Former Park's Chairman James Moore to be Lake Dallas Mardi Gras Grand Marshal

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Lake Dallas, Texas – The City of Lake Dallas recognized the civic service of former Park, Recreation & Keep Lake Dallas Beautiful Chairman James Moore at their Thursday, January 12th City Council Meeting. Moore, a long time resident of Lake Dallas, served on the board from 2008 until recently.

“Mr. Moore was selected by the membership of the Park’s Board to be the 2012 Lake Dallas Mardi Gras Parade Grand Marshal,” said Julie Chapman with the City. “He was recognized by Council for his service and simultaneously received news of his selection as the upcoming grand marshal by Parks Board members.”

The Parks Board selects a grand marshal for each of the city’s annual parades and multiple candidates are often discussed. “Moore’s selection was unanimous,” said Chapman “While James will be sorely missed on the board, we also celebrate his years of dedication and service that includes being a Veteran of the United States Army and long time leader with local Boy Scouts.”

The 2012 Mardi Gras celebration will be the party all the locals have come to expect with our ‘Big Easy’ style parade, headline musical entertainment from the N’awlins Gumbo Kings, Mardi Gras contests, and activities for the kids along with great food and a vendor market.
