warehouse. These businesses would be something that would bring sales tax to the city. If a business owner came in and wanted another type of business these structures would be shells and could be changed to accommodate several types of businesses including restaurants or retail. He also stated he has gotten interest from business owners wanting to open an indoor batting range or a gun range. Mr. Smith asked the Commission if the master plan was viable for this piece of property and they said so far it looks good but they need an official development plan to give a more definitive opinion.

F. Future Agenda Items

The rezoning of the KWMHP common area is still a possibility. Daniel Baker will be coming back with a business plan regarding the Special Use Permit request.

1. Consideration and Action on approval of Minutes for August 15, 2013 meeting.
Motion to approve the minutes for August 15, 2013 was made by Clyde Fisher; second by Peggy Shelton.

2. Public Hearing on proposed zoning change to approximately 1.56 acres on Bethany from R-1-6000 to C-2 Commercial District.

Chairperson Gilbert read out loud the legal description of the property which is A1355a Wright, Tr 53, 1.56 Acres, Old Dcad Tr #30.

Mike Lindley, co-owner of BMR Pool and Patio, came forward as the purchaser who wants to build on his site. He currently has 1 acre of property in Lewisville but it has gotten crowded and needs to move part of the operation to a secondary location. This piece of property currently backs up and surrounds several properties that are already zoned C2. He then handed out brochures about his business and showed what the office building looks like on FM407. Their goal is to always create something that looks nice. The business has been open for 15 years. He also explained how he is a retired Fireman and since it is customary for Fireman to do jobs on the side, he has been working in this industry for many years, even before this business was opened.

He then directed everyone to look at a 3D drawing of the plans for the property. This drawing included a larger building on the left of the property which would be for storage and an office. The second picture shows the view from the street. The third picture shows what Mr. Lindley envisions as the final layout of the property. The property would also include two entrances.

The second person to come forward was April Pinto of 601 Sargent. Her property is very close to the property in question. She stated she was hoping to continue seeing horses and donkeys outside her window instead of businesses. She hoped that houses would be built on this property. She is concerned that her property values will plummet and feels that this area should stay a residential property. Her main concern is the trucks driving on Betchan with it being such a small road and asked if there are plans to expand it. Char DuPree asked her if she understood that this piece of property is next door to the apartments and if she understands that all the property in front of her is already commercial. Mrs. Pinto said she did understand and believes this will turn their residential community into an eyesore.

Commissioner Clyde Fisher recused himself since he is Mr. Lindley's realtor but wanted to speak during the public hearing. Mr. Fisher lives at 747 Carlisle which is also very close to the property in question. He believes strongly that the city should support the change for several reasons. For one thing, several pieces of land nearby are already zoned C2 which include a new flooring company and the Lake Dallas public works office. Secondly, he is concerned with the tax base of Lake Dallas and that by adding more businesses it would help to alleviate the residential tax rates. He has been by Mr. Lindley's location in Lewisville and it is very nicely built. Overall this change would be beneficial to Lake Dallas.

Mr. Lindley came back up to address some of the concerns of Mrs. Pinto. He stated he has 2 two ton trucks and 1 one ton truck which they also use on the residential streets of their customers so they shouldn't be an issue. They also have superintendents that drive several pickups. They usually leave in the morning and then come back in the afternoon so there shouldn't be a lot of extra traffic. He understands that Mrs. Pinto wants to look at the animals but this area is now changing. He also explained how he is going to build a fence to surround a portion of the property to screen any business supplies and large trucks. It was stressed again that there are properties already zoned C2 that are even closer to the residential properties then what he is wanting to buy.

No one else came forward and Chairperson Gilbert closed the public hearing.

3. Consideration and Action to approve the proposed zoning change to approximately 1.56 acres on Betchan from R-1-6000 to C-2 Commercial District.

Commissioner Warmbrodt asked Mr. Lindley if there will be adding landscaping in the front of the property as opposed to just leaving it the way it is. He said he will be cleaning that area up and adding the fence to the right side of his primary building. Warmbrodt asked about the hours of operation and he advised they are open Monday through Saturday but they leave in the morning and come back in the evening.

Chairperson Gilbert asked if The City got any responses from the letters and asked how many letters were sent out. Char DuPree said we only got a response from April Pinto and only around 8 letters were sent, since the surrounding properties were such large pieces of land.

Chairperson Gilbert stated they have to not only look at his business but changing the zoning area in general. Commissioner Byers expressed that her main concern is the street Betchan in general. It is such a narrow street and bringing in 1 or 2 ton trucks will only make it worse. She stated she won't go down Betchan even now because she is concerned she could get hit. But with such big trucks on such a narrow road it could only makes matter worse.

Clyde Fisher said the other businesses surrounding it including Andersons and Z Floors already require larger trucks to drive through the area. He stated he has lived there 35 years and is familiar with the amount of traffic there and so far it has not been an issue. Mr. Lindley said he understands Commissioner Byer's concerns but with other properties on Betchan already zoned C2, what difference would it make changing this property to the same zoning district. Byers said she just wants to understand what adding this business could mean to the city and if it could possibly mean adding more expenses for the city. Byers asked for clarification of the location of Mrs. Pinto's house and it was explained that her house is across the street and past another empty lot on Sargent.

Char DuPree stated the city does support this zoning change. We see this as the beginning of the changes needed for revitalizing the downtown district. Mr. Lindley's business is not going to be a "rock quarry" so lots of rock won't be stored at the business. As far as Betchan Street's condition, it will probably have to be fixed at some point in order to truly revitalize this area.

Mrs. Pinto had another question so the Public Hearing was reopened.

Mrs. Pinto asked if for some reason Mr. Lindley's business didn't work out what would happen to his property. Char DuPree said it would just be a vacant building and it would be up to the next person that bought the property.

Byers asked for clarification on what the use of this property would be for. This property would be to store the supplies needed to build the pool and patios. The items are obtained using the same trucks that go into the residential streets for their normal day to day business.

Motion to approve the proposed zoning change to approximately 1.56 acres on Betchan from R-1-6000 to C-2 Commercial District was made by Commissioner Warmbrodt; second by Commissioner Peggy.
Ayes: Byers, Shelton, Gilbert, Warmbrodt
Noes: None

Motion passed and it will go to City Council next week on January 24, 2014.

F. Future Agenda Items

There is a possibility that the Kingswood HOA board is looking to rezone the pool and clubhouse area to a commercial district. There is also a possible replat for First Baptist Church to change from 6 lots to 1 lot. It is a simple change but because it is over 4 lots it has to go through the Planning and Zoning Commission.

3. Consideration and Action regarding the revocation of a Certificate of Occupancy for Jen's Hand Me Ups located at 130 W. Hundley Drive, Lake Dallas, Texas.

   Char DuPree advised the Board that the Building Inspector and Fire Department conducted inspections, both passed, giving their approval for the Certificate of Occupancy. Jennifer Thrailkill submitted a floor plan this past Friday describing what was done inside the structure but there hadn't been enough time to submit it to Bureau Veritas for an official plan review. She also submitted two receipts of plumbing and electrical work that was done inside the building to bring it up to code. In addition, Ms. Thrailkill paid for both electrical and plumbing permits but neither contractor registered. She has not paid for the sign permit. Char DuPree advised she did find the plumber, Jimmy Teague, on the state website as a licensed plumber but she did not find the electrician. Ms. Thrailkill stated the electrician she hired told her his license had lapsed but he is working under his boss. Ms. Thrailkill could not give a name of the boss or the company that he is working for. The Board informed her they need a receipt or letter from the actual company he works for and his boss needs to register with the City.

   Ms. DuPree stated the City recommends that she be issued a temporary Certificate of Occupancy for 45 days. During that time she can work on getting her property completely in compliance.

The Board had questions on what the inspector looked at when he went to the building. Char DuPree told them that the main function at this point was to make sure the building was safe. The inspector didn't know exactly what had been altered so he couldn't check beyond that to be sure it was done correctly.

Board Member Tuck recommended the temporary Certificate of Occupancy be for 55 days so it would give her till the first week of October.

Motion to grant the Temporary Certificate of Occupancy for 55 days pending registration of both plumber and electrician, payment of sign permit, and the plan review of the floor plan submitted (which might require other permits and fees) was made by Terry Tuck; second by Carol Ann Connors.

3. Public Hearing to hear an appeal regarding the revocation of a Certificate of Occupancy for Jen's Hand Me Ups, requested by the property owner, Jennifer Thrailkill, for the property located at 130 W. Hundley Drive, Lake Dallas, Texas.

Jennifer Trailkill, the owner of Jen's Hand Me Ups and who resides at 203 Shady Oaks Cir, Shady Shores, TX was the first to speak regarding the appeal. She feels that at no time has her business been unsafe, unhealthy or in slum conditions. She admitted it is crowded but so are most second hand stores. She makes sure her employees clean the store every day. She stated her real estate agent came to the City before she bought the property inquiring about changes she can make to the building. To her knowledge, she was allowed to makes these changes without a permit. She realizes the pictures look bad but she has to go through the items she receives at the back of the building. Many items are just left at the back of the building and she has no idea where they come from and fifty percent of them are donated to several different organizations. She tried to put up a fence but was told she couldn't. This store was her mother's dream for her before she passed away. She has done all the work herself with the help of friends because she cannot afford professional contractors to do the work.

The second person to speak was Debra Marsh of 30 Hickory Hills Blvd in Hickory Creek, TX. She moved to the area four years ago and fell in love with Jen's store because it was affordable for her family. She started doing consignments with her and now the little money that she was making is gone. The community benefits from this store and she doesn't understand why it was shut down. Jennifer Thrailkill gives back so much to this community and she should be allowed to open the store again. The pole sign in the front was there for the previous owner and she didn't alter it in anyway so she shouldn't be forced to remove it.

Joe Thrailkill, spouse to Jennifer, spoke next. He explained what he believes the code states regarding the pole sign. He doesn't think they should have been cited for trash and debris since the debris outside is actually merchandise or donations. He was told they could alter the inside of the building and he feels that the city is picking and choosing what they want from the City Code.

Morgan Arivett of 300 Shahan Ln, Shady Shores, TX came up next to speak. All the items that are outside are items that people leave for her during the weekend. Ms. Thrailkill is always at the business working. She wanted the Board to know that those people at the nearby daycare for the mentally disabled come to the store once or twice a day and love the store.

Brandy Arivett of 300 Shahan Ln said she is disabled and this is where they have been shopping for her family. The shop like this is needed since we have a large amount of low income people that live in the area. Jennifer Thrailkill does not sell bad stuff. The items she sells are clean as opposed to other consignment shops and she hopes the Board reconsiders closing the shop.

Steve Thompson of 5313 Countess Ct Lake Dallas, TX spoke briefly. He said he didn't plan on speaking but wanted to reiterate what others have said that he loves the shop and goes there periodically and hopes the business will stay open.

Cindi Freeman of 3517 Riverview Dr in Corinth, TX came up next. She met Jennifer when her business started out of her house, and now, her having her own business. She was with her when her mother passed and this was truly a dream of her moms. She was nice enough to give her daughter a job to help pay for extra things. She also goes out of her way to help people and this town needs another inexpensive place for people to shop.

Jimmy Teague of 206 Shady Oaks Cir, Shady Shores, TX was the last one to speak on Jennifer Thrailkill's behalf. He is the neighbor of Jennifer Thrailkill. She helped him get stuff after his ex-wife took everything from him. He has helped her in doing some of the work in the store and feels it is a safe building. He misses the store and the community needs it.

Public Hearing was closed.

4. Consideration and Action to hear an appeal regarding the revocation of a Certificate of Occupancy for Jen's Hand Me Ups, requested by the property owner, Jennifer Thrailkill, for the property located at 130 W. Hundley Drive, Lake Dallas, Texas.

Char Dupree, Community Development Director, came forward and was sworn in by Chairperson Steven Bertrand. She gave a presentation regarding the history of Jennifer Thrailkill's business and the ongoing issues.

She realizes to the average person these may not look like legitimate violations but the City and State has to abide by the International Building Code, Mechanical Code, Plumbing Code and Fire Code. She explained how the city uses a third party company, Bureau Veritas, for inspections.

Ms. DuPree explained the history and code regarding the pole sign in the front of the building. The code was changed in 2006 regarding pole signs being prohibited. If the sign is not utilized for more than 12 months the pole sign must be removed. Terry Tuck asked if Ms. Thrailkill was told to remove the pole sign before she started using it and Ms. DuPree answered yes she was requested to remove it before it was utilized. The citations were issued for trash and debris and also for erecting a sign without a permit, which is the sign attached to the front of the building. She was never cited for not removing the pole sign.

Ms. DuPree summarized the building inspectors report. Ms. Thrailkill moved a wall and altered the electrical and plumbing. It is not that she cannot do these things but that she didn't get a permit and did not use a licensed contractor. Ms DuPree referenced pictures which showed what she had done in the building and the various violations. She appears to have removed a bathroom.

The City does not want to put her out of business but Ms. Thrailkill must get the building back up to code. She must have permits and get a licensed contractor to do the work. Once the building permits are issued, fees paid, the building is up to code, and she removes the pole sign, her Certificate of Occupancy can be reinstated. The City has an obligation to Ms. Thrailkill's customers and others in the city for her building to be safe and it is Ms. DuPree's job to enforce these regulations set forth by the City and building code.

Steve Bertrand went over the fact that the building was safe at some point. The layout of the building was not conducive to her business so they wanted to change it. The problem is not that they made changes but the process they went about making them. Carol Ann Connors asked if any work had been done since the business was closed and Ms Thrailkill advised it has but did not apply for permits. She was under the impression that she needed permits if she was changing any low bearing walls. The Fire Marshall wanted her to change a few things and she said she complied with them.

Jennifer Thrailkill asked why other businesses such as the Property Shop and Nana's Café have not had to remove their pole signs. Char DuPree answered it was because both have always been in use and Jennifer Thrailkill's location has been vacant for five years and if she wanted to use the pole sign she would need a variance.

The main problem is she cannot afford the permits unless her business is open. She also did not think she could get a permit while her certificate was revoked. Mr. Thrailkill showed the Board a copy of the code regarding pole signs. Most of the Board members present felt he was reading the code incorrectly and that the pole sign is in fact prohibited. Char DuPree referred to where the code explains legal non conforming use and explained what is allowed and what is not, in the grandfather clause.

Steven Bertrand asked what options she would have to keep the outside clean. She said the pictures do not depict what it actually looks like when the business closes. It is neat and orderly. Currently there is very little outside. Char DuPree advised she did inspect the property before the meeting. There are things beside the rubbermaid shed outside and a trailer in the parking lot but it is the cleanest it has been in a long time. Nothing is allowed in the exterior of the property except the shed. There is a fire lane in the back of the building and a metal fencing on the west side of the building. The back side of the building could be lined with several rubbermaid storage buildings. A fence could be built, with a permit, from the back side of the building to the fire lane which is around 3 feet. The main issue with the fence option is it cannot take up any parking spots. The fence plans Ms. Thrailkill initially submitted took up two parking spots so it was denied. Char DuPree has allowed her park her trailer in one parking spot.

Char DuPree stated she has not been inside the location since May. Jennifer Thrailkill has stated she has completely redone the store. She did address the exposed wiring and exposed installation. But the fact is she has not gotten any permits. Jennifer Thrailkill said she cannot afford permits or to hire a licensed contractor. Steve Bertrand asked Char DuPree what she thought the permits would cost. She answered she wouldn't know without an accurate valuation of the work already completed. Carol Ann Connors said she shouldn't have started the process without first going through the City. Ms. Thrailkill said she thought she had and that structurally meant the outside of the building and nothing inside. Char DuPree stated if she waived the requirements she puts the city at risk and Carol Ann Connors answered it also sets a precedent for other businesses.

Steve Bertrand asked Ms DuPree what it cost for Bureau Veritas to come out and she answered it is around $80. The inspection completed earlier by the inspector was paid by the city. Bureau Veritas can do another inspection but the city cannot absorb that cost. If they come out again and say the building is up to code we still have the issues regarding nonpayment of permits and not using licensed contractors. The Board requested Char DuPree check with the City Attorney to see if the city would be released from liability if they issued permits for work already completed by those that are not licensed contractors. The inspection is supposed to be done based on a set of plans but in this instance it could be done based on his previous report. If it is deemed safe for her to reopen she must keep in compliance. The Board would meet again in three to four weeks for an update. A reasonable drawing of what has been done in the building and an accurate as possible value of the work that has been done must be turned into Community Development.

Someone in the audience asked if in the next meeting there will be a public hearing and they said no, the public hearing is over.

Someone else in the audience said they wanted her to stop putting her trash in their dumpster. The board said this is not the right time to discuss this issue and it should have been brought up during the public hearing. Steve Bertrand stated he understood their frustration that someone is using their dumpster but he has no proof if it is actually Jennifer Thrailkill or not.

Motion to table the consideration and action regarding the Certificate of Occupancy for Jen's Handmeups until the business owner submits plans for the work that has already been done, the permit fees can be calculated and a follow-up building inspection has been conducted. Once these items have been completed the Board will meet to decide on this issue.

3. Public Hearing to consider a request for variance at 601 S. Lake Dallas Drive to reduce the rear setback to a five (5) foot setback from the property line where a fifteen (15) foot setback is required.

   Char DuPree clarified for the Board that the 15 foot setback is required for any accessory building and in this instance an accessory building needs to be built. Chairperson Bertrand asked if the fence is on the property line, as shown in the survey, and Ms. DuPree answered the fence belongs to the cell tower site and that it is on the property line. There is a chain link fence and gravel surrounding the cell tower which the fire department came out to check and they did not feel it was a fire safety issue. With the variance it would be 5 feet from the fence to the accessory building.

   One of the owners of the business Chasin' Tail Restaurant, who requested the variance, came up to speak. His name is Brooke Asbell, currently at 8656 S Stemmons in Hickory Creek. The business is required to relocate due to the I35 expansion. The location in Lake Dallas is currently vacant and was a convenience store. They have a large commercial smoker and want to build a 12 x 12 smoke house which would classify as an accessory building and thus requiring them to need the variance.

   Cindy Nelson asked if they would need a permit for the accessory building and if there would be any problems obtaining it. Ms. DuPree advised if the variance is granted then there wouldn't be any problems issuing the permit. Chairperson Bertrand wanted to confirm again that the Fire Department did check the location. Char DuPree stated she has corresponded with the Fire Marshall, Chad Thiessen, and he confirmed there were no problems with it. Firemen have plenty of space to get through on foot and the fire truck could possibly get closer by the restaurant Chilitos or by using the drive next door which is part of the realty office. Chairperson Bertrand also made note on the map of the closest fire hydrant. Brooke Asbell stated the firebox on the smoker is completely enclosed and is located on the bottom of the large metal smoker. No one else came forward and the Chairperson Bertrand closed the public hearing.

   David Chidsey of 725 Glen Rhea came up to speak regarding his request for the variance. After reviewing hundreds of plans he decided on this final one which lends itself to the lot. It has a very unique layout which backs up to the Corps Property and this plan is the best one he could find. It only extends the extra six inches due to the master bedroom and the chimney and instead of changing the integrity of the design he is requesting this variance from the Board.

   There were no complaints from the neighbors and Mr. Chidsey advised they seemed excited about the home he is planning to build.

   Steven Bertrand closed the public hearing.

5. Consideration and Action to hear an appeal regarding the condemnation of the residential structure located at 703 Glen Rhea. The City of Lake Dallas is requesting an order to vacate, secure, repair, remove or demolish the structure in accordance with the City's current Minimum Housing and Building Standards Code and the 2003 International Residential Code.

Steven Bertrand advised this is normally when they would open it up for public comment but no one was present to speak and he wanted to hear from City Staff. Char DuPree was sworn in by Chairperson Bertrand and gave an overview of what has happened since the last meeting. She has had very little contact with the resident Courtney Varnell. On March 3, 2014, the date set for interior inspection, a friend of Ms. Varnell called Char DuPree and told her Ms. Varnell was in Austin with her daughter and would not be home. Another inspection was scheduled for March 5, 2014, but Ms. DuPree received another call from her friend, Ms. Webber, stating she was still not home. Ms. DuPree advised her to have Ms. Varnell call her as soon as possible but she never called. A letter was hand delivered on April 7, 2014 to Courtney Varnell regarding notice of this meeting. Deputy Code Officer Khara Sherrill was present as a witness. Nothing has been done to the property. The trash that was removed before the January meeting is all that has been done. There is still no potable water or solid waste service.

Cindy Nelson advised she went by the house prior to the meeting and there is still old trash left in the waste management container. Char DuPree referenced the pictures given to the Board and the buckets left in the yard that she uses for obtaining water. She has had contact with the Police Department but the City Attorney, David Berman, advised the contact hasn't had anything to do with the condition of the house. It has mainly been regarding her trying to burn trash which is not allowed within the city limits. Char DuPree did advise Ms. Varnell does currently have electricity but no gas service. The City Attorney confirmed for the record that Ms. DuPree has never had access to the inside of the home and she stated that is correct. He also referred to the carpeting seen in the pictures and that it is wet due to most likely the roof leaking. The structure has obvious broken windows, and a number of locations are currently exposed to the elements. He asked Char DuPree does she believe that the interior of the structure is not fit for human occupation and she advised she does.

David Berman referenced the Order discussed in the January meeting which also required a status report to the Board thirty days after the meeting which Char DuPree confirmed was done. Steven Bertrand stated they had to give her a chance in January to do something to the property but she obviously never complied. He is concerned that Ms. Varnell is basically going to be homeless once the house is condemned but the Board needs to now consider the plight of the neighbors and what they have gone through. Danny Everett mentioned that there apparently has been very little effort to fix what they had requested of her in the January meeting.

The City Attorney stated that even though he cannot tell them what to do, they do have the authority to order the property to be vacated. Also, if they require the structure to be demolished, he recommends that they request it to be done in no more than 30 days from today's date. The Council can determine if they want to extend the time frame. It is not recommended for it to be repaired since they have given her time and nothing has been done.

If for some reason Ms. Varnell does start fixing the property the City could stop the demolition. Chairperson Bertrand wanted to make sure that money would not be taken from the actual homeowner that is currently in a nursing home and has Alzheimer's; the City Attorney assured him that could not happen. If the house does end up being condemned a lien would be placed on the property but the actual initial cost of the demolition would come from the City and the tax payers.

Motion to order the property at 703 Glen Rhea to be vacated immediately and demolition scheduled in 30 days by Danny Everett; Second by Terry Tuck.

3. Public Hearing to hear an appeal regarding the revocation of a Certificate of Occupancy for Mav's Auto, requested by the property owner, Avi Collins, for the property located at 326 Main Street, Lake Dallas, Texas.

Char Dupree, the Community Development Director, came forward, stated her name and position, and was sworn in by Chairperson Steven Bertrand. She gave an overview presentation of Mav's Auto and the business owner Mr. Avi Collins regarding the property history. The City Manager approved the certificate of occupancy in January 2011 even though it was an illegal non-conforming use. Mrs. DuPree told Mr. Collins that he needed to bring the property up to code once the certificate of occupancy was issued.

Over the next 16 months there were continual code enforcement violations including not maintaining the parking lot, building was not maintained, and constant trash and debris. Vehicles were being moved on and off the business during the night.

On May 23, 2013 a violation notice was sent to Mr. Collins regarding the condition of the parking lot stating that if there is a problem again he would be required to install a hard service. In June, after a second incident, a citation was issued and another notice was sent requiring a hard surface needed to be installed. On July 29, 2013 Mr. Collins asked that the City waive the hard surface requirement which was denied but he was given an extension to the end of September. On September 17, 2013 the building permit was issued. The hard surface was never installed.

On October 30, 2013 a notice was issued regarding the revocation of Mav's Auto's certificate of occupancy; because it was an illegal non conforming use and there were constant code violations making it a public nuisance against city ordinance. In December 2013, Mr. Collins allowed a tenant to move into the property and a refrigerator was placed outside the front door. This has had a negative impact on the downtown revitalization effort.

Mr. Wohr, attorney for Mr. Collins, spoke on his client's behalf. He stated the only issue here is whether the issuance of the certificate of the occupancy was valid. He believes that city codes should be handled in the municipal court only and not in this setting. If it is found that the certificate of occupancy was issued in error, then it leaves the City liable. He doesn't feel that the Board has the authority to decide whether a certificate of occupancy was illegally issued by a previous City Manager since that City Manager had apparent authority to approve it. The City Manager based the certificate on a letter that he felt was true and it should have been his responsibility at that time to see if the letter was valid. But the fact of the matter is the City Manager accepted the letter and felt it was appropriate to issue the certificate of occupancy. It was only with the issuance of the certificate of occupancy that Mr. Collins bought the property. The City does have authority to enforce ordinances but not to keep him from doing his business. Each City Manager has his own opinion and it should be upheld. Mr. Wohr then spoke of Mrs. DuPree and his belief that she has kept Mr. Collins from keeping the property in compliance. The main issue here is whether the certificate of occupancy was granted legally.

Jason Masten, neighboring business owner at 380 Main St., then spoke. Mr. Masten stated that the last two years having Mav's Auto as neighbors has really hurt his business. The process of the certificate of occupancy is to run the business in accordance with the rules of the City. He tries to abide by them as much as he can. It takes money to keep these old properties up to code. Cars have not been moved out of there in 6 months. It just looks tacky; it needs to be cleaned up.

Mr. Avi Collins then spoke. He asserted again that he would never have purchased this property if the former City Manager had not approved the certificate of occupancy. He stated he has done a lot of work to that property. Every time he got a code ticket he always complied. He doesn't want to fight the City but he is not going to invest any more money into the property until his certificate of occupancy is reinstated. He then thanked the Board for their time.

Chairperson Bertrand then asked Mr. Collins what it is that he does on the property to make money. Mr. Collins answered he has two licenses, one for selling cars and one to finance cars. Mr. Bertrand next asked what the background was regarding the fence being removed. Mr. Collins replied that he took it down since it was part of the cleanup process for the property. Mr. Collins would like to put the fence back up so he can hide the dismantled cars behind the fence. He wants to fix up the property but he is looking for the Board's help and assistance to do the right thing. Mrs. DuPree spoke regarding the fence. She stated the older fence was around the car wash equipment and junked vehicles that were part of Jack Ezell's business, plus there were issues of high grass.

In summary, the certificate of occupancy should not have been issued, however, once it was the property should have been maintained in compliance with city code.

No one else came forward and the Public Hearing closed.

4. Consideration and Action to hear an appeal regarding the revocation of a Certificate of Occupancy for Mav's Auto, requested by the property owner, Avi Collins, for the property located at 326 Main Street, Lake Dallas, Texas.

Carol Ann Connors stated she was on City Council when the certificate of occupancy was approved and knew nothing about it. She stated that even though she believes the former City Manager should have never done this, it was done and it appeared at that time that he did have the apparent authority to issue it. The City Attorney, Whitt Wyatt, stated there is case law that the Board of Adjustment is not bound by City Staff's decisions. Mr. Bertrand clarified with Char DuPree that the City Manager was not the individual who normally issues the certificate. The City Manager was told by Char DuPree that he needed to get a variance reviewed by the Planning and Zoning Commission and then approved by the City Council before she could issue the certificate of occupancy. Board member Carol Ann Connors asked why Char DuPree still signed the certificate of occupancy and she answered because it was her boss who advised her to do so.

Mr. Masten came forward giving his testimony that he had been in Lake Dallas for 5 years and he can attest that there was only the beauty shop at Mav's location when he opened his business over 2 years ago. He also stated that when Masten's property was not maintained he also got a citation.

Chairperson Bertrand asked in what instance a certificate of occupancy can be revoked. Char DuPree answered if the property becomes a public nuisance. The Building and City Code (section 122-711 & 712) gives the City authorization to revoke the certificate of occupancy. Then he asked the City Attorney if they can consider the city ordinance violations as a reason to revoke the certificate of occupancy. He answered that they can address anything and everything said at the meeting, they just cannot address whether they can demolish the building on the property. It was clarified that anyone that has a certificate of occupancy is responsible for keeping the property up to code.

Carol Ann Connors asked Mr. Collins how long it would take to get the property up to code. Mr. Collins stated it would take 60 days. Mrs. Connors stated she felt the property is an eyesore and it has been going on for too long. It was also clarified that Mr. Collins could have brought the property up to code even without the certificate of occupancy. Board member Terry Tuck asked Char DuPree to explain again why there was a problem with the initial certificate of occupancy issuance. She further explained the revocation was done due to it being an illegal non conforming use and that it had become a public nuisance.

Chairperson Bertrand asked if the Board upholds the revocation, what opportunity Mr. Collins would have to get another certificate of occupancy. Mr. Wohr answered he could not get another certificate since the ordinance does not allow car sales unless he wanted to go through the legal process to get a variance. Mr. Bertrand asked if there is a place where the process of getting a certificate of occupancy is explained. Char DuPree stated there are instructions attached to the application which explains the process and that she, as the permit tech, approves the certificate of occupancy. After reviewing any initial application, it would be up to her to advise the applicant if they needed a variance. Mr. Bertrand asked Mrs. DuPree if it is her opinion that Mr. Collins was doing an end-run on the rules by going through the City Manager and she answered yes.

Mr. Bertrand asked Mr. Collins how willing he is to get his property up to his code. He said he just needs 60 days, he will do whatever is takes.

City Manager and Chief of Police Nick Ristagno came up to speak. It was never the City's intent to try and remove the certificate of occupancy. The City has tried to act in a good faith effort not to revoke it and attempted to work with Avi Collins repeatedly. Mr. Collins indicated that he intended to do what he was asked but in the end he never did anything. Mr. Collins was told repeatedly to talk to the city code inspector and see what they require him to do to be in compliance and all he would do was yell and scream and continue to have code violations. If the Board does uphold the appeal Mr. Collins needs to clean it up. To get to this point has been a long process. The City encourages the businesses in our city, we want them to succeed, but the manner in which Avi has been doing business is not working.

Carol Ann Connors feels that if they allow the appeal to go through she expects Mr. Collins to do what he has said he will do in 60 days. Board member Danny Everett stated if nothing has been done in 3 years is there really a chance he will do something in 60 days. Mr. Bertrand stated that the fact remains that the certificate of occupancy can be revoked for certain reasons and there is proof that those reasons exist here since he has not maintained the property.

Motion to uphold the revocation of the Certificate of Occupancy was made by Steven Bertrand; Second by Cindy Nelson.
Ayes: Cindy Nelson, Terry Tuck, Steven Bertrand, Danny Everett
Noes: Carol Ann Connors

Motion passed.

5. Public Hearing to hear an appeal regarding the condemnation of the residential structure located at 703 Glen Rhea. The City of Lake Dallas is requesting an order to vacate, secure, repair, remove or demolish the structure in accordance with the City's current Minimum Housing and Building Standards Code and the 2003 International Residential Code.

Char Dupree, the Community Development Director, was sworn in by Chairperson Steven Bertrand. Char DuPree gave a presentation giving a history of the property code violations dating back to 1992. The current owner is Jerry Varnell who obtained possession of the property during probate in 1999; however his daughter currently lives in the residence. Property taxes have not been paid on the property since 2008. There is extensive accumulation of trash and debris, no solid waste service or potable water and major structural damage on the property. The interior of the structure is not maintained, confirmed through police reports and animal control personnel.

In 2014 a letter of condemnation was posted on the property. There has been no response from Ms. Varnell to the Community Development Department and no property improvements were made until a couple days before this meeting. On the day of the meeting Ms. Varnell had removed a large amount of trash and debris from the outside of the home.

In summary, Ms. Varnell has shown a total disregard toward the City's request to abate the property violations for many years. She has been unresponsive to legal enforcement efforts and has several citations pending in the Lake Dallas Municipal Court. The City of Lake

Dallas cannot allow this situation to continue effecting the health, safety and property value of our other residents.

Mrs. DuPree presented a proposed written order to the Board with the City Staff's recommendations.

The current resident, Courtney Varnell came up to speak. The last seven days she has removed several loads of trash. This whole situation has been overwhelming. Board member Terry Tuck did advise the property looks much better. Carol Ann Connors asked about the condition of the interior of the property. Ms. Varnell said she lives on the property with only her two cats and it is much cleaner than it has been in the past. She stated she doesn't have a job and it was her dad's money that was paying for things. Cindy Nelson asked her if she has water. She said no, but she get buckets of water from her neighbor three doors down.

Courtney Varnell said she has gone several periods of time without trash service. She added she does have windows but needs help to install them. When asked if she has been getting the notices from the City, she said she has been getting the citations. Regarding the situation with outstanding property taxes, she said she doesn't know anything about the taxes and what her father had set up. Her father is currently in a nursing home in Denton named Senior Care on Brinker Rd. She got control of the house just because she was living there when he got sick but the house does still legally belong to him. Varnell is the only living relative. Board member Nelson asked her if she has tried to get any help in regard to the taxes of the home and she said she just doesn't have any idea what to do.

No other people came forward so the public hearing closed.

6. Consideration and Action to hear an appeal regarding the condemnation of the residential structure located at 703 Glen Rhea. The City of Lake Dallas is requesting an order to vacate, secure, repair, remove or demolish the structure in accordance with the City's current Minimum Housing and Building Standards Code and the 2003 International Residential Code.

Board member Cindy Nelson stated they don't know who owns the property right now and asked if there were any liens on it. Char DuPree stated that Denton Central Appraisal District still lists Jerry Varnell as the owner. It has not been foreclosed on for back taxes because it has the over 65 homestead on it.

Chairperson Bertrand read the four items that needed to be dealt with, which include all the outside trash and debris, trash and debris plus animal feces in the interior, remove all health hazards that are on the property, and bring the structure into full compliance with the City's code of ordinances. Ms. Varnell admitted she is a hoarder but there is minimal trash in the house. She advised she does not have any issue with rodents and insects on the property. Mrs. Varnell said it would be hard to pay for the water because she has an existing balance to pay before service can be reinstated. She was asked if she has reached out to any of the social services in the area. Ms. Varnell replied that she has only gotten food from the Methodist Church. She also told the Board she recently lost her ID and does not have a vehicle.

The City Attorney explained to the Board that they have the right to give a certain amount of time to let Ms. Varnell complete what is required to get the house in a habitable condition. If she does not comply then the City has the right to take over the property and do what they need to do. Danny Everett advised 60 days seems like a fair amount of time to give her. Mr. Bertrand said one concern is her ability to keep up the maintenance on the property. The City Attorney recommended they give her 60 days and then request a rehearing to see what needs to be done from there. Mr. Bertrand stated not having neighbors speaking against her at the hearing is a good sign. Terry Tuck requested to get a status report from the City in 30 days. It was determined that an inspection would be done by Mrs. DuPree on or before March 1, 2014 just to see what progress has been made. Ms. Varnell verbally gave Char DuPree permission to enter her house. Carol Ann Connors gave Ms. Varnell several options of social service organizations that could help her.

Motion to approve the Board of Adjustment order as amended to allow Ms. Varnell to make improvements to the house and to be re-evaluated at a later time was made by Danny Everett; second by Terry Tuck.

3. Public Hearing on a request by Clyde Fisher for a variance at 110 Pearl Lane, Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 & 16 of Block 4 of the Lake Dallas Sites Addition, to reduce the backyard setback to a twenty (20) foot setback from the property line where a thirty (30) foot setback is required.

   No one came forward and the Public Hearing was closed.

4. Consideration and Action on a request by Clyde Fisher for a variance at 110 Pearl Lane, Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 & 16 of Block 4 of the Lake Dallas Sites Addition, to reduce the backyard setback to a twenty (20) foot setback from the property line where a thirty (30) foot setback is required.

Clyde Fisher of 747 Carlisle Drive, Lake Dallas, Texas asked the Board to consider his request for variance as he would like to combine these smaller lots, creating three lots large enough for building sites. A small home would be built on each lot that would conform to the R-1-6000 Zoning requirements. These homes would be less than 1500 square feet. He showed plans of a previously built home, stating the proposed homes would be similar. He explained with some detail that these homes would be nice one story starter homes, with three bedrooms, two bathrooms, a two car garage, granite countertops and stainless steel appliances. While the homes will be small, the reduced backyard setback is necessary in order to provide a small back yard.

Sandy Payne asked Mr. Fisher what property borders this property from the back. Mr. Fisher explained that the property in review backs up to an abandoned easement. On the other side of this easement are the backyards of some homes on Lakeview.

Mr. Fisher added that a major consideration in reducing the setback is the presence of trees that he would like to work around and save, adding value to the lots. One tree is in a front yard, one in a side yard and one in a back yard, but he only needs a change in the back yard setback.

Sandy Payne asked if there would be a back alleyway or would the back fences of neighboring properties butt up to each other. Mr. Fisher answered that this is not the case as the existing homes have their part of the easement. Steven Bertrand pointed out that the existing fence could in fact be moved back and end up against Mr. Fisher's new homes. Mr. Fisher agreed, stating the easement was split between him and the other property owners; however his prospective homes would only affect one existing house and he has already spoken to the owners. Mr. Fisher stated that it would not be crowded, adding that the remaining twenty feet would still allow for a small back yard.

Lance Whidden asked if granting the variance would ensure the protection of the trees. Mr. Fisher explained that is what he is trying to do. He is aware of that construction has to consider not just the trees but the trees' root systems as well. He added that it is worth money as a builder and developer to keep the trees there. He said lots look better with trees, and some of these trees may be forty and fifty years old, so he is going to do his best to save them. Sandy Payne asked if this could be guaranteed as residents of Lake Dallas feel strongly about trees. Mr. Fisher explained that the outcome of the trees depends largely upon what types of trees there are, as trees have varying types of root systems, but he does want to save them if he can. He ended by saying he thinks he can save the trees.

Steven Bertrand asked if the City had already replatted the property to call them 104 Pearl, 106, etc. Mr. Fisher explained that the re-plat has yet to be accepted as the Board of Adjustment meeting is the first step in the process, followed by taking his request to the Planning and Zoning Commission, and lastly taking the request to City Council. He added that he has been working with the City and has not faced any opposition at this point, which he feels makes sense as adding homes would result in more tax for the City.

Steven Bertrand asked if the drawing provided shows the proposed house outlines with requested setbacks. Mr. Fisher answered affirmatively, adding that without the variance in the setbacks, the homes would probably have to be two-stories in order to get the desired square footage, yet he prefers to keep the homes one-story.

Steven Bertrand asked Char DuPree whether or not there were smaller lot sizes in the present zoning, and she answered that there are 4000 square foot lots but those are for mobile homes. Mr. Bertrand asked if the lots being proposed by Mr. Fisher would be 6000 square foot sized lots, and she answered yes. Sandy Payne stated that the lots looked bigger than zero lot line, to which Char DuPree stated that they were not zero lot lines as the lots must still have the setbacks. Mr. Fisher explained that the houses would be close, but the homes would still have ten feet between them with the minimum allowed setbacks. Char DuPree added that it was a non-conforming area. Mr. Fisher stated that it was an older part of town, so new homes would be beneficial for the City, and upgrade for the existing neighborhoods.

Steven Bertrand asked what exterior finish was planned for the homes, and Mr. Fisher said that hardy plank would be used. He explained that the board may want to look at his previous homes and added that those homes sold well. Lance Whidden asked what these homes typically sell for. Mr. Fisher was unsure at this point but believed they would sell in the upper $130,000s, as his last two sold for about $128,000 or $129,000. He added that the cost of materials has gone up but with current interest rates he believes a home could be bought for a minimum down payment and around $1,200.00 a month.

Motion to approve the request by Clyde Fisher for a variance at 110 Pearl Lane, Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 & 16 of Block 4 of the Lake Dallas Sites Addition, to reduce the backyard setback to a twenty (20) foot setback from the property line where a thirty (30) foot setback is required was made by Carol Ann Connors; second by Sandy Payne

3. Public Hearing on a request by Rex Brown for a variance at 526 Addison, Lot 25, Block J of the Oak Lakes Subdivision, to allow the construction of a swimming pool with a two (2) feet setback from the property line where five (5) feet is required and to allow a three point four (3.4) feet setback from the foundation where eight (8) is allowed.

   Robert Little, 525 Meadowbrook, stated he was confused when he received the letter from the City regarding the pool variance and meeting since the owner already started pool construction. He asked that the pool be built where it is supposed to be.

   Cary Daniels, 512 Addison, stated he was representing Mr. Rex Brown, owner and builder of 526 Addison. Mr. Daniels understands the complaints about the permits, however, Mr. Brown's business is in Lawton, Oklahoma and he was not able to be at the job site as much as he should have been. Mr. Daniels agreed that Mr. Brown should have gotten permits as required but said he was not trying to circumvent the process. Mr. Daniels asked for approval of the variance on behalf of Mr. Brown, adding that he be fined, if need be, for not getting the pool permit before construction began. Mr. Daniels also understands the silt issue of the neighborhood pond because his property also backs up to the pond. The house and pool have been engineered and are safe.

   Gordon McQuillan, 521 Meadowbrook, also did not like the intrusion on the pond by Mr. Brown, however, he has built a nice house and addition to the neighborhood that has been engineered and is safe. He is also the pool contractor and stated the pool surpasses building code requirements. In addition, he stated Mr. Brown had advised him he had gotten the pool permit when he acquired the residential home permit. Several years ago Mr. McQuillan paid to have the silt removed from the pond. He feels the City should now dredge the waterway and correct the water flow issue.

   Martha Lowry, 531 Meadowbrook, is unhappy about Mr. Brown's home and pool construction without obtaining the required permits. She feels he should be fined and the money received should be used in cleaning up the pond/spillway. His retaining wall construction has changed the flow of water, causing issues for her and the others living around the pond. Mr. Brown should have been required to obtain permits before building anything.

Pam Bridges, address not stated, spoke about the email received by Earl Berner from Johnny Harris, 516 Addison in Lake Dallas. Mr. Harris reiterated sentiments similar to Mr. Little and Mrs. Lowry. He was upset that Mr. Brown seems to think he can do whatever he wants without any consequences.

No one else came forward and the Public Hearing was closed.

4. Consideration and Action on a request by Rex Brown for a variance at 526 Addison Street, Lot 25, Block J of the Oak Lakes Subdivision, to allow the construction of a swimming pool with a two (2) feet setback from the property line where five (5) feet is required and to allow a three point four (3.4) feet setback from the foundation where eight (8) is allowed.

Steven Bertrand, Board Chair, stated although while it may have not been Mr. Brown's intention to make fools of the City, he did take advantage of the City by not following the permit process. He feels the permit fees should be doubled and wants Mr. Brown fined for not first obtaining permits before construction started.

Char DuPree, Community Development, explained the permitting and inspection process and Mr. Brown's construction project beginning with the front setback variance requested in February 2011. She detailed when construction was stopped due to the lack of obtaining permits, when the permits were issued and how inspections were suspended until Mr. Brown was in compliance with the International Residential Code (IRC) and the Lake Dallas Municipal Code. This included the additional plan review required for the second story not submitted with the original plans and not paying the permit fees for this construction. She also refuted incorrect information circulated by neighbors regarding this construction.

Earl Berner, City Manager, was asked his comments on this issue; he is not happy with the way Mr. Brown has handled obtaining permits for his house and pool. The City responded with stop construction orders. Mr. Brown has been held accountable for failing to comply with permitting requirements. As far as the pond issue, the City considers the pond to be privately owned by the home owners. Mr. Berner said he only knows what has happened with the pond since he has been with Lake Dallas the past seven years. Per his earlier conversation with Mrs. Lowry, he will take a closer look at the pond issues and see what can be done.

Steven Bertrand stated he was very upset with Mr. Brown and came very close to denying the variance. He definitely wants there to be consequences for Mr. Brown's not obtaining permits correctly. He suggested permit fees be doubled as allowed by the City Code and a citation for beginning work without permit issuance.

With no further questions or comments from the Board, Steve Bertrand suggested a motion be drafted based on all the comments and available information.

Motion to approve the variance as requested with the recommendation that:

- The permit fees be doubled and a citation be issued for not obtaining a permit before contruction
- Punitive fines to the maximum extent allowed by the City of Lake Dallas Municipal Court
- No additional work carried out nor the pool permit issued until all fees and fines assessed by the Court are paid
- All additional funds be directed to waterway pond improvements was made by Sandy Payne; second by Lance Whidden.

3. Public Hearing on request for a special exception regarding the replat of Lots 17, 18, 19, & 20, Block F, of Garza Beach Estates, Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas. The replat will allow for the lots to change from four (4) lots to three (3) lots of 6600 square feet each and to allow a rear setback of twenty (20) feet where thirty (30) feet is required in an R-1-6000, Single Family Dwelling district.

Clyde Fisher, 747 Carlisle, is the owner of the subject lots. He wants to replat the four lots into three larger lots to build a larger 1500 sq. ft. home than is required. In response to questions from Sandy Payne, Mr. Fisher stated there is not an alleyway behind the homes but Stockard would be paved and opened up to traffic, however it would not extend through to Hundley Drive.

Sandra Caldwell, 421 Stadium, asked if these lots were vacant. She also would like to see Stockard extend through to Hundley Drive because right now there is only one way in or out of this area. She also is concerned about fire department access in adding these new homes. Mr. Fisher responded stating the lots were vacant.

Earl Berner added Stockard would not be extended to Hundley Drive at this time but would end at the Lake Cities Municipal Utility Authority property.

Sandy Payne asked how the building of these homes with the 20 ft. setback would affect the fire department access.

Mr. Berner explained there is a water hydrant at the corner of Stockard and Stadium and the department vehicles would be able to turn around using the Lake Cities Municipal Utility Authority (LCMUA) properties in emergencies. In addition Mr. Berner informed the Board which lots belonged to LCMUA on the plat.

Barbara Davis, 529 Beck Avenue, was not sure where these lots were located and asked to see the plat. In response, Sandy Payne showed Ms. Davis exactly where the proposed lots were located on the plat.

Earl Berner stated the City supported this project and feels this development would be an asset to the community.

Steven Bertrand closed the public hearing.

Earl Berner addressed the Board on behalf of Police Chief Ristagno and explained the purpose of the requested special exception is to build a garage that will secure the new communications vehicle and equipment. The door will be a roll-up type garage door due to limited space.

There has been one comment opposing the special exception by Mr. Ted Freeman who owns the 12 acre railroad property, however, once he understood that the city hall property did not directly abut up to his property he no longer opposed the approval of the special exception. No other property owners opposed this request.

Steven Bertrand closed the public hearing.

4. Public Hearing on a request for the proposed variance due to a special exception made by QuikTrip Corporation regarding landscaping for the property located at 302 Swisher Road, Block A, Lot 1 of the KWIK Addition, Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

   J.D. Dudley, Production Supervisor, QuikTrip, 15540 Trinity Blvd., Ste. 300, Ft. Worth, Texas, stated the variance was needed because the utility easement does not allow any landscaping and the landscape site plan does not meet current Code requirements. In addition, the storm sewer system for QuikTrip had to be relocated from this easement. Since QuikTrip has been unable to obtain access of the utility easement, there will be no entrance, only the front entrance on Swisher.

8. Public Hearing on a special exception regarding front, back, and side setbacks requested by McKee Yant for Sonic Drive In of Lake Dallas for property located at 101 Main Street, Tract 86C of the Wright Abstract 1355A, Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

McKee Yant, 7116 Helsem Bend in Dallas, owner of the Lake Dallas Sonic, wants to demolish the existing Sonic building and rebuild a new modern building. Current zoning regulations creates a problem with setback requirements. Mr. Yant wants to construct a regular drive through service similar to other fast food restaurants. The building will need to be brought 10 foot closer to Main Street and moved 2 ft. west of it's current location. This will still preserve the large tree at the corner of Main Street and Shady Shores while developing a little more property green belt and eliminating vehicle traffic from cutting the corner there.

City Manager Berner said the variance approval is must in order to allow the Sonic to be rebuilt rather than just renovated. The new building will be more energy efficient, allow restroom construction for employees as well as customers and 3to 4 parking spaces for walk up services. Construction will take 6 to 7 weeks to complete.

No one else came forward and the public hearing was closed.

3. Public Hearing on request for a proposed special exception regarding front and rear setbacks and dwelling size for property located in the 700 block on the south side of Thompson Drive, Lot 8 of the J. V. Thompson subdivision in the City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

L. D. Vinson, P. O. Box 1232, Sanger, TX 76226, has requested a special exception that will allow him to place 800 sq. ft. home on this lot. He doesn't feel the 15 ft. side setback is appropriate given the size of this lot. He does not have any pictures of the house. Mr. Vinson stated he has built approximately 50 houses in the area and is a certified builder. These houses would be refurbished for resale and would not be rentals.

The Board asked several questions regarding the submitted proposals because of the setback requirements and parking concerns. The lot is located at the corners of Starfish and Dolphin. There was a discussion of which way the house would face, where the front door would be located, how other neighborhood houses are situated on the lots and how this would affect the side, front & rear setback requirements. Most of the houses in the area have the short side of the house-facing Dolphin.

Richard Martin, 610 Thompson, lives on opposite end of the street and is concerned about the size of the lot and house. He always wants to see improvement in the area, but this is something new. He asked if this house would be required to meet City Code requirements. The Board answered that all code requirements must be met except those excepted by the special exception.

James Stanford, 311 Dolphin, feels it would benefit the neighborhood, but is concerned about the parking. He would like the parking on the south side of the lot and have the house moved closer to Thompson. Mr. Stanford also stated when Mr. Vinson moved a house onto Lakeland and Glen Rhea it was an improvement to that area.

Mr. Vinson should be closing on this property on October 17, 2006.

Board member Bertrand felt it was feasible to grant this exception given the size of the house and lot size.

Richard Martin felt as long as this is done right, it is better than a vacant lot. Wants to see it better than it is now. It would be better than a vacant lot.

No one else came forward and Chairman Bertrand closed the public hearing.

4. Consideration and Action on approval of a request for the proposed special exception regarding front and rear setbacks and dwelling size for property located in the 700 block on the south side of Thompson Drive, Lot 8 of the J. Board discussed which option would be best given the lot's old shape and size. The Board was in agreement that the home meet current R1-6000 building code requirements.

Motion Passed

5. Public Hearing on request for a proposed special exception regarding front and rear setbacks and dwelling size for property located in the 100 Block of Adolphus, Lot 13 of Block F of the Garza Beach Estates of the City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

L.D. Vinson, P. O. Sox 1252, Sanger, TX 76266 will remove the old trailer currently on the property. He will move in a 20 X 40 ft. home, and build a breezeway to attach it to a storage building. A new roof will be installed to cover all three building units to meet the 1200 sq. ft. requirement for R1-6000. The front of house and off street parking will be on Adolphus. The only exception being requested is a back yard setback of 15 ft. instead of the required 30 ft. because of the lot size.

No one else came forward and Chairman Bertrand closed the public hearing.

6. Consideration and Action on the request for a proposed special exception regarding front and rear setbacks and dwelling size for property located in the 100 Block of Adolphus, Lot 13 of Block F of the Garza Beach Estates of the City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

General consensus of the Board is to approve the special exception. They feel Mr. Vinson is improving the current condition of the lot and removing the eyesore in the neighborhood.

Motion to approve the special exception to remove the mobile home, move the house onto lot, adjoin it with the storage shed using a newly constructed breezeway to bring the house up to 1200 sq. ft. was made by James Harper. Second by Sandy Payne. Further a rear setback of 15 ft. is approved. House must meet all building code requirements for R1-6000 zoning.

3. Public Hearing on request for a proposed special exception regarding the replat of the north half of Lot 25, Block H, of Garza Beach Estates, Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas. The replat will allow for four (4) lots of 50' x 100' each, or 5000 sf each in an R-1-6000, Single Family Dwelling district (6000 sf lots).

   John Donahue from Kilkenny Building Company represented Robert Meadows, who owns 306 Boliver and 403 Stockard. Mr. Donahue explained these properties were platted in 1926 for a community center. Mr. Meadows is willing to sell these properties to Mr. Donahue at a price he can afford so he can build 8 new brick homes that will be approximately 1300 sq. ft. They will be 3 bedrooms and have 2 baths, meeting all building requirements for R1-6000 zoning. The lots will be 50 ft. x 100 ft. The tax base for these homes will be approximately $425,000.00. Mr. Donahue previously built 42 similar homes on Texas Street and Boliver.

   Steven Bertrand closed the public hearing.

4. Consideration and Action on approval of a proposed special exception regarding the replat of the north half of Lot 25, Block H, of Garza Beach Estates, Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas. The replat will allow for four (4) lots of 50' x 100' each, or 5000 sf each in an R-1-6000, Single Family Dwelling district (6000 sf lots).

The Board felt this is not an uncommon request given the other homes in this area. The Members felt comfortable these homes would improve the area and the City tax base. Motion to approve the proposed special exception regarding the replat of the north half of Lot 25, Block H of Garza Beach Estates was made by Bruce Martin. 3. Public Hearing on request for a proposed special exception regarding front and rear setbacks for property located in the 100-200 block of the west side of North Lakeview Drive, Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

   Mr. Berner explained the building plans submitted by Mr. Bourland do not meet the setback requirements for R1-6000 zoning.

   Mr. Frank Bourland, 1434 Hidden Oaks in Corinth, owns this property and would like to build 8 duplexes. The property has not been rezoned yet for two-family dwellings. He illustrated the plans and showed where he would put a new road for access to the property.

   John Sullivan, 503 E. Hundley, was concerned about the drainage and tree replacement if Mr. Bourland put a road through to Hundley.

   Barbara Davis, Davis Mobile Home Park - 501 Hundley, stated she has paid taxes on some of the property Mr. Bourland wants the City to abandon for the new road. Mr. Berner said the property is still platted as a City right of way.

   Bob McDonald, who owns 521, 522 & 523 Hundley, said Denton County has charged him taxes on this property since 1983 and he feels the City should compensate him if it is still a right of way. Mr. McDonald stated he had documents that show the right of way has already been abandoned by the City.

Mr. Bourland's survey does not exhibit any abandonment by the City.

Cleada Smallwood, 200 N. Lakeview Drive, expressed concern over drainage and increased traffic.

In summary, Mr. Bourland stated the duplex exterior would appear as single-family homes. A tall fence would be installed around the properties with a rear setback of 8 ft. and a 20 ft. front setback. Building this way would maximize the tax base of the property. The side setback distance, approximately 16 to 18 ft., would be greater than those in the Harbourtown subdivision.

4. Consideration and Action on approval of a request for a proposed special exception regarding front and rear setbacks for property located in the 100-200 block of the west side of North Lakeview Drive, Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

   Several issues concerned the Board, including ownership of the right of way, additional utility lines, drainage and fire department access. The major issue with was the 8 ft. rear setback. The Board consensus was this setback was too small and created a safety issue.
   Motion to deny the approval of the proposed special exception regarding the front and rear setbacks for the property located in the 100-200 block of the west side of North Lakeview Drive was made by Sandy Payne. Second by Dylan Smith.

3. Public Hearing on request for a proposed special exception for expansion of a nonconforming use by Video Plus, 200 Swisher Road, Tract 2 of J. W. Simmons Abstract 1163A, City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

   Sandy Payne excused herself from the Board because she is currently employed at Video Plus.

   Brenda McDonald, 8117 Preston Rd., Suite 115, Dallas, TX, represented Video Plus. Video Plus is requesting an Expansion of a non-conforming use (Special Exception) rather than a Special Use Permit. Properties surrounding Video Plus include: east side is the drainage easement, south side is Silestone, west side is Unified Aircraft and the north side is residential. Ms. McDonald believes the expansion would not be detrimental to the other businesses or the residential area. The southeast corner of the property will be used for 66 additional parking spaces to accommodate more employees. The southwest corner will continue to be used for storage. The new building will be prefab similar to the existing structure, although not quite as high, and painted the same color.

   Marvin Chisum, 204 Hillcrest, asked what the new building was going to be used for. Ms. McDonald stated Video Plus would use the expansion for the additional storage of DVD & CD's used for training purposes; their business is growing.

   No one else came forward and Mr. Bertrand closed the public hearing.

4. Consideration and Action on approval of a request for a proposed special exception for expansion of a nonconforming use by Video Plus, 200 Swisher Road, Tract 2 of J. W. Simmons Abstract 1163A, City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

3. Consideration and Action on approval of a request for a proposed variance to modify setback requirements for 107 Silktree Court [Thousand Oaks Addition, Phase II, Block J, Lot 4], Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

   Chairman Flanagan called a Public Hearing regarding the proposed variance by unanimous vote of the Board.

   Mark and Anita Mueller (Pronounced as Miller), 107 Silktree explained they are requesting the variance to keep the garage 10 feet from the main building. There is a twelve-foot drop in the back of the yard that is a part of a flood plain and they feel this is the hardship. They currently have a two-car garage that has an historic vehicle that needs to be removed. Mr. Mueller would like to house the vehicle in the new garage plus have a workshop in this building.

   Mr. Flanagan explained a hardship is not something that you create for yourself; you're basically causing the hardship because you want to build something other than what is allowed in zoning area R1-7200. The slope could be built up to allow building the garage more than 10 ft. from the main residence, which would meet the setback requirements.

   Mr. Berner explained the parameters of the variance request and said he did not meet with Mr. & Mrs. Mueller to explain requirements in detail.

   The Board suggested the proposed garage be turn slightly and that would allow the setback requirements to be met, however, Mrs. Mueller did not feel this was an option because of the back yard retaining wall height.

Mr. Flanagan expressed concern about the fire code and said that is why the setbacks are in the code. The aesthetic reason is having neighbors look out the back yard to look out onto the garage that is twenty feet tall. Rotating the garage will only require a six-foot move back and four feet sideways to maintain the required 10 feet and 7 feet setback requirements. He suggested that they make the retaining wall part of the foundation.

James and Carol Plyler, 105 Silktree, is a neighbor concerned about the drainage issue and building requirements of 80% masonry. They bought their property for the size, the greenbelt, and the view. They don't want anything that will be an eyesore. They want to keep the neighborhood beautiful and don't want it to look like an add-on. Once this starts it will be potluck looking to the neighborhood. To avoid the run-off issue, the Muellers would have to build up their property, which would elevate the height of the garage even more. He also values his privacy. They want to be sure the neighborhood building is uniform and there is proper drainage.

Chairman Flanagan said that any add-on has to match the existing primary residence and any building over 120 square feet must have a building permit and meet the R1-7200 building code requirements.

Mrs. Mueller said they also want the view to be maintained and are concerned about the drainage and that is why they are consulting with an engineer. They want to maintain the integrity of the neighborhood and ensure that the drainage issue is resolved.

Chairman Flanagan closed the public hearing at 7:38 p.m.

Consideration and action on variance:

There was board discussion about the size of the lot and setback requirements. This area was originally going to be zoned R-1-10000 single-family district. It is a big lot and there are other options that haven't been considered. There is still concern about the fire issue.

Mr. Mueller said he is not concerned about fire issue because it is a garage. He said he understands what the board is saying but doesn't feel he can really move the garage over.

Chairman Flanagan said he feels their money should be given back to them if this goes to a no vote. The applicant cannot create the hardship. He said he feels this wasn't explained as well as it should have been when the application was made. We rarely turn anything down.

Mrs. Mueller said Mr. Berner said it sounded like it would pass.

Motion to deny the request and to refund the money was made by Bruce Martin. Second Sandy Payne.

Mr. Wolverton is requesting a variance for the landscaping variance in order to maximize the use of the property. If the variance is approved, Mr. Wolverton will be able to add an additional 5 ft. of office space onto the building.

   There is a 4 ft. chain link fence with wisteria bushes growing onto Mr. Wolverton's property that he will be trimming and cleaning up. The rental house next door belongs to the chiropractor. The curb will be 2 ½ ft. from this fence line and will be 6 in. tall. The drainage has been addressed.

4. Consideration and Action on approval of a request for a variance on proposed additional space required for Unified Aircraft Services, Inc. located within a C-1-A Business District located in the 500 Block of North Stemmons Freeway, Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

   Richard Dallof stated the reason this issue is before the Board of Adjustments is Unified Aircraft is requesting a facility expansion on a property zoned C1-A, non-conforming use. Nearby residents were sent a letter notifying them of the hearing but the City has not received any resident response on this issue. If the expansion is approved, Unified Aircraft must comply with all current building code requirements.

   Ken Hachtmann and Ron Olson represented Unified Aircraft Services, Inc. They stated their engineering company has performed the soil test and approved the site plan for the building expansion. If this request were denied, they would have to find another facility for the additional cars they are expecting to receive. The Government contract has not changed, just the number of cars.

Tina Martin, 610 Thompson, spoke as a Lake Dallas resident and employee of Unified Aircraft Services, Inc. She said she would like the request approved because it would bring money to Lake Dallas and it would support our military.

Ron Olsen came forward and said they submitted their appeal and he had nothing to add to that. He mentioned the rail accident and said it was fortunate there were no injuries or anyone who needed emergency medical treatment or equipment.

Tanja Haylock, 213 Swisher Road, said they can't get in and out of their property with the way the traffic situation is now. She said they are totally opposed to this and hope the decision is not to let an entrance be put in.

Mary Coursey, 209 Swisher Road, said they have lived there almost 3 years and can't take their RV's out any more because there is so much traffic on Swisher. She said this would just make the traffic that much worse. They have a right, since they pay property tax, to be able to get in and out of their own driveway. She said they are totally opposed to the entrance.

Chairman Flanagan asked if anyone else wanted to speak. No one came forward so he asked Richard Dallof, Building Official, to speak. He said the trucks would be going in and out at 8 am and with school traffic that would make Swisher almost impossible to travel safely. The North Texas Tollway Authority is going to widen Swisher and have already started the survey. It's his understanding that Video Plus would allow them to get out if there is another derailment or emergency. When Payless was in operation there was a gate between them and Video Plus. Mr. Olsen closed the gate off.

Mr. Olsen said the Swisher entrance would not be used except for an emergency. They closed the gate off between them and Video Plus so they could keep their property separate. They don't want their trucks to come in off Swisher.

Tanja Haylock said the original request was before the derailment and asked what their original request was. She said she is still opposed.

Mary Coursey said she thinks they're going to use it for more than what they say and she doesn't want it allowed.

Chairman Flanagan closed the public hearing at 7:14 PM.

5. Public Hearing on the condition of the property located at 56 Lakeridge, City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas and the proposed action of demolition of said property.

Rod Courtney, 162 Kingswood Road, said he was fortunate to have been chairman of the first committee that Matt sits on and said we appreciate your services. He gave a background on the purchase of the property first by Ms. Petty and then by himself and the ongoing litigation as well as information about eviction notices. There have been problems with court dates and it has recently been continued until July 31. He doesn't know the condition of the property other than what he can see which is trash and the neighbors advise when there's trouble in that area of the park. He has not done any compliance because he has not been on the property. He is in favor of demolition.

Neoma Spinks, 57 Lakeridge, next-door neighbor, said she knew the people who lived there before. It's a small trailer and there were lots of teenagers there; lots of fighting going on; once there were guys chasing others with an ax.

She smelled sewage once and called Lake Cities Municipal Utility Authority to come and check the sewer line. The house next door had raw sewage running out instead of a sewer problem for the utility district. They had trash in the yard and wouldn't carry it out for the trash pick up and it smelled awful. She thinks it's going to have to be demolished because it would take too much to fix it.

John Robertson, 55 Pecan, lives next door on the other side of this property. He said the back door has been open for the last one and a half weeks because it was kicked in. The police have been down there a lot. They did get some windows fixed but it's a health factor. He's in favor of demolishing the property.

Allie Petty, 56 Lakeridge, said she started buying the property in 1997. She said she has all the electrical fixed and windows and doors. She has the sheet rock and carpet in the house.

Chairman Flanagan asked Richard Dallof to report on the property.

He said the property at 56 is in bad shape. He said she says she fixed the electricity and they did do repairs to some windows and the front door. The back door has not been repaired and insects are allowed to get inside. The electricity for the outside back door has never been replaced and the light has not been fixed and someone could touch it and get shocked. The skirting is off. He said he did have the opportunity to go into her house and wrote her a letter on April 21. There were over ten code violations. Out of all those violations the only ones he's seen as repaired are the front door and glass. There is still trash and debris as well as a toilet outside on the property. It is still a very unhealthy environment. He said he's given Ms Petty different code violations trying to motivate her to clean up her property since1998. He didn't give her an extension this time because she's never done what she says she's going to do. He feels it needs to be condemned.

Chairman Flanagan closed the pubic hearing at 7:50 PM.

7. Discussion and Action on the condition of the property located at 56 Lakeridge, City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas and the proposed action of demolition of said property.
Motion to approve the City's request for demolition was made by John Flaming.

3. Public Hearing on an appeal by Video Plus, Inc. on property located within the C-1-A Business District requesting continuance of nonconforming outside storage use for five years at Tract 2 of the J. W. Simmons Abstract 1163A (200 Swisher Road).

Robert Reeves, 500 South Ervay, Suite 426A, Dallas, Texas, is representing Video Plus for continuous use of part of their property. He had given the board members a handout and asked them to look at the photos. One of the photos is adjacent property to Video Plus, and, through a public hearing and rezoning action of the Video Plus property storage is no longer allowed on that property. Since April 1993 Video Plus had been leasing this property to Payless to use for outside storage. They had been operating on this property prior to the rezoning, and, since then, Payless filed for bankruptcy relief. He said Video Plus is asking for the property to continue to be used for outside storage for 5 years. He said they understand the Council's desire to change the use of the property. He referenced the proposed toll bridge and the Swisher Road extension and said that is still five or six years down the road. He said they are not proposing any substantial expansions for non-conforming use. They have been here for at least twelve years and Video Plus is a corporate employer in the City of Lake Dallas. They are a good citizen and will continue to be a good citizen.

Mark DeLouch, 5616 Preston Oaks #1603, Dallas, Texas said he's hoping they will grant the continuance. He wants to emphasize they are a good citizen. The tenants that had wanted to lease the property have actually moved on. They would like to use this land based on its historical usage. They want to use the property today and for storage. They have no intention of having a building built on this property.

Chairman Flanagan closed the public hearing at 7:21PM.

There was discussion about screening, high grass, and non-conforming use. Chairman Flanagan said the Board had received a letter from one citizen who is opposed to the granting of this variance, Judy Amstutz.

Chairman Flanagan closed the public meeting at 7:36 PM.

3. Public Hearing on proposed variance on property located within the R-1-6000 Residential zoning district in the Summers Addition, Block A, Lot 5, 726 Summers Lane.

   Margaret Tisdale, 509 Howard Drive, says she doesn't know what the owner plans to do down there so they don't know what they want to say.

   Jon Wilson, the owner, said the lot is landlocked and limited in size. He said he lives next door and improved his property so he's not going to build something on the lot in question that he wouldn't want to live next to. He needs a variance to put the size house he is planning for on this lot. Many homes around that area don't meet the setbacks. He won't be able to meet the setback requirements. He will be able to save the trees. He will put up fences to cover what's in his yard. It would bring more tax revenue. He could get a smaller footprint by going to a 2-story house but he doesn't want to do that. He can't change the size of the lot. He showed the board his plans. It would have a single car garage with a pad on the side to meet the required parking for two cars.

   Margaret Tisdale said they have no objection to someone building a house there. She has heard there's a business run down there with lots of traffic and it is a narrow street. She has 3 rent houses in that area.

   Chairman Flanagan said this isn't the proper board for the complaint of a business being run out of a home. That should be addressed with Code Enforcement.

Lona Pinkston, she and her parent live at 728 Summer Lane, 726 is empty lot and directly in front of her parents home. She had complaints about items stored on the property and said the owner had no consideration for the property or peace of others. She said she has no problem with a building going on the property.

Armenta Singdahlsen, 721 Summer Lane, said there's a lot of traffic and lots of problems on that lot currently. She is opposed to any variance until he can prove to her that he can clean the place up.

Billie Moore said she agrees with Armenta.

Lona Pinkston had changed her mind. No variance until it gets cleaned up.

Mr. Wilson said he wants to build a house and make it something that will increase the tax revenues.

Chairman Flanagan asked if the building inspector had given them the reasoning behind applying for a variance and had he explained what the board is all about.

Floyd Englemen said they got a copy of what the code says and the Building Inspector told them since they could not get a permit due to the setback requirements the only other option available would be to go to Board of Adjustment.

Chairman Flanagan said he could foresee some questions from the board. The house could be sculptured in a different manner.

Chairman Flanagan closed the public hearing at 8:02 PM.

4. Consideration and action on proposed variance on property located within the R-1-6000 residential zoning district in the Summers Addition, Block A, Lot 5, 726 Summers Lane.

No letters opposing the variance had been received from the residents notified of the request.

There was discussion among the board members and questions asked of Mr. Wilson. There was no hardship involved in this request.

Motion was made by Linwood Gilliland to deny the request for a variance. Seconded by Christie Houghton.

3. Public Hearing on a proposed variance on property located within the C-3 zoning district behind the current building located at 3000 South Stemmons, Lake Dallas, Texas, for a period not to exceed 6 months.

David Jackson, CEO for United Mortgage said they are asking for this variance. He has a building permit for a $1.4 million building that will house 3 businesses. They will employ about 50 - 75 people. Rite now he has 5 year lease with Mrs. Crownover at their current location. They have 20+ employees in a 2000 SF building instead of a 4000 SF building. It shouldn't take more than 6 months to complete their new building. James Coulson is his builder (J G Builders). The temporary building is a GE modular building that he would like to use for 8 - 10 people. It will be taken in and skirted and insured. He needs to have a variance in place just in case it becomes necessary. He would like it issued on May 1 so it will coincide with breaking ground on the new building. They'll probably keep the building from Crownover. He would like to build 2 story building on the Crownover property and put restaurants on the lower floor.

Building Inspector Dallof said the only reason he was there is because of our ordinance that requires buildings be 80% brick. He said he has no problem with a temporary building of the sort Mr. Jackson is discussing.

Chairman Flanagan closed the Public Hearing at 7:25 PM.

Chairman Flanagan confirmed that the city had not received any letters opposing this temporary building.

3. PUBLIC HEARING:
To consider the demolition of structure located at 309 Dolphin, City of Lake Dallas, Denton County, Texas.

Jackie Kovsky -, 311 - 312 Surf, said she has no objections to the demolition. She is speaking for herself with property on both sides of Surf and for her neighbor, Carl Thomas as 736 Thompson, who was at work. She said they both try to maintain their properties in a reasonable state. She sees no reason to keep this house because it is in terrible shape and a vacant lot would certainly be an improvement. The sooner it can be done the better.

Jerry Smith, does not live in Lake Dallas, said he is representing the people who have a piece of property across the street from this property. He said he is not arguing about the demolition. He is interested in the procedure that will be taken.

City Manager Fairburn said the Building Official has been trying to work with the owner to have him voluntarily take down the building since it is beyond being able to be repaired. The process is: Building Official writes a letter to the property owner declaring that it is his recommendation to the Board of Adjustment that this building be demolished; the property owner is invited to the Board of Adjustment meeting; the Board of Adjustment then determines whether or not it needs to be demolished. If it does need to be demolished, the Board then issues an order of demolition and will give the owner 30 days to take it down or order the City to take it down if the property owner does not. If the City has to take it down it will then file a lien against the property for the amount of the cost.

Mr. Smith asked if the criteria is from building code violations. Mr. Fairburn said it is from City Code. He asked if we followed national or state codes. Mr. Fairburn said we go by the UBC book. He asked how to go about initiate a demolition process. Mr. Fairburn told Mr. Smith concerned citizens should write a letter to the city.

Chairman Flanagan asked for comments from staff. City Manager Fairburn said Building Official Harp was not available that evening but Mr. Goodrich of Metro Code Analysis prepared this and was in attendance. The Board looked at the presentation with pictures that Mr. Goodrich had prepared.

Chairman Flanagan said Christie Houghton had arrived and brought her up to date on the proceedings thus far. Mr. Gilliland stepped down as a board member at this time. Chairman Flanagan said the notices go to the last known address in the city's tax roll.

Marjory Johnson, 905 Vista Oaks Court, said she had received a call from a citizen a couple of months ago and she went over to look at it. The grass was as tall as she is. There was a letter on the door which tells that the house has been condemned. If the owner has been close to the house he would know that it has been condemned.

Chairman Flanagan closed the Public Hearing at 7:30 PM.

There was discussion among the members of the Board of Adjustment.

Motion was made by Christie Houghton to go forward with the demolition of the property at 309 Dolphin with a one caveat that if we don't hear anything back then we give it to September 5. No one seconded the motion. Christie withdrew the motion.

3. PUBLIC HEARING:
To consider the Petition of Mike Wolverton, requesting a variance from Chapter 15.16.350 and 15.16.240, C-3 zoning. The variance is requesting that a commercial advertising sign on the property located in Tract 2 Lot 10 in Block A of Barmarchar Sites, to be removed and replaced with comparable sign approximately, 70 feet to the north of existing location to allow for optimum development of site. Variance also requested to allow maximum height of 42 feet instead of 35 feet per ordinance.

Don Pascal, representative for Mike Wolverton and Regent Development Company spoke. He introduced Mike Wolverton. He said the current sign is a legal but non-conforming sign meaning that the sign was in full compliance at time it was erected and subsequent amendments to ordinance changed its conformance to the ordinance. He understands the necessity to protect the integrity of ordinances. Variances should only be granted on a rational basis. He said that 'hardship criteria' should be 1) not the making of the applicant; 2) not limited to financial issues; and 3) is unique to the specific property in question and not an issue that is a general situation found throughout the City. He said he had found only three commercial advertising signs in Lake Dallas and appear to meet the 1500 feet separation required. Sign separation is very important to eliminate proliferation. The 200 feet separation between commercial advertising signs and on-site advertising signs is a provision that affects only their site and their sign. They intend to combine the lots to create enough property to allow a better development to occur. You will still be unable to comply if the neighbor put their sign too close to the property line.

They are asking that the decision be based on appropriate lot widths instead of an arbitrary number. He thinks the difference between 150 and 200 feet is not substantive. They are interested in the development of the site and not just the sign. They gave copies of Plan A and Plan B to the board members. The first plan shows a retail design in and 'L' shape. Leaving the sign in its location would infringe upon accessibility to the site. The other plan provides for a design of a restaurant in the middle for driving around -- they could probably move the building back but that design wouldn't look as nice and access would be changed. They don't think that moving the sign would jeopardize the ordinance. He doesn't think the height variance of seven feet is not that much of a variance. His summary said their request is totally unique and a well-thought out plan. They still think the 200 feet separation is an arbitrary figure. Granting this variance would not set a precedent to challenge our ordinance.

He said their neighbor, the Lake Cities State Bank, is supportive of the proposed sign. He said the City of Lake Dallas had received a letter from the bank indicating their support of the variance request. He feels that they have met the three tests of a hardship request.

Chairman Flanagan closed the Public Hearing when no one else asked to speak.

4. CONSIDERATION ON PETITION FOR SIGN VARIANCE.

Chairman Flanagan asked for comments from staff.

Building Official Harp said there is another premises sign just to the north which would be within the 200 feet. The sign wouldn't create a big hazard as far as the I-35 corridor is concerned, but can't understand why, when we have a sign there that's legal, we would want to move it. This doesn't accomplish anything as far as the structure is concerned and it's creating problems for the City.

City Manager Fairburn said we really appreciate working with Don and Mike. He said it's a prime piece of land. He explained that the 200 feet is not an arbitrary figure; it's a matter of clutter. Yes, the Lake Cities Bank said they have no objection to the sign; the sign will be moving further from their property. He addressed the three tests of the hardship request -- he said it's true we're not adding a sign but that would be opening more and more requests for non-conforming signs.

Don Pascal said by moving the sign 70 feet to the north they would still be approximately 210 feet from the CPA sign and would be further from the bank's sign.

Chairman Flanagan asked for discussion by the members of the board. There was discussion about the commercial billboard signs which are 1500 feet apart and the on-premise signs which can be closer to each other.

Don Pascal said the sign could be leased by an advertising company when asked if they owned the sign.

City Manager Fairburn said if the sign is moved it would impact signs on the adjacent undeveloped property.

If it is raised 7 feet what are the benefits? Mr. Pascal said they would not have to have that and that it would not give them more space for advertising because both the bottom and top would be raised 7 feet.

Mr. Pascal said a restaurant would generate more freeway business than a retail strip would. They are trying to address all the issues before they try to market the development. He thinks the current sign imposes an impediment or restriction. If they move it and put it in a landscaped area it will allow an uninterrupted view of the businesses and improve the traffic at that development.

In answer to what keeps them from removing the sign completely, Mr. Pascal said they could remove it or they could leave it there and develop around it. He also said the development is superior with it moved to with it staying in the same location. The property owner would not likely remove the sign and lose that revenue.

When asked why it would be a hardship on the current location, Mr. Pascal said because it would lead to less than optimal development.

Chairman Flanagan read the guidelines for determining hardships:

Not self-imposed
Unique to the property (size, shape, topography)
Not financial in nature
Does not include property that cannot be used for its highest and best use for development

The sign would not hinder applying for building permits.

Chairman Flanagan said that City Manager Fairburn and Building Official Harp had both recommended not approving the variance. He asked if there was any more discussion by the board members.

The board members felt there was no hardship or financial burden involved in moving the sign.

Mr. Pascal said he could remove the height request if that makes it easier.

To whom it may concern

I am going to be a resident on River Oak Way, in the Thousand Oaks subdivision. It has come to my attention that the land on the other side of a residential street is still zoned C 1. It is a five-acre tract that runs along Dobbs and River Oak Way. In the first phase of Thousand Oaks the residential property backed up to this commercial area. After phase 3 or 4, part of it was changed to residential. Now instead of residential property backing up to commercial, the commercial property is fronting the residential property. I do not know of any subdivision that has commercial property right on the other side of a residential road, that only has a 25-foot setback. The land is still owned by the developer of the Thousand Oaks subdivision, Mr. Jim Douglas. I have spoken with him and at this time he has no plans for that tract of land.

SO you ask me what would I like you to do:

At the least I would like to change the C-1 land that fronts River Oak Way to the same as the rest of the thousand oaks subdivision residential single family homes.

At most I would like to change the entire 5 acres to residential single family homes. Dobbs road does not have the accesses to I-35 to make it a good business district and the road barely holds up to the residential traffic.

And finally, do I have an alternative idea, well yes.

Mr. Douglas has a lot of little things that he must do to Thousand Oaks for the city. Some that I am aware of are the park on River Oak Way, the road to the new Jackson Oaks subdivision and some other things. The land that we are talking about is going to be very expensive to develop and will probably net less than 20 home sites, because of the natural run off that goes through the land. It would have to be routed underground and then back filled. So what I might suggest that the city look into purchasing this land at a reduced price and helping Mr. Douglas get final approval on the subdivision. Then using the five acres for a park like Kid's Castle in Lewisville, or Eureka in Denton. The residential areas of Lake Dallas are increasing at rapid rate and the need for these areas are also increasing. And one of the big assets and attraction to this area is the sense of a community that is very much interested in families.

Sincerely

William L Karr

Introduction

An impact fee is a fee imposed on a property developer to pay for the increased costs of certain city services which will be incurred because of the development. For example, a new subdivision will cause an increase in municipal service because the new and increased population will increase the draw on the city's water and sewer systems and may necessitate the off-site construction of new streets and new drainage and storm protection facilities. The assessment of impact fees is governed by the provisions of Chapter 395 of the Texas Local Government Code and is broadly limited by constitutional prerogatives which prohibit the taking of private property for public use without just compensation. As a basic principle, a city can not require a developer as a condition of development to pay for off-site improvements. Furthermore, any exaction imposed on property development must be directly connected and roughly proportional to a legitimate interest of the state or the city. Dolan v. City of Tigard, 512 U.S. 374 (1994). Thus, an impact fee must be directly related to the increased costs incurred by the city in providing certain essential services.

Use of Fees

Under Chapter 395 of the Code, an impact fee may be assessed and used only to pay certain expenses associated with "capital improvements" defined as 1) water, 2) sanitary sewer, 3) storm drainage, and 4) roadway facilities. Fees may be used only to pay for construction costs, surveying and engineering fees, land acquisition costs, and principal and interest on bonds. Impact fees may not be used to pay for repair or maintenance of existing facilities, the upgrading of existing capital improvements which serve existing development, or city administrative and operating costs.

The Capital Improvements Plan

In order to insure that impact fees bear a proportional and direct relationship with the added cost of capital improvements associated with the new development, the city must prepare a capital improvements plan. The plan must be prepared by a qualified professional and must contain six specific components which are enumerated in Section 395.014 of the Code. The capital improvements plan is complex and comprehensive and is intended to identify all present and future capital improvements and development, with actual and projected usage, costs and demand.

Limitations on Assessment of Fee

Following the preparation of a capital improvements plan and the adoption of an impact fee ordinance, the imposition of impact fees are subject to certain limitations. For preexisting subdivisions and property which is already platted, no impact fee may be collected from any property for which a building permit is issued within one year after the adoption of the impact fee. Further, a developer is entitled to a refund of paid fees plus interest if: 1) the relevant city service is not available or construction is not commenced within two years, or 2) the fees obtained by the city are not spent within 10 years of payment. A developer may also be entitled to a partial refund if the actual cost of the capital improvements is more than ten percent less than the fees paid.

Benefits and Detriments

Certain benefits as well as detriments are associated with the imposition of impact fees. The central benefit is that the fee will reimburse the city - or directly pay for - the costs associated with the construction of capital improvements necessitated by the developer who created the additional demand. In all fairness, the persons or entities responsible for causing increased demand for city service will pay the associated costs instead of the burden shifting to the city's taxpayers. This is not only equitable but also has the indirect effect of stabilizing tax rates.

However, the drawbacks are both substantive as well as practical. Impact fees discourage development by increasing the direct costs. The mere preparation of a capital improvements plan typically costs tens of thousands of dollars. This is but a fraction of the actual costs of implementation.

In newer or high-growth areas, impact fees make more sense than in established areas. In new high-growth areas, a greater need exists for new capital improvements which can be funded by impact fees and, in general, the property demand is sufficient to bear the added development cost associated with the fee. By and large, though, developed communities which experience low to moderate growth will impede new development at significant cost. And since the fees collected can not be used to repair, maintain or upgrade existing facilities which service existing development, the benefits are nominal.

THIS PROPERTY IS LOCATED ON BLK 4, LTS 1, 2, 11 AND 12 OF THE LAKE DALLAS SHORES, IN THE CITY OF LAKE DALLAS, DENTON COUNTY TEXAS.

Building Inspector, Truman Harp stated on a permit that was issued on 6-10-95, on the property at 500 N. Lakeview Dr. Any permits on the R-6000 has front, back and side setbacks that have to maintained. On the front piece of property the permit reads that it's to enclose a porch and the estimated report is 300 square ft. At the present time we have a building that is 10x40 or 400 sq. ft. R-1-6000 has 25 ft. for the front yard set backs. At the present time we've got 11 foot set backs from the street. The side yard set backs are suppose to 15 ft., we've got a total of 9 ft. The rear set backs are suppose to be 15 feet and we have 8 feet.

When the permit was issued there is a space to insert your electrician, and a master plumber. Both of these were circled with a zero. There was never a call of any kind for an inspection.

Mark Nelson: 500 N. Lakeview. Property owner requesting the variance stated I did the construction myself and it is 99% completed. He didn't get a permit out of ignorance; He performed the construction because his family needed the space .

I. ROLL CALL.

Chairman Clyde Edwards called the meeting to order at 7:00 p.m. and noted that all members were present except for Rodney Courtney.

II. APPROVAL OF MINUTES.

Chairman Clyde Edwards: At this time we'll discuss the minutes. Do I have any comments on minutes? Rusty Meadows stated that he did not receive his minutes. Clyde Edwards made a recommendation that they do not approve the minutes since Rusty Meadows had not received his in the mail. Frances Poteet made a motion to postpone the minutes until Rusty Meadows was able received his copy and review it.
Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: CONSIDER THE DEMOLITION IN ACCORDANCE WITH CHAPTER 15.12 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE OF THE HOUSE AT 110 W. HUNDLEY. THIS PROPERTY IS LOCATED ON TRACT 6, OF THE MCCARROLL SURVEY.

Clyde Edwards: The second item on the agenda was the September 30, 1996 work shop meeting. I make a motion to postpone the minutes because Rusty Meadows did not receive his copy and was not able to review it.

The motion was carried unanimously.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked if Mr. Kermit Fonteno was present? There was no reply. Chairman Clyde Edwards asked if Mr. Fonteno or his agent was here? Again there was no reply. Chairman Clyde Edwards asked the board members to note that Mr. Fonteno was not present.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked for Jon Scharber owner of the property at 311 Starfish and Terry Lantrip owner of the property at 103 Market St. to come forward to take the Oath. Chairman Clyde Edwards instructed them to repeat the Oath, I Jon Scharber, I Terry Lantrip, do solemnly swear to tell the truth the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Clyde Edwards: Jon Scharber if you will stay up here please, do either of you have any objection to any member on this board? Do you feel uncomfortable, do you feel like any member should step down for any reason?

Jon Scharber: I don't.

Terry Lantrip: 275 Market St., I have already submitted a letter to the Mayor.

Chairman Clyde Edwards: Will you read that letter to the Board please?

Terry Lantrip : 275 Market St., You have already denied that request.

Chairman Clyde Edwards: No, you are entitle to present that here if you want to, if still have an objection.

Terry Lantrip: 275 Market St., You already said you would reject it.

Chairman Clyde Edwards: I didn't say that, you see this is quasi Judicial Commission Board and it doesn't make any difference what anybody tells you, who tells it to you, or any of those facts because I have not made up my mind yet. Okay?

Terry Lantrip: 275 Market St., I'm not going to pursue that.

Clyde Edwards: So you wish to withdraw your objection? Is that what you are telling me?

Terry Lantrip: 275 Market St., I wish not to pursue it.

Clyde Edwards: Are you withdrawing it?

Terry Lantrip: 275 Market St., Yes.

Clyde Edwards: Okay, Do you have any objection to any other member of the Board?

Terry Lantrip: 275 Market St., No.

Clyde Edwards: Have you spoken with any other member of the Board or alternate of the Board in reference to this?

Terry Lantrip: 275 Market St., No.

Clyde Edwards: You have not? Okay.

Clyde Edwards: Is there anything else you would like to add at this time?

Terry Lantrip: 275 Market St., No.

Clyde Edwards: Okay, Thank You.

Clyde Edwards: One other item here that we need to discuss and the council left it up to our discretion, if we so desire, we can have the meeting video taped or not video taped. I will open the floor to discussion of that, is there a motion to discuss that?

Celesta Douglas: I don't have a problem with that.

Clyde Edwards: Okay, It's going to have to be three or more decision, do ya'll have discussion?

Frank Bernard: Did you talk to the Mayor about this to see what he wanted to do about this?

Clyde Edwards: This is not illegal, it is not a historical and or tribal information, it is for individual personal use and has no value to the city at all. It does not counteract video on this here in town.

Frances Poteet: Is the film for the city or an individual?

Clyde Edwards: It's for an individual.

Ken Stapleton: 511 Ridgewood, Does anyone have this item on their agenda?

Clyde Edwards: So, what I'll do is ask for a motion.

Matt Flanagan: 722 Thousan Oak Dr., Will ya'll speak up we can't hear you.

Clyde Edwards: Well, we don't have any microphones.

Matt Flanagan: 722 Thousand Oak Dr., We were wondering what agenda item you were on.

Clyde Edwards: We're not on the agenda item, we're on the item of discussion here Matt. So, I'll ask a motion.

Rusty Meadows: How would you like the motion either for or against it.

Celesta Douglas: I make a motion we leave it alone at this time.

Clyde Edwards: Well, you need to make a motion.

Celesta Douglas: Video are okay here.

Clyde Edwards: Okay, do we have a second? Motion didn't hear for lack of a second. Do we have another motion?

Rusty Meadows: I make a motion that we deny the use of video in fact that it is not for historical purpose or anything other than probably intimidation factor.

Clyde Edwards: Do you feel uncomfortable with this?

Rusty Meadows: Yeah!

Clyde Edwards: Do I have a second?

Frances Poteet: Yeah, I'll second it.

Clyde Edwards: All in favor? Oppose? We have Mr. Meadows, Bernard, Mrs. Poteet, myself for and Celesta Douglas against.

Clyde Edwards: So at this time we'll ask you to remove the camera, please Ken.

Ken Stapleton: 511 Ridgewood, Before I turn it off I would like to make a statement. Barbara Starkey provided me with a copy of the Texas State Law that states the Board of Adjustments falls under the open meeting act and must comply with the open meeting act. Open meetings must be posted a least 72 hours prior to each meeting.
I feel that you are violating Texas State Law under the code of open meeting act and I believe you've taken illegal action on a matter that is not posted on the agenda for tonight. The board is suppose to state the agenda, post the agenda, and the items to be discuss and voted on and taken action on, must be specific. Nowhere on my agenda or anyone's agenda in this room is the item about camcorders being allowed in an open meeting.

Clyde Edwards: Okay, well, the committee has, Kenneth, the meeting has found that, the committee has found that they don't want the camera here so, if you will remove it to the other room I'd appreciate it.

Ken Stapleton: 511 Ridgewood, Your banning cameras and recording equipment from an open meeting?

Clyde Edwards: That's correct. No, I'm banning camera's, video cameras, never said anything about recording equipment. So please removed it at this point to the next room.

Ken Stapleton: 511 Ridgewood, Then it will become an audio machine, the lens cap I agree to leave on.

Clyde Edwards: No! If you want a copy of this meeting you can come to the City and get a copy. Take it in the other room! Please.

Ken Stapleton: 511 Ridgewood, Under what ordinance am I in violation?

Clyde Edwards: I didn't say you were under any violation, I said the committee does not want the camera in the room, remove the camera, If you want the minutes on tape you can get it from the City.

Ken Stapleton: 511 Ridgewood, I intend to pursue the matter.

Clyde Edwards: Thank You! Remove it from the room please.

Ken Stapleton: 511 Ridgewood, Can I just put it in the bag?

Clyde Edwards: Please remove it from the room. You can put it in the bag sure but, remove it from the room.

Ken Stapleton: 511 Ridgewood, Tripod too?

Clyde Edwards: Just the camera will be fine, if you want to leave the tripod that's fine. Please put it outside the room and away from the.

Ken Stapleton: 511 Ridgewood, This is as far away as I intend to put it unless you want to take responsibility for a thousand dollar camera being stolen! It is out of the room!

Clyde Edwards: You have an option to take it to your car if you'd like. I'll adjourn the meeting.

Ken Stapleton: 511 Ridgewood, It's staying right here.

Clyde Edwards: You want it to stay right here? Okay? Alright. Is Mr. Fonteno here please? Mr. Kermit Fonteno? Mr. Harp, Will you step forward please? The first item on the agenda, item III, Public hearing considering the demolition in accordance with chapter 15.12 of the municipal code of the house at 110 W. Hundley, this property is located on tract 6, of the McCarroll Survey. You can go ahead and present your facts sir.

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, Mr. Chairman, members of the board, ladies and gentlemen, I stand before you this evening with one statement to make before we actually present anything, If I'm allowed to make this kind of statement. Been with the city for about three and a half months, and I inherited all three of these, one of these is number three, that has been on the books and records for about two and half years.
Mr. Fonteno, He has been sent numerous letters regarding this property, and I also understand that his wife is the majority owner in this property.
So maybe this is the reason Mr. Fonteno didn't see fit to show tonight in front of us is to really protect this piece of property. And since he has put it on the market, we've created another situation that I need to explain to you.

We have at least three sets of people that I know of that are quite interested in this piece of property. And interested in the sole purpose of refiring it and putting it back on the tax roll for the City of Lake Dallas.
Which I would fully recommend other than one thing we have to confront, This eight unit apartment complex located at 110 W. Hundley, is a nice piece of property that all of you are quite aware I'm sure, but it definitely needs bad attention.
And the complex of the eight units we've had problems trying to locate enough property for the parking in the back section, this created a problem to begin with and we finally worked this down to the fact that we could probably use off-street parking to eliminate the parking spaces that are required for the eight units.
To do so this building in the back has a laundry room which is about 12x20 and will have to be demolished or the entire piece of property demolished.
But we happen to have two young people that are in the Real Estate Business with us tonight, and I'll introduce them at a later date, Don and Lynn Schnieder, they have had this on contract for the last six weeks that I know of, we've gone over different phases of remodeling this building but, the problem is from the time it was build in C-1 Zoning, it has been changed from a proposed C-3 to a C-1 Zoning.

Now , if we use this building we'll have to use something similar to another schedule which would be a special use permit, for example, for them to create the activity that they are interested in doing on this building.
So, these two items in my opinion needs to be addressed before we enter the phase of demolishing this piece of property.

Clyde Edwards: Okay, Mr. Harp, if I may interrupt you, sir, since Mr. Fonteno or Mrs. Fonteno are not here I make an assumption that you did notified Mrs. Fonteno?

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, Yes sir; No!

Clyde Edwards: But, you said she was the majority owner.

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, Yes, the realtor notified her, we didn't.

Clyde Edwards: What we need to do then, since she is the majority owner sir, I think we need to notified her. I think maybe because you do have a prospect of rehabilitating this piece of property, I would suggest that we table this for further consideration and that we notified Mrs. Fonteno since she is the major owner, is this correct? Is this what you said?

Truman Harp: 2401 Robunwood, She owns sixty-five percent.

Clyde Edwards: Alright, We need to notify her because she is the primary in this case if she owns sixty-five percent. I think what we can do is probably, if you'll give us the opportunity to discuss it for a few minutes.

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, May I insert something else before we get to that point?

Clyde Edwards: Yes sir, please do.

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, I understand that the two individual that are present, names that I called, and they can address this themselves if you will allow them to that, I think the contract has to be fulfilled within the next ten to fifteen days, or sooner then that.

Don Schnieder: 101 Ute Cove, Four days from date of this meeting.

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, Four days?

Don Schneider: 101 Ute Cove, From the date of this meeting.

Clyde Edwards: Okay, well

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, The realtor did notify Mrs. Fonteno.

Clyde Edwards: But we have to notify her, that's our responsibility, sir.

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, We assumed at that point that he owned it, until we got to the Courthouse.

Clyde Edwards: I understand.

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, I see your point but I cannot see penalizing two individual that is willing to do something about the property.

Clyde Edwards: I don't think we are penalizing them I think we are going to give them an opportunity, if ownership changes then they should address these problems because they are going to be the new owners. I don't see how this is going to prevent that going forward. Maybe I don't understand it.

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, unless the realtor control this settles with another individual he may lose the funds they have up. That's the only objection.

Clyde Edwards: Did you have anything else you'd like to say?

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, Not on this issue.

Clyde Edwards: And would you repeat the people's name please.

Truman Harp: 2401 Robinwood, You mean the two individuals here? Don and Lynn Schneider.

Clyde Edwards: At this peculiar time I'm going to open the floor. Anyone who would like to speak on the subject we'll allow them to go ahead and speak. Would you give us your name and address, please speak up sir.

Don Schneider: 101 Ute Cove, I'm Don Schneider, my wife Lynn would probably like to say something when I get through. If I could address each member of the board and just give them a letter that I've prepared for tonight meeting.

Clyde Edwards: Okay, but if you'll just read it. And then give it to us at the same time.

Don Schneider: 101 Ute Cove, Reads letter.

Clyde Edwards: Thank you sir, do you have any other comments?

Don Schneider: 101 Ute Cove, Yes, just that we are anxious to begin and what we want to do is take this old building that's been sitting there, in the unfortunate condition it's been, we've been trying to buy this building for about the last year and half.
When the for sale sign went up in the yard we were probably one of five people that made pretty serious attempts to purchase it. We have qualifications where this project is nothing beyond our scope of expertise, we're prepared to do it and to call City guidelines and do what we need to do to bring it to taxable property.

Clyde Edwards: Mrs. Schneider, do you have some comments?

Lynn Schneider: 101 Ute Cove, Yes, I have been in most, probably 90% of the discussions with Barbara Wilson, who is the listing agent of this property. In discussion with Mr. Fonteno's attorney, who I have spoken to, I've not spoken to Mr. Fonteno, it has been through a bad divorce, both of them are unwilling to talk to each other, however the agent has been able to contact his wife and she was able to sign the contract knowing what the circumstances of the situation were.
They are both down in Dallas, very busy, they would not appear, they told the agent, Barbara Wilson, to more or less have us to be present at the meeting and let them know that by showing you or proving to you that we have a signed contract that their extensions are to let us take over the property and do what we've got to do to it without them having to appear or be present, which is their own decision, I do not understand why they wouldn't, but they won't even meet with us right now.
If you need to see a copy of the contract to prove their signatures or whatever, but we'd like to find out as soon as possible what is necessary to get this going.

David Shershen: 166 Kingswood, As chairman of the board, I was wondering if we could take a short break.

Clyde Edwards: Lets bring the meeting back to order. Due to some legal problems and due to lack of comuncations I'm going to ask the board to adjourn the meeting until further notice and we need to get some clarification not only from the council but we also have possibility of influence peddling on the committee. So, we're going to call the meeting to adjourn and as soon as these get worked out we'll reset a meeting. I'm going to make a motion that we adjourn.

II. APPROVAL OF MINUTES.

Rod Courtney moved to approve the minutes of the meeting held on August 19, 1996. Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

Chairman Clyde Edwards removed himself as Chairman at 7:05 p.m. The meeting is now chaired by Vice-Chairman, Frances Poteet. Frank Barnard was then seated as a voting member of the board.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: DISCUSSION AND CONSIDERATION REGARDING PETITION OF BRUCE MARTIN REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.170 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO EXTERIOR SURFACES OF STRUCTURES IN DISTRICT R-1-7200 SHALL CONSIST OF APPROVED MASONRY MATERIALS COVERING NO LESS THAN EIGHTY PERCENT OF TOTAL EXTERIOR SURFACES EXCLUSIVE OF WINDOWS, DOORS, GABLES, AND SECOND STORY AT 707 N. SHADY SHORES ROAD.

Mayor Jerry McCutcheon asked Frank Barnard to step down because of conflict of interest and have Ken Stapleton fill in the alternate position. Mayor McCutcheon said he would be glad to discuss it with Frank first.

The Board of Adjustment called a recess at 7:07 p.m.

The Board of Adjustment reconvened at 7:15 p.m.

Mayor McCutcheon said after talking with Mr. Barnard, he did not think there would be a conflict.

Bruce Martin, 707 N. Shady Shores Rd., stated approximately two months ago, he was granted a building permit for construction for a lofting shed for my animals on my property. The property is located on 15 acres. The building in question will be located on the back portion of the property, no closer than 146 feet off the back property line to the west, no nearer than 65 feet to the north side of the property, no closer than 123 feet from the south side of the property. I have presented to you a letter from our veterinarian regarding the situation with masonry versus metal. The metal overall is much safer for the horses. Our main concern is naturally the safety of our animals. This is a shed. It is a three-sided building with a dirt floor.

Ken Stapleton, 511 Ridgewood, stated that I am an alternate on this board. I have studied this package and although I am not seated tonight, I feel compelled to let you know my feelings about this matter. The definition of a building is an enclosed structure. This structure is a three-sided structure. I do not think a variance was needed in this case.

Linwood Gilliland, 703 Payton St., stated that I am on the Denton Central Appraisal District and Mr. Martin's property is considered agricultural. You can not have horses in an R-1-7200, because you do not have an acre and a half. You can not build a barn in R-1-7200, because it has to be 150 feet from your house. We can have agricultural land in each one of these zones but we can not have agricultural use in R-1-7200, R-1-10,000 or R-1-6000.

Garry Bills, 605 Lake Dr., stated that he drove out to Mr. Martin's property to look at the new structure; and the structures that he is replacing. The structure is in total keeping with the structures that are already out there.

Carolyn Green, 201 N. Shady Shores Rd., stated I have been out to Mr. Martin's several times. I really don't think he should have had to file for this variance, because the sheds are on what is considered agricultural property. I think it is ludicrous to think that with the value of property that Mr. Martin has that he would put anything on that property that would detract from the value of that property. He is a successful businessman. A mistake was made, a building permit was issued, an honest mistake, but for him to have to come and ask for a variance when it is not clear in the code book.

Mark Wetherell, 757 Winding Oak Bend, stated our property backs up to Bruce Martins lot. The structure that he has built is just to the north of our house. It is a very nice structure. It serves as a shed to shelter the horses. Structurally it is very sound. We have no objections to it.

Karla Killingsworth, 759 Winding Oak Bend, stated that we also back up to Mr. Martin's property. We have no problem with this shed, as a matter of fact we like it, because the horses come in and we get to see them. I just ditto what my neighbor just said.

Bonnie Brown Garcia, 427 S. Denton Dr., stated that I don't live anywhere near Mr. Martin but this is just an example of how Planning and Zoning and City Council needs to look at some of our zoning ordinances. Mr. Martin's property is agricultural. He has horses, and as horse owner, I do know that metal is much safer than brick, so I endorse that he be allowed to do that. He should not have even had to be here. I would appreciate, if you would vote in favor of it.

Bobby Shikle, 712 Thompson Dr., stated that I would just like to point out the fact, that there are neighbors here from Bruce Martins neighborhood, that have no complaint on what he is doing and as far as my feeling, the neighborhood should belong to the neighborhood.

Chris Curry, 212 Hillcrest, stated that I ask each of you to take a drive through The Colony, toward Frisco and take a look at the Phillips Ranch. It has 76 horse stalls on it, such as he has got built here but they are built out of masonry and they raise high dollar race horses. You set zoning ordinances to establish the way the growth needs to be in the community. In order to grant a variance to a zoning ordinance, first, you have to show a hardship, not a self-imposed hardship. Here I don't know that there is a hardship, just because he has built the building before. I just ask that you uphold the zoning that is placed on that property.

Clyde Edwards, 108 Dobbs Rd. stated that he is on the north side of Mr. Martin's property. There have been some truths, half truths, untruths and some down right denials of the facts in the situation. The zoning map does not say anything about agriculture. It says R-1-7200. To have an agricultural exemption, you have to be in business for profit, you can not get an agricultural exemption, just because you have a horse on your property. The permit was issued in error. Ignorance of the law, is not a reason for breaking the law. In this case, I do not think it was ignorance. I think there was an opportunity and a window open and Mr. Martin got a permit. It is very plain that it is an accessory building and/or a barn. It does not say in the code a lofting shed. It has changed from a stable, to a barn, to now a lofting shed. I think, if Mr. Martin wants to be a member of this community and wants to be on the council, he took an oath to up hold the laws of this community. It is obvious a variance is not required. Anywhere in the code a building is a building, it doesn't say whether it has a ten-foot door, a twenty-foot door or a garage door. I think as a group, it is imperative that you follow the letter of the law and do not issue a variance.

Bob Davis, 68 Lake Ridge, stated I believe that Mr. Martin has a beautiful place. I am sure that this is a beautiful building. In days past, people who wanted to walk around the laws would walk up to the Mayor and say give me an exception to this. I do not think that somebody from one side of town should complain about somebody from the other side of town. It should be a neighbor that complains. Not all citizens of Lake Dallas get a special kind of deal. We are trying to change all that. I recommend that you do not show special favoritism to a person who should have known the ordinances. We either need to live by the ordinances, or change the ordinances. I think, that if you pass in favor of this, I think there is a lawsuit in the making. You cannot show favoritism.

Clyde Edwards stated that one think he did not address was the veterinarian. I talk to Mr. Willard and he informed me that his operating room was masonry. I talked to the two local veterinarians in town and they said the same thing, that masonry was preferred.

Mayor Jerry McCutcheon, 317 Carlisle, stated that this has gotten to be a political forum here and it is not. You have one issue to discuss and that is whether to grant a variance on a building regardless of whether he is a council member or he is the Mayor of Lake Dallas or whether he is the President of the Board of Adjustment. You have a variance applied for here, based on some numbers and some facts that have been presented , all this political stuff has been thrown in it. It originally came to me, that there was a problem with this building. I stopped the construction on it based on looking at the ordinance. In my opinion the ordinance was clear, that it said all buildings. The ordinance does not differentiate what type of building, so I stopped the construction. I talked to the city attorney and he stated that Mr. Martin needed to come before the Board of Adjustment, the City Attorney also advised me to ask Clyde Edwards to step down. I just want you to stick to the facts.

Bruce Martin stated that this is strictly for public information and not specifically for the Board of Adjustment. There is innuendo that has been made by Mr. Edwards and Mr. Davis that there was a special deal made. There was not. There was no lies involved at all, Clyde you know the background, you know the basis. We had a meeting, you, Jerry and myself. We went over the entire background and for you to distort it, and claim that there was something other than that, I take personal offense to, and that is for public record.

Clyde Edwards stated that this is for public record to. I resent the fact that you have gone behind my back and tried to convenience people that you are right and you knew all along that you had to come before the Board of Adjustment for a variance and you thought you got a free ride Bruce.

Bruce Martin replied that is incorrect Clyde, that is absolutely incorrect.

Linwood Gilliland stated that he has been on the City Council for 10 years and the Planning and Zoning for quite a few years. Mr. Martin was on the Council whenever that decision was made regarding masonry. It all started when Bright Ideas bricked their building and a lot of people were unhappy with the American Legion building. That is how we came up with 80% masonry on all sides. Mr. Martin came in and got a permit, because they gave him a permit, after discussion about the permit it was total confusion on what happens in agricultural. We do need to clarify the ordinances and we are in the process of doing that.

Bob Davis stated that this group needs to consider what has been said. You need to consider one issue. Granted I do not know what a lot of those ordinances say, but I will tell you this, if I did know what these ordinances say and I was sitting on the Planning and Zoning Commission or Board of Adjustment, I sure as heck would have raised my hand along time ago and said hey some of these ordinances are flat out stupid. You have one issue to decide, it is very clear in the ordinance book, that the building is not allowed and that person who built that building should have known that it was not allowed.

Ken Stapleton stated that he would like to point out to Mr. Davis that the purpose of this board is to cover issues that are not black and white situations, as he thinks all ordinances can be. The council in their wisdom, set up this board, to cover these gray areas and I feel this is a very gray area. I do not feel anyone in this town can live by a strict black and white set of rules. We have to have this board for that purpose alone.

Bonnie Brown Garcia stated that she would like to remind everybody that we should appreciate each others opinion and not get mad at each other and say that so and so is a jerk wad or whatever. We should respect each others varied opinions right or wrong. We each are entitled to them as Americans and it is very important that this type of process goes on no matter what side of the fence you are on right now.

Margaret Tisdale, 509 Howard Dr., stated that they wanted to build a metal building at one time. We have since put up a masonry building. I believe that if this man wants a metal building, he should be able to do so in the zoning that he is in. I have seen his place, I think it is beautiful. I have no objections at all to this metal building.

James Stanford, 311 Dolphin, stated that he did not know where this place was until he asked one of these gentlemen back here. I have been by that place a bunch of times, it has always looked neat and clean. I don't see anything wrong with what he is putting up.

Carolyn Green stated that she thought the whole purpose of the Board of Adjustment was to give a variance on an ordinance. That is what I thought your purpose was. That is why we are here, to give our opinions and leave it to your wisdom to make a decision. A variance means exactly what it says, you are varying from that ordinance because the Board of Adjustment thinks that there is sufficient cause to allow someone to vary from that ordinance.

Close public hearing.

IV. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rusty Meadows moved to approve the petition of Bruce Martin requesting a variance from Chapter 18.12.170 of the Municipal Code relative to exterior surfaces of structures in district R-1-7200 at 707 N. I. ROLL CALL.

Chairman Clyde Edwards called the meeting to order at 7:00 P.M. and noted that all members were present except Vice-Chairman Frances Poteet and Celesta Douglas.

II. APPROVAL OF MINUTES-ACTION.

Rod Courtney moved to approve the minutes of the meeting held on July 15, 1996. Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: DISCUSSION AND CONSIDERATION REGARDING PETITION OF JAMES L. TIPS REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.14.090 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO LOT WIDTH AT 715A GLEN RHEA.

Building Inspector Truman Harp stated that as far as the square footage and the home and the home itself, it is very properly presented except for the setbacks to each side. What we need to find out is whether or not you are willing consider the eaves of the house as part of the structure or go to the nine foot that he has got, if we delete the overhang as part of the premises.

James L. Tips, 125 N. Hill, Lewisville stated that his understanding of the meeting is not because of the setbacks but because of the width of the lot, the city guidelines state that the width of the lot should be sixty feet. My understanding of the meeting, the only issue is that I can not build on a fifty foot lot. The lot was plated prior to the ordinance of sixty feet.

Linwood Gilliland, 703 Peyton St., stated that I guess I am not fully understanding what you are talking about as far as the eaves and the overhangs. If he meets all the setbacks then what is the problem?

Scott Sisco, 715 Glen Rhea, stated that the only thing he has to say about it is that it would be hard for him to carry a 10x4 down the side of his house. I think it would be a fire hazard. I am probably three or four feet from the property line.

Roger Landry, 713 Glen Rhea, stated that the purpose of a couple of ordinances you got before you is fire prevention and with both of their eaves, none exist. I don't think we should make that variance in residential districts where fire could kill.

Alfred Mayo, 717 Glen Rhea, stated that I am just here to say what ever pertains to me, but I am not an immediate neighbor. My lot is sixty feet. My house is all vinyl, I am not worried about a fire, I just came to check on it.

Close Public Hearing.

IV. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rod Courtney moved that the board consider not only approving it because it does not necessary to be approved but to request that his $250.00 dollars be returned, it was not required in the first place.

Clyde Edwards stated that he would have to appeal to the city council on that, we do not have the authority to make that available to him but he can appeal that.

Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

V. PUBLIC HEARING: DISCUSSION AND CONSIDERATION REGARDING PETITION OF BONNIE BROWN GARCIA REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.42.120 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO DISTRICT R-1-4000-LOT AREA PER FAMILY AND CHAPTER 18.42.130 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO DISTRICT R-1-4000-MINIMUM DWELLING SIZE AT 427 S. DENTON DRIVE, BROWN TRAILER PARK.

Building Inspector, Truman Harp stated that the minimum square footage of a mobile home is 780 square foot. This individual would like to put a 480 square foot mobile home on this lot. This in my opinion as far as the lot size is concerned would be satisfactory.

Bonnie Brown Garcia, stated that the lot was actually designed for a forty-eight or fifty foot length mobile home. It was designed for a ten foot or twelve foot wide mobile home. That is exactly what we are asking for the variance today. It will not affect anyone outside the park.

Carolyn Green, 201 N. Shady Shores, stated that Brown Mobile Home Park was designed for people to come in, bring their camping trailers, what I mean by campers is eight footers and ten footers and come in from Dallas or wherever on weekends. When they passed the mobile home ordinances, they didn't take that in to consideration. I would recommend that you allow this variance.

Linwood Gilliland , 703 Peyton, stated that certain size travel trailers and mobile homes are not taxable. The Planning and Zoning Commission are working on changing the mobile home ordinances.

David Shershen, 166 Kingswood, stated that he would like the Board of Adjustment to take in consideration that Mrs. Browns mother's retirement income is based on 14 to 15% margin on having all the lots filled or not having the lots filled. I would hope that the Board of Adjustment would be open minded to what is being presented tonight.

Close Public Hearing.

VI. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Frank Barnard moved to approve a variance of a minimum of 480 square feet on Lot #9 only at 427 S. Denton Dr. Rod Courtney seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

VII. ADJOURNMENT.

Rusty Meadows moved to adjourn the meeting. Rod Courtney seconded the motion and it carried unanimously. The meeting adjourned at 7:50 p.m.

III. DISCUSSION & CONSIDERATION REGARDING PETITION OF GERI ABRAMS REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 15.16.250 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO SIGN DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION AT 1200 S. STEMMONS - ACTION.

Geri Abrams, representing Whitco Outdoor Advertising stated that she is requesting a variance for height because, the current ordinance calls for 35 feet overall height for billboard type advertising signs. We are requesting that we be allowed to raise our sign to an overall height of 60 feet to gain clear visibility on both faces of the sign. The south face is currently blocked by the Lake Cities State Bank sign. The north face is blocked by an adjacent tree on a vacant lot. We just need to raise our sign so that we can get good visibility for our advertisers.

Mayor Jerry McCutcheon stated that the council does have a moratorium on all sign permits at this time. Every billboard sign that we have in this town was erected illegally. They are illegal according to the city ordinance. Based on the advise of the city attorney, because of the expenditure of the larger signs on the highway, we will not ask them to take them down due to the cost.

Rusty Meadows moved to deny the petition of Geri Abrams requesting a variance from Chapter 15.16.250 of the Municipal Code relative to sign design and construction at 1200 S. Stemmons. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

IV. ADJOURNMENT-ACTION.

Rusty Meadows moved to adjourn the meeting. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously. The meeting adjourned at 7:14 p.m.

I. ROLL CALL.

Chairman Clyde Edwards called the meeting to order at 7:15 P.M. and noted that a quorum was present.

II. APPROVAL OF MINUTES.

Frank Barnard moved to approve the minutes of the meetings held in April, 1996. Ken Stapleton seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF LURA GREEN REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.14.110 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO OFF-STREET PARKING AT 721 GLEN RHEA.

Bob Willis stated that the Green's have applied for a building permit to close in their carport in order to have another bedroom and to add to the dining area. Mr. Willis stated he was unable to approve the building permit because of Chapter 18.14.110 of the Municipal Code requiring two off-street covered parking spaces.

Lura Green, 721 Glen Rhea, stated they would like to convert two-thirds of their carport into a bedroom and one-third into additional dining space. Mrs. Green stated that according to the R-1-6000 district their square footage is below the required minimum dwelling space of 1200. Their living space is currently 720 square feet and they would like to provide their fourteen year old male and their thirteen year old female, who currently share a bedroom, with their own room. They could park two vehicles on their gravel driveway, but it is not covered.

Don Patterson, 719 Glen Rhea, stated he has no objections the Green's request.

Close Public Hearing.

IV. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Clyde Edwards asked if they could add to the rear of the home.

Bill Green, 721 Glen Rhea, stated that this would reduce the size of their yard, and a contractor has given them a bid on adding to the rear of their home, but it would be a lot more expensive and the addition to the rear would not add to their dining space.

Frances Poteet stated their proposal is in keeping with the other homes on the street.

Frank Barnard moved to approve the petition of Lura Green requesting a variance from Chapter 18.14.110 of the Municipal Code relative to off-street parking at 721 Glen Rhea, with the addition of a covered carport so that two cars can be parked side by side. Motion denied for lack of second.

Ken Stapleton asked if a variance can be approved with stipulations.

Clyde Edwards replied yes.

Frank Barnard moved to approve the petition of Lura Green requesting a variance from Chapter 18.14.110 of the Municipal Code relative to off-street parking at 721 Glen Rhea, with the addition of a covered carport so that two cars can be parked side by side. Ken Stapleton seconded the motion and it carried with Celesta Douglas opposed.

V. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF PULTE HOMES REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.120 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO BUILDING SETBACKS AT 320 THOUSAND OAKS DRIVE.

Edward Brussel, 3008 McBee Drive, Plano, Texas, representing Pulte Homes, is requesting to place a single story home on the lot that will exceed the rear building line on the right rear corner by four feet, four inches.

Bob Willis stated that he had just noticed that the plot plan shows a ten foot side set back on the street side and it should be fifteen feet.

Janis Woodbury, 321 Georgian Oak, stated that she is in favor of the variance request.

Close Public Hearing.

VI. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

France Poteet moved to approve the petition of Pulte Homes requesting a variance from Chapter 18.12.120 of the Municipal Code relative to building setbacks at 320 Thousand Oaks Drive, with the requirement that the home be moved to allow for a fifteen foot side set back on the street side. Frank Barnard seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

Edward Brussel, 3008 McBee, Plano, Texas, representing Pulte Homes, is requesting a variance on the rear set back at the left rear corner as the home will exceed the rear building line by three feet, seven inches. They have tried to move or flip the home, but it also would not meet all set back requirements.

Close Public Hearing.

VIII. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Ken Stapleton moved to approve the petition of Pulte Homes requesting a variance from Chapter 18.12.120 of the Municipal Code relative to building setbacks at 322 Thousand Oaks Drive. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

I. ROLL CALL.

Chairman Clyde Edwards called the meeting to order at 7:05 P.M. and noted that Frances Poteet and Celesta Douglas were absent.

II. APPROVAL OF MINUTES-ACTION.

Rod Courtney moved to approve the minutes of the meeting held on March 26, 1996 with the following corrections: Section V. Paragraph 4 change "1978" to "1988" and Section VI. Paragraph 23 change the word "scribe" to "scrap". Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF GENERAL HOMES REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.110 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO BUILDING SETBACKS AT 736 OAK DALE AVENUE.

Building Inspector Bob Willis stated that General Homes was requesting this variance due to the odd shape of the lot. It is a corner lot. There is a fifteen (15) foot required setback on the side property and it would hang over on the right rear corner nine (9) inches at that point. The lot is narrower at the rear portion than it is in the front.

Steve Mercks representing General Homes stated that this is the smallest floor plan we offer for that lot. Everything else is bigger and would hang over a little bit more. It is a two story with about two thousand square feet.

Robert Lough, 738 Oak Dale asked if it was going to be exactly seven foot to his property line?

Clyde Edwards replied that according to the plat it is seven feet to the building line.

Robert Lough asked if they will come out and re-survey before they start setting up their slabs, because if it is at seven feet it is right at the minimum?

Clyde Edwards replied yes, that is why we have a Code Enforcement Officer. Once they set their stakes and their forms for their foundation, then he comes out and re-measures it at that point. It has got to meet all the standards.

Robert Lough asked if the air conditioning would make a difference on the setbacks?

Clyde Edwards replied that air conditioning is not considered part of the building, it is considered an accessory.

Robert Lough asked if the Board knew which side of the house the air conditioning would sit?

Clyde Edwards asked Mr. Mercks and Bob Willis on which side of the house the air conditioning unit would sit.

Mr. Mercks and Mr. Willis both replied that it would sit on the street side, the opposite side of Mr. Lough's house.

Close public hearing.

IV. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rusty Meadows moved to approve the petition of General Homes requesting a variance from Chapter 18.12.110 of the Municipal Code relative to building setbacks at 736 Oak Dale Avenue. Ken Stapleton seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

V. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF TERRI MCCOOL WITH H & W UTILITY CONTRACTORS REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.24.100 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO EXTERIOR SURFACES OF STRUCTURES AT 301-307 MAIN STREET.

Building Inspector Bob Willis stated this building is a tool shed, accessory building. There is presently an eight (8) foot privacy fence in front of it already. The roof-line can barely be seen over the fence. The main building is stucco to comply with the masonry requirements.

Mike Hayes, President of H & W Utilities stated that as Bob says the roof-line is barely over the privacy fence. When we first came to Lake Dallas and submitted our original site plan, it wasn't to much after that, we applied for a permit for our tool shop. Basically what happened, is we had our shop, due to safety and due to the person who was going to build our steel erector. He was called on another job. He is a union steel man. We have since gotten him back and we were actually starting to kind of go along. We then went down to City Hall to see Bob and found out that our permit from the original one we had was no longer a viable permit. So we went back down and had to pay more fees. When we did that, we found out that since the time we had originally done that there had been an ordinance change. Basically our big thing, we have spent thirteen thousand dollars up to this point on our tool shop. We got verbal quotes of about four thousand dollars to finish getting it erected. The biggest problem that we have is this new ordinance, we have to do eighty percent masonry under the new ordinance of the whole building. We have gotten several quotes and that includes another six thousand dollars. The cost of this tool shop has become horribly expensive.

Close public hearing.

VI. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rod Courtney moved to approve the petition of Teri McCool with H & W Utility Contractors requesting a variance from Chapter 18.24.100 of the Municipal Code relative to exterior surfaces of structures at 301-307 Main Street. Ken Stapleton seconded the motion and it failed with Rusty Meadows and Frank Barnard opposed resulting in a tie vote. Chairman Clyde Edwards was required to vote in order to break the tie. He was also opposed. The variance was denied.

VII. ADJOURNMENT-ACTION.

Rusty Meadows moved to adjourn the meeting. Frank Barnard seconded the motion and it carried unanimously. The meeting adjourned at 8:25 P.M.

II. PUBLIC HEARING: RECONSIDER THE PETITION OF FRANK BARNARD REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.030 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO HOME OCCUPATIONS AT 328 BETCHAN STREET.

Frank Barnard, 328 Betchan Street, presented the Board of Adjustment a signed letter requesting the Board to rescind the decision of the variance board for the variance given for 328 Betchan Street.

Clyde Edwards requested that Frank Barnard sign the letter again so that the city secretary could notarize the letter.

Close Public Hearing.

III. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rod Courtney stated that he understood that the decision the Board of Adjustment made was not under their jurisdiction. It should have been the responsibility of the City Council to take action, because it had to do with zoning and we can not rezone. Mr. Courtney stated since the Board did not have the authority to make a decision on the request he agrees the Board should consider rescinding the decision.

Frances Poteet moved to retract the decision granting the variance to Frank Barnard at 328 Betchan Street, the reason the variance was granted was so Frank Barnard could continue his business in his home, and recommending the request go to the City Council for action. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF GENERAL HOMES REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.120 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO BUILDING SETBACKS AT 319 ASHLEY OAK.

Building Inspector Bob Willis stated that due to the odd shape of the lot at this location, General Homes is asking for a variance so that they can build a normal home. It is just a little bit over the length. General Homes is requesting a variance on the rear yard setback from the required thirty feet to a twenty-two foot, five inch setback.

Larry Rice representing General Homes stated that he is requesting a variance due to 110 foot property line on the left side. It is an unusual lot. It is just a little bit over on the length.

Close public hearing.

IV. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rod Courtney moved to approve the petition of General Homes requesting a variance from Chapter 18.12.120 of the Municipal Code relative to building setbacks at 319 Ashley Oaks. Celesta

Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

V. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF FRANK BARNARD REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.030 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO HOME OCCUPATIONS AT 328 BETCHAN STREET.

Building Inspector Bob Willis stated that this is a petition from Frank Barnard for operating a home occupation at his place of residence. It was brought to my attention that he was operating a business in a residential area. I did sent out a letter to him. Due to that letter, he has come here to ask for a variance to operate his business out of a residential area.

Frank Barnard, 328 Betchan Street stated that he brought photos of his property for the Board to look at. My wife and I are requesting a variance for the property at 328 Betchan. Our property has been used for the same purpose for approximately eleven years. Approval was given by Mayor Bill Honse prior to purchasing with this intent. As you can see in the pictures, we have made approvements. The roof was leaking, the porch falling, down, windows missing, no heat and the foundation was washed out. You can see the obstacles we faced when trying to secure a loan. The pictures reveal not a very desirable area for bank investors. There is railroad property of 12 acres that will some day surely be some kind of commercial business, which is on two sides of our property. While living on Betchan Street for eleven years, a variance change was made for the Rainbow Daycare with traffic of nearly 40 cars each morning and evening. Traffic from the city equipment yard will continue Monday through Friday across the street from the home. We also have a multi-family apartment just down the street. On the corner of Betchan and Main there is an auto repair shop now. Yes, it has been nonconforming use with permission, but without paperwork to prove it now. It has been okay to use this property all this time. I have even repaired Mayor McCutcheons home before he was Mayor and given bids on his Carlisle home since he has been Mayor. Also, I have done repairs and given bids to City Hall for city buildings including the community center. There has been no problem. Politics change as well as time and people, this is why we are in this situation requiring us to request a variance, so there will be no more future problems. With all the examples, my wife and I believe that we have improved the environment of Betchan Street. Our goodness has only been for the good of all.

Mr. Forgey, 352 Betchan Street stated that he owns the property next door to these people. I have given the City of Lake Dallas a list of zoning violations that has been going on ever since he have been there. I don't think that any street that is 99 percent homes should be allowed to have and the garage he is talking about at Main and Betchan is facing Main. He still stores all kind of trash and junk on his lot, which is a violation. I gave the city a list of fourteen violations. These are accurate, I swear for them to be the truth and nothing but the truth. His property on Betchan Dr. is too small for operations. It does not supply ample room for delivery trucks. He has illegal parking of vehicles on his yard. Illegal office building too close to property line. He does not have this office building in his home. He has a secretary and two other employees full time. There are two metal buildings too close to the property line on the back of his lot. They throw trash over the back fence on the railroad property. He has illegal storage and selling of firewood on railroad property. He has blocked the street at times with freight trucks and trailers on dangerous curves. It is a very dangerous curve on both of those curves. He stores junk air conditioners and trash on property for long periods of time creating a real health hazard. He is storing an old underground butane gas tank in his backyard, which is a very dangerous item. He is storing building materials on his yard, such as lumber, windows and doors. His home is a fire hazard, he has closed up all his outside doors but one. His storage buildings are to close to the house, they are very unsafe.

Dorothy Forgey, 352 Betchan stated that this is just not a mom and pop operation where the wife answers the phone and the man throws a few tools in his truck and goes. This man has three full time employees, sometimes more in the summer. He has five trucks, one car, a long trailer, a large boat and his employees also have vehicles that they come to work in. It's just cars and trucks rolling like a bee hive all day long. There is not enough room. He has all kind of salesmen and delivery trucks from UPS to hugh freight lines. He has to move some of these existing vehicles out to his curb to the side of the road, sometimes blocking the entire road for these hugh freight trucks to get into his driveway. His driveway is right on the curb. Very bad. Lot more traffic all the time. He does store the old air conditioners and junk several months at a time. However, in preparation for this meeting, he has hauled off about 10 loads of trash and air conditioners. All of this devalues our property and makes it very hard or almost impossible to sell. I don't think this is a hardship factor for him. As he could have this elsewhere as he has purchased land on Sargent, and has purchased rental property. His competitors don't have this same advantage. We have been forced to tolerate this, and it is true we have not complained to Mr. McCutcheon because we complained to Mr. Honse all the time that we lived there. We bought this property in 1978. We complained and it did no good. We had a code enforcement officer who was a close friend of Mr. Barnard's, who let him do anything he wanted to do and we would very much like our residence back. Thank you for listening.

Chairman Clyde Edwards stated that for the record we have a notarized complaint or opposition from Mrs. Johnny J. Vinson, 222 Betchan Dr., Lake Dallas. Her comments are I am against Mr. Barnard having a variance on his property on Betchan Drive.

Frank Barnard stated that he does appreciate that his neighbors want to keep the area clean, nice and kept up with traffic kept out. We do not have our equipment delivered. My wife said that she does buy stuff from a catalog and will continue to have UPS deliver it. We do have a lawn service company come in and cut the grass. They do have a long trailer. My fishing boat is in the yard and sometimes my flat trailer.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked Mr. Barnard if UPS is applicable to UPS?

Frank Barnard stated that UPS is the only large trucks that I know of. I own a twenty four foot truck. It has never been a problem, I don't keep it there.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked Mr. Barnard to explain to the Board as to what vehicles were illegally parked on his yard.

Frank Barnard stated that no cars were illegally parked in his yard, except his five foot trailer, which he will keep in the back and his boat. Those are the only two items. The office building is not too close to the property line. It is not illegal, these buildings are the same distance as Mrs. Vinson's and other examples just behind my office. These buildings are portable, they are not tied back or permanent structures. There is nothing permanent to them. They are not metal and are not against code. I set all my fences in, so it is deceiving as far as distance on the back of the property line. I am two and half foot off of my property line. As far as the wood, it is not mine. The tree fell down in a wind storm and the city yard cut what they wanted and did not have a big enough saw to cut, or the time. I talked to Johnny. He took what he could off of there or what he wanted and I found somebody to cut the tree at no charge to the city or to me. That same man has it there and is asking forty dollars for it and it is just sitting there but if that is what is bothering them I can definitely move it or have him move it and take it where he wants.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked who the man was?

Frank Barnard replied Alfredo Herendez out of Lewisville.

Mrs. Forgey stated that his name is Alfredo Herrea out of Lewisville.

Frank Barnard stated that he would continue to use UPS just like any other citizen.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked Mr. Barnard if he has had any tractor trailers come on to his property or deliver anything?

Mr. Barnard stated that he has done that. On Sunday mornings the Christian Community Center would come by and pick up his air conditioners, but I have quit that totally. I did forget to put out the trash sometimes and probably will forget again, but they are in cans. I have about five or six of them.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked if the trash cans had lids on them and if he considered them a health hazard in his mind?

Frank Barnard replied that the cans have lids on them and I do not consider them a health hazard. I do have a butane tank in my yard and someday my plans are to make a smoker out of it. It is sitting on top of the yard. Ivan Bounds is the one who gave it to me. He had it for years. I have had it for four or five years. My intentions are to make a smoker out of it.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked what size the butane tank is?

Frank Barnard replied that it is five to six feet long and 2 and half feet wide.

Chairman Clyde Edwards replied it is about a 250 gallon tank.

Frank Barnard replied right. It is sitting on top of the ground.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked if there was any gas in it?

Frank Barnard replied that oh no this is an old tank that has been dug up.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked if Mr. Barnard considered this a danger because Mr. Forgey is concerned about danger. Is there any gas or natural gas in the tank? Is that correct?

Mr. Barnard replied that is correct. We have been remodeling our personal house ever since we bought that house. There is a lot of activity when bringing up a house to standards. We work hard to keep things neat. The back door has been in that house ever since we have owned the house. Mrs. Vincent who is not here and Mrs. Dorothy Forgey who is here are actually the people who were born in this house. That is were all this resentment is coming in at.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked him to leave that part out and then asked if he did have a back door?

Frank Barnard replied yes. Mr. Barnard also stated that the closest shed to my house which is my wifes stuff is sixteen feet.

Linda Barnard, 328 Betchan Drive, stated that they bought the house in 1985. Frank started his business then. We were a mom and pop operation even though I was a full time employee and still am a full time employee. I was his secretary, bookkeeper, and everything else to do with his business up until we had our first daughter in 1987. I no longer had time for it.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked Mrs. Barnard if she had any comments on this list of Mr. & Mrs. Forgeys.

Linda Barnard, replied that I am happy that our neighbors keep such a close watch on us. It is nice to know that they keep an eye on how our property looks. We do strive to keep it neat. We did put up a fence to keep our trash in and other peoples trash out. We do not throw trash over our fence.

Frank Barnard stated that I do have my nephew who is a full time employee. I have two vans. One is an extra van in case one breaks. I have ample room to park. I have four thousand square feet of paved driveway there. That is why we picked this particular place in 1985.

Chairman Clyde Edwards stated that he saw a large van with your logo on it on Dallas Drive. He asked if Mr. Barnard owned that property or if he was leasing that spot to park his van.

Frank Barnard replied that he was leasing it.

Mrs. Forgey stated that Mr. Barnard has had freight trucks there. He had to trim a tree once to get it in, to back up into that driveway of his, he had to have that tree trimmed because it keep hitting the freight truck. I don't know the title of the freight cars but it is a big freight company that sometimes delivers there. He might pick up most of it but he still has deliveries there.

Chairman Clyde Edwards stated that he would make a recommendation about your list and it will be turned over to the Code Enforcement Officer. In the future if you have a complaint, we will address these complaints, although it seems like it is all one big package to you, they are kind of separate the variance and some of these items, so we will address these for you and be aware of your complaints.

Mrs. Forgey stated that Mr. Barnard had told her that he had boarded up both of those back doors. Do I believe him then or believe him now? Despite being threatened by him, I am still going to speak up.

Anna Benham, 402 Betchan Drive stated that she did see a large 18 wheeler tractor trailer truck. I can't remember if Frank was there or not. But I do know that they had trouble backing in, they did block the street because it is right on the curve. The tree was in the way and the truck did knock some limbs off the tree. I do know that one time there was a big 18 wheeler that backed in.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked Ms. Benham to take that one step further, is it one time and one time only that you are aware of?

Anna Benham stated that she saw it once but she travels a lot. I am like the energizer bunny, I am going, going, going. I am not there a whole lot.

Mr. Forgey stated that he wanted to thank everybody here that is interested in this proceeding especially you people. I would like to invite you tonight to come down there on Betchan Street and look at this property. I can drive my pick up all around it and show you the violations. There is no way the fire department could get in there if they had to.

Mr. Barnard stated that his wife just pointed out to me that large truck that was in the driveway was the swing set that the Payless people delivered to us.

Close public hearing.

VI. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rod Courtney moved to approve the petition of Frank Barnard requesting a variance from Chapter 18.12.030 of the Municipal Code relative to home occupations at 328 Betchan Street. No Second.

Rusty Meadows stated that the business has been there for approximately eleven years at this point and its never been questioned before as being applicable to the neighborhood. Is this the first time.

Mrs. Forgey said that they did complain, but Mr. Honse would not do anything about it. The only thing he did was make him take his hugh sign down that had his companies name on it. That was all Mr. Honse would do.

Chairman Clyde Edwards stated that what you are saying is that Mr. Honse was cognizant of the fact that Mr. Barnard had a business there?

Mr. Forgey replied evidently yes. I think that everybody realizes that, but we just could not help ourselves, we couldn't do anything about it. It is zoned residential, but he is running a business.

Rod Courtney asked Mrs. Forgey if the property is in better condition now, than it was in when he purchased the property?

Mrs. Forgey replied yes the house itself. They have put siding on it and all.

Elva Pockrus stated this street is absolutely too narrow right in the corner. It is true that they do park a lot of trucks there occasionally. I live directly in front of the house and I see it all.

Frank Barnard stated that he bought the house in 1985 with this intent in mind. There has never been an accident and I am definitely sure that my two trucks would not cause them as far as them being there. There has never been an accident documented there. It has a street light for a night light. Mrs. Pockrus's house faces totally west, my house faces north, the entrance to the impound yard is right directly on her property, so any cause of problems for her would be the impound yard entrance right there on her property. Mine is down the street on the corner. Obviously I can't see her house from my house.

Francis Poteet asked since there is a fence across the front of the property does that prohibit any vehicles from going inside your yard to park or are you parking your vehicles on the street?

Frank Barnard replied no. I guarantee you none of my vans or my personal cars park in that grass.

Francis Poteet asked if all his business is conducted in the vehicle to come there for business parked inside on your property.

Frank Barnard replied yes, there is ample room for parking.

Mrs. Forgey stated that he put the asphalt there and part of that is city right-of-way. It is not all his. Quite bit of it is city right-of-way.

Frank Barnard stated that he went ahead and spent the extra money to put the asphalt all the way across to the street. I went out of my way to make it look good.

Mrs. Forgey stated that she was concerned about whether or not there was a traffic hazard of public use of that street.

Frank Barnard stated that not that he has ever seen. His trucks do not block the street. We do not park in the street. The landscape guy who has his trailer is the only one who parks off to the edge near the shoulder. That is what you are seeing. I can tell him to park in the driveway.

Mr. Forgey stated that Mr. Barnard had the gall to cover a water department sewer man hole in the street and the water department came out and uncovered it. That is just one of the violations. He just takes up half the street with his business. His trucks and everybody elses cars and trucks park on the street right around the curve on both sides of the curve, where if you come out of there just a little bit off center, you would run over something or get run over. That is the gospel truth.

Celesta Douglas asked Mr. Barnard if he worked on the air conditioners in his home?

Frank Barnard replied no. All the air conditioners we do are on someone else's property. All that truck is for is to drive over to somebody else's house. Plus what we get from the supply house we put in the vans. We do not bring air conditioners there to fix what so ever. We do not have people come over and buy parts, we are not a retail at all. We do not want that.

Celesta Douglas asked Mr. Barnard if he does out calls.

Frank Barnard replied that everything is out call. We are out nearly all day long.

Mayor McCutcheon stated this thing got started when I received a complaint on it. Anytime we receive a complaint from a citizen we respond. These people do not even live on Betchan and they complained on it. I have seen people, I don't know if they were just dismantling the scribe metal that they set out for that company or what but I have seen them working on something out there, they may not have been working on, they may have just been disassembling the unit, I do not know what they were doing, I do not have any idea. But that is not the total issue, the city received a complaint on it and we responded to it.

Chairman Clyde Edwards stated that he would implore to Mr. Barnard however this turns out, that is the Boards decision but regardless of whether you get the variance or not, I would implore you to, and I have seen the same thing that Jerry has just addressed and I would implore you not to let that happen in the future whether you get the variance or not. That is really paramount.

Mrs. Pockrus stated that we are not just speaking only of what we have at this time, when we accept this, we are accepting anything that enlarges or gives us a greater traffic or greater problems in the future. It's not only what we have had to accept at this time, but we have to look into the future also.

Chairman Clyde Edwards replied that he agrees with that and what we are trying to do here is establish some boundaries and criteria for what will happen in the future so this will not be ongoing.

Mrs. Pockrus stated that we do not have street way there for anything more than we have and we really don't have for what we do have but if we can't accept the future for what we will get from it, we don't need to accept what we have today.

Councilwoman Thanna Bounds stated that she has lived there since 1968 and was run in the ditch once but it wasn't anything to do with Frank, it was a police car that ran me off the road.

Rusty Meadows stated that it does not appear that he is doing any kind of retail business inside the property. It doesn't appear that there is any kind of work to speak of on the property. The only traffic would be to and from, getting calls and leaving and picking up equipment. Actually I can't see that traffic in and out would be an issue or off street parking to be a major issue since he is not in retail to speak of.

Rod Courtney moved to approve the petition of Frank Barnard requesting a variance from Chapter 18.12.030 of the Municipal Code relative to home occupation at 328 Betchan Street. Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

VII. DISCUSSION AND CONSIDERATION REGARDING PETITION OF GERI ABRAMS REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 15.15.250 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO SIGN DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION AT 1200 S. STEMMONS - ACTION.

Bob Willis, Code Enforcement Officer stated that this was brought forward at the last meeting and was tabled. They want to extend the sign up so it can be seen easier. They did not have enough information at the last meeting.

Geri Abrams representing Whitco Advertising stated that she brought the information that the Board had requested which was pictures and drawings. The trees interfere with the ability to see the sign on the north face of the sign. The Lake Cities Bank Sign interferes with the ability to see on the south face of the sign. All of our signs are designed by a certified engineer from the State of Texas. I did bring a specification sheet showing the design and construction of the sign. The sign was originally constructed in October 1984. The surrounding area has changed quite a bit since then. We are requesting sixty feet.

Close public hearing.

Celesta Douglas moved to deny the petition of Geri Abrams requesting a variance from Chapter 15.15.250 of The Municipal Code relative to sign design and construction at 1200 S. Stemmons Rod Courtney seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

VIII. DISCUSSION AND CONSIDERATION REGARDING PETITION OF BOB WILLIS REQUESTING THE TERMINATION OF A NONCONFORMING USE BASED ON CHAPTER 18.46.040 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO JURISDICTION AND CHAPTER 18.46.040(C) RELATIVE TO DISCONTINUANCE OF A NONCONFORMING USE AT 121 NORTH LAKEVIEW DRIVE-ACTION.

Bob Willis, Code Enforcement Officer stated that this was tabled from the last meeting because the Board wanted more information from the owner and occupant and the owner of the property was ill at the time.

Barbara Harris, owner of the property brought the information that Bob Willis and the Board of Adjustment had requested. She brought the deed. She bought the property in 1981. I can not tell you the amount we paid for it. I do not know.

Lori Robillard brought the receipts for any improvements that has been made to the property and information showing labor and other costs involved in the improvement. She also stated that the deed Ms. Harris gave to the Board of Adjustment was for the land and not the trailer. The trailer was on the land when Ms. Harris bought the property.

Chairman Clyde Edwards stated that the land in 1994 was appraised at $12,189.00. Do you agree with that? Do you think it is worth more than that?

Ms. Harris replied she would not know.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked if Ms. Harris if she has made any improvements to that property since 1994.

Ms. Harris replied only what Ms. Robillard has done to the small trailer.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked if she had made any additional investments in that property since 1994?

Ms. Harris replied no.

Lori Robillard stated that she brought the receipts that the Board of Adjustment had requested.

Chairman Clyde Edwards stated that Ms. Robillards receipts came to about $5,100.00 dollars. Ms. Robillard you need to try and recollect what the plumbing and electrical was. You need to give us a really close guess at this point. Chairman Clyde Edwards asked what the labor cost was?

Lori Robillard replied that she worked eight months on it. She stated that it cost her about $6,000.00 dollars. That includes hauling, dumping, moving and everything.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked what her gas and electrical cost? What did you pay to have that work done?

Lori Robillard replied that the electrical box cost $100.00 and the labor was free.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked about the gas and the plumber?

Lori Robillard replied that the plumber charged about $190.00 dollars and that she dug the ditch.

Chairman Clyde Edwards stated that the materials came up to $5,100 dollars and that labor is going to be about $6,300 dollars. I would like to introduce that the current appraised value is $13,303.00 dollars. That is from the 1995 tax rolls. We don't have an original figure for the investment but Ms. Robillard has invested approximately $11,400.00 dollars. I am going to ask our Attorney to tell us what our options are.

City Attorney David Berman stated that if you have a nonconforming use or structure which can be nonconforming use of land or structure you can require that the use be terminated. Number one you can deny the application by the city. Number two if you deny the application by the city, I guess you are condoning

it. Your third alternative is to require that the structure be modified so that it is in compliance with the ordinances, subject to a termination. If you discontinue the nonconforming use you are required by city ordinance and state law to come up with some kind of amortization that would allow the owner to re-group their investment and property value.

Close public hearing.

Rod Courtney moved to deny the petition of Bob Willis requesting the termination of a nonconforming use based on Chapter 18.46.040 of the Municipal Code relative to jurisdiction and Chapter 18.45.040(C) relative to discontinuance of a nonconforming use at 121 North Lakeview Drive. Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

Rod Courtney asked what did we do?

IX. ADJOURNMENT-ACTION.

Rusty Meadows moved to adjourn the meeting. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously. The meeting adjourned at 9:26 P.M.

BARBARA STARKEY, CITY SECRETARY

MEMBERS ABSENT:

I. ROLL CALL.

Chairman Rodney Courtney called the meeting to order at 7:00 P.M. and noted that all members were present.

II. APPROVAL OF MINUTES-ACTION.

Clyde Edwards moved to amend the minutes of December 21, 1995 to deny the petition of Bob Willis requesting the termination of nonconforming use based on Chapter 18.32.030, incorrect conclusion of the code based on the decision of the Board, on the property located at 121 North Lakeview Drive. Frances Poteet seconded the motion and it carried unanimously. Rusty Meadows moved to correct Section VIII by changing the word "contingent" to "consensus". Clyde Edwards seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF PULTE HOMES REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.120 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO BUILDING SETBACKS AT 749 CEDAR LEAF CIRCLE.

Bob Willis, Code Enforcement Officer, stated that this is Phase 2 of Thousand Oaks Subdivision, the property is at Block H, Lot 11, the lot is located in a cul-de-sac and is not large enough to accommodate the homes that they presently have formatted.

Ed Wilson representing Pulte Homes stated that as Bob said we have a lot on Cedar Leaf Circle that due to the shape of the lot makes it difficult to get a house on that lot without going over the rear setbacks, this is a vacant lot at this time, there is nothing on the lot, nothing has been done to it at this point. The plan that we had proposed to put on there is the 5307 plan and it exceeds the rear building set back by approximately six feet. We have found another plan and it still exceeds the rear setbacks but not quite as much. This plan is approximately a foot and a half more shallow than the 5307 plan, this is the 4288 plan and it exceeds the rear set back on the left side by four feet and the right corner exceeds by three feet, three inches, the only additional portion of the house that extends beyond that point is the fireplace, where the previous plan was a minimum of six feet over the line all the way across, this one is only six foot four inches over the line at the fireplace and then it drops back down to four feet on the left and three feet, three inches on the right. The overall size of this lot is about the same as all the other lots out there, but due to the cul-de-sac, the curve of the street and the twenty-five foot setback on the front, this forces us to go back in there. We want to put a house on that lot, that is in keeping with everything else that is on that cul-de-sac. This is a 200 square foot smaller plan than the original plan which is 3000 square foot plan, this a 2800 square foot plan.

Mike also representing Pulte, stated that he works with Ed, as a supervisor at Thousand Oaks. Right now it is a vacant lot, we are trying to submit this plan in accordance with the development. We want to keep in compliance with the rest of the homes.

Close Public Hearing.

IV. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rodney Courtney moved to approve the variance from Chapter 18.12.120 of the Municipal Code using the second plan presented, Plan R-4288BF-F. Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

V. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF GERI ABRAMS REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 15.16.250 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO SIGN DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION AT 1200 S. STEMMONS.

Bob Willis, Code Enforcement Officer, stated that the sign is at Block A, Lot 11 on Stemmons. The owners are requesting that the sign be raised so it can be seen, the bank sign blocks the visibility of their sign.

Joe Effinger, representing Whiteco Advertising is here to make a request to increase the height. This sign was built in 1984 and there has been some changes in that area. As the gentleman said the bank sign has been put up, some trees have grown and it blocks the visibility of the sign now. We therefore ask for the City to grant us a variance to raise the sign to sixty feet in accordance to what the state would allow us the overall height. They do allow forty-two and half feet over road rate at which point to be seen. Not only would we raise it, we would reconstruct it, and we would present blue print and everything to prospects 30/20 psi and everything, so there is no way you can just add an extension on to raise that extra twenty-five feet.

Close public hearing.

VI. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rodney Courtney moved to approve the variance request. No second.

Celesta Douglas moved to deny the variance request. No second.

Celesta Douglas moved to table the petition of Geri Abrams requesting a variance from Chapter 15.16.250 of the Municipal Code relative to sign design and construction at 1200 S. Stemmons pending pictures, detail and elevation drawings. Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

VII. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF GENERAL HOMES REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.100 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO BUILDING SETBACKS AT 324 ASHLEY OAKS.

Bob Willis, Code Enforcement Officer, stated that this house is in Phase 1, Block H, Lot 28 of the Thousand Oaks Subdivision. We are trying to get all of their surveys taken care of for finals and these, we discovered are minimal overlaps, but they are there, so we are needing to get them cleared for our situation as well as for there own.

Larry Rice, representing General Homes requested a variance from Chapter 18.12.100. He just wanted to let the Board of Adjustment know that they did have a superintendent who did not follow policy and procedures. The result of that is a few messes. These are the last two homes from the last superintendent.

Close Public Hearing.

VIII. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rusty Meadows moved to approve the petition of General Homes requesting a variance from Chapter 18.12.100 of the Municipal Code relative to building setbacks at 324 Ashley Oaks. Rodney Courtney seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

IX. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF GENERAL HOMES REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.100 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO BUILDING SETBACKS AT 326 ASHLEY OAKS.

Bob Willis, Code Enforcement Officer stated that this house is just next door to the house at 324 Ashley Oaks. It is located at Block H, Lot 27 of the Thousand Oaks Subdivision.

Larry Rice, representing General Homes stated that basically it is just a repeat of what I just explained to you.

Close public hearing.

X. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Celesta Douglas moved to approve the petition of General Homes requesting a variance from Chapter 18.12.100 of the Municipal Code relative to building setbacks at 326 Ashley Oaks with form survey prior to construction. Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

XI. CONSIDER APPOINTMENT OF CHAIRMAN - ACTION.

Celesta Douglas moved to approve the appointment of Clyde Edwards as Chairman of the Board of Adjustment. Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

XII. CONSIDER APPOINTMENT OF VICE-CHAIRMAN - ACTION.

Clyde Edwards moved to approve the appointment of Frances Poteet as Vice-Chairman of the Board of Adjustment. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

XIII. RECONSIDER PETITION OF BOB WILLIS REQUESTING THE TERMINATION OF A NONCONFORMING USE BASED ON CHAPTER 18.46.040 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO JURISDICTION AND 18.46.040(C) RELATIVE TO DISCONTINUANCE OF NONCONFORMING USE AT 121 NORTH LAKEVIEW DRIVE-ACTION.

Bob Willis, Code Enforcement Officer, stated that this presentation is to update the situation, we have submitted this case for reconsideration by you on nonconforming use. This case was brought up at the January City Council meeting, the City Council asked to be brought up to date on what was happening with this property. After a question and answer period the Mayor directed me to contact the City Attorney concerning this case. After reading the minutes of the Board of Adjustment meeting from December, the City Attorney advised me to put this case back on the agenda for the Board of Adjustment to reconsider the item under 18.46.040 (C) to make sure this request is presented to you again, to let you know that this property has been brought up to minimum housing standards and have a presentation and pictures.

Chairman Clyde Edwards requested a copy of Chapter 18.46.040 to see and would like for Bob to read it to the Board of Adjustment.

Bob Willis read Chapter 18.46.040 Section C which states to require the discontinuance of nonconforming uses of land or structure under any plan whereby the full value of the structure and facilities can be amortized within a definite period of time, taking into consideration the general character of the neighborhood and the necessity for all property to conform to the regulations of this chapter. All actions to discontinue a nonconforming use of land and structure shall be taken with due regard for the property rights of the persons affected when considered in the light of the area surrounding the designated nonconforming use and conservation and preservation of property.

Chairman Clyde Edward asked if they have met all of Bob Willis' requirements.

Bob Willis replied that they have met all of his requirements.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked if they have exceeded all of his requirements.

Bob Willis replied I don't know about exceeding it, but they have painted it, they have put flooring in and carpeted it, its really a very changed place.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked if you would consider it a compliment to the neighborhood or is it drastically different than the neighborhood in any way other than the structure it's self.

Bob Willis replied that the homes around it are brick with the exception of the double wide mobile home on the corner. The house south of it is a brick home. I contacted Denton County to see exactly when the structures were put on the lots, unfortunately they didn't get the information back to me.

Chairman Clyde Edwards wanted to know that if as far as Bob was concerned if the structure is in accordance to the requirements as far as bringing it up to habitable conditions. Is that correct?

Bob Willis replied yes, that is correct.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked if everything that Bob Willis asked them to do was completed?

Bob Willis replied that yes everything has been completed, electricity is back on and the gas line was replaced.

Lori Robillard stated that she brought some pictures to show everything that she has done, all the time, all the hours and a whole lot of hard work. I am hoping that you will kinda see this in my favor cause I think it will just kill me to have to tear it all down. The pastor from the church came over and said I did an excellent job. He said it wasn't even like a little trailer house but it looked like a regular home now. It took me six months to do it. I still have a lot more to do, finish the bathroom, put a little bit a carpet and linoleum down.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked if she could give us idea on the amount of investment she has made since she started this project?

Lori Robillard replied that the place was given to her free. A lot of good friends and a lot of hard work. A lot of the materials came free, a lot of them I bought. Just mainly a lot of my hard work.

Chairman Clyde Edwards asked for future reference if Ms. Robillard could put a pencil to some of that, even your own time.

I think that would help us make some of the decisions that we may have to make. We need for our own dedication so we can make a proper decision, we need to know how much you have invested in bringing it up to date.

Lula Wood, 120 Lakeview, stated that the place was an eye sore, but it has improved and she just wants to see it stay that way.

Linwood Gilliland stated that when the original mobile home was moved the ordinance states that a larger one is required. Some where, we got off on the wrong direction to improve the place and live there. You never back up on an ordinance, you go forward.

Dale Bolivar, 514 Stadium, stated the mobile home has been here since 1955. I do not have any complaints with it, I did before they cleaned it up. The trailer on the lot now is the original trailer put there in the 1960's. They later moved the larger trailer on the lot. I have no complaints with them. It looked really bad before they started cleaning it up. It looks half way decent.

Mayor Jerry McCutcheon, stated it had deteriorated so bad that the home has received numerous complaints, that is what got the city involved in the first placed. We had junk vehicles, we had piles of rubbish, we had two mobile homes on one lot and the legality on that. We had police problems. Another problem is the city ordinance requires 780 square feet.

Rusty Meadows moved to continue to allow nonconforming use. No second.

Frances Poteet moved to table the petition of Bob Willis requesting the termination of a nonconforming use based on Chapter 18.46.040 of the Municipal Code relative to jurisdiction and 18.46.040(C) relative to discontinuance of nonconforming use at 121 North Lakeview, pending Lori Robillard's expenses, Barbara Harris's presence and the city attorney regarding amortized property. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

XIV. ADJOURNMENT-ACTION.

Rodney Courtney moved to adjourn the meeting. Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously. The meeting adjourned at 8:40 P.M.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Adjustment of the City of Lake Dallas will hold a public hearing on January 25, 1996 at 7:00 p.m. in the Council Chambers of the City Hall Building to consider the petition of General Homes requesting a variance from Chapter 18.12.100 of the Municipal Code relative to building setbacks. The petitioner has constructed a residence, that upon final survey discovered the home protrudes over the required twenty five foot front building line by seven inches, at 324 Ashley Oaks. This property is located on Block H, Lot 28, of the Thousand Oaks Addition Phase Two.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT

DECEMBER 21, 1995

MEMBERS PRESENT:
RODNEY COURTNEY, CHAIRMAN
CLYDE EDWARDS, VICE-CHAIRMAN
FRANCES POTEET
CELESTA DOUGLAS
FRANK BARNARD
KELLY D'AMATO, SECRETARY

MEMBERS ABSENT:
DARLA SAMS
ROBERT (RUSTY) MEADOWS

I. ROLL CALL.

Chairman Rodney Courtney called the meeting to order at 7:00 P.M. and noted that all members were present except Darla Sams and Rusty Meadows.

II. APPROVAL OF MINUTES-ACTION.

Frances Poteet moved to approve the minutes of the meeting held on November 20, 1995. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF GENERAL HOMES REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.100 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO BUILDING SETBACKS AT 322 ASHLEY OAK LANE.

Bob Willis, Code Enforcement Officer reported that General Homes is asking for a variance at 322 Ashley Oak on the basis the house protrudes over the required twenty five foot front building line by one (1) foot three (3) inches. This was discovered at the final survey.

Larry Rice representing General Homes requested a variance from Chapter 18.12.100 on the basis the house protrudes over the building line at the front of the property by one (1) foot (3) three inches. The last superintendent did not place the forms in the right position and then poured the concrete. In this situation, it is just a carry over from the last Superintendent who is no longer with the company.

Close Public Hearing.

IV. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Frances Poteet moved to approve the variance requested by General Homes from Chapter 18.12.100 of the Municipal Code on the property located at 322 Ashley Oak. Clyde Edwards seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

V. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF FLAMINGO HOMES REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.120 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO BUILDING SETBACKS AT 219 ADDISON.

Bob Willis, Code Enforcement Officer reported that he did have a red tag on this property at the form board. It was over the rear building line and the building superintendent said that the people that were buying the building wanted this house, and they knew it was over the building line, and they chose to bring it before the Board of Adjustment.

Chairman Rodney Courtney asked if construction has started on this building?

Bob Willis replied yes.

Chairman Rod Courtney asked if the building was completed?

Bob Willis replied no.

Chairman Rod Courtney asked Mr. Willis if he had a stop on it now?

Bob Willis replied no, that Flamingo Homes chose to go ahead. They are at the top out stage now.

Clyde Edwards asked Mr. Willis to give him a definition of top out.

Bob Willis replied that it was framed in, electrical and plumbing is topped out and your HVAC is installed. Your house is basically dried in, your roof and shingles are all installed.

Clyde Edwards asked Bob Willis if he had red tagged this and they proceeded forward?

Bob Willies replied yes.

David Donalson, Superintendent for Flamingo Homes, stated at the time that this was brought to my attention, I already had the form boards set and the plumbing in the ground. The plats that my surveyor and I obtained from the City of Lake Dallas did not show a thirty (30) foot rear building line. The permit was approved for the twenty seven (27) foot nine (9) inch setback which I currently do have.

Chairman Rod Courtney asked to see the permit.

Clyde Edwards asked where the original plat was?

David Donalson replied that he submitted the original survey to the city.

Bob Willis told the Board of Adjustment that I missed it at the beginning, but caught it at the form boards and that is when I red tagged it.

David Donalson replied that at the time I received the red tag, I had a discussion with Mr. Willis and asked him what my options were? My options were to wreck the form boards, wreck the plumbing, wreck the beams and spend a substantial amount of money to re-do it all or come before the Board of Adjustment. I have received two green tags since that time to go ahead and proceed with the work.

Ray O'Neal, lives on Pembrook behind this house. I received a letter on the 1st of December and there was nothing built at that time, and they started framing the house on the 2nd or 3rd and now it is completely built. I was wondering why they went ahead and built it without the variance. Why didn't they wait until this meeting before they continued to build up? That is my problem.

Ken Stapleton, 511 Ridgewood, lives in a home built by Mr. Morales of Flamingo Homes. I have lived there 11 months now, and have had nothing but problems with it. Due to improper grading, I have a flooding problem in my backyard. My neighbors at 507 and 509 Ridgewood also have a flooding problem and Mr. Morales has displayed nothing but absolute arrogance when we have tried to get him to do something about it. I think the same arrogance has been displayed here because the house was red tagged at the time of forms and he chose to continue to build. He had the option of moving those forms and I would like to ask that this Board not issue the variance to this building. I have letters here from home owners at 507, 509 and his at 511 Ridgewood. The owners asked me to deliver these letters to the Board tonight.

Chairman, Rodney Courtney asked to see the letters.

Matt Flanagan, 722 Thousand Oaks, commented that he knows the Stapletons and they came to him in his capacity as Mayor Pro-Tem to look at the problem out there and has also talked to Bob Willis. That red tag represents something to the city, at the point that the building permit was issued, he understands that Bob Willis said that he missed the setback on there at the time. Form boards were up, no mud was poured, it was red tagged, at that time they were told that if they built any more, it would be at there peril if this Board deemed it did not necessarily let them continue it. We have a form of checks and balances. We as a City, we make mistakes sometimes, but at that point and time it could have been rectified. We try to maintain the best standards that we can and with the amount of building that is going on in this town right now, Bob has got an assistant to help him but it is a hell of job for one man. At any one time right now he may have sixty-five homes being built. I know a few of you who have built homes and sold homes but I would like to see that we maintain a standard and I just don't think that this variance ought to be issued. I think the checks and balance work and he decided to continue on his own.

David Donalson would like to clear up an issue about him continuing work without approval from the City. The day that the red tag was issued, I called Bob on the telephone and discussed this issue with him and at that point and time he told me to go ahead. I have had two green tags issued since that point and time to go ahead and continue with the work and at that point and time I didn't feel like there was an issue. The plats that the surveyor and I have do not show a thirty foot rear building line, if they had shown a thirty foot rear building I would not have put that house on that lot, I have nothing to gain by doing so but a bunch of heartache and spending my time here. I spoke to Bob at 5:00 p.m. that evening and asked him about it and he said that I was right he did issue the permit, it does show twenty seven (27) feet nine (9) inches on the plat plan that he issued with the building permit documents and that what I needed to do was come in and apply for a variance and come to this hearing. Since that time I have received a green tag for the foundation and received a green tag at the top out stage which allows me to sheet rock, brick and install cabinets. I was not aware of the violation of the ordinance until after I received the red tag.

Code Enforcement Officer Bob Willis reported that I red tagged him at the plumbing ruff.

Chairman Rod Courtney asked Mr. Willis if he later authorized him to continue after he red tagged him as he stated.

Bob Willis replied that I told him what his options were, he was given a red tag for it being over the building line. Bob said that David replied that was what the people wanted. I told him he could take it to the Board of Adjustment or he could chuck it all.

Chairman Rodney Courtney asked Mr. Willis if he advised Mr. Donalson not to proceed until he went to the Board of Adjustment or did you authorize him to proceed and then go to the Board of Adjustment.

Bob Willis replied that I told him it was red tagged, it was wrong, it couldn't go but if he chose to go ahead, he would have to take it before the Board of Adjustment.

Chairman Rod Courtney asked Mr. Willis if he explained to Mr. Donalson that if the Board of Adjustment didn't approve his variance that he would have a bigger problem.

Bob Willis replied that there was no guarantee.

Clyde Edwards stated that by issuing two green tags through the production of this property when in fact what you have done, you have approved what he has done. In our opinion, if you've got a red tag, that means your red tagged and it can't be resolved.

Chairman Rod Courtney asked if that means all work is suppose to stop?

Clyde Edwards replied yes and that a red tag can not be resolved over the telephone. It doesn't mean you can issue green tags after the fact and red tags mean you don't issue any more tags. You don't have any more construction, you stop construction at that point. We have put ourselves in a situation where we don't have a choice.

Matt Flanagan stated that as far as a red tag goes, that means that portion of the building is red tagged, it needs to be fixed, that doesn't mean that all construction has to stop.

Clyde Edwards replied that if you red tagged the foundation, then how are you going to build the walls, or anything else.

Matt Flanagan replied that is where Mr. Willis had his discussion, you take the chance with the Board of Adjustment. Green tagging work that is completed further on down the road, he took the chance and poured his mud, built his electrical, built his frame house, if those things are done correctly, then they get green tagged. That is just a step along the way. I don't think you should hold the City responsible for Bob doing what he told the man what he had, the red tag has never been pulled.

Clyde Edwards commented that was true Matt, but we also have a situation where a plat was submitted showing a 27 foot setback and the permit was issued for that.

Matt Flanagan replied that it was caught at the red tag. The red tag was issued, it could have been rectified, he decided not to rectify it, he went ahead with his build out, the green tag was issued for the work that was performed. The red tag is still in affect until it came before the Board of Adjustment. He told him of his options at that point.

David Donalson representing Flamingo Homes commented that as bad as he hates this, he thinks there is a personal vendetta because of Flamingo Homes past with the Stapletons. I don't think this has anything to do with this situation. The green tag was issued to place the foundation. I spoke to Bob on the phone, I was told I could go ahead and back it out.

Chairman Rod Courtney replied that it was his gamble as he understood it, he asked Mr. Donalson if that was true? He said Bob said that these were your options and you elected to go ahead.

David Donalson replied no sir, that I was allowed to place concrete. I was given a green tag to place the foundation. If I was not allowed to place the foundation, then I should have received the red tag before I placed the foundation.

Chairman Rodney Courtney stated that Mr. Willis stated that he red tagged the distance and gave you the option of going before the Board of Adjustment or moving back into compliance with the ordinances or proceed and you chose to proceed is that true?

David Donalson replied no sir, I had a conversation with Bob Willis on Friday night after the plumbing inspection was red tagged and asked Bob what my options were. Bob told me the only thing he knew to do other than wreck the plumbing, wreck the forms, wreck the beams and re-grade the lot is to go before the Board of Adjustment.

Chairman Rod Courtney asked Mr. Donalson to stop there. The proper thing to have done at that particular point would have been to schedule your hearing with the Board of Adjustment rather than proceed. Why was that not done?

David Donalson replied that because I was issued a green tag to place the foundation and because the permit was issued with the twenty seven (27) foot two (2) inch setback and because of the plats, my surveyor and I received from the City did not show the thirty (30) foot setback.

Close Public Hearing.

VI. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Clyde Edwards moved to approve the variance requested by Flamingo Homes from Chapter 18.12.120 contingent upon a fine being levied by the Code Enforcement Officer with no work to be done until the fine is paid. Frank Barnard seconded the motion and it carried with Celesta Douglas opposed.

VII. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF BOB WILLIS REQUESTING THE TERMINATION OF A NONCONFORMING USE BASED ON CHAPTER 18.46.040 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO JURISDICTION, AND CHAPTER 18.32.030 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO USES MADE NONCONFORMING BY ZONING CHANGES AT 121 NORTH LAKE VIEW DRIVE.

Bob Willis, Code Enforcement Officer stated that the request that I have brought before the Board has had quite a bit of controversy. The situation, I feel like that it should become more people than just myself trying to make this decision, that is one reason I had it brought before the Board of Adjustment, according to the code, you are the governing body. What we have is a non-conforming use and we are wondering if it should be continued or abated? I have a file folder on the location.

Chairman Rodney Courtney stated that 18.46.040 of the Lake Dallas Municipal Code states in Section C that the jurisdiction falls within the Board of Adjustment which is a given. Chapter 18.32.030 is uses made nonconforming by zoning change, whenever the use of a zoning becomes nonconforming through the amendment to the zoning ordinance or zoning district map such use may be continued and if no structural alterations are made, it may be changed to another nonconforming use of equal or higher classification. Has there being a zoning change on the property?

Bob Willis replied that from what I understand, the mobile homes were placed there prior to our zoning ordinance which is how that particular park came about. Now in the R-1-6000 zoning district mobile homes are not allowed, they are non conforming use and they are supposed to be removed if that property has been updated or changed for a period of six months.

Chairman Rodney Courtney asked if that has taken place on that property?

Bob Willis commented that the primary mobile home that was on the front of the lot was removed. This is one from my understanding that has been there almost as long if not as long but it was left on the lot and it is undersized as far as the ordinance or the zoning which is 1200 square feet. It does not meet the rear setbacks. The living area does not meet the requirements. They have been working on the mobile home, cleaning it up, it was condemned for human inhabitability by myself back in July. According to the ordinance you have to send the owner a written statement as to all of the items that are not up to the minimum housing standards which I did. Since that time they have been given a 30 day period to get most of this done and there has been a couple of extensions on that. They have been working on the property. I brought photographs that I have taken. I brought them to you so you can make a decision on this thing.

Barbara Harris, owner of the property is against the request. I found out all this damage was done through the letter Bob sent requesting me to clean it up, which I did. He gave me another letter with all the stuff he wanted done. As of Monday we were going to have it inspected and he told us to wait until we came here before we did.

Chairman Rodney Courtney stated uses continued or changed. The lawful use of a building existing at the time of the effective date of the ordinance codified in this title may continue although such use does not conform to provisions of this title. If no structural alterations are made, a non-conforming use of the building may be changed to another non-conforming use of equal or higher classifications. If this building was there at the time this ordinance was written, it can stay there according to this ordinance. I have the date of the ordinance, could you give me the date the mobile home was there.

Barbara Harris replied that I bought the mobile home in 1981 and it was there then.

Chairman Rodney Courtney stated that it does not fall under this particular heading. This ordinance was written in 1967 so the mobile home was not there in 1967?

Barbara Harris replied that I have no idea how long it has been there.

Dale Bolivar commented that it has been there since 1963.

Chairman Rodney Courtney wanted to know if all the work had been completed?

Mrs. Harris stated that the breaker box has not been upgraded yet.

Chairman Rod Courtney wanted to know if there was any power to the house.

Lori Robillard replied not yet.

Ms. Harris said that I am letting Frank and Lori Robillard live there and take care of the property until I retire.

Chairman Rodney Courtney wanted to know if the list was given to them with the understanding that if this was completed that it would make a difference in them being able to stay there.

Bob Willis replied right.

Chairman Rodney Courtney wanted to know that if it was completed and met your satisfaction would your request be null and void. According to the regulations it does not have to meet that particular code it was on the property before that particular ordinance was written.

Bob Willis stated that all of this list has to be completed to bring it up to the minimum housing standards.

Dale Bolivar commented that I do not have any complaints with it being there.

Linwood Gilliland stated that they have done a beautiful job of cleaning the place up. They have put a lot of hard work into it and I certainly give them credit for that. The primary residence was pulled off the property and now we have a very small mobile home there. It is like someone tearing their house down and leaving the garage.

Dale Bolivar commented that the house they are talking about right now was actually the first house there. The other house was moved in after that house had been there.

Chairman Rodney Courtney stated that the house is there now, and according to what we see, is authorized to be there because it was an existing house before the ordinance was written.

Linwood Gilliland commented that we have an ordinance regarding square footage for living space.

Chairman Rodney Courtney asked if it was written before 1963?

Linwood Gilliland stated that this ordinance is in R-1-6000, it's an ordinance for minimum standards.

Chairman Rodney Courtney asked if it was written before 1963? Mr. Courtney stated that he couldn't find it, he looked front to back through this book and it is not in there.

Ms. Harris stated that when I retire, I would like to move another mobile home on my property.

Clyde Edwards replied that you can not under the current city code, once you move the mobile home out, you can not put another one in.

Ms. Harris, Owner of the property asked if you can put in a modular home?

Clyde Edwards replied that it would have to meet certain requirements.

Linwood Gilliland stated that modular homes do not exist.

Clyde Edwards asked since when?

Linwood Gilliland replied since about 15 years ago.

Close Public Hearing.

VIII. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Chairman Rodney Courtney stated that it is the Boards consensus that according to the Municipal Code, that the house was on that property before the ordinance was written and it can continue to stay there, it is exempt. It has to be habitable or it would come under a different request. This request that was given to us was based on the authority of the board and the non conforming use because of change in zoning. Neither of those is a fact at this point, so based on that, we do not have the authority to make a change. It would be up to you, your decision as to whether this is complied with and meets the standards. If all requirements are not met then you can come back to us under the housing authority as a substandard house. It would be under a different request than has been submitted. So it is our consensus that we do not have the authority under your request as written.

Clyde Edwards moved to deny the petition of Bob Willis requesting the termination of nonconforming use based on Chapter 18.32.030, incorrect conclusion of the code based on the decision of the Board, on the property located at 121 North Lakeview Drive. Frances Poteet seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

IX. ADJOURNMENT-ACTION.

Frank Barnard moved to adjourn the meeting. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously. The meeting adjourned at 8:30 P.M.

I. ROLL CALL.

Vice-Chairman Clyde Edwards called the meeting to order at 7:05 P.M. and noted that all members were present, except Chairman Rodney Courtney and Darla Sams.

II. APPROVAL OF MINUTES-ACTION.

Rusty Meadows moved to approve the minutes of the meeting held on October 16, 1995. Frank Barnard seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF LAKE CITIES MUNICIPAL UTILITY AUTHORITY REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.20.100 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO EXTERIOR SURFACES OF STRUCTURES IN DISTRICT C-1 AT 504 MEADOWBROOK.

Bob Willis, Code Enforcement Officer reported that Lake Cities Municipal Utility Authority is planning to build an additional equipment storage building and would like to match the exterior surface of a baked enamel finish, that is on the existing building.

Jeff Knight, representing Lake Cities Municipal Utility Authority stated that they would like to build onto the existing building and would like to match the exterior of the existing building.

Clyde Edwards stated that variances are granted based on the existence of a hardship. Is it going to create a hardship on L.C.M.U.A. if the exterior did not meet the masonry requirement of the code?

Jeff Knight replied that he did not think it would create a hardship.

Matt Flanagan, 722 Thousand Oaks, Mayor Pro Tem for Lake Dallas stated that the City Council has spent a lot of time and years trying and bring up the code with in the city. L.C.M.U.A. has been a good neighbor for many years, however the council has put forth an effort to try and upgrade the city in all respects. Mayor Pro Tem Matt Flanagan stated that he had received numerous calls from residents of the Oak Lakes Subdivision. He agrees with Mr. Knight about being constant with the area. The majority of the property in this subdivision is residential, so the consistency would fall more toward the residential district than the commercial. Mayor Pro Tem Matt Flanagan requested that the zoning stay in tact and the masonry requirement be maintained.

Close Public Hearing.

IV. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rusty Meadows moved to deny the variance request of Lake Cities Municipal Utility Authority from Chapter 18.20.100 of the Municipal Code on the property located at 504 Meadowbrook due to the lack of an existing hardship. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

V. ADJOURNMENT-ACTION.

Chairman Rodney Courtney called the meeting to order at 7:00 P.M. and noted that all members were present except Darla Sams and Frances Poteet.

II. APPROVAL OF MINUTES-ACTION.

Rusty Meadows moved to approve the minutes of the meeting held on September 5, 1995. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF GENERAL HOMES REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.100 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO BUILDING SETBACKS ON THE PROPERTY LOCATED ON BLOCK H, LOT 17, OF THE THOUSAND OAKS ADDITION PHASE ONE.

Larry Rice representing General Homes requested a variance from Chapter 18.12.100 on the basis the house protrudes over the building line at front of property by eight (8) inches. He said it was not brought to their attention until the final survey. The superintendent who started the house somehow overlooked it when they started the house. The superintendent is no longer with General Homes.

Rusty Meadows wanted to know if it was eight inches, eight tenths of an inch or 8 tenths of a foot.

Bob Willis responded that it was eight inches.

Close Public Hearing.

IV. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Celesta Douglas moved to approve the variance requested by General Homes. Rusty Meadows seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

V. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF CATHERINE S. WILLIAMS REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.14.070 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO BUILDING SETBACKS ON THE PROPERTY LOCATED ON BLOCK K, LOT 3, OF THE KINGS MANOR ADDITION.

Bob Willis reported that Catherine S. Williams requested a variance from Chapter 18.14.070 on the basis that she would like to build an addition to the existing residence. It will extend 15 feet into the required 30 foot rear set back. They will be joined together at the back with a walkway and the new addition will be two stories.

Clyde Edwards asked if the foundations would be tied together.

Bob Willis responded that the two foundations would be tied together and the foundations and buildings will be flush.

Rodney Courtney asked if it was a fifteen or thirty foot alley. He said if it was a thirty foot alley, then Ms. Williams did not require a variance according to 18.34.040 of the Municipal Code.

Bob Willis replied that it was a fifteen foot alley.

Rodney Courtney responded that she is just requesting seven and half feet.

Rodney Courtney noted that the variance request application was submitted by Catherine S. Williams and she is not in attendance.

Carolyn Komada, 5309 Countess Court a realtor in the area for over 18 years said that when you start messing with the criteria of the house, it causes major depreciation of the home and the homes in the area. She asked if they could move their fence back further into the alley.

Rodney Courtney replied no, they could have their fence on the property line but they could not move it back into the alley easement.

Rodney Courtney reported that it was the policy of the board that if the applicant does not show up on their behalf, that they deny the variance.

Carolyn Komada wanted to know if she could see the plans.

Richard (?) 5308 Countess Court understands that they would like to save money, but he would like to know about the materials and the structure. He would also like to see the plans.

Rusty Meadows replied that you can't put up anything you want just because you get a variance. It should end up looking like the other structure, and they still have to follow all the building requirements.

Close Public Hearing.

VI. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Clyde Edwards moved to deny the variance requested by Catherine S. Williams because of non attendance. Frank Barnard seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

VII. ADJOURNMENT-ACTION.

Clyde Edwards moved to adjourn the meeting. Frank Barnard seconded the motion and it carried unanimously. The meeting adjourned at 7:25 P.M.

Petition for Variance

To the Board of Adjustment:

The undersigned, owner of all the property herein described, does hereby file this petition, asking that a Variance be granted on said property located within the C-3 (zone) District. The variance is requested from the current sign ordinance on the basis of the need to install a large enough sign at this intersection that will be visible to the North and South bound motoring public on I-35. This intersection has a high 30 foot overpass over Swisher Road and a large 50 foot billboard located on it. Any on site signage that if built to the current sign code or built less than 75 feet in the air, will not be visible to the motoring public on I-35 due to these conditions. I have enclosed two drawings showing what a 65 foot sign and a 75 foot sign would look like on this property and a drawing showing the type of sign that I am proposing to build.

The said property is located at the Southeast corner of I-35 and Swisher Road and is further described as: See attached legal survey.

Accompanying this application is attached an accurate survey of the property, plus any comments, in writing, the applicant wishes to make. A site plan will also be attached if not a part of the surveyor's notes. A filing fee of $250.00 will accompany this application.

Submitted this 1 day of Sept, 1995.

MEMBERS ABSENT:

ROBERT (RUSTY) MEADOWS, JR.

I. ROLL CALL.

Chairman Rodney Courtney called the meeting to order at 7:15 P.M. and noted that all members were present, except Darla Sams and Rusty Meadows.

II. APPROVAL OF MINUTES-ACTION.

Frances Poteet moved to approve the minutes of the meeting held on July 27, 1995. Frank Barnard seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF MIKE CONWAY REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 15.16.250 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO MAXIMUM GROUND SIGN HEIGHT AND CHAPTER 13.04.030 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO PRIVATE SEWAGE SYSTEMS ON THE PROPERTY LOCATED ON TRACT 4, OF THE J. W. SIMMONS SURVEY, A-1163.

Mike Conway request a variance from Chapter 15.16.250 of the Municipal Code on the basis of two situations, the first being the overpass at I-35 and Swisher Road, with his property sitting below I-35 and trying to attract customers traveling I-35. The second situation being a billboard on the property owned by Patrick Media of Dallas, they own a perpetual easement of the property that does not allow for anything to be constructed that would obstruct the visibility of their billboard. Mike Conway has attempted to negotiate with them to work out a lease for the billboard. Patrick Media is not interested in working with Mike Conway. Mike Conway's request is for the sign to be at a height of seventy-five feet so as not to obstruct the visibility of the billboard.

Close Public Hearing.

IV. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

France Poteet moved to approve the variance requested by Mike Conway with a sign height limitation to be set according to what is absolutely necessary to clear the sign owned by Patrick Media, with a maximum sign height of sixty-five feet at I-35 and Swisher Road, with the condition that if the sixty-five feet does not allow for clearance of the Patrick Media billboard the Board of Adjustment will look at adjusting the maximum sign height, also with the condition that Mike Conway submit a written agreement that he will not use the sign to advertise cigarettes, alcoholic beverages, or sexually oriented businesses or products, and that the City will be allowed to use the sign, if available, for community service. Frank Barnard seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

Rodney Courtney stated that in regard to the private sewage system according to the regulation it is automatically accepted if the cost of hooking up to the city sewer system exceeds two hundred percent of the cost of your Aerobic System then the private sewage system is automatically accepted.

V. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF LAKE CITIES MUNICIPAL UTILITY AUTHORITY REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.12.100 AMENDED BY ORDINANCE #94-13 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO EXTERIOR SURFACES OF STRUCTURES IN DISTRICT C-1 AT 504 MEADOWBROOK.

Rodney Courtney noted that the variance request application was submitted by Johnny Harris, Manager of Lake Cities Municipal Utility Authority and he is not in attendance. The application for variance request did not include the required plat and sight plan.

Joe Tisdell, 506 Meadowbrook would like some information on what Lake Cities Municipal Utility Authority is planning to build at 504 Meadowbrook.

Close Public Hearing.

VI. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Frank Barnard moved to deny the variance requested by Lake Cities Municipal Utility Authority. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried, with Clyde Edwards abstaining.

VII. ADJOURNMENT-ACTION.

Clyde Edwards moved to adjourn the meeting. Frank Barnard seconded the motion and it carried unanimously. The meeting adjourned at 8:15 P.M.

I. ROLL CALL.

Vice-Chairman Clyde Edwards called the meeting to order at 7:05 P.M. and noted that all members were present except Chairman Rod Courtney.

II. APPROVAL OF MINUTES-ACTION.

Darla Sams moved to approve the minutes of the meeting held on May 30, 1995. Frances Poteet seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

III. PUBLIC HEARING: PETITION OF BEN GILBERT REQUESTING A VARIANCE FROM CHAPTER 18.17.070 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE RELATIVE TO BUILDING SETBACKS AT 709 NICK STREET.

Rusty Meadows, how many cars does the carport and the garage handle?

Ben Gilbert, a one car carport and a two car garage.

Rusty Meadows, the dimensions on the plan look like the carport is bigger than the garage.

Ben Gilbert, on the original plans it was that way, but I have swapped the location of the carport and garage.

Clyde Edwards request to see the current plans for the house. He understands that at the previous meeting it was discussed that Mr. Gilbert would change the plans to include only a garage and eliminate the carport.

Clyde Edwards, variance requests are based on a hardship. The request for a two car garage and a one car carport that would only allow for a fifteen foot rear building line does not create a hardship. Several individuals have also noted that there could also be a potential water flow problem.

Ben Gilbert, if my vehicles get hail damage that's not a hardship?

Rusty Meadows, hardship means something that is unfair to you that is available to someone else. The city ordinance only requires two covered parking spaces. The hardship would be if the lot was the size where you could not have two car covered parking, and you have asked for an extra car parking area.

Clyde Edwards, even with the two car garage you are still not with in the required thirty foot rear building line, you only have twenty six feet.

Celesta Douglas, would like to know if the house could be moved over one foot so as not to extend over the fifteen foot corner side building line, because of a water line.

Ben Gilbert, the fireplace would not interfere with the water line.

Darla Sams, if the carport is eliminated what is the actual measurement for the rear yard with only the two car garage?

Rusty Meadows, the rear yard looks to be twenty seven feet.

David Decresce owns the property behind Mr. Gilbert's property and does not have a problem with Mr. Gilbert's request that his home be built with a fifteen foot back yard, but he would like the board to know that a drainage problem has been created by the homes being built at the top of the hill on Nick Street.

Clyde Edwards, the water flow problem would have to be addressed to the city council. If the grade has been changed the city employees and city council would have to address the problem.

Linwood Gilliland appreciates the fine job the board has done and would like to welcome Mr. Gilbert to his neighborhood. Bob has got caught up in the problems that were created by the past building inspector.

IV. ACTION FROM PUBLIC HEARING.

Rusty Meadows moved to approve a variance for a two car garage allowing for a twenty six foot rear building line, a variance for the fireplace to extend one foot into the corner side building line, and a variance for the front porch to extend four feet into the front building line. Frances Poteet seconded the motion and it carried unanimously.

V. ADJOURNMENT-ACTION.

Frances Poteet moved to adjourn the meeting. Celesta Douglas seconded the motion and it carried unanimously. The meeting adjourned at 7:30 P.M.

Re: Flamingo Homes

Dear Sirs:

We understand that Mr. Dennis Morales of Flamingo Homes has asked your Committee for a variance at 219 Addison Road in the Oak Lakes Division of Lake Dallas. We would like our letter to go on record with your Committee and the City of Lake Dallas that there are several dissatisfied Flamingo Homes Owners in this same sub division.

We still have several punch list items that Flamingo Homes refuses to address. Mr. Morales has been contacted both in writing and verbally regarding these problems and to date seems to be ignoring all of us. We feel strongly that we'd hate to see another potential neighbor move into a house and experience the same problems we are having. Therefore we're hoping that the City won't allow him to do anything else in our wonderful City that is sub-standard in workmanship.

We all moved to this City to watch our children grow up in a safe environment, and bought newly built homes so we could enjoy the rest of our lives here, and Flamingo Homes has only brought us a tremendous amount of grief and frustration. We've complained since April 1995 about the drainage problem at 507, 509 and 511 Ridgewood Drive, which according to a licensed engineer (copy of report enclosed), is causing erosion and future foundation damage. To date, we have not been able to get any assistance from Flamingo Homes, and now the winter weather is here and these three properties are going to remain muddy and flooded until Spring.

We're only suggesting that prior to issuing another variance to Flamingo Homes, that you realize and make sure that everything at the two properties he's currently building in our City is done properly and correctly so the future home buyers don't end up having the same problems we all are having now.

Sincerely,

Ray Hopper

Subject: Storm Water Drainage
509 Ridgewood
Lake Dallas, Texas

Mrs. McCool,

At your request, on 5/12/95, I made an evaluation of the storm drainage at the above referenced property.

Due to the existing elevations and contours of the properties located to the north and northwest of 509 Ridgewood, storm water flows south and east across your property. The inadequate street drainage in this area causes additional water to flow across this property.

I recommend that you construct an earth berm along the west side of your property from north to south, to channel the water to the drainage ditch along Ridgewood. This berm should be approximately 30 inches height and 48 inches width. This berm can be rounded to allow for planting or mowing.

Continued water flows across your property will cause additional eroding and if not corrected, can cause foundation and or structural damage to this property.

Should you have any questions, please contact my office.

Sincerely,

5/12/95 - Walter Lipscomb of Noakes Engineering Company met with Mr. Dennis Morales of Flamingo Homes to discuss the damages to some of the lots along Oakcrest and Ridgewood Streets.

Mr. Morales authorized Noakes Engineering Company to conduct an investigation and analysis of this section of Block H, Oak Lakes Subdivision.

Since a topographical survey was not available , Mr. Morales made available a photo copy of a plat of Oak Lakes Subdivision, dated January 10, 1963. We worked from this plat drawing.

5/18/95 Walter Lipscomb and staff of Noakes Engineering Company went to the site location and with the aid of a laser level made spot elevation readings. A temporary benchmark was established as a reference elevation of 100.00'. This benchmark is the top of a water valve in the street intersection of Ridgewood Street and Hillcrest Street.

Elevation readings were made along Hillcrest Street from north of Oakcrest Street to south of Ridgewood Street, along Oakcrest Street from Hillcrest Street east approximately 300', along Ridgewood Street from Hillcrest Street east approximately 200', along the west sides of lots 9 and 14, and along east sides of lots 10 and 13.

Some of these spot elevations are recorded on the not to scale drawing number 1, attached to this report.

5/19/95 Walter Lipscomb and staff of Noakes Engineering Company went to the site location during a period of heavy rainfall to observe the surface water drainage conditions during and just after a rainfall.

5/20/95 Walter Lipscomb and staff of Noakes Engineering went to the site location to make visual observations and to make photographs of some of the drainage areas. Copies of these photographs numbered P-1, P-2, and P-3 are attached to this report.

5/23/95 Ed D. Noakes, P.E. and Walter Lipscomb of Noakes Engineering Company went to the site location to make visual observations and to confirm elevation and other findings.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

In general, surface water flows from Northwest to Southeast along paved streets and drainage ditches to a creek located along the southeast area of the Oak Lakes Subdivision.

The drainage ditch along the west side of Hillcrest Street and south of Oakcrest Street transports surface water adequately.

The drainage ditch along the west side of Hillcrest Street north of Oakcrest is too shallow to transport the water adequately therefore overflowing across the intersection of Oakcrest and Hillcrest Streets and flowing onto Oakcrest Street.

The drainage ditch along the east side of Hillcrest South of Oakcrest Street transports surface water adequately.

The drainage ditch along the east side of Hillcrest north of Oakcrest Street is too shallow to transport the water adequately, therefore overflowing at the intersection of Oakcrest and Hill crest Streets.

The drainage ditch along the north side of Oakcrest Street is too shallow to adequately transport water adequately. This ditch flows west to east from the intersection with Hillcrest approximately 85 feet then flows east to west for approximately 200 feet. This causes a concentration of water at the lowest section of the ditch approximately

85 feet east of the intersection with Hillcrest. The steel culvert pipe at this location (north to south across Oakcrest Street) extends beyond the drainage ditch along the south side. Therefore water from the north ditch does not empty into the south ditch, but is carried on the surface north to south between the Lots 10-13 and 9-14. water then ponds at the north side drainage ditch along Ridgewood Street between Lots 9 and 10.

The drainage ditch along the south side of Oakcrest Street is too shallow to adequately transport water adequately. This ditch flows west to east from the intersection with Hillcrest approximately 85 feet then flows east to west for approximately 200 feet. This causes a concentration of water at the lowest section of the ditch approximately 85 feet east of the intersection with Hillcrest Street.

The drainage ditches along both sides of Ridgewood Street are too shallow to adequately transport water as designed from west to east along Ridgewood Street, therefor water overflows both ditches and flows south southeast across the lots located south of Ridgewood Street.

Due to natural surface contours and to inadequate storm drainage system a tremendous amount of storm water accumulates at the low elevation of Oakcrest Street (85 feet east of Hillcrest) and flows south over the surface between Lots 10-13 and 9-14. The drainage ditch along the north side of Ridgewood Street is inadequate to transport this amount of water, therefore this water tends to pond and erode the south portion of Lots 9 and 10. This continued ponding of water and surface erosion can adversely affect the integrity of the house foundations on Lots 9 and 10.

All of the drainage ditches along Ridgewood and Oakcrest Streets have silted over the years to an existing depth of zero feet to one and one-half feet. These drainage ditches are not performing as designed to transport storm water.

Photographs P-1 and P-2 are photographs of these drainage ditches and are attached to this report.

Photograph P-3, is a photograph looking north from Ridgewood Street between Lots 9 and 10. This photograph is attached to this report.

RECOMMENDATIONS

OPTION I

The drainage ditches along Oakcrest Street can be excavated and graded to drain from west to east from the intersection of Hillcrest to the intersection with Ridgewood. This will eliminate the existing east to west flow that occurs approximately 200 feet east of Hillcrest Street. This option would require the lowering of several driveway culvert pipes along Oakcrest Street.

The Oakcrest street culvert pipe (north/south -85 feet west Hillcrest) should be reworked, graded and cut to the north edge of the south drainage ditch to prevent flowing south to Ridgewood Street.

Drawing No. 2 shows a graphical view of these recommendations and shows a typical section view of the proposed drainage ditch excavation.

The effects on the area east of this location have not been investigated with this option.

OPTION II

The drainage ditches along Oakcrest Street can be excavated and graded to drain from west to east for approximately 85 feet and then east to west for approximately 200 feet from the intersection of Hillcrest. (See Drawing No. 2 for a section view of the proposed drainage ditch excavation.) This will cause a natural concentration of water at the low point (approximately 85 feet east of Hillcrest). At this point a Catch Basin with a grate top should be constructed to catch the water and then install a Storm Drain Pipe (approximately 24" Dia.) to run south from the catch basin approximately 150 feet to a concrete flume that extends to the north drainage ditch on Ridgewood Street.

Where the concrete flume intersects with the drainage ditch, a concrete headwall should be constructed and the drainage ditch should be concrete lined for a distance east and west of this headwall to prevent eroding of the drainage ditch.

The drainage ditches along Ridgewood Street can be excavated and graded to drain from west to east from the intersection of Hillcrest to the intersection with Oakcrest.

OPTION II Cont'd.

The effects on the area east of this location have not been investigated with this option.

Drawing No. 3 shows a graphical view of these recommendations and a section view of the proposed flume and headwall.

CONCLUSIONS

The storm drain system for the Oak Lakes Subdivision was designed to make use of paved steets with graded drainage dithces on each side to transport storm water to a creek located on the east side of the subdivision.

Since the drainage ditches have not been maintained, they have filled with silt and no longer function as a strom drainage system.

A complete topographical survey should be conducted by a Registered Land Surveyor and a complete Hydrology Analysis conducted by a Registered Professional Engineer for the entire subdivision.

These corrective recommendations are only estimates based on an analysis using a 1963 Plat of the subdivision and spot elevation recordings.

It is my recommendation that some type of corrective action should taken immediately to prevent further damage to the lots as described in this report.

5/12/95 - Walter Lipscomb of Noakes Engineering Company met with Mr. Dennis Morales of Flamingo Homes to discuss the damages to some of the lots along Oakcrest and Ridgewood Streets.

Mr. Morales authorized Noakes Engineering Company to conduct an investigation and analysis of this section of Block H, Oak Lakes Subdivision.

Since a topographical survey was not available , Mr. Morales made available a photo copy of a plat of Oak Lakes Subdivision, dated January 10, 1963. We worked from this plat drawing.

5/18/95 Walter Lipscomb and staff of Noakes Engineering Company went to the site location and with the aid of a laser level made spot elevation readings. A temporary benchmark was established as a reference elevation of 100.00'. This benchmark is the top of a water valve in the street intersection of Ridgewood Street and Hillcrest Street.

Elevation readings were made along Hillcrest Street from north of Oakcrest Street to south of Ridgewood Street, along Oakcrest Street from Hillcrest Street east approximately 300', along Ridgewood Street from Hillcrest Street east approximately 200', along the west sides of lots 9 and 14, and along east sides of lots 10 and 13.

Some of these spot elevations are recorded on the not to scale drawing number 1, attached to this report.

5/19/95 Walter Lipscomb and staff of Noakes Engineering Company went to the site location during a period of heavy rainfall to observe the surface water drainage conditions during and just after a rainfall.

5/20/95 Walter Lipscomb and staff of Noakes Engineering went to the site location to make visual observations and to make photographs of some of the drainage areas. Copies of these photographs numbered P-1, P-2, and P-3 are attached to this report.

5/23/95 Ed D. Noakes, P.E. and Walter Lipscomb of Noakes Engineering Company went to the site location to make visual observations and to confirm elevation and other findings.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

In general, surface water flows from Northwest to Southeast along paved streets and drainage ditches to a creek located along the southeast area of the Oak Lakes Subdivision.

The drainage ditch along the west side of Hillcrest Street and south of Oakcrest Street transports surface water adequately.

The drainage ditch along the west side of Hillcrest Street north of Oakcrest is too shallow to transport the water adequately therefore overflowing across the intersection of Oakcrest and Hillcrest Streets and flowing onto Oakcrest Street.

The drainage ditch along the east side of Hillcrest South of Oakcrest Street transports surface water adequately.

The drainage ditch along the east side of Hillcrest north of Oakcrest Street is too shallow to transport the water adequately, therefore overflowing at the intersection of Oakcrest and Hill crest Streets.

The drainage ditch along the north side of Oakcrest Street is too shallow to adequately transport water adequately. This ditch flows west to east from the intersection with Hillcrest approximately 85 feet then flows east to west for approximately 200 feet. This causes a concentration of water at the lowest section of the ditch approximately

85 feet east of the intersection with Hillcrest. The steel culvert pipe at this location (north to south across Oakcrest Street) extends beyond the drainage ditch along the south side. Therefore water from the north ditch does not empty into the south ditch, but is carried on the surface north to south between the Lots 10-13 and 9-14. water then ponds at the north side drainage ditch along Ridgewood Street between Lots 9 and 10.

The drainage ditch along the south side of Oakcrest Street is too shallow to adequately transport water adequately. This ditch flows west to east from the intersection with Hillcrest approximately 85 feet then flows east to west for approximately 200 feet. This causes a concentration of water at the lowest section of the ditch approximately 85 feet east of the intersection with Hillcrest Street.

The drainage ditches along both sides of Ridgewood Street are too shallow to adequately transport water as designed from west to east along Ridgewood Street, therefor water overflows both ditches and flows south southeast across the lots located south of Ridgewood Street.

Due to natural surface contours and to inadequate storm drainage system a tremendous amount of storm water accumulates at the low elevation of Oakcrest Street (85 feet east of Hillcrest) and flows south over the surface between Lots 10-13 and 9-14. The drainage ditch along the north side of Ridgewood Street is inadequate to transport this amount of water, therefore this water tends to pond and erode the south portion of Lots 9 and 10. This continued ponding of water and surface erosion can adversely affect the integrity of the house foundations on Lots 9 and 10.

All of the drainage ditches along Ridgewood and Oakcrest Streets have silted over the years to an existing depth of zero feet to one and one-half feet. These drainage ditches are not performing as designed to transport storm water.

Photographs P-1 and P-2 are photographs of these drainage ditches and are attached to this report.

Photograph P-3, is a photograph looking north from Ridgewood Street between Lots 9 and 10. This photograph is attached to this report.

RECOMMENDATIONS

There are two options for correcting some of the above reference surface flow problems.

OPTION I

The drainage ditches along Oakcrest Street can be excavated and graded to drain from west to east from the intersection of Hillcrest to the intersection with Ridgewood. This will eliminate the existing east to west flow that occurs approximately 200 feet east of Hillcrest Street. This option would require the lowering of several driveway culvert pipes along Oakcrest Street.

The Oakcrest street culvert pipe (north/south -85 feet west Hillcrest) should be reworked, graded and cut to the north edge of the south drainage ditch to prevent flowing south to Ridgewood Street.

The drainage ditches along Ridgewood Street can be excavated and graded to drain west to east.

Drawing No. 2 shows a graphical view of these recommendations and shows a typical section view of the proposed drainage ditch excavation.

The effects on the area east of this location have not been investigated with this option.

OPTION II

The drainage ditches along Oakcrest Street can be excavated and graded to drain from west to east for approximately 85 feet and then east to west for approximately 200 feet from the intersection of Hillcrest. (See Drawing No. 2 for a section view of the proposed drainage ditch excavation.) This will cause a natural concentration of water at the low point (approximately 85 feet east of Hillcrest). At this point a Catch Basin with a grate top should be constructed to catch the water and then install a Storm Drain Pipe (approximately 24" Dia.) to run south from the catch basin approximately 150 feet to a concrete flume that extends to the north drainage ditch on Ridgewood Street.

Where the concrete flume intersects with the drainage ditch, a concrete headwall should be constructed and the drainage ditch should be concrete lined for a distance east and west of this headwall to prevent eroding of the drainage ditch.

The drainage ditches along Ridgewood Street can be excavated and graded to drain from west to east from the intersection of Hillcrest to the intersection with Oakcrest.

OPTION II Cont'd.

The effects on the area east of this location have not been investigated with this option.

Drawing No. 3 shows a graphical view of these recommendations and a section view of the proposed flume and headwall.

CONCLUSIONS

The storm drain system for the Oak Lakes Subdivision was designed to make use of paved steets with graded drainage dithces on each side to transport storm water to a creek located on the east side of the subdivision.

Since the drainage ditches have not been maintained, they have filled with silt and no longer function as a strom drainage system.

A complete topographical survey should be conducted by a Registered Land Surveyor and a complete Hydrology Analysis conducted by a Registered Professional Engineer for the entire subdivision.

This investigation has only analyized the causes of the concentrated water flows at this location.

These corrective recommendations are only estimates based on an analysis using a 1963 Plat of the subdivision and spot elevation recordings.

It is my recommendation that some type of corrective action should taken immediately to prevent further damage to the lots as described in this report.

CONDUCTING MEETINGS AND HEARINGS

Role of the Chairperson

The Chairperson, as presiding officer, has the primary responsibility for seeing to it that the Board's rules of procedure are followed and for maintaining the dignity of the meetings. The chairperson calls the meeting to order, and confines the discussion to the agreed order of business. He or she recognizes members for motions and statements, and allows audience participation at appropriate times. The chairperson sees to it that speakers limit their remarks to the item being considered and, as necessary, calls down people who are out of order.

Presiding effectively at a meeting is an art that no book or person can fully teach. The tactful presiding officer knows how to courteously discourage Boards who talk too much or too often, and how to encourage shy Boards who are hesitant to speak at all.

Meetings are governed by the Texas Open Meetings Act. Any person has a right to be present at the meeting. But a significant and fundamental difference exists between open meetings and public hearings. A public hearing involves a right by interested persons to speak and address the board. An open meeting is one in which people may attend and observe but does not necessarily involve a citizen's right to speak. Unless the agenda includes a public hearing or contains an item which authorizes members of the general public to address the board, it is optional - not mandatory - for the board to hear what people in attendance have to say.

Open Meetings Act Guidelines

The Board of Adjustment is subject to the provisions of the Texas Open Meetings Act. (Chapter 551, Tex.Gov't Code). The Act imposes requirements regarding the conduct of meetings and imposes penalties, including criminal sanctions, against persons who violate the Act.

All meetings of the Board, with few exceptions, are "open." Any person has the right to attend and observe the meeting unless that person becomes unduly disruptive. Any person, including the media, has the right to record or videotape the proceedings. The use of recording equipment can not be prohibited unless the use or operation unduly disrupts the meeting. However, as noted above, attendance is not the same as participation. The Act confers the right to attend but not to participate. When the Board is deliberating in open session on an agenda item, the public does not have the right to participate, to address the board, to ask questions of the board, or to present any information. The board has the option to allow people in attendance to speak. Note that this is the opposite of public hearings where the public has the right to speak and address the board.

There must never be any discussion of the business of the Board between or among three or more members unless the discussion occurs at a duly posted open meeting. The meeting's agenda must be posted at least 72 hours in advance of the meeting. There must never be a discussion of any board business at a meeting which is not on the posted agenda, unless it is to consider placing the matter on a future agenda. It is a criminal offense for less than a quorum of the members to conspire to circumvent the Act by engaging in secret deliberations. It is a crime for a member to call or participate in a closed meeting when a closed meeting is not authorized. It is a crime to conduct a closed meeting without keeping a certified agenda or a recording of the meeting or to disclose the certified agenda or the recording to a member of the general public.

Closed meetings are authorized under limited circumstances. Virtually none of the exceptions to open meetings apply to the Board of Adjustment. The only relevant exception is for consultation with the city attorney on matters involving pending or contemplated litigation or on matters which relate to the provision of confidential legal advice. Typically, the closed session must be listed on the posted agenda and identified as a closed session item.

Violations of the Act can have a variety of consequences. Any action taken in violation of the Act is void. A violation can result in lawsuits against the City and the Board of Adjustment. Most importantly, serious violations can result in the filing of criminal charges which may include fines and/or a jail term as a possible punishment. The City can not pay for a board member's legal defense if charged with a crime.

Streamlining Meetings

Even the best planned meetings can deteriorate into endurance contests. These are not necessarily the exceptional meetings, nor are they necessarily those meetings with long agendas. Long meetings have a tendency to discourage people from volunteering their time and effort as a board member and often create a high level of frustration among members and citizens which may ultimately discredit the City. Meetings should be made efficient without sacrificing the quality of public service afforded by the Board and its members.

Efficiency can be promoted by regulating talk, shortening the agenda, employing a consent agenda, using mechanical aids, and using work sessions.

Regulating Talk

Too much talking is the most common cause of lengthy meetings. Talking can assume a variety of forms - bickering or tiresome exchanges of personal opinions among Boards, endless speeches by citizens, or unnecessarily long and detailed reports by staff.

All of these problems can be overcome by tactful action on the part of the chairperson. If citizens ramble on and on, the chairperson may have no choice but to tell them to confine their remarks to the subject at hand and conclude as quickly as possible. If the problem is created by a talkative Board member, a simple statement to the effect that "it's getting late and we must move along" usually will suffice, though private visits by the chairperson may be needed to handle chronic talkers.

It is proper to adopt and impose a time limit on speakers. Depending on the nature of the issue and/or the number of persons wishing to speak, it is not uncommon for councils and boards to adopt a three-minute rule. It is also proper for the chairperson to insist that speakers refrain from reiterating the same facts or positions as prior speakers. When a highly controversial issue is on the agenda, a sign-in sheet may be used from which speakers may be called.

Shortening the Agenda

Having too many items on the agenda is a frequent cause of lengthy meetings. The agenda may be loaded with items that are included for reasons of custom, rather than necessity, some of which could be handled by staff. If too much meeting time is needed to explain the various items, perhaps a requirement that the more complex ones be explained in writing in advance of the meeting would help.

"Consent" Agenda Items

Agendas need not be cluttered with noncontroversial, recurring items that are included because they require formal approval. Examples include approval of the minutes of previous meetings. These items generate little discussion, but each requires time by requiring a separate motion to approve, a second and a vote. This problem can be overcome by establishing a "consent" agenda category which includes routine items that are approved by a single motion and a vote, without debate. If a member objects to a consent item, it is removed from the list and added to the regular agenda at the appropriate spot. If a member questions a consent item, but not so strongly as to require that it be removed from the list, his or her "no" vote or abstention can be entered in the minutes when the consent vote is taken.

Mechanical Aids

The time needed to explain an agenda item can be reduced by using graphics to supplement or replace written reports. A simple map to show the location of a project, or photographs can provide the extra perspective that written words sometimes fail to convey.

Work Sessions

Informal work sessions may be needed from time to time to study certain matters in detail. Regular meetings may not provide enough time. Work sessions are useful when policy questions must be decided, or when a complicated ordinance comes before the Board.

Public Hearings

The purpose of a public hearing is to present evidence on both sides of an issue. Interested persons have a right to speak and address the board. Since the board of adjustment is quasi-judicial in nature, its decisions should be based on the evidence presented at the public hearing.

The proper conduct of a public hearing is no less important than for a regular meeting. Each should begin promptly and be conducted in an orderly manner in conformance with established rules of procedure.

At the start of the hearing, the chairperson should clearly state the subject to be discussed. If the subject is controversial, the following order can be followed: proponents' presentation; opponents' presentation; proponents' rebuttal; opponents' rebuttal; questions for the Board.

Remember that numbers don't always count. There are some topics which naturally draw large, highly-biased crowds. Vocal minorities often fill public hearings to show widespread support. The size of the crowd does not necessarily indicate that the cause is just. The Board is appointed to serve all the citizens, and a Board must look at the overall picture, and not just at the view presented by one partisan group.

When a decision is announced, the Board does not have to give the reasons why the decision was reached, although a brief explanation will help prevent the feeling that the outcome of the hearing was decided in advance, and that the applicant wasted time.

THE BOARD OF ADJUSTMENT

The board of adjustment is one of the two citizen-staffed bodies that are traditionally involved in municipal zoning. The other body is the zoning commission. These two zoning entities perform separate and distinctly different functions. The zoning commission performs an advisory function and develops the original comprehensive zoning plan. After the ordinance is adopted, the commission preserves the integrity of the comprehensive plan by reviewing and reporting on proposed zoning ordinance amendments. The board of adjustment, is an action agency which oversees the permitting process by taking appeals from decisions by administrative officials; and authorizes variances when strict application of setback, sideyard, area, and height limits would cause individual property owners unnecessary hardship.

Administrative Decisions

The board reviews Administrative Decisions of staff as to correctness of interpretation. The board may hear and decide appeals when error is alleged in any order, requirement, decision, or determination by an administrative official in enforcement of the act or the zoning ordinance. The permit officer has no discretionary power and must issue or deny permits solely on the basis of compliance or non-compliance with the ordinance.

Without the board, persons complaining about the denial or issuance of permits would have to appeal to the City Council or to the court. The City Council would be tempted to grant relief by ordinance and thereby amend the basic zoning in an ad hoc manner. On appeal, the only question for the board is whether the permit officer correctly applied the ordinance and its regulations.

Variances

A "variance" is defined as permission to depart from the literal requirements of a zoning ordinance by virtue of unique hardship due to special circumstances regarding a person's property. It is a waiver of the strict requirements of the zoning ordinance. An administrative official of a city cannot approve a variance.

The theory of variance is to relax the strict requirements in situations in which, because of unusual circumstances, strict application of zoning regulations will produce unnecessary hardship. Variances relate to technical zoning matters such as area, setback, and height regulations. Variances are restricted to relaxation of these technical regulations.

Current Texas zoning law holds that no matter how much hardship a use regulation creates, the board of adjustment has no power to relax it. Only the City Council can change or relax the uses that are allowed in the various districts. An illegal use variance is void. Accordingly, a contestant can attack it collaterally and need not appeal by certiorari.

Variances are permissible only if strict application of the zoning ordinance would cause unnecessary hardship. When considering applications for variances, the board should require some evidence of hardship. A variance is not authorized merely to accommodate the highest and best use of the property, but when the zoning ordinance does not permit any reasonable use of the lot. "Special conditions" means that the property is not environmentally suited to be adapted to a conforming use.

When determining whether or not a hardship exists, the Board should keep the following in mind:

1. Hardship is not self-imposed.

2. Hardship is unique to the property (size, shape, topography of lot or tract).

3. Hardship is not financial in nature.

4. Hardship does not include property that cannot be used for its highest and best use, or frustrated development objectives.

Special Exceptions

The Board also grants exceptions when specifically authorized by the ordinance. A special exception refers to uses that a zoning ordinance permits, but that are specially reviewed and approved by the Board for situational suitability. Special exceptions do not require a showing of hardship, unlike variances. There is no authority to grant a special exception unless the zoning ordinance specifies that special exceptions may be granted. Thus, the zoning ordinance must specify the conditions that must be met for a special exception to be granted or the standards that the Board is to employ when granting a special exception.

Determination of Nonconforming Use Status

Applicants may claim that a nonconforming use or structure existed before the regulations applied, and that the use or structure is entitled to continue, either by constitutional right or applicable ordinance exemptions. Municipalities can allow nonconforming uses simply to continue without formal action, or they can require that such uses be identified and registered for inventory and possible termination under an amortization program.

Nonconforming-use claimants must secure permits when they rebuild, expand, remodel or change use under circumstances that require permitting under customary ordinance provisions. The permit officer then determines entitlement. If the officer grants the permit, neighbors can contest entitlement and appeal to the board; if the officer denies the permit, the applicant can appeal to the board. In either case, the board must determine prior nonconforming-use status to decide the appeal.

The building inspector is entitled to make the initial determination of nonconforming use. The decision can be appealed to the board, and the board's decision is viewed on writ of certiorari and affirmed unless an abuse of discretion is shown.

Amortization of Nonconforming Uses

A board of adjustment is also authorized by law to order the termination of a nonconforming use. A property owner has a vested right to use his/her property in any lawful manner subject to preexisting zoning regulations. A nonconforming use, although lawful, may be injurious to surrounding property and detrimental to the safety or welfare of the public. A city, through its board of adjustment, may lawfully cause a termination of the use and induce compliance with zoning regulations. However, this infringes on the owner's rights and should, therefore, be reviewed carefully and judiciously. Most decisions relating to a board's termination of nonconforming uses involve converting a commercial use to residential. Since a city can not deprive a property owner of vested rights without just compensation, any termination must consider the value of the owner's investment. Since a board of adjustment does not typically have a budget or access to funds with which to pay private owners, a termination must make provisions for the owner's recoupment of his/her investment. This is done by amortizing the investment over time.

An amortization of investment should ultimately be based on a comparison between the investment and the income stream generated by the use. An oversimplified example is as follows: A proper owner's investment in the enterprise is $100. Immediately following the purchase of and investment in the property, the zoning regulations change from commercial use to residential use, thereby rendering the operation of the enterprise a lawful nonconforming use. The use generates income of $50 per year. A proper amortization would result in a termination of the commercial use upon the expiration of two years (or whatever period which would be sufficient to allow the income to attain the equivalent of the $100 investment).

Provisions in zoning ordinances for amortization of nonconforming uses are valid if they are reasonable and fair in operation; a determination of reasonableness of such provisions should involve consideration of such factors as the character of neighborhood in general, the amount an owner has invested in the property, the amount of his recoupment during the grace period, the protection afforded to the public, the zoning classification and use of nearby property, the availability and location of other sites, the extent to which property values are adversely affected by nonconforming use, and the amount of loss which would be suffered by owner upon termination of use.

Board Membership and Voting Procedures

A board of adjustment consists of five members, each appointed for a term of two years. Alternate members may also be appointed to serve when one or more regular members are absent. Members may be removed for cause, on written charges, after hearing; vacancies will be filled for the unexpired term of the vacant member. All cases must be heard by a minimum of four members (75% of the members). The concurring vote of at least four members is required to reverse administrative decisions, grant special exceptions, authorize variances, and take any other action authorized by the ordinance.

The voting requirements are mandatory and jurisdictional. A variance authorized by a vote of only three members of the board is invalid and subject to collateral attack after expiration of the time for regular appeal.

Required Formalities for Board Proceedings

The enabling act requires that the board adopt rules in accordance with the zoning ordinance. Meetings are held at the call of the chairman or as the board determines. At least four members must hear the case. The chairman or acting chairman can administer oaths and compel attendance of witnesses. All meetings must be open to the public. The board must keep minutes of its proceedings, showing the vote of each member of its examinations and other official actions and maintain them as a public record in the board's office. When deciding appeals the board must fix a reasonable time for hearing, give notice to the public and the parties, and decide the appealed matter within a reasonable time. Parties can appear in person or by agent or attorney.

The concurring vote of at least four members (75%) is required to reverse any administrative action or to decide in favor of any applicant or grant a variance. The board can reverse, affirm (wholly or partly) or modify the administrative determination. The board has power to act in the stead of the officer from whose action the appeal was taken.

The law does not establish a formal procedure for the board to follow. The board, however, should give public notice of hearings on variances and appeals from the permit officer's ministerial denial of a permit.

Standing Required

The enabling act allows appeal to the board by any person aggrieved or by any officer, department, board, or bureau of the City affected by any decision of the administrative officer. Nearby landowners are "persons aggrieved." Cities are proper parties to take appeals, even though their own official granted a contested permit.

Procedure for Appeals

Appeal is accomplished by filing a notice with the administrative officer from whose decision appeal is taken and with the board of adjustment. The notice must state the grounds for the appeal. When notice is filed, the administrative officer must immediately transmit to the board all papers constituting the record on which the action appealed from was taken.

The appeal stays all proceedings unless the administrative officer whose decision has been appealed certifies after notice of appeal that a stay would in his opinion cause imminent peril to life or property. If this written statement is filed, then the administrative proceedings can be stayed only by a restraining order granted by the board or by a court.

If appeal is not taken to the board of adjustment, the permit officer's decision to issue or deny a permit becomes incontestable as to matter within the officer's jurisdiction.

The Board may reverse or affirm, wholly or partly, or may modify the order, requirement, decision, or determination appealed from and make it as it ought to be made. The Board has all of the powers of the officer from whom the appeal is taken to accomplish that proper end.

The concurring votes of four members of the board are required to reverse any administrative order or decision that is appealed to the board.

Board's Lack of Authority to Reverse Planning Commission Actions

The zoning commission does not overlap the board of adjustment's delegated authority. It is a recommending agency that acts on zoning amendments, not variances and appeals.

Subdivision regulation differs from zoning, but the two functions can overlap. Both subdivision regulations and zoning ordinances can set minimum lot sizes and impose setbacks. A landowner who proposes to build on a lot that does not meet the zoning requirements for size can appeal to the board of adjustment for a variance. The board does not, however, have jurisdiction over subdivision regulations applied by the planning commission. The board of adjustment has no authority to take appeals from planning commission decisions on subdivision plat approval.

"Golden Rules" for the Board of Adjustment

1. Avoid personal attacks.
2. Treat all similarly.
3. Avoid pandering to citizens - it only confuses the process.
4. Frame comments in objective terms - avoid discussion of personal likes and dislikes.
5. Keep accurate minutes of meetings.
6. Don't take on added maintenance/repair responsibilities for your city.
7. Educate other members to their responsibilities.
8. No discrimination (unfair housing claims).
9. Do keep an open mind.
10. Do not participate if own property within two hundred (200) feet of the area of the request.
11. Do not bargain or try to extract improvements or other concessions from the application.
12. Do ask questions of the applicant or staff.
13. Do require the applicant to meet the zoning requirements.
14. Do not hear case if notice of public hearing is defective - readvertise.
15. Do rely on hardship considerations in making a variance decision.
16. Do keep silent - do not need to justify your vote or decision.
17. Grant or deny what is advertised.
18. If necessary, blame it on the city attorney. But, WHEN IN DOUBT, ASK YOUR CITY ATTORNEY!

Sec. 211.008. Board of Adjustment

(a) The governing body of a municipality may provide for the appointment of a board of adjustment. In the regulations adopted under this subchapter, the governing body may authorize the board of adjustment, in appropriate cases and subject to appropriate conditions and safeguards, to make special exceptions to the terms of the zoning ordinance that are consistent with the general purpose and intent of the ordinance and in accordance with any applicable rules contained in the ordinance.

(b) A board of adjustment must consist of at least five members to be appointed for terms of two years. The governing body must provide the procedure for appointment. The governing body may authorize each member of the governing body, including the mayor, to appoint one member to the board. The appointing authority may remove a board member for cause, as found by the appointing authority, on a written charge after a public hearing. A vacancy on the board shall be filled for the unexpired term.

(c) The governing body, by charter or ordinance, may provide for the appointment of alternate board members to serve in the absence of one or more regular members when requested to do so by the mayor or city manager. An alternate member serves for the same period as a regular member and is subject to removal in the same manner as a regular member. A vacancy among the alternate members is filled in the same manner as a vacancy among the regular members.

(e) The board by majority vote shall adopt rules in accordance with any ordinance adopted under this subchapter. Meetings of the board are held at the call of the presiding officer and at other times as determined by the board. The presiding officer or acting presiding officer may administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses. All meetings of the board shall be open to the public.

(f) The board shall keep minutes of its proceedings that indicate the vote of each member on each question or the fact that a member is absent or fails to vote. The board shall keep records of its examinations and other official actions. The minutes and records shall be filed immediately in the board's office and are public records.

(g) The governing body of a Type A general-law municipality by ordinance may grant the members of the governing body the authority to act as a board of adjustment under this chapter.

NOTES OF DECISIONS

1. Delegation of authority by city

Delegation of authority from home-rule city to its board of adjustment to initially hear and determine questions relating to nonconforming use of property was a valid exercise of city's police power. White v. City of Dallas (Civ.App.1974) 517 S.W.2d 344.

2. Minutes

Failure of San Antonio Board of Adjustment to make findings required by ordinance to be incorporated in its official minutes when it grants special exception rendered grant of special exception void. Metzger v. City of San Antonio (Civ.App.1965) 384 S.W.2d 901.

3. Members

Governing body of a city cannot, consistent with this chapter, act as a zoning board of adjustment pursuant to a local ordinance, nor may members of the governing body be appointed to serve on a separate board of adjustment. Op.Atty.Gen. 1989, No. JM-1069.

Sec. 211.009. Authority of Board

(a) The board of adjustment may:

(1) hear and decide an appeal that alleges error in an order, requirement, decision, or determination made by an administrative official in the enforcement of this subchapter or an ordinance adopted under this subchapter;

(2) hear and decide special exceptions to the terms of a zoning ordinance when the ordinance requires the board to do so;

(3) authorize in specific cases a variance from the terms of a zoning ordinance if the variance is not contrary to the public interest and, due to special conditions, a literal enforcement of the ordinance would result in unnecessary hardship, and so that the spirit of the ordinance is observed and substantial justice is done; and

(b) In exercising its authority under Subsection (a)(1), the board may reverse or affirm, in whole or in part, or modify the administrative official's order, requirement, decision, or determination from which an appeal is taken and make the correct order, requirement, decision, or determination, and for that purpose the board has the same authority as the administrative official.

(c) The concurring vote of 75 percent of the members of the board is necessary to:

(1) reverse an order, requirement, decision, or determination of an administrative official;

(2) decide in favor of an applicant on a matter on which the board is required to pass under a zoning ordinance; or

(3) authorize a variation from the terms of a zoning ordinance.

NOTES OF DECISIONS

1. Jurisdiction of board

Primary jurisdiction of city board of adjustment to act on grant of special exception was terminated when action was duly appealed to district court. Metzger v. City of San Antonio (Civ.App.1965) 384 S.W.2d 901.

Any action of board of adjustment in attempting to exercise appellate jurisdiction over a lawfully created and functioning planning commission, in its subdivision plat approval process, was void; final authority for subdivision plat approval was granted by Vernon's Ann.Civ.St. art. 974a (repealed; see, now, Sec. 212.006) to the planning commission. Lacy v. Hoff

2. Variances and exceptions from zoning ordinance

In general Board of adjustment, in granting zoning variances, acts as a quasi-judicial body, and, having no statutory power to legislate, any provision of municipal ordinance that undertakes to confer legislative functions on such board would be invalid as constituting unlawful delegation of legislative powers. Swain v. Board of Adjustment of City of University Park (Civ.App.1968) 433 S.W.2d 727, ref. n.r.e., certiorari denied 90 S.Ct. 563, 396 U.S. 277, 24 L.Ed.2d 465, rehearing denied 90 S.Ct. 1085, 397 U.S. 977, 25 L.Ed.2d 274.

A variance is authorized where the zoning ordinance does not permit any reasonable use of a lot, not merely to accommodate the highest and best use of the property. Board of Adjustment of City of San Antonio v. Willie (Civ.App.1974) 511 S.W.2d 591, ref. n.r.e.

When faced with request for a variance, it is the duty of a zoning board of adjustment to determine whether literal application of the zoning ordinance to the particular piece of property would be unreasonable in light of the general statutory purpose to secure reasonable zoning; the reasonableness test is viewed in light of the practical difficulty of applying the ordinance to the property in question. Currey v. Kimple (Civ.App.1978) 577 S.W.2d 508, ref. n.r.e.

City board of adjustment has no power to grant zoning exceptions or variances that amount to an ordinance amendment, and where the approval of a "specific use permit" constitutes a zoning ordinance amendment, only the city council may approve or disapprove such permit. Op.Atty.Gen.1986, No. JM-493.

3. Hardship, variances and exceptions

Fact that property owners wanted to build a tennis court on their irregularly shaped property did not constitute a self-created or personal hardship warranting denial of requested variance from setback requirements; configuration of the lot created the hardship and evidence did not reveal that owners wanted the variance for personal reasons not connected with the configuration of the lot. Currey v. Kimple (Civ.App.1978) 577 S.W.2d 508, ref. n.r.e.

Board of adjustment was not required to authorize variance from requirements of setback ordinance where there was no evidence that enforcement of ordinance would have worked "unnecessary hardship" on landowner. Reiter v. City of Keene (Civ.App.1980) 601 S.W.2d 547, error dismissed, certiorari denied 101 S.Ct. 3118, 452 U.S. 965, 69 L.Ed.2d 977, rehearing denied 102 S.Ct. 891, 453 U.S. 928, 69 L.Ed.2d 1024.

Fact that with variances landowner could create 44 lots and without them could only create 40 lots was merely financial hardship, not "special condition" or "unnecessary hardship" warranting grant of variances from lot width and set back requirements. Battles v. Board of Adjustment and Appeals of City of Irving (App. 5 Dist.1986) 711 S.W.2d 297.

4. Nonconforming use, variances and exceptions

Where, at time filling station owner's predecessors in title were granted right in 1933 to construct nonconforming filling station, existing ordinance prohibited use of property as business, act of board in allowing intrusion of business within residential area amounted to legislative decision changing basic purpose and intent of zoning ordinance and was void ab initio. Swain v. Board of Adjustment of City of University Park (Civ.App.1968) 433 S.W.2d 727, ref. n.r.e., certiorari denied 90 S.Ct. 563, 396 U.S. 277, 24 L.Ed.2d 465 rehearing denied 90 S.Ct. 1085, 397 U.S. 977, 25 L.Ed.2d 274.

Zoning ordinance requiring discontinuance of nonconforming gasoline filling station after expiration of 25 years of use was valid and reasonable. Swain v. Board of Adjustment of City of University Park (Civ.App.1968) 433 S.W.2d 727, ref. n.r.e., certiorari denied 90 S.Ct. 563, 396 U.S. 277, 24 L.Ed.2d 465 rehearing denied 90 S.Ct. 1085, 397 U.S. 977, 25 L.Ed.2d 274.

Provisions in zoning ordinances for amortization of nonconforming uses are valid if they are reasonable and fair in operation; a determination of reasonableness of such provisions should involve consideration of such factors as character of neighborhood in general, the amount an owner has invested in the property, the amount of his recoupment during the grace period, protection afforded to the public, zoning classification and use of nearby property, availability and location of other sites, extent to which property values are adversely affected by nonconforming use, and amount of loss which would be suffered by owner upon termination of use. Benners v. City of University Park (Civ.App.1972) 477 S.W.2d 326, reversed on other grounds 485 S.W.2d 773, appeal dismissed 93 S.Ct. 1530,

Even if property had been used as automobile wrecking yard before adoption of home-rule city ordinance annexing such property, such nonconforming use, which detracted from general use of other property in neighborhood and depreciated value of such property, could be ordered discontinued by city board of adjustment pursuant to city code provisions requiring continuance of a nonconforming use under plan whereby full value of structure could be amortized within definite period of time. White v. City of Dallas (Civ.App.1974) 517 S.W.2d 344.

Nonconforming use consisting of motorcycle, bicycle, and lawnmower sale and repair facility in residential zone would not be "extended" in violation of zoning ordinance by construction of additional steel building on premises, where such building would be used to reduce noise level of some of the activities already carried out and to store materials presently left in boxes outside the premises, and where no new or added activities would be carried out and there was no showing that the volume of business would be increased. City of Spring Valley v. Hurst (Civ.App.1975) 530 S.W.2d 599, ref. n.r.e.

Unsuccessful attempt of prior owner to establish metal manufacturing plant was in no sense conclusive of abandonment of nonconforming use and in fact showed intention not to abandon, and evidence before city board of adjustment, was such that reasonable minds could reach conclusion that there had been no abandonment of nonconforming use. McDonald v. Board of Adjustment, City of San Antonio (Civ.App.1977) 561 S.W.2d 218.

Where manufacturing activities of sign company had ceased and last sign had been sold, property owner had abandoned nonconforming use of property for sign-manufacturing business which had existed at time land was annexed to city and neighborhood was zoned as residential. Board of Adjustment of City of San Antonio v. Nelson (Sup.1979) 584 S.W.2d 701.

Taking of property by city which left property owners in violation of zoning ordinance did not leave property owners with a valid nonconforming use, as nonconforming use does not apply to an impermissible use or condition created after an ordinance becomes effective. Austin v. City of Lubbock (Civ.App.1981) 618 S.W.2d 552, reversed on other grounds 628 S.W.2d 49.

5. Concurrence of members

Where minutes of zoning board of adjustment disclosed that only three members had concurred in granting of variance, although grant of variance required concurrence of four members, order granting variance was invalid and void and could be attacked at any time and place, directly or collaterally. City of Lufkin v. McVicker (Civ.App.1973) 510 S.W.2d 141.

6. Findings of board

City zoning board of adjustment was not required to include findings of fact with its decision denying landowner a special exception for public utility installation where city ordinance made no mention of findings being required when application for special exception was denied and subsec. (e) of this article required concurring vote of four or five members of board to obtain special exception rather than a majority. Zoning Bd. of Adjustment of City of El Paso v. Knapp (Civ.App.1981) 618 S.W.2d 137.

Where fact-findings which zoning ordinance required zoning board of adjustment to make before it granted special exceptions were not incorporated into the official minutes for the board meeting at which special exception was authorized, action of board in granting special exception was void for failure to comply with ordinance. Board of Adjustment of City of San Antonio v. Leon (Civ.App.1981) 621 S.W.2d 431.

Sec. 211.010. Appeal to Board

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (e), any of the following persons may appeal to the board of adjustment a decision made by an administrative official:

(1) a person aggrieved by the decision; or

(b) The appellant must file with the board and the official from whom the appeal is taken a notice of appeal specifying the grounds for the appeal. The appeal must be filed within a reasonable time as determined by the rules of the board. On receiving the notice, the official from whom the appeal is taken shall immediately transmit to the board all the papers constituting the record of the action that is appealed.

(c) An appeal stays all proceedings in furtherance of the action that is appealed unless the official from whom the appeal is taken certifies in writing to the board facts supporting the official's opinion that a stay would cause imminent peril to life or property. In that case, the proceedings may be stayed only by a restraining order granted by the board or a court of record on application, after notice to the official, if due cause is shown.

(d) The board shall set a reasonable time for the appeal hearing and shall give public notice of the hearing and due notice to the parties in interest. A party may appear at the appeal hearing in person or by agent or attorney. The board shall decide the appeal within a reasonable time.

(e) A member of the governing body of the municipality who serves on the board of adjustment under Section 211.008(g) may not bring an appeal under this section.

NOTES OF DECISIONS

1. Exhaustion of administrative remedies

When a statute directs that zoning action be taken in a certain way, it may be performed in no other manner. Smart v. Lloyd (Civ.App.1963) 370 S.W.2d 245.

Where property owner who asserted matured right to use land as mobile home park at time land was annexed by city and temporarily zoned for single family dwelling purposes, made no effort to obtain administrative determination as to whether he would be permitted to continue his project as nonconforming use under temporary zoning ordinance, property owner failed to make use of administrative remedies available to him, and his declaratory judgment action was properly dismissed for want of jurisdiction. Thomas v. City of San Marcos (Civ.App.1972) 477 S.W.2d 322.

When applicability of zoning ordinance was questioned, administrative remedies afforded by Vernon's Ann.Civ.St. art. 1011g (repealed; see, now, this section) had to be exhausted before redress could be obtained from the courts. City of Dallas v. Gaechter (Civ.App.1975) 524 S.W.2d 400, error dismissed.

2. Standing

Where neighborhoods council and individual appellants made no showing that they had been injured by issuance of building permit other than as members of general public, nor that they were "officer, department, board, or bureau of municipality affected," and corporation to whom permit was issued raised objection to their standing at every stage of procedure, council and individual appellants had no standing to challenge issuance of building permit. Austin Neighborhoods Council, Inc. v. Board of Adjustment of City of Austin (App.1982) 644 S.W.2d 560, ref. n.r.e.

Where appeal of issuance of building permit by city councilman was neither within scope of his authority as councilman, nor ratified or adopted by governing body of city, his appeal was as private individual, and not as representative of people of city. Austin Neighborhoods Council, Inc. v. Board of Adjustment of City of Austin (App.1982) 644 S.W.2d 560, ref. n.r.e.

Where individuals challenging issuance of a building permit by city building department presented uncontested evidence to city board of adjustment of their aggrievement showing some unique harm done to them other than as members of general public, individuals had standing to challenge permit's issuance, even though such evidence was very weak at best. Texans to Save the Capitol, Inc. v. Board of Adjustment of City of Austin (App.1983) 647 S.W.2d 773, ref. n.r.e.

An individual must present some evidence to city board of adjustment to show how he has been injured or damaged other than as a member of the general public in order for him to rightfully appeal to board of adjustment an administrative officer's decision issuing a building permit. Texans to Save the Capitol, Inc. v. Board of Adjustment of City of Austin (App.1983) 647 S.W.2d 773, ref. n.r.e.

3. Timing of appeal

Six-month delay between issuance of building permit for reconstruction of nightclub partially destroyed by fire and perfection of appeal to zoning board contesting issuance of permit was unreasonable as matter of law, and thus, appeal was time barred, where owner of building had invested substantial sum in restoration of building, and appellant possessed sufficient facts concerning reconstruction of nightclub to require him to diligently pursue matter. Zoning Bd. of Adjustment of City of Lubbock v. Graham & Associates, Inc. (App. 7 Dist.1984) 664 S.W.2d 430.

4. Stay of proceedings

Two-year period within which city ordinance required that construction be completed should be tolled commencing with filing of intervenors' appeal with board of adjustment from granting of building permits and until final judgment validating permit. Gala Homes, Inc. v. Board of Adjustment of City of Killeen (Civ.App.1966) 405 S.W.2d 165, ref. n.r.e.

5. Scope of board's review

Refusal to abate suit, in which plaintiff sought injunctive relief and writ of mandamus to compel city engineer to issue permit to allow repair of building damaged by fire and which had been prematurely filed, insofar as suit concerned issues as to constitutionality of city zoning ordinance provisions was proper. Adcock v. King (Civ.App.1975) 520 S.W.2d 418.

6. Discretion of board

Where city board of adjustment was fully informed of its past and present interpretation of local zoning ordinance governing building height limitations and was also fully apprised of structural dimensions of proposed building, which was designed in such a manner as to, according to provisions of ordinance, be entitled to an additional 198 feet over and above 200-foot height limitation, which, taken together, was exact height of proposed building, board did not abuse its discretion in affirming issuance of building permit. Texans to Save the Capitol, Inc. v. Board of Adjustment of City of Austin (App.1983) 647 S.W.2d 773, ref. n.r.e.

ETHICS AND DECISION MAKING FOR PUBLIC OFFICIALS

Ethical considerations in the decision making process of public officials in the planning and zoning arena is at the forefront of public scrutiny. Even the mere appearance of impropriety impacts the effectiveness of local public officials. Public confidence and respect can best be promoted if public officials, whether paid or unpaid, whether elected or appointed, uniformly treat all citizens with courtesy, impartiality, fairness and equality under the law and avoid both actual and potential conflicts between their private self-interest and the public trust.

Ethics is often defined as principle of right and good conduct; a system of moral turpitude; the study of the general nature of morals and the specific moral choices to be made by the individual in his or her relationship with others.

In Texas, as in all jurisdictions the conduct of local public officials is governed by Charter, local ordinance, policy and state law. Members of the City Council, planning and zoning commission and board of adjustment must be knowledgeable of the laws and policies regarding ethics when participating in and making decisions in the planning and zoning process.

Home Rule Charters

Some City Charters expressly prohibit certain conduct by local public officials which may not be prohibited or covered by state law. For example, charters commonly prohibit any officer (which includes council members, planning and zoning commissioners and members of the board of adjustment) or employee of the City from having a direct or indirect interest in any contract with the City, except as an employee. Although state law, Chapter 573 TEX. GOV'T CODE provides nepotism prohibitions, city charters often contain similar or more stringent nepotism prohibitions. Thus a local public official involved in the planning and zoning process should review the City Charter to ensure there are no provisions which govern the member's decision.

Code of Conduct/Ethics

Some cities have adopted a Code of Conduct. These ethical standards can be in the form of an ordinance, order, resolution or a simple policy, and may apply to planning and zoning decisions. These local standards can mirror state law and contain different or stricter standards than found in state law. Here are some examples of such standards:

Standard of Conduct for Officers

No officer of the City nor a relative of an officer shall knowingly:

A. Have a financial interest, direct or indirect, in any contract with the City, or be financially interested, directly or indirectly, in the sale to the City of any land, or rights or interest in any land, materials, supplies or service.

The "financial interest" contemplated under this section and under the City Charter requires that the officer receive an actual financial benefit from the transaction with the City. An actual financial benefit from the transaction shall not include:

(1) An ownership in the entity transacting the business with the City where the ownership interest is less than ten (10%) percent.

(2) Compensation as an employee, officer, or director of the entity transacting business with the City where such compensation is not affected by the entity's transaction with the City.

B. Participate in a vote or decision on any matter in which the officer has a direct or indirect "financial interest," or in which a relative of the officer has a direct or indirect "financial interest." An investment or ownership in a publicly held company in an amount less than $5,000 does not constitute a prohibited "financial interest" under this Article.

C. Represent or appear on behalf of the private interests of others before the board, commission or committee of which the officer is a member, or before the City Council or other board on an appeal from such board, commission or committee concerning such matter.

D. Use such person's official position or knowledge from the official position to secure special privileges or exemptions for the purpose of achieving monetary gain for such person or others.

E. Grant any special consideration, treatment or advantage to any citizen, individual, business organization or group beyond that which is normally available to every other citizen, individual, business organization or group.

F. Disclose or reveal any information, or the contents of any discussion, considered during an executive session or closed meeting conducted pursuant to the Texas Open Meetings Act, Tex. Gov't Code, Chapter 551, as amended, held by the City Council, any City agency, board, commission, committee, or department except as may be authorized by a majority vote of that body.

G. Disclose confidential information.

H. Directly or indirectly use any confidential information which was gained by reason of such person's official position for such person's own personal gain or benefit or for the benefit of others. Disclose or reveal any information or the contents of any discussion which would violate the provisions of the Texas Public Information Act, TEX. GOV'T CODE Chapter 552, as amended, or the Texas Open Meetings Act, TEX. GOV'T CODE Chapter 551, as amended.

I. Knowingly engage in any outside activities which will conflict, or be incompatible with such person's position as an officer of the City.

J. Accept other employment incompatible with the full and proper discharge of such person's duties and responsibilities with the City, or which might impair the officer's independent judgment in the performance of public duty.

K. Receive any fee or compensation for services as an officer of the City from any source other than the City, except as may otherwise be provided by law. This shall not prohibit an officer of the City from performing the same or other services for a private organization that such person performs for the City if there is no conflict with such person's duties and responsibilities.

Additional Standard of Conduct for Council Members:

A. In any zoning matter which may appear before the City Council, any City Council Member who has a financial interest in any property within two hundred (200) feet of the Zoning request shall disclose the existence of such interest to other Council Members, and thereafter abstain from voting in the matter, and refrain from attempting to influence the vote of any other Council Member.

B. In the event that any matter comes before the City Council involving directly or indirectly the interest of a present business client/customer of any City Council Member or the interest of a person or entity who has been a business client/customer of any Council Member within the prior twelve (12) months and funds received by the Council Member is employed, from the past/present business client/customer amount to the sum of $5,000 or more in gross income during such twelve (12) month period, and such fact is known to the Council Member, then that Council Member shall disclose the existence of such interest to the other Council Member, and thereafter abstain from voting in the matter, and refrain from attempting to influence the vote of any other Council Member.

C. With the exception of those proceedings allowed under this Article, Council Members shall not personally appear in their own behalf before the City Council, or any board, commission, or committee, but may designate and be represented by a person of their choice in any such personal matter.

D. No City Council Member shall represent or appear on behalf of, private interests of others before any agency of the City or any City board, commission or committee, nor shall such person represent any private interest of others in any action or proceeding involving the City, nor voluntarily participate on behalf of others in any litigation to which the City might be a party.

Thus local ethics standards can impact the participation and decision-making in planning and zoning matters.

State Law

Chapter 171 of the Texas Local Government Code governs conflicts of interest and applies to local public officials who exercise responsibilities beyond those that are advisory in nature. This is the case irrespective of whether the official is:

- elected or appointed
- paid or unpaid

and includes officials of any:

- district
- city
- central appraisal district
- county
- or other local governmental entity.

and applies to:

- Mayor
- Council Member
- planning and zoning commission
- board of adjustment member

The purpose of Chapter 171 is to prevent local public officials from using their positions for hidden personal financial gain. A local public official who has a substantial interest in any matter pending before the body of which the official is a member, must: (1) file an affidavit with the official record keeper of the board, commission or council as the case may be disclosing the nature and extent of the interest prior to any vote or decision on the matter; and (2) abstain from further participation in the matter, if a special economic benefit will result.

An official has a substantial interest in a business entity if the issue at hand will yield a special economic benefit to the business entity distinguishable from the effect on the public and:

- the person owns at least a ten percent (10%) percent of the voting stock or shares of the business entity, or owns either at least ten (10%) percent or at least $5,000 of the fair market value of the business entity; or

- funds received by the person from the business entity exceed ten percent (10%) of the person's gross income for the previous year.

Alternatively, a person has a substantial interest in real property if it is reasonably foreseeable that an action on the matter will have a special economic effect distinguishable from its effect in the public, and the official's interest is an equitable or legal ownership with a fair market value of $2,500 or more. Furthermore, a local public official is considered to have a substantial interest if a relative in the first degree of the public official, by either consanguinity or affinity, would have a substantial interest in a business entity or real property under the these test.

Relatives in the First Degree

Consanguinity:	Affinity:
Parents	Spouse of those listed under consanguinity
Children	Spouse
	Spouse's parents
	Spouse's children
	Stepparents or Stepchildren

Relatives in the Second Degree

Consanguinity:	Affinity:
Grandparents	Spouse of those listed under consanguinity
Grandchildren	Spouse's grandparents
Sisters & brothers	Spouse's grandchildren
	Spouse's siblings

Relatives in the Third Degree

Consanguinity:	Affinity:
Great grandparents	Spouse of those listed under consanguinity
Great grandchildren	Spouse's great grandparents
Aunts & uncles	Spouse's great grandchildren
Nieces & nephews	Spouse's aunts & uncles
	Spouse's nephews & nieces

A local public official who has a substantial interest in a business entity or real property must: (1) file an affidavit stating the nature and extent of the interest, and (2) abstain from further participation in the matter. If however, a majority of the members of the council, board or commission, as the case may be, to which the public official is a member are likewise required to file and do file affidavits, then all of the officials, including those substantially interested, may participate and vote on the matter. See § 171.004(c), TEX. LOC. GOV'T CODE.

Additional Statutory Requirements for Municipal Authority Responsible for Approving Plats

Members of the City Council and municipal planning and zoning commissions must be aware of the further requirements of Section 212.017 of the Tex. Loc. Gov't Code. The municipal authority responsible for approving plats can be the planning and zoning commission or both City Council and Planning and Zoning Commission if by ordinance the approval of the City Council is required in addition to that of the planning and zoning commission. A member is held to have a substantial interest in a subdivided tract if the person:

(1) has an equitable or legal ownership interest with a fair market value of $2,500 or more; or

(2) acts as developer of the tract; or

(3) owns 10-percent or more of the voting stock or shares or ten-percent or more or $5,000 or more of a business entity which:

  (a) has equitable or legal interest with a fair market value of $2500 or more; or

  (b) acts as developer

(4) receives funds equal to ten-percent ore more of annual gross income from a business entity meeting 3, above; or

(5) is related in the first degree by consanguinity or affinity to someone who has substantial interest.

This section mirrors the provisions of Chapter 171, Tex. Loc. Gov't Code. The only addition is the "acts a developer" prohibition. Planning and zoning commission members are likewise required to: (1) file an affidavit disclosing their substantial interest with the appropriate secretary or clerk; and (2) abstain from participating in the discussion or vote. Failure to do so is a Class A misdemeanor punishable by a maximum fine of $4,000 and/or up to one year in prison; and the action is void only if that member's vote was determinative. However, unlike Chapter 171, TEX. LOC. GOV'T CODE, Section 212.017 does not provide that substantially interested members may vote if a majority of the members are substantially interested.

Conclusion

Members of the City Council, planning and zoning commission and board of adjustment should become familiar with the Charter and local regulations, as well as state law governing conflicts of interest. Local officials before participating in discussions and voting on matters should confirm that they or a relative do not have a substantial interest in a business entity or real property prior to the issue at hand. The timely filing of an affidavit will save the official from public embarrassment, possible prosecution and will preserve the action of the body.

EXAMPLES:

1. Home rule city council member may be abstain from voting on zoning matter affecting territory in which the member's residence is located. TEX. ATTY. GEN. OP. No. DM-130(1992).

2. Member of City Council, planning and zoning commission or board of adjustment who is employed by or receives more than 10% of the member's gross income from a business entity or who owns 10% or more of the stock or $5,000 or more of the value of a business entity may not deliberate and/or participate in a vote affecting the entity.

3. Members of City Council, planning and zoning commission or board of adjustment who receive a campaign contribution from a developer who seeks a zoning change or plat approval do not have a statutory conflict.

PROCEDURES FOR ABATEMENT OF SUBSTANDARD STRUCTURES AND NUISANCES FOR THE CITY OF LAKE DALLAS

The following is an outline of the procedures that should generally be followed in connection with the inspection, review, and civil enforcement of the Minimum Housing and Building Standards Code of the City of Lake Dallas. This list is by no means exhaustive and does not address other procedures involving criminal prosecutions or civil litigation. These procedures are based on the provisions of Chapter 15.12 of the Lake Dallas Code of Ordinances.

1) Initial Inspection: City Inspector inspects and makes determination that structure is substandard or is unfit for human habitation or use and constitutes a hazard to the public health, safety or welfare. (Note: a substandard building may not, of itself, be unfit for human habitation and hazardous to public health)

2) Issue Notice of Violation (§15.12.830): City Inspector issues notice, after inspection, to owner/occupant of specific violations requiring compliance with Code. The Notice of Violation must:

   a) identify the property by street address and/or legal description sufficient to identify the premises,
   b) contain a brief and concise description of the conditions found to render the building dangerous or substandard and should identify specific violations,
   c) if the building must be repaired, the Notice must require that all necessary permits be secured and the work be commenced and completed within a reasonable time,
   d) if inspector determines that the building must be vacated, the Notice shall require that it be vacated within a certain reasonable time,
   e) if inspector determines that building must be demolished, Notice must require that building be vacated, that all necessary permits be secured, and that demolition work be commenced and completed within a specific reasonable time. The city inspector must take all necessary steps to obtain compliance before demolition can be imposed.
   f) if inspector determines building to be unfit for human habitation or use, the Notice must also state the inspector intends to bring the violation before the Board of Adjustment for their consideration and decision.
   g) contain statement advising that if demolition or repair work is not commenced within the specified time, the City will order the building vacated and posted to prevent further occupancy and may proceed to cause the work to be done and charge the costs thereof against the property or the owner.

h) contain a statement that the owner has the right to appeal the inspector's determination to the Board of Adjustment by filing a written notice of appeal in City Hall within ten (10) days of the date of the Notice of Violation.

3) Re-Inspection: After expiration of the time stated in the Notice of Violation for the work to be commenced, the inspector must re-inspect to determine that the owner/occupant has failed to comply. However, if no permits have been applied for and if a visual inspection of the exterior of the structure clearly reveals that no work has been commenced, a formal re-inspection is not necessary.

4) Issue Notice of Public Hearing If a hearing must be held by the Board, because: 1) a property owner has timely filed a notice of appeal, 2) the property is determined by the inspector to be unfit for human habitation or use and has been ordered demolished, or 3) the repair work required to be done in the Notice of Violation has not been commenced within the allotted time and the City may cause the work to be done, proper notice must be issued and served.

Notice of Hearing must be served on the occupant, the property owner, any lienholders or mortgagees of record, (diligent search of public records is required), and all property owners (per tax rolls) who own property within 200 feet of the subject real estate, at least ten (10) days before the hearing. The Notice must be published in the local paper at least ten (10) days prior to the hearing. The Notice of Hearing must state:

a) the date, time and location of the hearing,
b) the street address and legal description of the property,
c) the particular violations occurring at the property, and
c) the board's proposed action to order that the property be repaired, vacated, secured, or demolished.

5) Board of Adjustment Review and Order The Board of Adjustment is to review the evidence presented at the public hearing and shall determine whether the inspector's determination of violations are substantiated. If the building has been ordered by the inspector to be repaired, vacated, secured or demolished, the Board must hear evidence from both the City inspector as well as any other interested party to determine whether the inspector's order of repair or demolition has been complied with and whether it should be upheld.

If the Board finds from the evidence that the property should be demolished, it must issue a written order requiring that the property be demolished. The order must:

a) require that the owner, occupant, lienholder or mortgagee demolish the property within thirty (30) days of the date of the Order,

b) contain a statement that the failure to comply with the Order may result in the assessment of civil penalties, the City's performing the work, and the assessment of the penalties and expenses as a lien against the property.

c) the order should also state that if the work is not commenced or completed within the given time, the inspector is to report this failure to the City Council so that the Council can decide whether or not to cause the demolition work to be done.

d) the order must also accurately identify the property and should identify the owners, occupants, and lienholders.

6) City Council Referral and Action: Following the failure to comply with the Order, the board or City inspector shall notify the City council of the failure. The council, at the next succeeding meeting, must decide whether to incur the expense to cause the work to be done. This issue must be contained in the agenda which is to be posted in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Open Meetings Act. If the council decides to repair or demolish the property, it may do so using city employees or may, if the cost of work will exceed $5,000, advertise to solicit bids for prospective contractors. A final notice must issue to all owners, occupants and lienholders notifying that the property will demolished and that a lien will be filed assessing the expenses against the property. Following completion of the work, if the property was not occupied as a residence homestead, a lien affidavit must be filed with the Denton County Clerk's Office to establish the lien as a matter of record.

TRUMAN HARP/BUILDING INSPECTOR
CITY OF LAKE DALLAS, TEXAS

ORDINANCE NO. 93-09

AN ORDINANCE BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF LAKE DALLAS, TEXAS, AMENDING 18.46 OF THE LAKE DALLAS MUNICIPAL CODE.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF LAKE DALLAS, TEXAS, THAT:

SECTION I. Chapter 18.46 of the Lake Dallas Municipal Code are hereby amended to read as follows:

SECTION II. Organization. There is hereby created a Board of Adjustment consisting of five (5) members, each to be appointed by the City Council for a term of two (2) years and removable for cause by the appointing authority upon written charges and after public hearing. Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term of any member whose place becomes vacant for any cause, in the same manner as the original appointment was made. Two (2) members heretofore appointed shall serve until October 30, 1994, or until their successors are appointed and three (3) members, as heretofore appointed, shall serve until October 30, 1995, or until their successors are appointed, and thereafter each member reappointed or each new appointee shall serve for a full term of two (2) years, unless removed as hereinabove provided. Provided, however that the City Council may appoint two (2) alternate members of the Board of Adjustment who shall serve in the absence of one or more of the regular members when requested to do so by the Mayor so that all cases to be heard by the Board of Adjustment will always be heard by a minimum number of four (4) members. The alternate members, when appointed, shall serve for the same period as the regular members, which is for a term of two (2) years, and any vacancy shall be filled in the same manner, and they shall be subject to removal the same as the regular members.

SECTION III. Procedure. The Board shall adopt rules to govern its proceedings; provided, however, that such rules are not inconsistent with this ordinance or statutes of the State of Texas. Meetings of the Board shall be held at the call of the chairman and at such times as the Board may determine. The chairman, or in his absence the acting chairman, may administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses. All meeting of the Board shall be open to the public. The Board shall keep minutes of its proceedings, showing the vote of each member upon each question, or if absent or failing to vote, indicate such fact, and shall keep records of its examinations and other official actions, all of which shall be immediately filed in the office of the Board, and shall be a public record.

SECTION IV. Appeals.

(1) Appeals to the Board of Adjustment can be taken by any person aggrieved, or by an officer, department or board of the municipality affected by the decision of the Building Inspector. Such appeal shall be taken within fifteen (15) days after the decision has been rendered by the building inspector, by filing with the officer from who the appeal is taken and with the Board of Adjustment, a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof. The officer from whom the appeal is taken shall forthwith transmit to the Board all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from was taken.

(2) An appeal shall stay all proceedings of the action appealed from unless the officer from whom the appeal is taken certifies to the Board of Adjustment, after the notice of appeal shall have been filed with him, that by reason of facts stated in the certificate, a stay would, in his opinion, cause imminent peril to life or property. In such case, proceedings shall not be stayed, otherwise, than by a restraining order which may be granted by the Board of Adjustment or by a court of record on application on notice to the officer from whom the appeal is taken and due cause shown.

(3) The Board of Adjustment shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of an appeal, give the public notice thereof by posting such notice in the mail addressed to all owners of real property located within two hundred (200) feet of the property on which the appeal is made and by publishing notice of such hearing in a newspaper of general circulation in the City of Lake Dallas. Both the posted and published notice shall be given at least ten (10) days prior to the date set for the hearing. Upon the hearing, any party may appear in person or by attorney or by agent.

SECTION V. Jurisdiction. When in its judgment, the public convenience and welfare will be substantially served and the appropriate use of the neighboring property will not be substantially or permanently injured, the Board of Adjustment may, in specific cases, after public notice and public hearing, and subject to appropriate conditions and safeguards, authorize the following special exceptions to the regulations herein established.

(1) Permit the reconstruction, extension or enlargement of a building occupied by a nonconforming use on the lot or tract occupied by such building, provided such reconstruction does not prevent the return of such property to a conforming use and permit the expansion of off-street parking or off-street loading for a nonconforming use.

(2) Permit such modifications of the height, yard, area, coverage and parking regulations as may be necessary to secure appropriate development of a parcel of land which differs from other parcels in the district by being of such restricted area, shape, or slope that it cannot be appropriately developed without such modification.

(3) Require the discontinuance of nonconforming uses of land or structure under any plan whereby the full value of the structure and facilities can be amortized within a definite period of time, taking into consideration the general character of the neighborhood and the necessity for all property to conform to the regulations of this ordinance. All actions to discontinue a nonconforming use of land and structure shall be taken with due regard for the property rights of the persons affected when considered in the light of the public welfare and the character of the area surrounding the designated nonconforming use and conservation and preservation of property. The Board shall, from time to time, on its own motion or upon cause presented by interested property owners, inquire into the existence, continuation or maintenance of any nonconforming use within the City of Lake Dallas.

SECTION VI. Actions of the Board.

(1) In exercising its powers, the Board may, in conformity with the provisions of Articles 1011-A and including 1011-J of the Civil Statutes of Texas, as amended, revise or reform, wholly or partly, or may modify the order, requirement, decisions, or determination as ought to be made, and shall have all the powers of the officer from whom the appeal is taken including the power to impose reasonable conditions to be complied with by the applicant.

(2) The concurring vote of four (4) members of the Board shall be necessary to revise any order, requirement, decision or determination of any such building inspector, or to decide in favor of the applicant on any matter upon which it is required to pass under this ordinance or to affect any variance in said ordinance.

(3) Any person or persons, jointly or severally, aggrieved by any decision of the Board of Adjustment or any taxpayer or any officer, department or board of the municipality may present to a court of record a petition, duly verified, setting forth that such decision is illegal, in whole or part, specifying the grounds of the illegality. Such petition shall be presented to the court within ten (10) days after the filing of the decision in the office of the Board and not thereafter.

SECTION VII. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

SECTION VIII. Should any section, paragraph., sentence, clause, or phrase of this ordinance be declared unconstitutional or invalid for any reason, the remainder of said ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

SECTION IX. There being an emergency and public necessity that this ordinance be passed without delay, and any and all rules requiring three (3) separate readings is hereby waived, and this ordinance shall become effective immediately from and after its passage as the law provides.

PASSED AND APPROVED this the 14th day of October, 1993.

Terry McCutcheon, Mayor
